But both these locations, as well as nine others, were tested when monitoring wells were drilled over the summer. Results from all the test wells have been inconclusive; none of them contained high enough TCE levels to indicate an obvious source. The possibility that the wells were not drilled deep enough exists but the Health Department and DNR are continuing to investigate additional locations.

This Wednesday, two more monitoring wells will be drilled by the city at a former dump site south of Newman Street behind and below the old hospitol (now apartments) on Hurbut. At the time the hospital existed in this neighborhood, TCE was commonly used as an anaesthetic. This fact, plus the direct uphill relationship to the municipal well, makes this area another prime prospect.

But if tests come up negative again, it will be back to square one.

Says DNR water quality specialist T. Eftaxiadis, who has coordinated the test drilling in Charlevoix, "Frankly, we are running out of leads. We have nowhere else to look."

Eftaxiadis and local Health Department sanitarian Larry Levengood have spent a good deal of time over the past months following up on tips from local residents on where to look for the TCE source. According to Eftaxiadis, what they need now is more such information from those longtime Charlevoix residents who can remember some of the long-gone factories or businesses that might have used TCE.

"Right now, we would like to know more about the dump behind the old hospitol. If there is anyone who can remember its specific location and how it was used, we would very much like to hear from them," said Eftaxiadis this week. He added that those Charlevoix natives with other ideas on where TCE is coming from are encouraged to contact either Levengood at the Health Department, 547-6523, or himself at the DNR offices in Lansing, 517-373-8147.

Meanwhile, on other TCE fronts:

-The feasibility study being conducted by Granger Engineering on all the city's options, including filtration and new wells, is due sometime this month.

-City manager Hunt will be in Lansing this Thursday to seek a $382,000 block grant from the Department of Commerce for removal of TCE from the city's water supply. Said Hunt at Monday night's City Council meeting, "I plan to use all my persuasive abilities."

Letters: Proposal E, buses

Support "E"

To the Editor:

A recent letter to the Courier outlined "A Possible Scenario" for nuclear holocaust. Probably many who read it dismissed it, not because they believed it couldn't happen, but because they felt helpless to do anything about it. Even the writer of the letter concluded that "nothing significant will be done until it is too late".

However, there is something we can do. Proposal E, recommending a mutual, verifiable nuclear weapons freeze, will be on the Michigan ballot Nov. 2. Similar resolutions will be on the ballots in 7 other states also. A 'yes' vote on Proposal E will tell our government leaders and those of the Soviet Union that we want an immediate halt to the production, testing and deployment of nuclear weapons and a prompt move toward serious negotiation to reduce our respective nuclear arsenals. This could be the most important vote of our lives, for ourselves, our children and generations to come.

A freeze proposal passed, in Wisconsin, on Sept. 14 by better than a three to one margin. Recent polls show that 72 percent of American voters support a nuclear weapons freeze. If 72 percent of us are helpless it's because we aren't trying! If we want to prove to the world that the democratic system does work, - - if we want our country to take the lead, in the quest for peace and security for all people, - then vote 'yes' on Proposal E. E is for Everybody!

Buses needed

Dear Sir:

We are very glad that we will be voting again on the bus transit of Charlevoix County. Last time it was defeated. Lets hope this time we will win. We think it is a very good service to people who need it and use it. For many that is the only way they have of getting places where they must go.

More on "E"

Editor,

Today another 3 to 5 nuclear bombs are being made in our country adding to a stockpile of about 20,000.

I would like to know the position candidates in the 11th district are taking on Proposal E. This proposal if approved at the November election would require the Michigan Legislature to write directly to President Reagan, the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of State and all members of Congress expressing our support of an immediate mutually verifiable bi-lateral freeze on testing, production and further deployment of nuclear weapons in the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

It further urges Congress to transfer the funds being spent on these weapons to civilian uses.

Isn't it curious that we do not hear candidates comparing the number of jobs that could be provided in civilian industry as are now in the military with the same amount of money?

In the September 1, 1982 issue of "The Christian Science Monitor" Brad Knickerbocker states that $1 billion would generate 65,000 jobs in retail trade as compared to 14,000 in guided missiles and ordinance.

He based his statement on a 1982 Employment Research Study.

I hope candidates will reveal their views on the nuclear freese proposal.

Clockwise
Report from Lincoln

by Bob Clock

IN THE DAYS when I was a cub reporter for the Cass City Chronicle, my landlady's brother, Sam Bigelow, proprietor of the Bigelow Hardware Store, was the town's most notorious stay-at-home. Sam would travel to Caro (15 miles) or Bad Ax (21 miles) to deliver a hay rake, but he always wanted to get home in time for supper.

"Sam actually would be a great-hand at traveling," his sister Nellie Bigelow confided in me one day, "but he wants to sleep in his own bed every night."

Up until this weekend, I sort of fancied myself as a latter-day Sam Bigelow. I hadn't been in a commercial airliner for more than 30 years and my automobile travels have been confined largely to one-day trips to Traverse City and Sault Ste. Marie.

This weekend, however, the Inland Daily Press Association conducted a two-day seminar on improving small newspapers at — of all places — a lonely spot on the Great Prairie called Lincoln, Neb.

Ken Winter, general manager of the News-Review, handed me a bewildering packet of airline tickets and told me he'd meet me in Lincoln Friday night. In the course of a single morning, the tickets took me from Traverse City, to Detroit, to Kansas City, Mo., across the wide Missouri River, over a swatch of Kansas and on to Lincoln.

The trip was an awesome experience for a former stay-at-home.

Contrary to the horror stories I had heard about airline scheduling, each of the six planes I traveled on this weekend departed and arrived on time — right down to the minute. Every airport I visited, including Chicago's giant O'Hare, was clean, attractive, commodious and comfortable — monuments to the newest concept of functional architecture.

I was particularly impressed with Kansas City International. The concourse in each of four gigantic horseshoe shaped terminals has a parquet floor of highly polished hardwood — literally miles of it. Stair treads leading to the mezzanine are of solid oak.

Parquet floors and oak stair treads in a public building in the Age of Synthetics? They did it in Kansas City.

The white-knuckle flights I remember from the early 1960's apparently are history. The sleek jets I traveled on — from jumbo behemoths to one little fellow that could accomodate only 17 passengers — took off smoothly, climbed rapidly, cruised effortlessly and landed like feather ticks. If anything, each leg of the journey was too short to fully appreciate the wrinkled patchwork of Mother Earth slipping away below.

The biggest surprise of the trip was Lincoln itself, a gem-like metropolis of 200,000 souls that also happens to be the state capital and home of the University of Nebraska.

To appreciate Lincoln, you must realize that the surrounding terrain has virtually no distinguishing natural characteristic aside from flatness. The waters, the forests, the hills that make Northern Michigan an attractive place to live and visit are non-existant. The South Platte River which runs through town is so dinky and so muddy it is more of an eyesore than an asset. If we had such a stream in Northern Michigan we would run it through a sewer tile.

Yet Lincoln is certainly one of the most livable, lovable, vibrant and appealing little cities in North America. Although trees are not native to much of Nebraska, the streets of Lincoln are well shaded with handsome ashes, cottonwoods and even evergreens — thanks to years of painstaking planting and tending by Lincoln residents.

Downtown Lincoln is a delightful blend of new buildings and well-preserved older structures. I was struck with a multi-story shopping mall called the Centrum in the heart of the city containing dozens of retail stores well-stocked with quality merchandise. Barrymore's Lounge also captured my admiration. It is located in the stage area of the Stuart theater and the ceiling rises 110 feet above the bar, lost of a dusky welter of stage curtains, pulleys, ropes and other theatrical paraphernalia.

The city streets are broad and clean; the sidewalks are in excellent repair; gardens and fountains abound.

In an era when so many cities have virtually abandoned their central business districts, downtown Lincoln vibrates with commercial activity.

Old Sam Bigelow would have loved it.

Master plan

corridors for use as bikeways.

Historic Preservation

Conduct a survey of properties with historic potential. Encourage preservation and restoration of historic properties through State and National register designations, adoption of preservation code and establishment of historic districts.

Economic Development

Combine available tools in a comprehensive program to expand the job and tax base. Emphasize clean light industry and year round resort facilities, such as conference hotels. Use the Economic Development Corporation, Downtown Development Authority, and grants as the key mechanisms in this effort. Limit tax abatement to base industry projects which prove clear economic necessity and definite job creation.

Industrial Park

Solicit industry for City industrial park and obtain grants to extend sewer, pave roads, and improve water supply in this vicinity. Work with local industry to encourage expansion of existing facilities at this location.

Airport

Maintain and improve airport in conformance with Airport Master Plan. Encourage Industrial development on available airport land and adjacent privately owned property in the vicinity of Carpenter Street and Norwood Road.

Public Utilities

Complete program to remove trichloroethylene from the drinking water. Secure adequate water supply for future growth. Continue efforts to secure low-cost future electric power. Develop energy conservation capabilities. Complete sewer seperation program. Evaluate low cost alternatives for future drainage needs. Develop plan for orderly extension of sanitary sewers to the Industrial Park and Ferry Avenue.

Housing

Use the Housing Commission as a vehicle to develop programs to encourage rehabilitation of the City's housing stock, including low cost loans for basic remodeling, maintenance, and weatherization.

Development Guidelines

Enact revisions to the City's Zoning Code to reflect the land use objectives identified in the master plan. Develop performance-based standards applying to key development and redevelopment areas, to provide greater flexibility in design while limiting building scale and massing. Establish phase-out program for all non-conforming signs. Establish incentives for intensive landscaping, public water access, and preservation of views. Develop mechanism for professional review of all major development proposals.

Subdivision Control

Enact a subdivision ordinance which prohibits further parcelization of property without prior City review of owner-submitted development plans.

Shoreline Preservation

Enact amendments to the existing Zoning Code, or a new shoreline preservation code, which establishes encroachment limits along each segment of lakeshore and controls the construction and expansion of retaining walls, docks, and other over- and in-water improvements. Establish guidelines for preservation of natural shoreline features and reduction of non-point source water pollution.

Ballot propositions of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, be increased by ¼ (one-fourth) mill (25-100 mill or 25 cents each $1,000.00 on the state equalized valuation) for a period of three (3) years, 1983, 1984, and 1985 for the purpose of providing funds for the countywide transit system?

"The actual levy of said .25 mills shall not exceed the audited budgetary needs of the Transportation Commission as certified by the Statutory Finance Committee each year."

This is the second time this year that millage has been requested for the Transit System. A proposition asking for .29 mills was defeated in August.

The third County proposition reads, "Shall the Northern Michigan Community Mental Health Services Board," counties of Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, and Otsego, Michigan, withdraw from the retirement system established pursuant to the Municipal Employees Retirement Act, being Act 135 of the Public Acts of 1945 as amended."

A spokesman for the Northern Michigan Community Mental Health Services Board, which has headquarters in Petoskey, explains the request as follows:

"By law, all of our employees who work here for at least 10 days become part of the Retirement System. However, we have to stay here 10 years before we can collect any of the money our employer puts into the account for us. Since we are a fairly young group, this doesn't appeal to us. The majority of us want out of the plan. We pay three percent of our first $4,200 annual salary and five percent of everything over $4,200 into the Retirement System. When we leave we get this back plus a small interest."

The only way the Mental Health Services Board can withdraw from the Retirement System is by a vote of the people in the counties which the Board serves.

In the next week or two, the Courier will discuss the State propositions.

Letters: Let's work together on goals

To the Citizens of Charlevoix:

During the course of attending various meetings of civic groups as well as those of the city council, it has become apparent that there are many civic minded individuals as well as reponsible civic groups. However, each group seems to have its pet project or goal.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if the city council and the civic groups could establish a series of goals or projects necessary to the improvement of our city? Then set a priority to each and work together as a common entity to accomplish each in the order of their importance?

By such a cooperative effort the 3203 residents of Charlevoix (according to 1980 census) would be able to more effectively concentrate their tax dollars along with their donation dollars toward the immediate accomplishment of the city's primary needs. Certainly we need to protect out trees, as well as repair our sidewalks.

We also need a new police care, fire truck and improved emergency vehicle. These are but a few of our cities needs, which I feel certain can be readily accomplished by all citizens, groups and political leaders working together toward the common cause.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Garry L. Balch

Anderson-Balch

Linda L. Anderson and Garry L. Balch, both of Charlevoix, were joined in marriage Saturday, September 18 at an early evening ceremony at the Christ Episcopal Church in Charlevoix.

She is the daughter of William Kerridge of Levering and the late Julia Kerridge. He is the son of Ken and Edith Balch of Charlevoix.

Father Roger Ames presided over the double ring ceremony, the altar for which was decorated with white and green bouquets.

The bride wore a champagne white lace and satin dress with an empire waist. The headpiece was created of baby's breath and off-white miniature roses. Her bouquet was an arrangement of lavender and off-white silk flowers with accents of champagne lace.

The maid of honor was Julie E. Anderson, daughter of the bride. She wore a full length lavender dress with an empire waist and accordian pleats to the floor. She carried lavender and off-white flowers accented with champagne lace. All the flowers for the wedding were arranged by the bride.

Best man was Randy Balch, nephew of the groom, from Grand Rapids. Brent Anderson, son of the bride, was an usher.

Music was provided by Marina LaBlance who also sang at a reception hosted by the bride and groom at Castle Farms for about 280 guests. Other assistance at the reception came from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fay of Petoskey, sister and brother in law of the bride. Cake was served by Mona Fay and Brian Anderson. Punch was served by Stephanie and Kendal Balch, nieces of the groom. The guest book was attended by Bambi Balch, niece of the groom, and Bill Supernaw was master of ceremonies.

After a short trip to Shanty Creek, the couple is now at home at North Point. The groom is self-employed at the Harbor Barber and the bride is employed at the Consumers Power Big Rock Point power plant.

Crafters plan Christmas bazaar

The Charlevoix Crafters will host their fourth annual Christmas Bazaar at the Market Mall Saturday as a part of the annual Apple Festival.

The bazaar featuring a host of handcrafted items will be held from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Two new craftsmen will be introduced this year with their entries giving the bazaar greater dimensions. They are Mrs. Mary Bateran whose specialty is stained glass and Chris Drost who does metal sculpture and will be showing fountains and wall hangings.

Others participating in the bazaar with the returnees, so to speak, are members of the original group of craftsmen who organized the Charlevoix Crafters.

Among them are: Sue Miller who has added porcelain jewelry to lovely hand painted porcelain Christmas ornaments done in delicate colors; Judy Crook who has added lovely little band boxes to her other offerings of intricate straw weavings, delicate Ukranian Pysanki eggs and yarn weavings; Joan Wagner who will present her newest craft, wood-burning, to the bazaars. Her exhibit will include, clocks, pictures, boxes and other wood items. She will also show attractive arrangements of dried flowers. Dawn Fletcher will return with her lovely pieces done in rosemaling, an old but rare form of art done in oils on wood.

Others are Andrea Matthews who will exhibit her hand-thrown and slab-built stoneware featuring bowls, plaques, crocks, honey jars, pocket planters, vegetable and dip plates and, for the first time, a delightful hand-sculptured Christmas caroler complete with a music box; Gail Better with handsewn pillows, quilts, tote bags, dolls and baby items; Mary McLelland and Gail Levengood with whimsical lamb purses, Christmas ornaments, counted cross-stitch items and baby quilts; Delora Richardson and Midge Bourissau with their wide variety of hand knitted and crocheted items; Rex Supernaw with his exquisite woodworking items including shelves, napkin holders, towel racks, frames, mirrors, sconces and a new item, hand mirrors; and Sandy Puhl, widely known for her clever calico Kleenex houses and appliqued items, will be presenting eye-glass cases, book covers and lovely Christmas angels that can serve as a tree-top ornament or a holiday table ornament.

"We try to offer shoppers a wide variety of crafts in our bazaar. While some of our crafts are designed just for Christmas, the majority of them are items that can be used throughout the year" Mrs. Matthews, speaking for the Crafters said of the bazaar.

Mrs. Wagner is introducing a full line of gift items feauring wood burning and Mrs. Bataran will be featuring stained glass pieces ranging from sun catchers to wall handings.

PAC holds 1st fall meeting

The year's first meeting of the Charlevoix Parent Advisory Council, a group of parents of Elementary School children, was held Thursday, Sept. 23.

President Pat Leadabrand passed out copies of the bylaws of the organization and the new officers were introduced. Besides Mrs. Leadabrand, they include Candy Smith, vice president; Debbie Sutherland, secretary and Linnie Arnold, treasurer.

Next on the agenda was delegating chairmen for each of the grade levels. Named were Cookie Borths for kindergarten, Linnie Arnold for second grade, Mary Wilson for third grade, Mary Keem for fourth grade and Melody Ritt and Pat Sherman for fifth grade.

A chairman for first grade is still being sought.

Plans for the annual Halloween party were made. The party will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday, October 31, just before trick-or-treating.

Categories for the costume contest will include funniest, prettiest, super hero, best animal, most original and scariest. Games and refreshments are also planned.

Principal Ralph Raymer presented a talk on the school system's special programs. He pointed out how there are several programs covering a broad range and also those which can help deal with smaller groups that need individual attention.

Suggestions were made for further programs to be presented each month that would be of interest to Elementary School parents.

Participants indicated that the turnout for the first meeting was very good and espressed hope that even more parents would become involved in the organization.

The next PAC meeting will be held Thursday, October 14 in the teachers' lounge of the Elementary School. Regular meetings will follow on the second Thursday of each month.

Wedding

Burkey-Hedrick

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burkey of Miramar, Florida and Mrs. Joan Burkey of Charlevoix have announced the marriage of their daughter, Jennifer, to Michael Hedrick of Charlevoix. He is the son of Joseph Hedrick of Charlevois and Mrs. Evelyn Russell of East Jordan.

The double ring ceremony took place in the home of the bride's father, which was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

A small reception for family members and friends followed the ceremony.

Fall rally planned

The Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers will be holding their annual 7 county Fall Rally Day on Wednesday, Oct. 6, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Hidden Valley in Gaylord.

"This years theme is Handicapable" said Sheri Rhoads, Extension Home Economist for Antrim and Charlevoix Counties. The agenda promises an exciting lineup of local speakers and films. Margie Lessard, Bellaire, will speak on "Being Whole Again." Marlene Cassatt, Extension Home Economist in Kalkaska County, will show examples of "Clothing for Independent Living."

Hugh Juday, Boyne City, will show a film on Leader Dogs for the Blind.

"We're all handicapped at some time in our lives," said Rhoads, "whether it is arthritis, a bad back, or failing eyesight, so everyone is encouraged to attend. We'll also have a Funny Fashion Show and door prizes."

The program includes lunch and is open to the public.

Interested persons should call their county Extension office for information on registration and fees.

Former head of emergency services now enjoys her weaving hobby

Alice Tunison

by PEG OHLE

"Whatever happened to – Bill or John or Ruth or almost anybody–?" is an often-asked question.

Going through the files the other day, we came across the name of Alice Tunison, whom we used to see frequently when she worked for the County as Emergency Services Coordinator and secretary in the Prosecutor's office.

Alice retired at the end of 1979, and since we knew she was going to remain in town, we decided to see how he was doing.

The answer is "Very well, thank you". Alice is luckier than most retirees because she has a hobby that is really a business – weaving. We talked to her about weaving. She learned the craft as a young woman by taking a few lessons, but mostly by reading and experimenting. Today, she is as enthusiastic as ever about creating table linens, baby blankets, rugs, clothing, and other articles as she was when she began.

A member of the Brown Bag group of local artists, Alice sells many of her items through their Charlevoix outlet and also takes orders for specific items.

As we entered Alice's studio-home, we were greeted by three looms of different sizes, two of which were ready for use. Immediately, we noticed that there were no power connections – everything is moved by hand or foot. But it takes more than physical strength to produce the beautiful articles that come from Alice's looms.

It's good that her house is roomy because it takes four rooms to hold the materials of her trade. There are hundreds of spools of thread and yarn of every type and color imaginable. There are books and magazines containing patterns and "how to" directions for just about anything that could be woven.

While weaving is Alice's major interest, it's not her only one. As a true Emergency Services worker, she retains her membership on the Governor's Civil Defense Advisory Council, which meets at regular intervals, and keeps abreast of civil defense matters. She believes in nuclear power for fuel because "it can be controlled" but detests the very thought of nuclear arms because "they can't be controlled".

This combination of interests – a centuries old craft and a 20th century discovery – keeps Alice Tunison very busy in retirement (if we can call it that). She doesn't talk about spending her winters in Florida or going fishing or sailing or skiing as so many retirees do. But that's Alice, and she will tell you that her greatest pleasure of the year was getting a new roof put on her house.

To attend Eastern Star meeting in Kalamazoo

The Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of Michigan, will hold its annual session at the Wings' Stadium in Kalamazoo Oct. 12-14. It will be the 116th session of the oldest Grand Chapter in the world.

Planning to attend from Charlevoix Chapter, No. 72 are Mildred Hiller, Geneva Smith and E. James Hiller who will attend as delegates. Others attending will be Mrs. Melvin Pinm, Mrs. Walter Hufford, Janada Rehkopf, Mrs. Hazel Rehkopf, Mrs. Charles Bellinger and Mrs. Chester Belfy.

The "Red Rose of Love" session will host approximately 4,000 Eastern Star members from Michigan and other jurisdictions throughout the U.S. and Canada.

The Order of the Eastern Star is the largest fraternal organization to which both men and women belong. In Michigan it is more than 79,000 strong. The organization was found by Dr. Rob Morris in 1866-67-68. The first chapter was organized in Michigan in 1867.

Through dedication and loyal participation, Michigan Eastern Star members contribute more than $115,000 annually to Grand Chapter and other charities throughout communities in the state.

Bridges' trip was unforgettable experience sizeable crowd of tourists milled around the gate, disappointed at not being able to take the White House tour.

From behind the gate, Bridge summoned a White House guard, told him his business and waited while the guard went to check with his superiors. In minutes the guard returned and, as gaping tourists watched, opened the East Gate for the Bridges and escorted them to the East Wing entrance.

"All these people were buzzing trying to figure out what kind of celebrities we were," laughs Bridge. "And here all we'd done was donate some money to plant some flowers in Charlevoix."

After being searched with a metal detector, the Bridges were met by a cordial receptionist in an East Wing anteroom. To their stunned surprise, she proceeded to tell them what a pleasure it was to have the grandson of the owner of one of the only privately-owned banks in the country that did not close its doors during the Depression (true) and how exciting it must be to be the captain of an ocean tug that travels all over the world (again true).

Somebody, evidently, had done their homework on the Bridges.

Rosebush eventually came in to meet the Bridges and then took them on a private tour of the White House, showing them many rooms and areas not accessible on the regular tour.

When it was time for lunch, they passed up the main White House mess hall for the executive dining area, small adjoining room with only five tables. As Bridge, his wife and Rosebush sat down, Gene noticed at the table next to him James Baker and a couple other high level presidential advisers.

"We were treated like royalty," says Bridge. They selected crab cakes from a menu with everything from lobster to steak. U.S. Navy waiters stood by to serve their every request.

After lunch, the Bridges met with Northern Michigan Congressman Bob Davis at his office and then took a brief tour of the Smithsonian Museum. That evening, they met the Davis's again for supper at a trendy Washington restaurant and after dinner drinks in Georgetown.

Tuesday, it was a weary back to Michigan.

Though Gene and Ginny Bridge plan to visit Washington D.C. again soon, they agree they'll never be able to match the experience of the last trip.

"We'll never forget it," said Gene.

I bring to this area, in which my wife's family (the Griffins) have lived for over the past 50 years, over a quarter century of experience and expertise in Master planning and Management obtained through affiliation with major Corporations. I feel that the addition of my knowledge and ability will be a beneficial addition to the City Council.

My wife and I have always been a team. Anyone aspiring to a political position must acknowledge the support of their mate, which I do. We will work together to the best of our ability to represent and support the needs and desires of the people of our ward and our City.

1. Contestants are invited to enter as many categories as they wish but may submit only one recipe per category.

2. Recipes should be typed or printed on a sheet of paper with the category indicated.

3. To each recipe there should be a separate sheet of paper attached with the contestants name, address and phone number. The contestant's name should not appear on the actual recipe. As each recipe is received, it will be assigned a number which will be logged with the contestant's name. The names will be removed from the recipes so the judges will not know whose recipes they are judging.

4. Ingredients should be listed in accurate, easily understood amounts and in the order that they are used.

5. Recipes do not have to be completely original. They may be old standards or new variations on familiar recipes. The more original the recipe is, however, the better its chance of winning.

6. If duplicate recipes are received, the one submitted first will be accepted. We will log date and time recipes are received.

7. All contestants must agree to permit their recipes to be published in a special cookbook section of the Charlevoix Courier.

8. Employees of the Charlevoix Courier and Petoskey News-Review and members of their families are not eligible to win the contest.

9. A panel of judges will evaluate the recipes submitted and name three finalists in each of the five categories. The 15 finalists will be notified and asked to prepare their recipes for a final judging session. Judges will then sample the entries, name a winner in each category and a grand prize winner of the five winners.

10. The deadline for entries is 12 Noon, Friday, October 29. Recipes should be submitted to the Charlevoix Courier, 406 Bridge St., Charlevoix, MI, 49720.

Hospice hopes to offer care by spring

Charlevoia Conuty Hospice directors now project they will begin offering home care and support to terminally ill people and their families by late spring.

Hospice is a concept of alternative care for the terminally ill which "maximizes the quality of life when the quantity of life canoot be extended," according to Dr. Josefina B. Magno, executive director of National Hospice Organization.

The idea of bringing a community-based Hospice program to Charlevoix County, in which patients would receive care and support in their own home, began in June, 1981. Now organized with a Board of Directora, plans are nnderway to begin training hospice volunteers soon after the New Year according to Kathleen Smith, interim exectnive director of Charlevoix County Hospice, Inc.

Mra. Smith, an ordained minister with the Universal Center of Awareness Auxilliary, is a group discussion leader with "Coping?". She recalled the enthusiasm with which the ieda of a hospice was met. The desire to bring the hospice concept to Charlevoix began in the "Coping?" group. By fall of 1981, she remembers, a planning board ws organized with the help of the late Katherine Jessup. The board included Renate Smith, Carol McTaggart, Richard May, Eleanor Stackus, Dr. Michael Engel and Nancy Bottomley, R.N.

By spring of 1982, By-laws were drawn. Then a series of meetings were held around the county to spark interest and membership. Soon afterwards the Board of Directors was elected, with Carol McTaggart of Boyoe City as President.

Members of the Board and officers are: Vice Praeident, Camille Greene (Charlevoix); Treasurer, Mike Engels, M.D., (Boyne City); Secretary Nancy Bottomley, R.N. (Bellaire), representing the Health Department; Lyn Jenks, representing Northern Michigan Hospitals; Kathryn Boaa, R.N., representing Charlevoix Area Hospital; Richard May (Boyoe City), Linda Mansfield (Boyne City), Phyliss Malpass (East Jordan, David Yingling (Charlevoix), Renate Smith (Boyne City), Charlea McDowell (East Jordan), and Sara Gay Dammann (Charlevoix).

The Immediate concern of the organixation la to achieve taa exempt atatna in order to receive donations and grants to underwrite its work. Currently there are 64 members. Annual dues are $3.

Meanwhile a training program la beiog deaigned for the volunteers who will be the backbone of the effort, helping patients and families.

Mrs. Smith explained there will be two groups of volunteers. "There will be volunteers who will do good neighbor type activities which may include light house work, reading, letter writing, helping with meals or just being a companion to the patient when the family needs to go out. These volunteers will help with anything that is needed," she continued.

Other volunteers, Mrs. Smith said, will be "professionals from agenciea, auch as counseling, mental health, social services, attorneys, insurance companies or the loan closet of the Easter Seal and American Cancer Societies."

Every patient will have what Mrs. Smith deacribed as "an interdisciplinary team" of the profesaional volunteers who will oversee their care.

All volunteers will receive up to 22 hours of training, focussed on dealing with death and dieing and the arts of communication and listening.

Mrs. Smith pointed out that Hospice is a growing concept world-wide. It has taken different forma in different communities. In some, Hospice means a place, such as a hospital or special facility. In other area, like Charlevoix County, the emphasis is on bringing the concept of Hospice - its emphasis on the quality of life - to the home of the patient.

Bill Neis is newest face at St. Mary's School

by ANNE KELLY

A new face on the acene this year at St. Mary'a School is young, enthusiastic first year teacher, Bill Nela, formerly of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Graduating with a B.S. in Education from Northern Michigan University Bill waa delighted to find a job opening in his field, early childhood education. Altbough qualified nnder certification to teach K-8, Bill has focused on the early grades as a chosen area and presently finds himself with a 2nd grade class at St. Mary's.

"I have 17 kids in my class," Bill remarked of the almost unheard of pupil-teacher ratio. "I like the smaller group – it'a easier to handle". He especially like the "family" atmosphere at St. Mary's where everyone cares what the other is doing and how they are faring.

Bill, having come from a large family and always having little ones around, feels that it was natural to pursue elementary edncation as a career.

"Some people think it'a funny that a man ahould waot a job teaching little kids." But Bill defends his choice by atating simply, "I like kids, I always have."

For a while, Bill admita to having considered teaching in the inner city schools of a metropolitan area. "After all," he explained, "one reason I decided to go into teaching was to help that kind of student." Bnt wheo the opportunity arose to come north, Bill gladly accepted.

An avid outdoorsman, Bill la awaiting Charlevolx'a winter with perhaps more enthusiasm than the typical local resident. Bill was a member of the Nordic Ski Patrol in Marquette County while attending Northern.

Gradually getting acclimated to his class and teaching materials are first priorities for Bill as a beginning teacher.

"I like 2nd grade," Bill concluded. "After having just learned to read the kids are eager to learn and read everything."

Bill Neis also appears ready to begin a year of growth and discovery doing what he likes best, helping kids learn.

Midener exhibit is October fare at McCune

The Crooked Tree Arta Conncil la sponsoring an exhibit to honor East Jordan artist Walter Midener's 70th birthday at the Virginia McCune Arts Center in Petoskey during the month of October.

Several large new works in wood will be shown as well as a recently completed bust of daughter and fellow artist, Wendy Midener Froud. More than 25 wood, metal and terra cotta pieces will be displayed along with drawings and photographs. Midener's work has been shown in major museums and galleries across the U.S., including the Whitney.

In 1958, Mideoer joined the faculty of the Society of Arts and Crafts, later known as the Center for Creative Studies–College of Arts and Design. He served as the head of the Department of Sculpture for twenty years. In 1958, he was appointed as the director of the school until his retirement in 1977. During his tenure, he brought about [illegible] expansion in the size and stature of this vital Michigan cultural institution. As educator, Midener gave creative motivation and meticulous instruction to hundreds of his students, many of whom have become teachers throughout the area.

His work is in many public and private collections including the Flint Art Institute, the Michigan Supreme Court, the Detroit Main Public Library, the Pontiac Motor Division and the Michigan Cancer Foundation, Detroit. The Pontiac Art Center sponsored a retrospective exhibit in Sept. 1978.

He has won numerous prizes including the Detroit Institute of Arts Museum Purchase Prize in 1950. His work was included in Michigan Artists Shows at the D.I.A. from 1946 through 1951; the Whitney Museum Sculpture Annual, New York City, in 1950, '51, '53, '55; Cincinnati Art Mnaenm, 1960; Contemporary Scnlptnre, Macomb College in 1977 to name but a few, and at the Metropolitan Museum in N.Y. in '51. "My sculpture is influenced by themes from the Old and New Testaments, classical mythology...I am mainly interested in organic form," said Midener. "I am always fascinated by the challenge of the different materiala. Each material –wood, metal, terra cotta– offers so many different possibilities and solutions. The excitement of discovering new solutions in the material as the sculpture progresses is breathtaking..."

Midener was born in Liegnitz, Germany in a stone house built in 1256, in the very room Napoleon Bonaparte slept during his historic retreat from Russia. When Midener was fourteen, be became interested in art and executed a number of commissioned portraits in clay and bronze of prominent citizens of his town. The Director of the tile factory, where his clay pieces were fired, became interested in his work and offered him unheated studio space without charge. Young Midener worked here before school every morning from 4 a.m. to 7 a.m., often in freezing temperatures. The habit of early rising and creative work periods remain with him to this day.

When the situation in Germany under Hitler's Third Reich became intolerable, Midener joined many of Germany's foremost artists and fled to the United States in 1938. He began teaching at the Henry Street Settlement in New York. He was commissioned to sculpt portraits of luminaries auch aa George S. Kaufman.

In Feb. 1941, he enlisted in the U.S. army. He was attached to the 27th Division and stationed in Hawaii, where be obtained his citizenship. Subsequently he was transferred for intensive retraining in Combat Intelligence to Camp Ritchie, Maryland. In January, 1944, Midener left for England with the 90th Division and on D-Day-Plus-One landed on Utah Beach, Normandy. He participated in the Battle of the Bulge. Later be singlehandedly captured 80 Nazi soldiers (giving them stern orders to surrender in fluent German) and marching them to headquarters. He then returned to the scene of battle and with the support of 30 men, he captured 340 more Nazi soldiers. For this be was awarded the Silver Star for Gallantry and the Bronze Star for Meritorious Service. He also received a Purple Heart for wounds incurred during battle. At the end of the war, serving as interrogator in Buchenwald, be was responsible for having Ilse Koch, commonly known as "the Bitch of Buchenwald" taken into custody.

In 1986, Midener was invited by the Bonn Government to tour a number of art schools in Germany. He visted 11 cities in 14 days. Flying first class, he was driven by limousine to Stuttgardt to meet sculptor, Hajek. Midener was received by Chancellor Willie Brandt. He visited the Lehmbruck Museum and attended a New Year's reception at his former Alma Mater, the Berlin Academy, where he was officially welcomed back by its director.

In April, 1982, Midener received a citation from the State Department at a ceremony in South Bend, Indiana, which reads as follows: The United States Holocaust Memorial Council hereby expresses appreciation to Walter Midener for valiant service during the 1944-45 liberation by allied forces of Nazi Concentration Camps. United States Department of State, Washington, D.C.

At the present time Midener lives in East Jordan with his wife Peggy, a professional artist and painter. Both share a large studio overlooking Lake Charlevoix, where he is hard at work carving a four foot statue from mahogany. Says Midener, "the chisel becomes an extension of my fingers and with this I shape the wood."

OCT

Circle Lake Chx. for colorful auto tour

by PEG OHLE

Many years ago, when Fowler's Taxi Service was operating in Charlevoix, one of the favorite out-of-town motor trips taken by resorters in the summertime was a trip around Lake Charlevoix.

Summer homes were not insulated in those days, so with the advent of Labor Day and cool weather, those resorters packed up and went home. They never did get to see Charlevoix County in its coat of many colors. Had they been here in October, surely Mr. Fowler and his men would have been kept very busy driving around Lake Charlevoix and showing off the beauties of the countryside.

Now, October is a popular month for visitors to come to Charlevoix County, and since they all have "motorcars", they can take the trip around Lake Charlevoix on their own. And, best of all, so can all the year-round residents who have had their noses to the grindstone during the busy summer months.

We recommend the trip around Lake Charlevoix not only because of the colorful trees along the roadside and atop the background hills, but because of the many other points of interest along the way.

Side roads with such descriptive names as "Maple Grove" and "Pincherry" just off from the north side of Lake Charlevoix and "Mountain Road" from the south side. They, as well as many other local roads, give another dimension to the trip.

Then there are the rivers and creeks that flow into Lake Charlevoix, notably the Boyne River at Boyne City and the Jordan River at East Jordan, Horton Creek near Horton Bay, and Porter Creek at Advance. There is Young State Park, Whiting Park, and Elm Pointe. Besides the three cities of Charlevoix County – Charlevoix, Boyne City, and East Jordan – there are three quaint communities that time has passed by. Horton Bay, Advance, and Ironton were all busy places even before Mr. Fowler started his taxi service.

All three cities are located directly on Lake Charlevoix and have hundreds of feet of park land and other public facilities along the shoreline. Ducks (and sometimes swans) share the dockspaces with boats that have not yet been put to bed for winter. They happily gobble up all the bread crumbs that are tossed to them.

The trip around Lake Charlevoix and its South Arm (through East Jordan) is approximately 38 miles.

The trip by way of the Ironton Ferry is approximately 28 miles.

Crossing the ferry in an automobile costs $1, but pedestrians are carried free. Those making the trip via East Jordan can still have a "boat ride" by stopping at the ferry, leaving their cars in the parking lot, and making the trip across and back "on foot".

If you drive slowly – but not too slowly – and stop from time to time at special points of interest, you can spend a rewarding afternoon driving around Lake Charlevoix.

Happy color tour!

Mrs. Dienert to address retreat

The 11th annual women's retreat will be held at Boyne Mountain Resort on Friday, November 5, and Saturday, November 6. The retreat will provide an opportunity to join with other women for inspiration, fellowship, and encouragement.

Millie Dienert, wife, mother, grandmother, and internationally known speaker for the Billy Graham Crusades, will be the featured guest speaker. Mrs. Dienert is invited all over the world to speak, often with the aid of interpreters, and she talks about the universal feminine concerns that know neither language nor age barriers – about confronting life's inevitable crises and dealing with its pain, about love, identity, and self-worth, about being happy and creating a happy home in an unhappy world.

The seminar sessions will further develop the retreat's theme entitled "The Wisdom of God". They are as follows: Millie Dienert, "Wholesome Family Living", Malettor Cross, "Building Love in the Family", Robert Chenoweth, "Husbands in Mid-Life Crisis", Jan Ream, "The Healthy Human Being", Arlene Chenoweth, "How You Can Win Over Worry", and Gray Harwell, "Living as One in Marriage."

A selection of Christian books, records, and tapes will be available in the bookstore. Vocal music will be supplied by Irene Saddler, who was a retreat favorite five years ago.

A special Community Banquet, for men and women of all ages, will be the highlight of the retreat weekend. Ernie Harwell, famous Tiger baseball sports announcer, will be the guest speaker. The program and dinner will be held November 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Boyne Mountain Convention Hall.

More information, registration forms, and banquet tickets may be obtained by contacting Maxine Drenth at 547-2105, or they may be picked up at Aartvark Studios or Bridge Street Hardware. The retreat is sponsored by the neighborhood inter-denominational Bible classes of Petoskey.

Taylor leads Rayder CC team to Ferris title

The pack heads out in Tuesday's cross country meet at the Belvedere Golf Club.

The Charlevois Rayder Cross Country team with 42 points won the Ferris Invitational meet over eight other teams Saturday according to Coach Pete Spieles.

The Rayders' Bill Taylor, a junior runner, took first in the meet with a time of 15:58.2.

Rogers City, also of the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference, placed second with 93 points. Muskegon Oakridge, rated first in Class C standings in the state last week, finished fifth with 123 points. Charlevoix had been rated second behind the Muskegon team in the standings.

Medals for the meet were given to the top 25 runners. Six of the seven of Charlevoix's runners received medals. John Tunison finished third with a time of 16:16.8; Bill Dohm, 9th with a time of 16:45.2; Matt Peterson, 13th in 16:50.8; Ron Way, 17th in 17:09.0; Lee Allard 22nd in 17:14.9; Matt Landon, 28th in 17:25.8.

Junior Varsity runners participated in an open race with all entries, A,B,C and D runners entered. Doug Sloan finished 23rd in the race, Sandy Wanek, a freshman, finished 29th in the open race for C and D girls. No times were given for entries in these two events.

Charlevois is scheduled to be at St. Ignace Tuesday with several other teams and will host the first Claire Martin Invitational meet here Saturday.

Win 24th dual meet

The Charlevoix Rayder cross country team posted its twenty-fourth straight dual-triangular meet by defeating Rogers City and Gaylord in a meet held under ideal conditions at the Rayder course at the Belvedere Golf course last Tuesday.

Charlevoix posted 23 points to 48 for Rogers City and 55 for Gaylord.

In winning the meet, Charlevoix's Bill Taylor set a new track record of 15:12 minutes, breaking the old record of 15:23 set by Dan Pater of Petoskey.

Five of the Rayders seven entries finished among the top 10 to assure Charlevoix the victory. Coach Pete Spieles said his runners had an excellent day and competed well against some fine opponents. He was especially pleased with Taylor's new record which now gives the track record to a Rayder runner.

Finishing behind Taylor were Bolen of Gaylord with a time of 15:36; Matt Peterson in 15:37; Hogan of Rogers City, 15:41; John Tunison, 15:58; Lee Allard, 16:16; Wood of Rogers City, 16:24; Bill Dohm, 16:37; Brown of Gaylord, 16:40 and S. Kimmerer of Rogers City, 16:44.

Ron Way finished in 12th place with a time of 16:54 and Matt Landon in 15th place with a time of 17:03.

The Charlevoix JVs came in second in the meet with 46 points. Rogers City finished first with 28 and Gaylord had 49 for the meet.

Doug Sloan of Charlevoix set the pace for the run with a time of 17:38. Charlevoix's Steve Young finished fifth in 18:25; Rich Gallant, 12th in 18:35; Gerry Chase, 13th in 18:44; Dave Umlor, 15th in 18:52; Sandy Wanek, 20th in 21:41; Chuck Hastings, 21st in 21:45 and Darrin Farmer, 22nd in 22:05.

Charlevoix will be at Rogers City with Petoskey Tuesday and will host the Claire Martin Invitational at the Belvedere course on Saturday, Oct. 9.

Charlevoix to host Claire Martin Invitational CC meet

Eleven northern Michigan Cross Country teams and two from the Canadian Soo have accepted invitations to participate in the first Claire Martin Invitational Cross Country meet hosted by the Charlevoix Rayder harriers on Saturday, Pete Spieles, Rayder coach, has announced.

"The meet which we plan to make an annual event is dedicated to the memory of Claire Martin, an avid booster of trsck for many years" Coach Spieles said in announcing the event to be held at the course at the Belvedere Golf Course beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The meet will be run in three divisions, two for the boys and one for the girls, he explained. The boys' teams will include up to 10 runners each with the first eight counted in the scoring. Runners on teams with less than eight runners will be eligible for medals but not for team ranking.

Entered in Division I scheduled to run at 10 a.m. are Traverse City High School, Alpena, Gaylord, Rogers City, Petoskey, St. Mary's of the Canadian Soo, Sir James Dunn of the Canadian Soo plus the host team, Charlevoix.

Division II to run at 10:30 a.m., will include Manclona, East Jordan, Boyne City, Elk Rapids and Kalkaska.

The girls division, which will be an open event to be run at 11 a.m., will include runners from Traverse City, Gaylord, Petoskey, Benzie Central and Charlevoix.

Trophies will be awarded to the top two teams in each division and medals to the top 20 runners in each division, Coach Spieles said.

Post-meet refreshments will be served to all participants.

In conclusion, Coach Spieles said "This, the Claire Martin Invitational, is Charlevoix's first Cross Country invitational meet. It is dedicated to the memory of a man who devoted a great deal of time to the youth of Charelvoix interested in track for may years.

Golfers take pair from Soo, H.S.

The Charlevoix Rayder Golfers chalked up two victories last week, winning over Sault Ste. Marie by a score of 171 to 209 and Harbor Springs 172 to 198 according to Coach Glen Taylor.

Charlevoix will host the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference meet at the Belvedere course at noon on Monday to close out its home matches.

In their meeting with the Soo, Steve Keller, with a score of 38, was medalist. Dan Batdorff had a score of 42; Chuck Klooster 45 and Scott Keller 46.

Dennis Miekle had a 47, Dennis James 48, Terry Laurence 55, and Frank Brokl 59 for the Soo.

Charlevoix also won the JV match by a score of 192 to 225. Bill Joy was medalist with a 42. Mark Mosley had a 49; Larry Wilson 50 and Chris Gibbons 51 for Charlevoix. Jason Thorpe with a 54 was low for the Soo.

On Thursday, the Rayders won the Varsity match over Harbor Springs 172 to 198 with Steve Keller again medalist with a 39. Klooster carded a 43; Scott Keller a 44, and Denny Curtis a 46.

Ross Fockler had a 43; Kurt Erzleben, a 49 and Rob Kowalski and Al Klogama 53s for Harbor Springs.

The Harbor JVs' Dan Allore was medalist for the JV match with a 49.

Steve Cooper and Gerry Chase had scores of 55; Chris Michael and Fred Mielke 56s for Charlevoix.

Girls win one, lose one

The Charlevoix girls basketball team split during the past week, defeating Boyne City 54-47 on Tuexday and losing to Petoskey 47-42 on Thursday.

This week Charlevoix will be a Gaylord on Tuesday, will host Cheboygan on Thursday and travel to Grayling Oct. 12.

In the game with Boyne City, Charlevoix went to the free throw line to win as Boyne City outscored the locals from the floor 19-16.

Paced by Laora Kemp with 17 points, Charlevoix trailed 16-7 at the quarter and 28-23 at the half before going ahead 40-34 at the three-quarter mark.

Charlevoix had 18 field goals and 18 of 33 free throws while collecting 16 personal fouls. Boyne City, with 19 field goals, connected on nine of 15 free throw attempts and had 24 personal fouls.

Ann Wagner had 10 points. Lisa Sturm had 14 and Kristie Crozier 12 for Boyne City.

Charlevoix won the JV game 40-27.

In the game with Petoskey, the Rayders trailed 12-10 at the quarter but managed a slim 20-19 advantage at halftime before falling behind 32-27 going into the final period.

Petoskey had 19 field goals, nine of 20 charity shots and 16 personal fouls. Charlevoix had 17 field goals eight of 25 from the line and 21 personal fouls.

Rhouda Buchanan had 17 points for Charlevoix while Kristen Ronan had the smae number for Petoskey. Sue Damschroeder had 10 for the visitors.

Charlevoix won the JV game 45-33 with Michelle Gagnon accounting for 27 points for the game.

Adult flag football

Action in the Charlevoix Township Flag Football League continued last week with the Townhouse defeating Big Rock 26-6 on Tuesday and the Landing by a score of 19-2 on Thursday.

Big Rock won by forfeit over the Coast Guard Station Tuesday and the Landing over the Station in the same manner on Thursday.

The Townhouse depended on passing for its victories with Ray LaVoie connecting with Dan McKenzie for 21 yards and Bud Klooster for 10 to account for two touchdowns in the game with the Landing. Greg Nelson scored on a two yard plunge and LaVoie passed to McKenzie for a conversion. Barry Poller scored the Landing's safety.

In the game with Big Rock, LaVoie passed 18 and eight yardx to Nelson and seven yards to McKenzie for scoring plays while Steve Dunkelberg got off a 28 yard aerial to Nelson for the final TD of the game. Steve Beechum passed two yards to John Hutchinson for Big Rock's single touchdown. LaVoie passed to Dave Novotny and to Nelson for conversion points.

This week will find the Townhouse and the Coast Guard Station playing at 5:30 p.m. and the Landing and Big Rock meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday and the Landing and Townhouse clashing at 5:30 and Big Rock and the Coast Guard Station meeting at 8:30 Thursday. In games on Oct. 12, there will be only one game between Townhouse and the Coast Guard Station.

Yachting Notes

Another perfect Wednesday evening on Lake Charlevoix, but they are more notable in very late September as these races "dwindle down to a precious few".

A fine night for "Ramblin' Guy" as she starts well, sails well and finished, well,...first!

A little congestion at the Committee Boat end of the starting line, as the evening is punctuated by comments relative to the outstanding qualities of the skippers of the yachts that stall and slide along the line.

A little confusion ax "Camouflage" apparently misses a couse change and shows its Traverse City visitor a scenic view of Mark "E". Welcome, Ned Lockwood of "Coal Pile Express" fame; I'd rename mine "Cement Dust Express" if I thought it would help!

Running home with a full chute, a nice breeze and a rising moon defining shapes around the running lights astern. So used to "Indooroophilly's" stern light just ahead that we recognize the filament shape! Sliding across the finish line with a chute drop perfectly simultaneous with the sound of quick easy access to the contents of four 12-oz. containers.

That's the way it was...

Overall: "Ramblin Guy", "Hummer", "Tigger", "Indooroophilly" and "Foxy Lady".

PHRF: Just as above; "Ramblin Guy", "Hummer" and "Tigger".

P-26: "Foxy Lady", "Blazen III" and "Win Haven".

525's: "Indooroophilly", "Bandit" and "Mud Duck".

Portsmouth Fleet: "Phoenecia" (!!!), "Ribil" and "Cheemaun" (trlly a "Hollow Victory").

Wait...don't pull that boat! While the Fall series ends tonight, October 6, there is still that event, to end all events, next Wednesday, October 13.

The starting gun is 6:00 p.m. sharp, all one class...if you've been finishing in the last three or four on overall, heck...start at 5:55. If you're one of the "Big Goys", don't cross that line 'til 6:05! Fly anything, bring a crowd, don't forget the Red Pop and, remember, the yacht having the most fun while doing the least damage is the winner!

Where are we going? This will be an amphibious "Landing(s)" exercise in the thriving metropolis of Ironton - by land or by sea (It's shorter by lake). Those arriving, sound of mind and body, will partake of the culinary and brewing artists finest productions before setting sail homeward.

Notice to all enterprises in the Charlevoix area: Please do not measure attendance or productivity early Thursday, October 14!

One of the strongest slates for directors left the membership with a most difficult decision. Joining Louis Hollow, Tom Bickersteth, and Richard Pajtas, Directors whose terms continue through the new year, are the newly elected members of the Board: Pat Carland, Bob Schofield, and Ken Heininger, all with two year terms starting now. The seventh member of the Board is the immediate past Commodore, presently Jacqui Merta. Their first job is to elect the Flag Officers. Traditionally one or more elect themselves (really...get drafted by the others) to a higher post and end up being replaced on the Board. So, we'll update you with final election and appointment results as soon as they are announced.

These people take on the chore of running a pretty good sized "business" for no compensation. They need your help and support in order to succeed. If you are willing to work on a committee, or help in any other way, don't be modest, offer your services or indicate your willingness to any of the Directors, NOW!

Youth flag football

The Chargers continued their winning streak in the Flag Football League as they downed the Falcons 25-12 in action Monday night. In a second game, the second place Jets won over the Cowboys 15-6.

In games scheduled for Monday, Oct. 11, the Jets will meet the Falcons at 8 p.m. and the Chargers and the Cowboys will play at 7:15 p.m.

Three passes by Scott Mitcheltree gave the Chargers their winning margin over the Falcons last week. The first was a 15 yard aerial to Kevin Shepard early in the game; the second a flea flicker to Shepard to Ty Wagner good for 28 yards and the third to Heath Moore in the third period good for 15 yards. Shepard also scored on a 30 yard run with Mitcheltree scoring the conversion for the win.

A 25 yard pass from Jim Gibbs to Dave Eakes in the second quarter and a second for 15 yards in the third period by the same pair accounted for the Falcons 12 points.

Dan Drury passed and ran for the Jets' two touchdowns and then added a safety.

The first half was scoreless but in the third period Drury passed 18 yards to Mike Himebauch and then ran the conversion point for a 7-0 lead before scoring on a 10 yard run and a safety in the final period, a 34 yard pass from Darren Batdorff to Chris Smith gave the Cowbdys their single TD.

The standings are: Chargers 3-0; Jets 2-1; Cowboys 0-2-1; Falcons 0-2-1.

Gridders back in win column with victory at Boyne City

Nothing like a good old rivalry to get a team fired up after a couple of tough defeats.

The Charlevoix Red Rayders, paced by Pat Mitchell's four touchdowns, bounced back from a shellacking at Rogers City the week before and an opening day loss to Petoskey by easily handling Boyne City 29-12 Friday night on the Ramblers' home turf.

The win gave the Rayders their first conference victory in the 1982 campaign against two losses. Overall, Charlevoix stands 2-2 for the year.

Mitchell's first touchdown, a five-yard run on a pitchout, capped a neatly engineered scoring drive in which the Rayders went 60 yards in eight plays. Thad Morgan kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

Boyne City answered with six points of their own, however, before the quarter was over when quarterback Brad Musser hit Tom Moody on a 50-yard pass play. The extra point was missed leaving Charlevoix ahead at the end of the quarter.

Mitchell struck again in the second stanza when he broke away on a 44-yard scamper after busting over the left tackle. A missed conversion attempt left the Rayders on top 13-6 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Shannon Reynolds pounced on a Boyne City fumble at the Rambler 40 yard line and, five plays later, it was Mitchell again scoring from the one. The Rayders added two more when quarterback Tim LaBlance found Dave Batdorff in the endzone for the extra points.

Mitchell could not be stopped as he romped again for a 24 yard-run, still in the third quarter, which set up his fourth TD, again from the one. On this conversion, LaBlance hit Bill Tillen in the endzone for two more points and an insurmountable 29-6 Charlevoix lead.

Boyne City managed to get onto the scoreboard one more time in the third quarter when Musser connected with Kevin Fitzpatrick for a 30-yards and their second touchdown. The unsuccesful conversion attempt left the Ramblers on the short end of the 29-12 final tally.

Statistically, Charlevoix's ground game dominated their offense. Of 330 total yards, 252 were gained rushing. Mitchell naturally led all Rayder ball carriers with 148 yards in 25 carries. Boyne City's total yardage of 235 consisted of 133 yards passing and 102 yards rushing.

LaBlance completed seven of 14 passes for 78 yards and two extra point conversions. Jeff Trimper was LaBlance's leading receiver hauling in three passes for 60 yards.

On defense, Batdorff and Morgan each recorded eight tackles to lead the squad while Tim Bergmann and Jack Moran had six apiece. Other defensive standouts according to the coaching staff included Mike Pischner, Scott Mervyn, Shannon Reynolds, Al Bergmann and Mike Donnelly.

This week, the Rayders end a long string of away games when they host the Cheboygan Chiefs at Kipke Field.

New team added to youth soccer league

The Charlevoix Area Youth Soccer League continues to grow, expecially in the 13 to 15 year old category, with the addition of a team, sponsored by the Charlevoix Men's Soccer League.

With over 22 yoong people in the 13 to 15 age group playing, coach Michael Bonar divided the group into two teams, the Aartvark team and the Charlevois Men's. These two teams will play each other locally and combine for special competition against Petoskey and adult teams. This Thursday the Aartvark defeated Charlevoix Men's 13 to 15 years olds, 4 to 2. Tim Salmonson and Bob Diehl each scored one goal, and Heath Moore scored twice for Aartvark. Mike Thompson scored twice for the Charlevoix Men'x team.

Saturday the combined team took on the adults, who had also recruited help from other younger players, including extra 13 to 15 year olds. The combined Aartvark-Charlevoix Men's team defeated the adults 5 to 3 in the heated but friendly game, which saw many adults maaxaging aching muscles. Tim Salmonson xcored twice, and Heath Moore, Bob Diehl and Karl Erber each kicked goals for the younger team. Jim McGarry, Joe Borths and Terry Bonar scored for the "adult plus" team.

Other games last week in the 7 and under division saw B.S. Hair Care and the Apple Tree fight to a 1 to 1 tie Tuesday, with goals by Jeff Joy and Bill Dryer for Hair Care and Apple Tree respectively. In the same league Off Shore Graphics, with three goals by Sam Bingham, defeated the Rowdies 3 to 1, with Jodi McGlynch scoring for the Rowdies.

On Saturday Offshore Graphics defeated B.S. Hair Care 3 to 0 and the Rowdies, with goals by Tim Miller and Jodi McGlynch defeated Apple Tree 2 to 1. Ryan Smith scored for the Apple Tree.

In the 9 and under division last Thursday the Sting and Gaskins Standard fought a non-scoring game and the Strikers defeated Charlevoix Men's (9 and under team) 2 to 0. Matt Harbison scored one goal for the Strikers. The second goal was an accidental goal scored by Charlevoix Men's in the wrong goal.

On Saturday, the Sting defeated Charlevoix Men's (9 and under team) 2 to 0 and Gaskin's Standard defeated the Strikers 1 to 0 with a goal by Chris Ames.

In the 12 and under division on Tuesday Hagen Manker, Associate Broksr's Team defeated Cosmos 6 to 1. Scott Kelly scored the lone goal for Cosmos, while Marti Joy scored 5 for Manker and Brad McGlynch scored one. McGlynch, who is frequently recruited to play for vaious teams, may hold the record for goals scored so far this season.

Saturday Charlevoix Camera defeated Hagen Manker, Associate Broker 5 to 3, with two goals by Webb Friedly, two by Brad McGlynch and one by Jon Terry. Sean Henne and Michael Stargardt were credited with valuable assists on two goals. Scoring for Manker were Marti Joy, David Miller and John O'Brien.

Sunday the combined team of the 13-15 year olds travelled to Petoskey where, according to coach Michael Bonar they played a beautiful game despite a 5 to 1 defeat. Quintin Walker scored the only goal for the Charlevois team.

Rayder JVs overwhelm Ramblers

The Charlevoix Rayder Junior Varsity rolled up a 34-14 win over the Boyne City JVs in a game played at Kipke Field Thursday.

This Thursday the young Rayders will be at Cheboygan for a game at 6:30 p.m.

In the game with Boyne City, Jim Martin had an explosive day as he scored four of Charlevoix's touchdowns.

The game got off to a slow start with a scoreless first period.

The tempo changed in the second period, however, as Martin broke away for a 50 yard run. He then added the conversion point ax the half ended 8-0.

As the second half opened, Martin scored again, this time on a six yard run. Later in the period Jim Kenney, substituting for Kyle Smith who was benched with an injury scored on a 30 yard run.

In the final period Martin scored two more touchdowns, the first on a 15 yard dash and the second on an 80 yard romp with Pat Hamlin adding the conversion on a run.

Boyne City did not score until late in the game when Dave Milks went in on a five yard plunge after a 40 yard run by Chris Howard had put the ball in scoring position. Howard passed to Mike Gabos for the conversion. Howard added the Ramblers final TD on a one yard quarterback sneak after Ray Stoit had recovered a Rayder fumble on the two yard line.

Martin had 235 yards and Kenney 103 yards for the game with Louis Raymond and Jeff Trimper having good showings on offense and John Pearl, Hamlin and Chris Edwards showing up well on defense.

MS Girls win two

The Charlevoix Middle School girls basketball teams launched their 1982 schedule Monday with victories over Boyne City teams.

On Monday, the teams will be at Petoskey for gamex scheduled for 6 p.m.

The seventh grade team won over Boyne City by a xcore of 21-8 and the eighth graders won 33-17.

The seventh graders jumped to a 10-6 half-time over Boyne City before winning 21-8. Kaye Stoneham had eight points and Lisa Smith seven for Charlevoix. Colleen Williams had four for Boyne City.

In the eighth grade game, eight players scored for Charlevoix as they headed their opponents 13-6 at the half and 33-17 at the final buzzer. Amy Pischner led the scoring with seven points. Koni Wolff had six for Boyne City.

Consumers must answer six safety questions says NRC

by TOM DAMMANN

Consumers Power Company has been given 30 days to supply answers to six public safety problems having to do with it's Big Rock Point Nuclear Power Plant 3 miles east of here.

The order was issued September 14 by the Federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) Atomic Safety and Licensing Board and gives the utility 30 days from that date.

The questions developed from points raised by a local group, the Concerned Citizens of the Charlevoix Area, who have intervened in Consumer's application to the NRC for permission to increase the number of highly radioactive spent fuel assemblies in Big Rocks spent fuel pool. They were discussed at a public hearing before the board at Boyne Mountain last June.

The points cover: 1) the radiological training of local government and school officials; 2) how persons who lack vehicles of their own can be transported out of the area in case of emergency; 3) how off duty school bus drivers will be alerted in case of emergency and whether these drivers have agreed to perform emergency duties when they are off duty; 4) whether there will be adequate transportation available for school children, in the event of an emergency, including children who normally don't rely on school busses for transportation; 5) whether an adequate list of invalids is being kept in order to facilitate their evacuation during an emergency; and 6) how emergency routes will be established and how this information will be given to bus drivers unfamiliar with these routes.

Robert Grupp, Big Rock spokesman told a reporter that the "order will be answered within the required time".

Meantime, Forest Earl Muma, Charlevoix County Emergency Services Director, states that the emergency pamphlets currently being printed will be mailed to all deliverable street addresses, post office boxes, and rural route boxes within a five mile radius of Big Rock, the Emergency Planning Zone (EPZ). A repeat mailing will be made after next Memorial Day to make sure that seasonal residents receive their pamphlets.

He said, in addition, the pamphlets will be delivered to motel and hotel owners, that stickers containing information will be placed on gasoline filling station doors, that boaters will be advised by Coast Guard on radio in the event of an emergency and that emergency information will be printed on the backs of receipts received from the Charlevoix Harbor Master when boaters pay for dock space.

Muma disclosed that there will be mandatory radiological training for bus drivers, school officials, emergency coordinators, police and firemen.

He said handicapped people have been asked to provide the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department with their names and address every six months and that there are sufficient number of buses available for invalids.

The Courier has also learned that the intervenors, Christa Maria, Jo Ann Bier, Jim Mills, and John O'Neill have appealed a ruling issued September 16 by the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board that it was unnecessary for it to consider closing Big Rock or shipping spent fuel assemblies to another site (perhaps to Midland or Palisades) in the event there is no longer storage space in the Big Rock spent fuel pool.

In their appeal the intervenors assert that under the National Environmental Protection Act (NEPA) that the NRC staff must study and describe the alternatives about which there are unresolved disputes.

New playground equipment for St. Mary's

St. Mary's awaits completion of the construction of new playground equipment. The plans for a prairie cabin and a play modular have been approved and the area cleared. The project, explained board member Gabe Campbell, is a gratis donation of the "Telephone Pioneers", a community service organization of The Bell Telephone Company. With parents combining their efforts to spruce up play equipment, having painted the existing swingset and replaced swing seats, St. Mary's students can look forward to happier recesses this fall.

Extension offers woodlot program

The Cooperative Extension Service of Emmet and Charlevoix Counties are sponsoring a joint program dealing with woodlot management for firewood production and how to get the most out of wood heat. This program will be held at the Alden Sterzik farm on October 6 at 1:30 p.m.

Topics to be covered include: How and Why To Manage your Woodlot For Firewood and High Quality Timber Products, Chain Saw Safety, Proper Felling Techniques, Professional Assistance for Private Woodlot Owners, and Wood Heating Tips.

To give an idea of how a properly managed woodlot should appear, this program will be held on a woodlot in Emmet County which has been under management for the past seven years.

An informational packet of material will be available at the meeting for a small fee. In case of rain this program will be held in the 4-H Center, Petoskey. For more information and reservations call the Charlevoix County Extension Office at 582-6232 or the Emmet County Extension Office at 347-2596.

Bloodmobile falls just short of goal

The recent visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to collect blood for use by area residents when it is needed netted 119 pints, 31 pints short of the goal of 150 pints Mrs. David Fowler, coordinator fo rthe Bloodmobile, has announced.

"Had the 40 people who made appointments and then failed to appear turned out we would have more than filled our quota" Mrs. Fowler said. This, added to the fact that the U.S.C.G.C. Mesquite was out of port, resulted in the shortage Mrs. Fowler added.

However, 128 people did come to the American Legion post home. Nine of these were deferred, mostly because of colds, leaving 119 who were able to donate. Among these were six new donors.

In announcing the results of the Bloodmobile visit, Mrs. Fowler thanked those people who did donate blood as well as all the volunteers who joined in making the visit a success.

The next visit of the Bloodmobile has been scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 4, 1983.

KJELL JOHANSSON, Manager of the Weathervane Terrace Hotel in Charlevoix had been awarded a certificate of merit in the annual safety awards program conducted by the American Hotel & Motel Assoication (AH&MA). The certificate recognized that the Weathervane Terrace Hotel had no reportable injuries to employees during 1981.

Aim of the Safety awards Program is to minimize accidents in hotels and motels by making management and employees more safety-conscious according to Bill Cox, Chairman, AH&MA's Security Committee.

The American Hotel & Motel Assoication, the national organization, affiliated with the Michigan Lodging Association, represents one million rooms in the United States and abroad. MLA represents over 32,000 rooms in Michigan.

Shoot-a-Thon nets over $1,300

A recent "Shoot-a-thon" sponsored by the Charlevoix High School girls basketball teams have netted the teams approximately $1,305 their coaches, Henry Wagner, and Van Green have announced.

Fifteen members of the Varsity and JV teams participated by obtaining pledges for the number of free throw shots out of a thousand each would make.

Kim Bolduc, a senior completed 765 out of 1,000 attempts. Michelle Gagnon, a freshman, had 719. Ann Wagner, however, who had the most pledges, made the most money for the project, $220.20, on 714 of 1,000 free throws. Another freshman, Sue Miller, made $126 on 632 free throws.

Oleson's Food store supplied refreshments of the participants throughout the day.

United Way is off and running; goal: $20,000

by DAVE KNIGHT

"The need for support of the United Way in Charlevoix is more prevalent now than ever before."

With that observation, local United Way chairman Pat Donnelly pronounced the 1983 fund raising drive underway by naming individual chairmen and setting the date for the United Way house-to-house campaign.

"With the government cutting back on the funding of many important programs in the community, it is most important this year that the people of Charlevoix contribute generously to United Way," said Donnelly who is serving his second year as president of the Charlevoix United Way and general chairman of the drive.

The goal for the Charlevoix United Way this year is $20,000, the same as last year. Donations will be actively solicited starting this month with the resulting funds distributed to participating agencies in February, 1983. (See accompanying chart for distribution of Charlevoix United Way 1982 funds.)

Involving the most work each year is the house-to-house canvassing which will be conducted this year on the evening of Thursday, October 28. Heading the house-to-house campaign is chairman Susan Dahl with assistance from Helen Emmons and Ann Hufford.

Volunteers will be asked to report to the American Legion Hall at 6:30 p.m. that evening for assigned areas of the city. Those interested in taking part are asked to contact Mrs. Dahl as soon as possible.

Coordinating the United Way drive for local industries will be Donnelly and United Way vice-president Dick Kenney. Kenney will also assist Jim Hayden in the fund raising campaign among Charlevoix businesses and professionals. Ed Crook will coordinate the drive for local teachers and other school district personnel.

Donnelly set December 1 as the deadline for reaching the $20,000 goal and expressed optimism that the community would help meet the goal as it has in each of the past three years.

City out $8000 in cut of state revenue sharing

The Charlevoix School District, notified recently that it owes the state $28,000, is not the only local entity to feel the impact of the State of Michigan's budgetary crisis.

The City of Charlevoix learned this week that revenue sharing funds expected from the state will be about $8,000 short of the anticipated amount.

Said City Manager Robert Hunt, "There's not much we can do about it."

According to Hunt, the Michigan Municipal League is currently preparing arguments to present to the courts in February alleging the illegality of the state's witholding revenue sharing funds from the local units of government.

"However, the Municipal League is taking a moderate approach," said Hunt, "Because they realize that if they force the state into default, it certainly won't help local government, either."

Hunt pointed out that when the state's bond rating is weakened by budget shortfalls, the local bond ratings are endangered also.

In anticipation of the state not fulfilling its projected revenue sharing contribution, the Charlevoix City Council allowed a $20,000 cushion in its budget approved last March. Although only $8,000 of that amount has been used to date, Hunt said that a further witholding of up to $15,000 is possible from the next payment.

No curtailment of city services has yet resulted from the revenue shortfall, though the personnel reduction program enacted in the spring is still in effect.

Wise woodlot management can pay off for the landowner, say foresters

There's gold in them thar' trees!

by DAVE KNIGHT

This time of year, most wooded areas of Northern Michigan are cloaked in brilliant shades of orange, red and yellow. To the wise owner of wooded acreage, however, those trees should still look green - as in dollars - according to foresters who conducted a program for Charlevoix and Emmet County Extension on woodlot management last week.

Don Johnson, Kalkaska County Extension agent and former professional forester, and Lee Ekstrom, consulting forester based in Boyne City were the principal speakers for the program held at the Alden Sterzik farm near Petoskey. Also included in the program were discussions on woodburning and chain saw safety led by Rod Cortright and Keith Lamkin, Charlevoix and Emmet County Extension directors.

A group of about 25 woodlot owners and firewood users heard Johnson and Ekstrom cover subjects ranging from how to estimate the value of standing timber to how to fell a tree.

Johnson explained to the participants that woodlot management techniques depend to a great extent on specifically what the landowner wants to produce. If production of firewood is the only goal, techniques will vary from those used for production of pulpwood, sawlogs or wildlife.

In response to the question of why state forests in Northern Michigan are not managed better for lumber production, Johnson explained that the politics involved result in differing priorities.

"Most state land is being managed for deer, not timber," said Johnson. Generally, he said, a woodlot managed for recreational purposes such as hunting or songbird habitat should feature as much variety, of both age and species of trees, as possible. Also beneficial is "edge", created by cutting small clearings in dense timber stands and cutting inlets into the edges of woodlots.

Managing land for firewood requires different practices.

Cortright pointed out that, pound for pound, all types of wood give off the same amount of heat when burned. Some woods are denser and heavier than others, however, which allows them to burn longer, thus making them more desirable for use in woodburning stoves.

The best species for fuelwood include the northern hardwoods such as sugar maple, white ash, American beech, yellow birch, oaks and hickory. Of average quality are aspen and birch. Coniferous species - the pines, spruces, tamarack cedar and fir - burn faster and hotter making them useful as kindling but not as a major source of heat, said Cortright.

According to Johnson, a minimum of ten acres is generally advisable for the continous production of fuelwood. Assuming that the yield of one acre can heat an average home over one winter and assuming that it will take the harvested acre ten years to regenerate, a landowner should be able to rotate his cutting areas such that the woodlot provides an endless supply of wood for heating, he said.

Trees for firewood should be up to ten inches in diameter. After cutting into the desired lengths, the wood should be seasoned by keeping it dry for at least six months, said Cortright. While damp wood can be burned, he added, the heat expended to remove the moisture is heat lost for heating the home. Thus wet wood means inefficient heating.

Owners of woodlots used primarily for firewood production, said Johnson and Ekstrom, should realize, however, that their timber stands may contain many trees more valuable for use as sawlogs.

"Many landowners have no idea what their trees are worth," said Johnson. "That is why I always recommend that they have their trees evaluated by a professional forester before making any purchase agreements with a logger."

It is also important, said Ekstrom, to work with a forester who knows the current market. Though market values vary, species with generally high commercial value right now include American basswood, black walnut, white ash, yellow birch, sugar maple, red maple, black cherry, yellow poplar, white oak, red oak and black oak. Species of low commercial value - species that should be culled from a plot managed for sawlogs - include ironwood, sassafras, hickories, elm, pincherry, and American beech. Cottonwood, aspen and white birch are of little lumber value but can be marketed for pulpwood in this part of the state.

When managing a plot for commercial lumber, the first step is to mark the trees with the most potential. These are trees of the desired species that are straight, have a large crown, no visible defects and located in a position relative to other trees that will encourage growth.

"The trees with the most potential are the ones growing as seedlings right from the ground," said Johnson. "Trees growing from stumps are not as desirable because rot from the stumps can travel right up the new tree."

Johnson explained to participants how to measure the amount of marketable wood in a given area and suggested ideal densities of trees for wise management.

He also pointed out that age is the major factor in determining whether a tree is mature; not neccessarily size.

"Sometimes a small tree should be cut rather than a large one when the smaller tree might hinder the growth of the more valuable large one," said Johnson.

Ekstrom emphasized the importance of dealing through forestry consultants in negotiating sales of timber to loggers.

"The consultant is working for the landowner," he said, "While the logger is working only for himself."

Johnson warned woodlot owners never to agree to a "stump cut" in which a logger offers to cut all trees in an area over a set diameter.

"In this type of arrangement, the logger is taking your best trees and leaving you with the worthless ones," he said.

Cooperative Extension offices in both Charlevoix and Emmet Counties have more information for those interested in woodlot management.

Mrs. Milliken to address WRC annual meeting

Michigan's First Lady, Helen Milliken, will be the guest speaker at the Women's Resource Center's Annual Meeting, October 22 at Stafford's Bay View Inn.

Mrs. Milliken, during her 14 year tenure as Michigan's First Lady, has been an active spokeswoman for women's rights and the arts. She was an organizer of the highly successful Michigan Artrain and involved in the dedication of the Heizer Sculpture, a large sculpture located behind the Capitol Building in Lansing.

Her participation in the drive to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment brought her the co-chairperson position of ERAmerica, a position she has held since 1978. As co-chair, she has travelled to unratified states campaigning for the ERA. In August of 1980, she spoke out strongly against her party's decision to drop the Equal Rights Amendment from its platform after nearly 40 years of support. Of the 1982 elections, Mrs. Milliken has said that women must vote their conscience regarding candidates and their positions on equal rights and abortion rights.

The First Lady of Michigan since 1969, she has been active in Republican politics during the state senatorial, lieutenant governor and gubernatorial terms of her husband, Governor William G. Milliken. She was the convener of the International Women's Year Delegation in Michigan and was a Michigan delegate to the IWY Conference in Houston in 1977. In 1975, she toured the People's Republic of China, gaining a knowledge of women's issues in that country.

The arts and the environment have been among her chief interests, both in the years of family life in Traverse City and the public years in Lansing. She is a lifelong gardener, tennis palyer and skier. Milliken is a graduate of Smith College and has two children, Elaine, A Washington D.C. attorney, and Bill, a public relations specialist in Colorado.

The annual meeting of the Women's Resource Center will begin as 12 noon, October 22, at Stafford's Bay View Inn with Mrs. Milliken's address following the business meeting and luncheon at 1 p.m. Tickets must be purchased in advance from WRC Board members or from the Petoskey Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Goldmine Resale Shop, Hovey's of Harbor Springs and Wharfside Market in Charlevoix. Ticket prices are $10.00. (A limited number of tickets for the guest speaker portion of the meeting are also available at $5.00). For further information, call the WRC at 347-0067.

Fourth Friday count confirms enrollment drop

It's official now...the Charlevoix Public School enrollment for the 1982-83 school year stands at 1,401 or 31 fewer than on the same day in 1981.

The official census of the school population is taken on the fourth Friday of the school year. This year that day fell on October 1. The count revealed a loss of 31 students which is five fewer than on the opening day of school but not as high as the 40 anticipated.

Charlevoix, like all schools in the area, had anticipated a loss so no cuts in staffing or programming are expected.

The Charlevoix schools have had a decrease in the number of teachers in recent years through attrition. These teachers have not been replaced and, where necessary, other teachers have been re-assigned to other areas where they are qualified to teach.

The Charlevoix schools with its decline in enrollment is following a nation-wide trend as the result of a decline in the birth rate. Projections show the decline should end in about three years and the enrollment level off before a slow but steady increase begins.

Elderly health problems to be discussed

High blood pressure, heart attacks, strokes, and cancer of the colon, subjects of particular interest to older people, will be the focus of talks presented by two physicians at the Pine River Place apartments Wednesday, October 20th at 7:30 p.m.

Drs. Bruce Lindsay and Merle Plagge will give short talks and answer questions on these subjects during the evening gathering sponsored by Charlevoix Area Hospital. Anyone interested may attend, free of charge. To insure adequate seating, reservations should be made by calling Charlevoix Area Hospital, 547-4024. The Pine River Place apartments are located at 210 West Garfield in Charlevoix. The meeting will be in the first floor lounge.

Dr. Lindsay, an internal medicine physician will outline the hazards, causes and treatments for high blood pressure. Similarly, for heart attacks, Dr. Lindsay will discuss warning signs and risks factors. He will also explain when coronary by-pass surgery is recommended. On the subject of strokes, Dr. Lindsay will discuss both symptoms and treatment.

Dr. Plagge's presentation will focus on cancer of the colon, diverticulosis and constipation. The surgeon will discuss the important role of dietary fiber and bowel regularity as well as symptoms of cancer of the colon.

This open meeting is part of Charlevoix Area Hospital's continuing series in Community Health Education. From time to time these meetings, led by staff physicians and other professionals are taken out of the hospital to locations more convenient for audiences particularly interested in the subject.

On the schedule for November 17 is a special pre-holiday session on Coping with Holiday Stress and Depression led by professionals from CHIP Counselping Center. Details will be announced later.

School calendar for 1982-83 gets belated approval from board

by FRAN MARTIN

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at its regular meeting October 4, approved the calendar for the 1982-83 school year, took action on the "over-payment" allegedley owed to the Michigan Department of Education, tabled the naming of a ski coach and appointed a committee to work with the Charlevoix Ministerial in the planning a baccalaureate service.

The school calendar approved by the board was ratified earlier by the Charlevoix Education Association. The calendar allows Nov. 25 and 26 for Thanksgiving; Dec. 22 until Jan. 3 for Christmas recess; Jan. 21, the end of the semester, a teacher work day, for high school and Middle School students; March 28 - April 1, Spring break; May 30, Memorial Day; June 9, the last day of school (half day for students; full day for teachers).

The calendar could not be approved until the Petoskey school had ratified teachers' contracts because Charlevoix students attend Voc. Ed classes at the Petoskey high school.

The "over-payment" of State Aid to the Charlevoix School District was discussed. The board went on record as advising the Michigan State Board of Education to withhold the $28,147 the department is requesting from any future payments to the school district.

The board voted to table the naming of a ski coach until the Oct. 18 meeting of the board.

The Charlevoix Ministerial Association had asked earlier for a baccalaureate service during the spring of 1983. Mas Novak, president of the board, named Vane H. Smith, high school principal, and Dennis VanGuilder, assistant principal, to work with the Ministerial Association to plan such a service. Baccalaureate services at graduation time were discontinued several years ago by choice by the graduating classes which chose, instead, to have graduation on a Sunday afternoon. The Ministerial Association is seeking to re-instate the service.

Supt. Gordon W. VanWieren spoke briefly on goals for the 1982-83 school year and asked for a meeting of the curriculum and professional studies committee to determine priorities for the year.

Reports from Marybeth Wallieh on the Charlevoix Public Library; Mary Lieberman on the curriculum council and Jeanne Seymour on the recent in-service training day were presented.

The board also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lieberman as volleyball coach.

Opinion

EDITORIAL

Don't say you didn't know

November 22, 7 p.m., City Hall.

That is the date, time and location of the public hearing to be held on the City of Charlevoix's recently completed Master Plan.

In the works for almost two years, the plan represents a valid attempt to reflect the wishes for future development directions held by the majority of Charlevoix residents. Whether that attempt was successful cannot be accurately measured but it was made and that's the important thing.

There will be those, after everything is signed and sealed, who will say "How come I never heard about this before it was passed?" They beve little excuse. The plan is on hand at City Hall, available for public scrutiny right up until the November 22 hearing.

That leaves plenty of time for anyone interested, and all Charlevoixians should be, to inspect this document before the public hearing.

Knight on the Town
Promotions bear welcome fruit

by Dave Knight

If the 1982 Apple Festival can be described like the fruit it promotes, this year's edition was ripe, red and juicy. In has taken three years for the fall festival to come of age but this year it really blossomed.

Literally thousands of people visited Charlevoix over the weekend to stock up on the luscious produce offered in the park and view the spectacular colors surrounding Lake Charlevoix from the decks of the Beaver Islander and the South Shore.

Plus, miracle of miracles, the weather cooperated.

Overheard in one store downtown: "I only come to Charlevoix a couple times a year but every time I come, there's some festival going on!".

It's true. Between the Art Fair, Hobbycraft Fair, Venetian Weekend, Apple Festival, Winter Cup, Sidewalk Sales and so on, this place keeps pretty busy.

And that's just what it is going to take for Charlevoix to weather the hard economic times in which we live. Ambitious, aggressive, imaginative promotion has paid off for Charlevoix and don't think other communities within earsbot aren't envious.

It is a credit to the Chamber of Commerce, the business community and all others responsible for Charlevoix's busy promotional calendar that this is one town that doesn't take hardship lying down.

Clockwise
Singing the GOP blues

by Bob Clock

HAS THERE ever been a more dreadful time for the Republicans than the present?

The fall of 1929 comes to mind, but I really do not think the nation blamed the stock market crash on Herbert Hoover as soon as it happened; it was only when the Depression ran into months and then years that it became "Hoover's Depression."

Ronald Reagan is not so lucky. Almost since the day he was inaugurated Democrats have been blaming Reagan for the nation's economic woes, although anyone with a modicum of common sense could see trouble ahead during the free-wheeling administration of Jimmy Carter.

Yet Democrats to a man have laid the nation's 10 percent unemployment rate in September directly on Reagan's shoulders-which is utter nonsense, but nonsense always runs wild before a general election.

Don't get me wrong. A 10 percent unemployment rate is unconscionable. It should never happen in a nation with our resources, our industrial know-how and our adherence to most of the principles of free enterprise.

How easy it is to overlook the fact that the seeds of the present Recession-Depression, call it what you will-were sown during the hectic wage-price inflation of the Carter administration. No nation can permit such an assault on its currency for very long without a day of reckoning.

And that day, my friends, is here-almost two years after Jimmy Carter packed his bags and left the White House.

IT IS DIFFICULT for some to admit, but Carter inherited a relatively stable economy from Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford. Inflation and unemployment hovered in the vicinity of five percent, which was entirely manageable. Once, early in his administration, Nixon even instituted wage and price guidelines when those two areas of the economy threatened to get overly rambunctious.

During this time, mind you, we fought that devastating war in Vietnam which not only cost us dearly in lives but also dollars. That we were able to survive that era so economically sound is one of the miracles of the 20th century.

However, it wasn't until Jimmy Carter took office and surrounded himself with fiscal incompentents that our troubles began. Inflation soared to an annual rate of almost 20 percent; interest rates skyrocketed; and mortgage rates climbed so high they virtually killed the construction industry.

Yet in only 21 months, Reagan has been able to:

-Bring the inflation rate down to about six percent a year.

-Bring the prime lending rate down to 13 percent (still too high but better than 20 percent.)

-Bring mortgage rates down to 15 percent or less (still too high, but at least they're moving in the right direction.

Probably more important, under Reagan the dollar has returned to its former role as the Gibraltar of world currencies. Under Carter, the dollar lost ground in the international arena every day; today the dollar remains strong throughout the world-regardless of our economic problems at home.

But Democrats in their pre-election hoopla will tell you none of this. They are making the 10 percent unemployment rate a cause celebre and you will hear of little else on the political commercials for the next three weeks.

They won't mention the stock market surge during the past week-which normally presages an upturn in the general economy in about six months.

They won't mention how the cost-of-living has stabilized since Reagan took office, or how your bank account is no longer being whittled away by rampant inflation.

They won't tell you-miracle of miracles-how 90 percent of the American workforce is still on the job, despite four years of utter mismanagement by their standard-bearer Jimmy Carter.

But I will. And I'm a better Democrat than I am a Republican.

Letters: Help stop poachers

To the Editor:

Poaching has become so widespread that it's done every day of the year. Somebody, somewhere, today or tonight, will poach a fish, game animal or bird, and we'll all have lost a very valuable resource.

Invariable a friend, neighbor or relative will see the act or hear about it, then do nothing. I've learned that fish and game violators usually are known to the witness, but the onlookers seldom become involved, even anonymously, in a messy situation.

It is important for sportsmen and citizens alike to realize that poaching is not just a crime against wildlife, but also a crime against every person in this state. The only way we'll ever be able to curtail this problem is through citizen involvement. We need everyone to realize that poachers must be apprehended, and that only can be accomplished when you become involved, and your actions against poachers can turn the tide in curbing the barbaric practice of poaching.

What can be done when a poacher is seen violating fish and game laws? Observe and remember who, what, when, where, why and sometimes how about the violation and the person(s) involved. Don't trust descriptions to memory, write it down.

A few things to look for include a visual description of the violator. Not his approximate size; color of beir and-or eyes; color of clothing, including hat; and look for a gun or bow during hunting violations. Back-tag license numbers are helpful, and are easily seen.

If a car or truck is used, determine the vehicle make, color, and year; the license plate number, state, and direction of travel. Note the violators' activity, but don't try to be a hero. Relay the information to your local conservation officer or call DNR hotline 1-800-292-7800 day or night. Conservation officer's in Emmet, Charlevoix and Antrim Counties are as follows: Emmet County - Edgar Hall 347-7514 or John Rigg 436-5295; Charlevoix County Sgt. James Genc 582-2134 or Thomas Sweet 582-6878; Antrim County John Crane 377-7590.

Poaching is big business, and it cost state taxpayers millions of dollars every year. Budget cuts and departmental layoffs have robbed the law enforcement division of 15 conservation officers in recent months, and that loss affects the way the poaching war is fought.

Poachers escape with their crimes because citizens fail to act promptly. If you would like to help us resolve this problem, now is the time to act.

Fish and wildlife need your involvement - whether you fish hunt or not - if you prefer viewing wildlife or just want to know it's there for your children to enjoy.

Edgar L. Hall
Conservation Officer

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey M. Kowalk

Myers-Kowalk

Miss Pamela Jean Myers and Mr. Jeffrey Martin Kowalk were united in marriage on Saturday, July 24, at the Canton Baptist Temple with Rev. Harold R. Henniger as the officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Myers of 1015 Lillian St., S.W., Canton. The bridegroom, of 38 Miracle Dr., Greenville, South Carolina, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Kowalk of Route 3, Box 491, Kalkaska, Michigan.

Brass candelabra and aislabra decorated the front of the church and the pews for the candle-light ceremony, accented with pink bows and ribbons. Lavendar mum plants and ferns were at the front of the church. Mrs. Laurie Johnson was the organist. The vocalists were Mrs. Linda Fout and Mr. John Fout.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of organza with silk Venice and Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with a high neckline, long bishop sleeves and butterly layered attached train. Pearled silk Venice lace lavished the bodice and Chantilly lace accented the sleeves and trimed the skirt and train, which had a wide border of Chantilly lace. Her caplet of pearled Chantilly lace beld a two-tier veil of illusion bordered with a matching lace. The bridal bouquet was of orchids and roses, with small carnations and mistletoe.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Joy Burch of Rochester, Michigan, matron of honor, and Miss Tamaria Sharpe, of Richmond, Indiana, maid of honor. They wore pink gowns accented with white layered lace on the bodice, and carried nosegays of pink roses with white carnations; Miss Linda Myers, Miss Carol Myers and Miss Mary Myers, all sisters of the bride of Canton; Miss Rebecca Rumbold of Canton, and Miss Wendy Kowalk and Miss Lisa Kowalk, both sisters of the bridegroom of Kalkaska, Michigan. They wore orchid dresses accented with white layered lace on the bodice and carried nosegays of lavendar roses with white carnations.

Mrs. Susan McKinney, sister of the bride of Crestwood, Kentucky, was the guest book attendant. The program attendant was Mrs. Pamela George, sister of the bridegroom, of Sommerset Kentucky.

Mr. Steve Brown of Smyrna, Georgia, served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Lloyd Myers, brother of the bride, of Canton; Mr. Richard Friske, Charlevoix, Michigan; Mr. John Wallis, South Holland, Illinois; Mr. Michael Stanley Melbourne, Florida; Mr. Dana Kreider, Wadsworth; Mr. Jerry Reimers, Greenville, South Carolina, and Mr. George Burch, Rochester, Michigan.

The bride's mother wore a two piece mauve colored dress. The mother of the bridegroom chose an orchid colored dress.

The rehearsal dinner was beld at the Horn of Plenty Buffet Restaurant and the reception was at tbe Canton Baptist Temple Activities Building.

Following a wedding trip to Virginia, the couple is residing at the Miracle Dr. address in Greenville, South Carolina.

The bride graduated from Canton South High School and Bob Jones University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing. She is a nurse at Greenville Memorial Hospital.

Her husband graduated from Ellsworth High School in Ellsworth, Michigan, and from Bob Jones University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting. He is presently a CPA for Ernst and Whinney.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Keie

Kondziela-Keie

Terri Ann Kondziela became the bride of Thomas Jay Keie on Monday, September 27, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Charlevoix.

The bride, who has been making her home in Santa Barbara, California, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kondziela of Petoskey. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Keie of Charlevoix.

Between 350 and 400 guests' witnessed the double-ring evening service read by Father R. Dale Magoon before an altar decorated with white gladiola and carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off-white gown of antique satin with Queen Ann lace fashioned with a pleated skirt and long sleeves. The veil was also off-white with silk flowers in illusion net, and the bridal bouquet was composed of white roses, carnations, and Austa Maria lilies for accent.

Lori Kondziela attended the bride as maid of honor. Brenda Drost, the bride's cousin Barbera Lynch, and the bride's aunt Margaret Danzeisen were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of peach polyester and carried bouquets of Austa Maria lilies.

Meliss Mack was flower girl and wore an off-white dress with peach flowers.

Cecil Drost, Jr. served as best man. Clinton Berlage and the bridegroom's brothers James and Jerry Keie served as groomsmen. Steven Ager and Michael Moore were ushers.

Organist Jean Lignell provided music for the ceremony, as did vocalists Kathy Meggison, Arlene Blissett, Julie Supernaw, and Marianne Cudd.

Following the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom hosted a reception at the Argonne Supper Club, with the bridegroom's sisters, Sally Keie and Linda Mack, serving as hostesses. The rehearsal dinner was held on Friday evening at the Grey Gables Inn, hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Keie are now at home in Santa Barbara, where the bride is a Registered Nurse at Cottage Hospital. The bridegroom has returned to his job at the Sheraton Hotel in Santa Barbara following his usual summer employment at the Argonne Supper Club.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Timmons

VanStedum-Timmons

Jean M. VanStedum and Paul E. Timmons were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, August 21, at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed Church. The Reverend Audred Spriensma performed the double-ring ceremony before approximately 200 guests.

For the occasion, the church was decorated with candelabra, a unity candle, pew bows, and bouquets of white, pink, and cranberry carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred VanStedum of Ellsworth, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Timmons of East Jordan.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of dacron polyester organza fashioned with an Empire bodice accented with Chantilly lace, high lace neckline, Bishop sleeves of lace, and a sheer yoke edged in a lace ruffle. The A-line skirt extended into a Chapel train edged in lace and a wide flounce ruffle. The Juliet cap of lace held a fingertip imported illusion veil which was edged in lace. The bridal bouquet was made up of white roses, stephanotis, and baby's breath.

Eileen Danbert served as matron of honor, while Deborah Noirot, Joy Drenth, and Joan Bolser served as bridesmaids. They wore gowns of plum lilac satin polyester with Empire waist and U-shaped neckline, lace sleeves, and overlay lace on the bodice. They carried bouquets of pink and cranberry carnations and baby's breath.

Sara Essenberg, as flower girl, also wore a gown of plum lilac satin polyester but with crew neckline, ties at the waist, lace sleeves, and overlay lace on the bodice. She carried a small version of the bridesmaids' bouquet.

Jeremy Charbonneau, a nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Steven Timmons, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, with Robert Christiansen; Thomas VanStedum, brother of the bride; and Michael, cousin of the bridegroom, acting as groomsmen. Jerry VanStedum and Richard VenStedum, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

Music for the ceremony was provided by organist Joni Potts and vocalist Diane McKenzie, who sang, "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer".

A reception, hosted by the bride's parents at the Ellsworth Elementary School gymnasium, followed the ceremony. John and Jody Kooyer served as master and mistress of ceremony, Pat Sokolowski and Nadine Sage helped serve the cake, and DeeAnn Themm and Mindy Jo Willette were in charge of the punch bowl.

The rehearsal dinner was held on Friday evening at the Ellsworth Community Kitchen, hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the newlyweds are at home in East Jordan, where the bridegroom is a police officer. The bride is a billing clerk at the Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Cooperative nursery school to sponsor Plate Night

The Charlevoix Co-operative Nursery School is sponsoring a special "Plate Night" at the Charlevoix Elementary School Tuesday, Oct. 19.

What is "Plate Night"? It is an opportunity for you to make a permanant record of your child's artistic ability at an early age on a plate that may be used for eating on or a decorator item in the home.

The child's own handiwork is recorded in color on a white plate which in then processed to make the design permanent. "It makes a memorable gift for Mother, grandparents or some other loved one" Mrs. Richard Wakulat, who is assisting with the fund raising project said.

The cost is $3.00 per plate.

Parents may bring their children to the K-5 school between the hours of 4 and 5:30 p.m. or 6 until 7:30 p.m. so they may decorate plates in their own design, date and sign them. The plates will then be processed and returned in time to use for Christmas gifts.

Jamboree boosts March of Dimes

Tucker Inn, a grey colonial building situated on a winding road in a country setting between East Jordan and Boyne City, was the scene of an old-fashioned jamboree and auction on a sunny September afternoon to benefit March of Dimes.

Throughout the afternoon and evening, the bands played and auctioneers Harry Pearsall and Terry and Rick Graham auctioned off several hundred items donated by merchants and individuals from East Jordan, Ellsworth, Charlevoix, Boyne City, Boyne Falls, and Petoskey. A total of $1282.50 was raised for the benefit of the March of Dimes, according to Paula Sweet of East Jordan, chairperson of the event.

Properietors Kim and Karen Thomson and their waitresses served a barbecued chicken dinner for the hungry dancers and auction fans. Ken Franks of the host band, Branded Country, emceed the event and was also the winner of the door prize, a rocking chair donated by Gil Kuhn's Furniture of Boyne City.

Lackluster first half dooms Rayders in 27-8 defeat

Had the Charlevoix Rayders been able to call the first half of Friday night's Cheboygan game a Mulligan and counted only the second half, they would have been able to celebrate an 8-7 upset.

As it was, however, the 20 points the Chiefs were able to post in the first two quarters were enough to carry them to their fourth M-HSC victory by a 27-8 margin over the Rayders.

Cheboygan's ability to exploit several mental errors made by Charlevoix was a key factor in the game, according to the Rayder coaching staff. Charlevoix drops to 1-3 in conference action, 2-3 overall, following Friday night's loss.

Duane Larson drew first blood in the game when he broke away for a 38-yard touchdown run in the first quarter for the Chiefs. The Raydera blocked the extra point attempt leaving them on the short end of a 6-0 score when the quarter ended.

Cheboygan's Tony Babcock added 14 more points singlehandedly in the second quarter with touchdown runs of four and three yards and extra point conversions following each. At halftime it was the Chiefs up, 20-0.

Charlevoix's offense finally came through in the third quarter when quarterback Tim LaBlance connected on a 19-yard touchdown pass to Bill Tillen and then found Tillen again in the endzone for a two-point conversion.

The Chiefs doused any Rayder hopes for a comeback victory in the fourth quarter when Larson passed to Doug Rosek for a 49-yard touchdown play. Babcock kicked the extra point leaving the final tally at 27-8.

Cheboygan's total rushing yardage of 192 yards, compared to Charlevoix's 92, stands out as the Chiefs' most conspicuous statistical edge in the game. Passing yardage was fairly even between the two teams, Charlevoix totalling 113 yards on LaBlance's 7-for-17 performance, and Cheboygan 119 yards with Larson completing 6 of 9 attempts.

In total offense, Cheboygan had 309 yards and Charlevoix 206.

Rayder running back Pat Mitchell again led the Charlevoix running attack with 61 yards in nine carries. Mitchell sparked the home crowd with one 42-yard breakaway run. LaBlance carried the ball six times for 19 yards.

Defensively, Thad Morgan and Al Bergmann were each in on 10 tackles to lead that category. Dave Batdorff had eight, Jon Supernaw seven and Jack Moran and Bill Tillen six apiece.

This Friday night the Rayders travel to Gaylord for their last road appearance. Next week they host Onaway for the 1982 Homecoming game.

Golfers play to tie

Charlevoix and Cheboygan golfers played to a tie at the Belvedere course here Monday Coach Glen Taylor said following the match.

He also added that it was the first time either the Cheboygan coach who has coached for 14 years or he had seen teams tie in a match.

Steve Keller was medalist with a score of 40 in the match in which both teams totaled 181 strokes. Bill Joy shot a 44, Dennis Curtis 46 and Chuck Klooster 51 in the match.

Kent Archambo had a 41, Craig Gronda 46 and both Mike Hellman and Brian Bach carded 47s for Cheboygan.

The Charlevoix JV team playing the Cheboygan JVs at the municipal course, lost 202-212. Chris Gibbons, was medalist with a score of 47.

CC team, ranked 1st in state Class C, win own invitational

The Charlevoix Rayders, with 121 points, came in first in the first Claire Martin Invitational Cross Country meet held Saturday at a new 3.1 mile course at the Belvedere Golf course.

Winner of Division II (C-D) was Mancelona with 30 points.

Girls in the meet ran with the boys' varsity team. Sandy Wanek ran in a time of 21:10.

In the JV division of the meet, Doug Sloan finished in first place in a time of 18:10. He was followed by Rick Gallant in third place in 18:39; Dave Umlor, 8th in 19:12; Leo Chase, 11th in 19:41; Time Salmonson, 20th in 22:04 and Chuck Hastings, 21st in 22:05.

The Charlevoix team will participate in the Petoskey Invitational meet Saturday.

Middle School girls win pair over Petoskey counterparts

The Charlevoix Middle School Girls basketball teams posted wins over their Petoskey opponents Wednesday night by scores of 21-16 over the eighth grade and 28-17 over the seventh grade.

Earlier in the week Charlevoix had dropped games to strong Harbor Springs teams 26-23 and 23-21, respectively.

The teams will host Petoskey in home games on Oct. 18.

In Wednesday's action, the Charlevoix five led Petoskey 6-4, 12-7 and 18-12 by quarters before winning by a 21-16 margin. Amy Pischner led the scoring with six points for Charlevoix. Mathews had seven for Petoskey.

On the seventh grade level, Charlevoix jumped to a 12-0 lead, increased it to 16-4 at half-time and 20-6 going into the final period for a 28-17 win. Ellen Pearl with 11 points paced the scoring with Lynn Dwan scoring five for Petoskey.

In games with Harbor Springs, the tables were turned with Harbor in control in both games.

In the eighth grade game, Harbor Springs trailed 13-6 at the quarters. Neither team scored in the second period but as the second half got underway, Harbor outscored Charlevoix 7-6 and then went on to take the win by a score of 23-21. Lisa Brady had 14 points for the winners. Amy Pischner had seven for Charlevoix.

The seventh graders got off to a slow start and trailed 8-2, 11-6 and 19-18 before losing 23-21. Ellen Pearl and Kay Stoneham had six points each for Charlevoix. Kathy Fuhrman had five points for Harbor Springs.

City of Charlevoix

It is unlawful to burn leaves, trash, or any other combustible materials in or upon the paved portion of any public roadway, sidewalk, or curb cut. Any person, firm, or corporation violating this regulation shall upon conviction therefor, be punished by a fine of $25.00. If you intend to burn leaves, you must do so on private property or on an unpaved portion of the public right of way.

The City of Charlevoix will not pickup bagged leaves due to D.N.R. landfill restrictions, but will continue to pickup leaves left loose at curbside. Special arrangements may be made with private refuse haulers for disposal of bagged leaves.

LEGAL NOTICES 207

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made on the part of the mortgagors in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage given by JOSEPH W. BREIDENSTEIN and NANCY JANE BREIDENSTEIN, husband and wife, to First Savings and Loan Association of Saginaw, Michigan, now known as Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan Association, bearing date the 18th day of September, 1975 as recorded September 26, 1975 as recorded to Liber 143, Page 504 Charlevoix County Records.

Because of said default, said Association by virtue of the option given it in said mortgage, has theretofore, and does now, declare the entire principal sum secured to be paid by said mortgage to be due and payable, and there is now claimed to be due and unpaid thereon the aggregate sum of $56,223.04 Dollars and, as of the date of the sale, the sum of not less than $55,756.73 Dollars and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover said sum, the debt remaining secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, which has become operative by reason of said default and the statutes in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described therein sold at public auction to the highest bidder, by the sheriff of said County, on the 17th day of November 1982, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the Courthouse in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan; said Courthouse being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said County, which premises are situate and being in the Township of Melrose, County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan and described as follows:

Part of Lot 67, Springbrook Hills No. 1 described as: Commencing at the Northeast corner of Lot 67; South 2 degrees 20 minutes East 279.52 feet; North 73 degrees 04 minutes 40 seconds West 179.93 feet; North 11 degrees 12 minutes 20 seconds East 145.18 feet; North 50 degrees 02 minutes 20 seconds West 70.72 feet; Northeasterly 53.76 feet along arc of 60' radius curve to the left, the long chord of which bears North 38 degrees 49 minutes 10 seconds East 52 feet; North 88 degrees 40 minutes East 61.86 feet; North 1 degree 20 minutes West 15 feet; North 88 degrees 40 minutes East 90 feet to point of commencing—

This period of redemption is six months.

High Priestesses to meet

The Past High Priestesses and the Past Watchman of the Shepherds will meet at the Country Star Restaurant in Boyne City at 1 p.m. Oct. 20 for its regular meeting with Mrs. Herbert Gould as hostess. Mrs. John Borton of Wolverine will give the devotions. Eighteen members were present.

A recent meeting of the organization was held at the Bavarian Inn at Antrim Dells with Mrs. William Roy of Torch Lake as hostess.

Mrs. Borton presented the secretary and treasurer's reports; Mr. Roy presented the devotions; Mrs. Harold Hamlin gave a report on the progress of the ceremonial robe being made for the White Shrine of Jerusalem; the meeting of the Western Michigan District Association was discussed; the gypsy prizes were awarded to Mr. Roy and Mrs. E. Mildrum of Cheboygan and Mrs. Hamlin had the closing prayer.

American Legion starts new year

The Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, and its Auxiliary met recently at the post home for a potluck supper and the first meetings of the organizations under the officers who were installed at the September meeting.

At the business meeting of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Harry Pearsall of East Jordan reported on the recent district meeting held at Mancelona at which Mrs. Clarence Goldstick was elected District secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ray Wood, president of the local auxiliary, sergeant-at-arms, and Mrs. George Loebner, junior activities chairman.

Mrs. Josephine Bindi reported to the membership on the purchase of new curtains for the post home; Mrs. Wood on the board bearing the name of the auxiliary members being made at Bergmann Center which will be erected in the post home; a letter from the Michigan Veterans Facility acknowledging the $100 donation was read and cards to shut-ins were signed by those present.

The next meeting of the Legion and auxiliary is scheduled for 6:30 p.m., Nov. 2.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX COUNCIL MINUTES

October 4, 1982
8:00 P.M.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Staley presiding.

Present: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Absent: None.

The Minutes of the September 27, 1982 special meeting and the September 20, 1982 regular meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

A Public Hearing was held regarding a proposed Amendment to the City Sidewalks Ordinance which would allow the establishment of snow and ice clearance districts in the City by resolution. Several members of the General Public present voiced their opinions for and against the proposed Amendment as well as a proposed Resolution to establish such a clearance district on Bridge Street downtown.

The following Ordinance Amendment was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Olach.

(see Ordinance No. 413 published elsewhere in this edition of the Courier)

Ordinance Amendment was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The following Resolution was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Wood and supported by Councilman Porter.

Resolution No. 82-10-1
Downtown Snow and Ice Clearance District

WHEREAS, Section 4.70 of the City Code provides for the establishment of snow and ice clearance districts in areas of substantial pedestrian traffic within the City; and

WHEREAS, Downtown Bridge Street is the area most heavily traveled by pedestrians in the winter months;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX, that the Downtown Snow and Ice Clearance District is hereby created, the boundries of which shall be the Bridge Street right-of-way, from the northern most portion of the U.S.-31 Drawbridge to the centerline of Belvedere Avenue; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the minimum charge to any property owner for reimbursement of expenses incurred by the City in removing snow or ice from any section of sidewalk within this District, as provided for in Section 4.70 (c) of the City Code, shall be $25.00.

RESOLVED this 4th day of October, 1982 A.D.

Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The following Resolution was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Wood and supported by Councilman Timms.

Resolution No. 82-10-2
Michigan Aeronautics Commission Loan Agreement
Airport Improvement Project

WHEREAS, the City has undertaken a project to extend the length of Runway 8 at the Charlevoix Municipal Airport, and to effect certain related improvements; and

WHEREAS, the City has entered into a loan agreement with the Michigan Aeronautics Commission (MAC), in the original amount of $41,700, and has received approval of a grant in the original amount of $71,700, to fund portions of this project; and

WHEREAS, in the course of the project, it has become necessary to slightly expend the funding for these improvements; and

WHEREAS, MAC has offered to increase its grants by a total of $4,100 (to $77,800), and has offered to increase its loans by a total of $6,000 (to $47,700);

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX, that the City Manager is authorized to execute whatever agreements are necessary to effect this increased funding.

RESOLVED this 4th day of October, 1982 A.D.

Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The following Emergency Ordinance Amendments to the City Zoning Ordinance were offered and moved for their adoption by Councilman Porter and supported by Councilwoman Roloff.

Emergency Ordinance Amendments 414, 415, and 416 were adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Olach and supported by Councilman Wood to set a fee of $10.00 for City inspection of mobile home installations.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The City Manager asked Council for guidance regarding a request for issuance of a zoning permit for installation of a mobile home on Carpenter Street by F. Wilfred Crowe. Jeff VanTreese, Attorney for Mr. Crowe, stated his client would generally comply with the Emergency Mobile Home Ordinance as adopted on this date with the exception of the elevation requirement and the possible exception of the entrance/exit and roof drainage requirements. Mr. VanTreese also stated that he is not the owner of the property as Council was previously advised and that he saw no enforceable reason for denying the permit at the time of application, prior to adoption of the Emergency Mobile Home Ordinance. He further stated that, if approval of the permit is denied, he will proceed to litigation but expressed confidence that he could work out any problems with the City Attorney and the City Manager. The City Attorney stated that a variance may be required for the proposed mobile home as the lot does not meet the minimum 70 feet width requirement. Mayor Staley polled the Council regarding the requested permit with all members being in favor of referring the matter back to the City Manager and the City Attorney to allow them to attempt to work out an equitable agreement with Mr. VanTreese.

Moved by Councilman Block and supported by Councilman Olach to approve a Site Plan for construction of an indoor swimming pool at Hillcrest Apartments, located at 305 West Hurlbut, provided backwashing of the pool filters is restricted to non-storm off peak hours only, as determined by the Wastewater Treatment Plant Superintendent, and that the pool operator contact the Wastewater Treatment Plant 48 hours in advance of planned backwashing activity for instructions regarding the exact timing of the discharge.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council generally agreed to support efforts to keep the Michigan Northern Railroad open as requested by a new minority interest owner of the Railroad.

Council authorized the payment of bills totaling $100,932.37.

Council adjourned.

Rev. and Mrs. Giffin

Rev. Giffin retires

by PEG OHLE

Ray and Jean Giffin completed their call of Christian ministry with the First Congregational Church of Charlevoix when they retired last week.

The Giffins came to Charlevoix in 1973 and actively served not only their church but the community as well. Reverend Giffin was elected president of the Kiwanis Club in 1980 and before that he served as president of the Charlevoix County Commission on Aging. When the Chip Counseling Center was formed, Reverend Giffin was appointed to the Board, a position he held until recently. When the Courier interviewed him in 1979, Reverend Giffin talked about his interest in the Hospice movement, which is just now coming into being in the area.

Churchwise, besides taking care of his flock, Reverend Giffin was active in the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ and served as moderator of the Northern Area of the Conference. He recently received a special award for his service to the Confernece.

And Jean Giffin has been with her husband all the time, as any Church member will tell you. She was with him as a missionary in China and while he served several churches and conferences.

Members of the Congregational Church and other friends gathered at a Sunday dinner to say goodbye to their pastor. They kept the program in a light vein, with skits and speakers highlighting events in the lives of the pastor and his wife. They presented them with a "Friendship Quilt" containing 56 family squares lovingly handcrafted by church members, and a money gift.

The Giffins are now away, visiting their children and grandchildren, but they have kept their home in Charlevoix and will eventually settle down in retirement – if they can.

Youth soccer scores

In youth soccer action last Thursday, Charlevoix Camera beat the Cosmos 4-0 with goals scored by Jon Terry, 1, F. L. Dammann, 1, and Brad McGlynch, 2.

Aartvark and Charlevoix Mens tied 3-3. For Aartvork, Heath Moore scored 2 and Tim Salmonson 1; for Charlevoix Mens Darrin Batdorff scored 2 and Quint Walker 1.

Gaskin Standard beat Charlevoix Mens other team 2-1 with Paul Wakulat and Chris Ames each scoring for the winners.

On Saturday, Apple Tree tied B.S. Hair Care 1-1. Individual scoring was not available.

Offshore Graphics beat the Rowdies 5-5 with Sam Bingham scoring all five goals.

Manker beat the Cosmos 3-0 with Marty Joy scoring 2 and Charlie Witthoeft 1.

The Stikers beat Charlevoix Mens 2-1 with Ryan Smith and Matt Harbison each scoring one for the winners and Dan Terryberry scoring for the losers.

The Sting beat Gaskin Standard 1-0 with Jordan Spencer scoring the winning goal.

Yachting Notes

Tonight! Wednesday, 13 October...that event to end all events. Remember, start 6:00 p.m., more or less (i.e.: a little early if you're pretty slow, a little late if you're a hotshot). Look out, Landings! Don't forget, by land is equally permissible but, traditionally, the land lubbers buy one for the old salts. The only remaining sailing event is the "Deer Hunter's Alternative", traditionally held Opening Day...more on that next week.

The final Wednesday Night at the Races, last week, was a unseasonably warm, delightful October evening with only the shortfall of zero wind at the start. The confusion was sheer delight to those not too badly involved. In the Portsmouth Fleet, "Ribit" managed to get out to the breeze and was long gone. "Bandit" inched away from the main fleet with "Camouflage" close astern, but then the breeze filled in and it was a merry chase. At the line it was "Camouflage" first to finish, having caught all the early fleet except "Ribit". Along the way there was some great racing as the bigger "Tigger", "Hummer" and "Traveller" (good to see you in the fleet Dave!) moved up through "Bandit" and Indooroophilly". "Elusive" is getting consistantly dangerous and crossed the line right behind the above leaders.

And so it was...

Overall: "Camouflage", "Indooroopbilly", "Bandit", "Tigger", and "Hummer".

PHRF: "Camouflage", "Tigger" and "Hummer" (quite a race you two).

P-26: "Blazen II", "Tireless" and "Foxy Lady".

525's: "Indoorbophilly", "Bandit" and "Mud Duck".

Portsmouth: "Ribit", "Cheemaun" and "Clockwork", in last place "Apothecary".

We mention "Apothecary" not to point out the finish position, but rather to compliment the singlehanded sailing of her skipper, Frank Ochs. His sailing skills are showing impressive development and it's a pleasure to watch him bring a few tons of "pig iron" smoothly into his slip (right behing ours) all by himself. Nice work, Frank.

Next week we'll wrap up the regular "reporting" season with the fall series results if Mikes Carland and Miller can get them all figured out. A toast to them ond to all others who have contributed to the running of a great year of racing, with a special thanks to Kelly Kenifeck and Brian Juries for a fine performance in conducting the races throughout the year.

Would like to feature announcements and winter event schedules in next week's column. Can your help me! (A. Nony Mouse, Box 244).

Late Notes: Congratulations to Commodore Mike Carland and Vice Commodore Cliff Biddick on their re-election to a second term. Treasurer Mark Pierce was re-elected and Claudia Kenifeck was elected Secretary. The Club's in good hands!

Girls lose to Chiefs, Gaylord

The Charlevoix girls basketball team dropped games to strong conference opponents last week, losing to Cheboygan 64-42 on Thursday and to Gaylord 46-40 earlier in the week.

This week will find the team at Rogers City Thursday, hosting St. Ignace on Tuesday and Boyne City in a return game on Oct. 21.

In Thursday's game, Cheboygan took an early lead and headed the Charlevoix squad 18-13; 34-28 and 48-36 by quarters behind the shooting of Val Willis with 20 points, Missy Maybank with 12 and Michelle Hicks with 10.

Laura Kemp had 21 points and 10 re-bounds for Charlevoix. Ann Wagner had eight.

In the JV game, the two teams played to a 48-48 tie at the end of the regulation game and 50-50 at the end of the first overtime before Kris Austin sunk a field goal for the two-point win by a score of 53-51.

In the game at Gaylord, Charlevoix got off to a slow start and trailed 17-3 at the end of the first period and, though they out-scored Gaylord in each of the remaining periods, they were never able to overcome the deficit.

The score was 25-14 at halftime and 35-28 at the three-quarter mark. Rhonda Buchanan with 13 points carried the scoring load after Laura Kemp got into foul trouble early in the game. Ann Wagner had 11 points.

Kelly Johnson had 12 and Brenda Campbell 10 points for Gaylord.

Charlevoix won the JV game 34-30. Kris Austin had 10 points.

Youth flag football results

The Chargers edged the Jets 20-19 and the Cowboys defeated the Falcons 6-0 to move into the win column in action in the Charlevoix Flag Football league Monday night.

The flag football league, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, will close out its schedule Wednesday, Oct. 13, when the Cowboys will take on the Jets at 6 p.m. and the Chargers will meet the Falcons at 7:15 p.m.

After playing to a scoreless first period, the Chargers went ahead on a 20 yard scoring pass from Scott Mitcheltree to Ty Wagner with Kevin Shepard adding the important conversion point that was to determine the outcome of the game. The Jets countered with a five yard touchdown run by Dan Drury to threatened as the half ended 7-6.

As the second half got underway, the Chargers jumped ahead 20-6 after scoring on a 28 yard pass from Mitcheltree to Wagner and a one-yard plunge by Mitcheltree. The Jets started a come-back when Drury passed 18 yards to Jim Ciuk and then added a conversion in the third period and scored again in the final period on a one yard run but never quite made it as the game ended 20-19 in favor of the Chargers.

The game between the Cowboys and the Falcons was a defensive battle all the way with the Cowboys bucking the Falcon line to score on a 16 yard pass from Scott DeYoung to Darrin Batdorff for the only scoring play of the game.

Adult flag football

The Landing edged Big Rock 7-0 and then fell victim to the Townhouse by a score of 26-6 in action in the Charlevoix Township Flag Football League last week.

This week will find Townhouse meeting the Coast Guard Station at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday and the USCGC Mesquite meeting Big Rock at 5:30 and the Coast Guard Station at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 19.

In the Landing-Big Rock game, the teams played a defensive battle until the final period when Dave Olach scored on a 30 yard pass from Beano Archey. Archey then passed to Gene Morrison for the P.A.T.

In the Townhouse-Landing game, Townhouse scored in the first, second and fourth periods. Steve Dunkelberg passed 10 yards to Pete Dunkelberg in the first period for 10 yards, to Gregg Nelson for 10 yards in the second period and again to Pete Dunkelberg for 38 yards in the fourth period to account for three TDs. He also passed to Nelson and Bud Klooster for conversions. The fourth scoring pass was for 30 yards from Nelson to Klooster.

The Landing's single tally came in the second period on a 10 yard pass from Beano Archey to Dennis Erickson.

I bring to this area, in which my wife's family (the Griffins) have lived for over the past 50 years, over a quarter century of experience and expertise in Master planning and Management obtained through affiliation with major Corporations. I feel that the addition of my knowledge and ability will be a beneficial addition to the City Council.

My wife and I have always been a team. Anyone aspiring to a political position must acknowledge the support of their mate, which I do. We will work together to the best of our ability to represent and support the needs and desires of the people of our ward and our City.

Please Vote on November 2nd, 1982 and preferably for

Irwin to kick off campaign here

State Senator Mitch Irwin, candidate for reelection in the 37th Senatorial District for northern Michigan, will be in Charlevoix on Thursday October 14.

Irwin will be kicking off his Charlevoix campaign swing at a fundraising event that day from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. at Duffy's of Charlevoix. Irwin says the evening will be a lively one with entertainer Sean Ryan.

Irwin said the event is open to the public, and ticket information is available at the Area Campaign Headquarters in Petoskey; phone, 347-8606.

V.F.W. Auxiliary holds inspection

Jane Young of Lewiston, president of the V.F.W. District organization, made her annual inspection of the Charlevoix V.F.W. Auxiliary No. 1153 at a recent meeting of the organization. She was accompanied by Marjorie Harmonson, president of the Lewiston Auxiliary.

At the meeting those present chose the items to be sent for sale at a booth at the state Pow-wow at Boyne Moutain, Oct. 22-23. Funds derived from the sale will be used to support the organization cancer program.

At the business session, Pauline Russell urged those present to study the many proposals on the ballot in the Nov. 2 election and to go to the polls to vote. Thelma Wagner reported on the recent Flea Market held at the post home and Arlene Staley advised that green slips from Glen's Market were being collected to support the Auxiliary's Cancer Program.

Hearing clinic planned at Char-Em

The Char-Em Education Association, I.S.D. and the Charlevoix Lions will hold a free hearing screening clinic on October 23 at the Char-Em offices on Mercer Blvd. The clinic, scheduled to be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., is open to senior citizens 55 or older.

The following test is offered for those who think they may have a hearing problem:

1. While watching television, do you usually have to increase the volume to fully understand all of the conversation?

2. Do you fully enjoy family gatherings or do you feel left out because people have a hard time making you understand and therefore prefer to avoid you?

3. Do you feel self-conscious at work when engaged in conversation?

4. Do you have difficulty hearing ordinary telephone conversation?

5. Are you avoiding your friends at social gatherings and parties because their shouting causes embarrassment for everyone?

Those answering yes to three or more of the above questions are advised to attend the free screening clinic. Reservations can be made by calling Donna Bonar at 547-0047.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The following Ordinances were adopted by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix at a regular meeting on October 4, 1982.

Ordinance No. 413

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS THAT:

Chapter 42, entitled Sidewalks, Section 4.70 and Section 4.71 be amended by striking these Sections in their entirety and substituting the following therefore;

Section 4.70

(a) Establishment of Snow and Ice Clearance Districts. The Council shall, from time to time, establish by resolution snow and ice clearance districts the boundaries of which shall be drawn so as to include the substantial pedestrian traffic areas within the City.

(b) Sidewalks to be cleared within Clearance Districts. The occupant of every lot or premises, or the owner of such lot or premises located within any snow or ice Clearance District, shall clear all ice and snow from sidewalks adjoining such lot or premises within the time herein required. When any snow or ice shall cease to fall during the daylight hours, such snow or ice shall be cleared from the sidewalks within eighteen (18) hours after such cessation. When a fall of snow or ice shall have ceased during the nighttime, it shall be cleared from the sidewalks by 8:00 P.M. of the day following.

(c) Failure to Clear. If any occupant or owner of a lot or premises located within a snow or ice Clearance District shall neglect or fail to clear ice or snow from the sidewalk adjoining his premises within the time limited, or shall otherwise permit ice or snow to accumulate on such sidewalk, he shall be guilty of a violation of this Chapter and in addition, the City Manager may cause the same to be cleared and the expense of removal shall become a debt to the City from the owner of such premises; and shall be collected as a single lot assessment pursuant to Chapter 8 of this Code.

Ordinance No. 414

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS THAT THE CODE OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX BE AMENDED AS FOLLOWS:

TITLE V - ZONING AND PLANNING
CHAPTER 51-ZONING

be amended by adding a new Section which Section shall be designated as Section 5.32 (9) (a) through (q), and read in its entirety as follows:

5.32. Use Regulations. Land and buildings in the R-1 Zone may be used for the following purposes only:

(9) Mobile Home Use: No person shall use, occupy or permit the use or occupency of a mobile home as a dwelling within the City, not designated as a mobile home park, unless:

(a) A permit for the placement thereof has been obtained from the Zoning Administrator. All applications for said permit shall be accompanied by a non-refundable fee as established by the City Council, which shall be used to defray the cost of inspection as provided in this Ordinance; and,

(b) Said mobile home, the placement thereof, and the premises upon which it shall be located shall meet all requirements of the City Zoning Ordinance, including those relating to used, size of premises, floor area, setback, and side lot and rear lot requirements specified for the particular zoning district in which said premise is situated; and,

(c) Said mobile home shall comply in all respects with the Code of the City, including applicable use, land, and building areas and heighth and width regulations. Where a dwelling is required by law to comply with any federal or state standards or regulations for construction and where such standards or regulations for construction are different than those imposed by the city or county building codes, then and in that event, the stricter of such standards or regulations shall apply; and,

(d) Said mobile home shall be connected to potable water and sanitary sewage disposal facilities approved by the health agency having jurisdiction. If public water and sanitary sewage disposal facilities is/are available to said premises, said mobile home shall be connected thereto; and,

(e) A mobile home shall be installed pursuant to the manufacturer's setup instructions and constructed of such materials and type as required in the applicable building code for single family dwellings and shall be secured to the premises by an anchoring system or device compatible with those required by the Michigan Mobile Home Commission, and,

(f) The dwelling complies with all pertinent building and fire codes. In the case of a mobile home, all construction, plumbing, electrical and mechanical apparatus, and insulation within and connected to, said mobile home shall be of a type and quality conforming to the "Mobile Home Construction and Safety Standards" as promulgated by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, being 24 CFR 3280, and as from time to time such standards may be amended. Additionally, all dwellings shall meet or exceed all applicable roof snow load and strength requirements; and,

(g) If placed within a flood zone, said mobile home shall meet all requirements for construction of dwellings on-site within said zone; and,

(h) In the event that a dwelling is a mobile home as defined herein, each mobile home shall be installed with the wheels removed. Additionally, no dwelling shall have any exposed towing mechanism, under carriage or chassis; and,

(i) The dwelling contains a storage capability area on a ground floor level or in a separate structure of standard construction similar to or of better quality than the principal dwelling. Such storage area shall be equal to 10% of the square footage of the dwelling or 100 square feet, whichever shall be less. Such separate structure shall otherwise conform in all other respects to all applicable standards and regulations of the Code of the City and in no event shall such separate structure be less than six (6') feet in height; and,

(j) 1) The dwelling is aesthetically compatible in design and appearance with other residences in the vicinity, with either a roof over-hang of not less than six inches on all sides, or alternatively with window sills and roof drainage systems concentrating roof drainage at collection points along the sides of the dwelling; has not less than two exterior doors each of which shall be located on different sides of the dwelling; and contains permanently attached steps connected to said exterior door areas or to permanent porches connected to said door areas where a difference in elevation requires the same; and,

2) The compatibility of design and appearance shall be determined in the first instance by the Zoning Administrator upon review of the plans submitted for a particular dwelling subject to appeal by an aggrieved party to the Zoning Board of Appeals within a period of fifteen (15) days from the receipt of notice of said Zoning Administrator's decision. Any determination of compatibility shall be based upon the standards set forth in this definition of "dwelling" as well as the character, design and appearance of one or more residential dwellings located outside of mobile home parks within 2,000 feet of the subject dwelling where such area is developed with dwellings to the extent of not less than 20% of the lots situated within said area; or, where said area is not so developed, by the character, design or appearance of one or more residential dwellings located outside of mobile home parks throughout the city. The foregoing shall not be construed to prohibit innovative design concepts involving such matters as solar energy, view, unique land contour, or relief from the common or standard designed home; and,
home; and,

(l) All improvements, including such a separate structure as provided for in paragraph (i) above, shall be permanent in nature and, if structural, shall be permanently attached to the land or dwelling as appropriate.

(m) As used herein the term "mobile home" shall mean a movable or portable dwelling constructed to be towed on its own chassis and designed for permanent year round living as a single family dwelling. Provided, however, that the term "mobile home" shall not include motor homes, campers, recreational vehicles (whether licensed or not as motor vehicles) or other transportable structures designed for temporary use and which are not designed primarily for permanent residence and connection to sanitary sewage, electrical power and potable water utilities; and,

(n) No person shall occupy any mobile home as a dwelling within the City until a certificate of approval shall be issued by the Building Official and Zoning Administrator, which permit shall indicate satisfactory compliance with all requirements of the City Zoning Ordinance and Building Code; and,

(o) The foregoing standards shall not apply to a mobile home located in a licensed mobile home park except to the extent required by state or federal law or as otherwise specifically required in Section 4.2 of this Ordinance, and,

(p) All construction required herein shall be commenced only after a building permit has been obtained in accordance with the applicable city building code provisions and requirements; and,

(q) The words, terms and phrases of this Ordinance shall be severable and if any part is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction said ruling or judgment shall not affect the remaining provisions of this Ordinance

IMMEDIATE EFFECT. This Mobile Home Use provision shall be given immediate affect for the reason that the City does not presently provide for the placement of manufactured homes outside of Residential Mobile Home Parks

Ordinance No. 415

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS THAT THE CODE OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX BE AMENDED AS FOLLOWS:

TITLE V - ZONING AND PLANNING
CHAPTER 51 - ZONING

Section 5.187, entitled Mobile Homes shall be amended by adding to paragraph (1) of said Section the following language:

so that Section 5.187 (1) shall read in its entirety as follows:

(1) No mobile home shall be occupied as a dwelling unit within the City except when such mobile home is located in a licensed and approved mobile home park and EXCEPTING as otherwise provided in Section 5.32 of this Chapter.

Section 5.187, entitled Mobile Homes shall be amended by adding to paragraph (3) of said Section the following language:

:or dwelling in any zoned district unless otherwise provided for specifically in any such zoned District.

so that Section 5.187 (3) shall read in its entirety as follows:

(3) It shall be unlawful to use or permit to be used, any automobile trailer, camper, mobile home, travel trailer or house trailer as an office, place of business, profession or dwelling in any zoned district unless otherwise provided for specifically in any such zoned District.

This Ordinance is given immediate affect for the reason that the mobile home provisions of the Code have been amended affective on the date hereof, which necessitates giving this amendment immediate affect in order to maintain consistency of the regulatory provisions contained in the Chapter.

Ordinance No. 416

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS THAT THE CODE OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX BE AMENDED AS FOLLOWS:

TITLE V - ZONING AND PLANNING

JOHN F. GREENE of Charlevoix is beginning medical studies as one of 125 entering students of the Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine.

This is the first class of MSU osteopathic medical students in the college's 12-year history to begin studies in September rather than June.

The son of Camille A. Greene, 308 Mason Street, he is a 1976 graduate of Charlevoix High School and received the B.S. degree from Michigan State University in 1980. Greene has worked as a volunteer emergency room orderly at Ingham Medical Center, Lansing and Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital.

The osteopathic medical students will take 162 credit hours (eight terms) of basic science, behavioral science and clinical clerkships, including ambulatory and in-patient care in community hospitals, clinics and health care agencies. Upon completion of medical school the students will receive the doctor of osteopathy (D.O.) degree, and after examination may be licensed in any state to provide the full spectrum of health care.

GREGORY ANDRICK, a senior at the Charlevoix High School, has received a letter of commendation for having finished among the top five percent of the participants in the twenty-eighth National Merit Scholarship Program.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Andrick.

A spokesman for the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the Merit Program, said "To rank among the top 50,000 performers in a competition that includes over 1.0 million participants is an outstanding attainment, deserving of public recognition. We sincerely hope that the academically able young men and women who are commended in the Merit Program will pursue their higher education opportunities and career goals. The nation will benefit by the full development of their talents."

The students being commended this month, who are beginning their final year of high school, entered the 1983 Merit Scholarship competition by taking the qualifying examination in 1981. Commended participants scored high but slightly below students in their respective states who qualified as Merit Scholarship Program semi-finalist. Only the 15,000 semi-finalists, who were announced earlier, will receive further consideration for approximately 5,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring.

Teaching has always been her dream

by ANNE KELLY

"When I was in the 4th or 5th grades, I dragged all the kids in my neighborhood into our garage and played school using old science books."

Ann Shindorf laughed at the recollection. "I always wanted to be a teacher. Whether those kids liked it or not, I was going to teach them."

Well, Ann has been realizing that childhood ambition for over 15 years, and appears to be loving it just as much now as then. She emits enthusiasm and a keen sense of humor which she would be the first to admit is a prerequisite for teaching Middle School students. "I think this is the most terrific staff...you have to be able to see the humorous side of things. The kids we teach are adolescents. They have their ups and downs and a middle school teacher has to be able to ride with it."

Adaptability seems to be Ann's key to success in the science lab where 8th graders are being introduced to perhaps their first experience with the freedoms and responsibilities of the laboratory. Many of the chemicals they work with can be potentially harmful.

"I like this age..they keep you thinking every minute. You have to imagine what 'disaster' may occur before it does. When you teach a lab situation, you see a lot of growth. Students have to learn respect for chemicals, themselves, and others. I see them reminding each other to take safety precautions – that's good."

A graduate of Northern Michigan University, from Crystal Falls, Michigan, Ann was trained specifically in English and Science. She taught 3 years in Highland, Michigan before taking a year off to travel in Europe where she also spent time as an English "nanny".

In 1970, she joined the Middle School staff teaching English, science, and journalism. She has been there ever since.

One of Ann's favorite science units is "ecology". She looks forward to taking full advantage of the facilities to be found on Beaver Island for future "hands on" learning experiences for her science classes.

"Meanwhile, watching the big and little successes of her students in the science lab makes teaching a joy. She delights in watching them "be amazed" at their discoveries. It makes all the effort of teaching worthwhile.

"If a student says, 'boy, this is the fastest hour all day,' then I'm happy. I knew then that I'm doing my job and they're learning by doing."

Ann Shindorf and friend.

Anderson to campaign at Duffy's; names coordinators

John Anderson, candidate for the 37th State Senate seat, will be on hand this Wednesday night, October 13, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Duffy's of Charlevoix for a "Meet the Candidate" get-together. There is no charge for the event.

Anderson announced this week his campaign coordinators for Charlevoix County.

"I am pleased to have Don Hufford and John Haggard of Charlevoix heading up Charlevoix County," said Anderson. This will be a hard fought race, and I'm gratified that my campaign is spearheaded by such dedicated, highly respected citizens."

Don Hufford has been active in political and civic affairs fur many years. He is the owner of CPI, a company manufacturing automation components, and also acts as manufacturer's representative for a German firm. Hufford is chairman of the Charlevoix County Republican Party.

John Haggard owns and operates Haggard's Plumbing and Heating. A life-time resident of Charlevoix, he is a three-term County Commissioner, serving Charlevoix and Hayes Townships, and a member of the American Legion and the Charlevoix Knights of Columbus.

- $100 Gift Certificate from Kitchen Potpourri in Charlevoix

COURIER HOLIDAY COOKING CONTEST RULES

1. Contestants are invited to enter as many categories as they wish but may submit only one recipe per category.

2. Recipes should be typed or printed on a sheet of paper with the category indicated.

3. To each recipe there should be a separate sheet of paper attached with the contestants name, address and phone number. The contestant's name should not appear on the actual recipe. As each recipe is received, it will be assigned a number which will be logged with the contestant's name. The names will be removed from the recipes so the judges will not know whose recipes they are judging.

4. Ingredients should be listed in accurate, easily understood amounts and in the order that they are used.

5. Recipes do not have to be completely original. They may be old standards or new variations on familiar recipes. The more original the recipe is, however, the better its chance of winning.

6. If duplicate recipes are received, the one submitted first will be accepted. We will log date and time the recipe is received.

7. All contestants must agree to permit their recipes to be published in a special cookbook section of the Charlevoix Courier.

8. Employees of the Charlevoix Courier and Petoskey News-Review and members of their families are not eligible to win the contest.

9. A panel of judges will evaluate the recipes submitted and name three finalists in each of the five categories. The 15 finalists will be notified and asked to prepare their recipes for a final judging session. Judges will then sample the entries, name a winner in each category and a grand prize winner.

10. The deadline for entries is 12 Noon, Friday, October 29. Recipes should be submitted to the Charlevoix Courier, [illegible] Bridge St., Charlevoix, MI, 49720.

Variance denied for Round Lake house

Standing firmly behind the letter of the city's zoning law, the City Council denied sideyard variances to William Jackson of Ann Arbor that would have allowed him to build a home on Round Lake at the foot of Burns St.

Although the Planning Commission had recommended approval of the variances at their September 27 meeting, Commission Chairman Walter Hufford pointed out to the council that their discussion on the matter was held before adjoining property owners had been offered to submit comments.

James Elliott, a member of the Dixon Avenue Property Owners Association, objected to the variances pointing out that the lot was only 57 feet wide and thus too narrow for a house.

"It seems to me that this is just too much house for this amount of land," said Elliott.

City Attorney Michael Gibbons cautioned the council saying that a vote indicating that the property was an "unbuildable lot" may be in danger if tested in court.

The only support on the council for Jackson's request came from council members Robert Timms and Jeffrey Porter.

General Election '82

Interest groups clash over state ballot proposals

by PEG OHLE

There are seven statewide proposals on the November 2 General Election ballot, lettered conecutively from A through H (but without F). Some of them have received considerable publicity and others have scarcely been discussed.

The Courier has received publicity releases from special interest groups on most proposals and presents herewith some quotations from those releases.

Proposal A reads, "A proposal to allow the legislature to pass laws to reform their existing constitutional exemption from civil arrest and process during legislative sessions.

"The Michigan Constitution now provides: 'Senators and representatives shall be privileged from civil arrest and civil process during sessions of the legislature and for five days next before the commencement and after the termination thereof. They shall not be questioned in any other place for any speech in either house.'

"1. The proposed amendment would allow the legislature to pass laws to reform this exemption."

The only public comment available on this proposal comes from the State Chamber of Commerce, which supports it. It was noted that legislative immunity was originally enacted to protect lawmakers from harrassment. This proposal would clarify the legislation and restrict the privilege to prevent its abuse.

Proposal B reads, "A proposal to create by constitution a Michigan Department of State Police, provide for its personnel, prescribe its duties and require minimum staffing.

"The proposed amendment would:

"1. Change the Michigan Department of State Police from a department created by law to a department created by the constitution.

Homecoming reigns at CHS

by FRAN MARTIN

It's Homecoming Week at Charlevoix High School and the festivities will rise to high clamor by Friday, according to Bridget Noirot, president of the student council.

Reigning over the 1982 Homecoming will be a queen to be named from the following candidates: Linda Joy, Martha Reising, Kim Curtis, Kathy Lignell and Kelly Thompson.

The name of the Homecoming Queen will be announced during halftime activities at the Charlevoix-Onaway football game. Last year's Homecoming Queen, Colleen Wilhelm, will crown her successor immediately after the announcement.

Among the Queen's first duties will be the dubbing of the Rayder captains, David Baldorff, Jon Supernaw and Alan Bergmann.

Escorts for the queen candidates will be Bill Dohm, Dean Hartnett, Craig Klooster, Ron Way and Steve Keller. During the halftime program, the Rayder Marching Band directed by Terry Isenbarger will salute the Queen and her court. Gary Carson, high school senior, will be master of ceremonies.

The Homecoming floats, decorated in the themes of songs, will parade around the field during halftime and will be a feature of the homecoming parade scheduled to begin at 8:45 p.m. Friday at the Middle School and proceed to Kipke Field via mason St., State St. and Garfield Ave. Leading the parade will be the high school marching band.

Themes for the floats are: "Fight the Good Fights", ninth grade; "Abra-Ca-Da-Bra" and "Everything She Does Is Magic", tenth grade; "For Those Who Are About to Win, We Salute You", eleventh grade, and "Stairway to Heaven", twelfth grade. Judges for the floats will be Charles Bentley, Jacquie Merta and Georgia LaBlance.

The Homecoming Dance will be staged at the Elementary School gymnasium. Music for dancing will be provided by the Iron Bullet band of Petoskey under the sponsorship of the Senior Class. Admittance will be $3 for singles or $5 a couple. The dance will begin immediately after the game and last until 1 a.m.

Limp economy reflected in building permits

by PEG OHLE

The peak season for building construction in Charlevoix County is over for 1982, and figures bear out what most people know – there has been less construction than in previous years.

The Charlevoix County Department of Building Inspection issued 346 permits from January 1 through September 30. This is down from 407 permits, or 13 percent for the same period last year.

Of these permits, 65 were for new homes. The figure last year at this time was 89 permits, so the loss is 24 permits, or 27 percent.

Total construction costs (excluding land and plumbing, electrical, and heating systems) for the 65 new homes started so far this year is estimated at $3,252,725. The estimate last year at this time for 89 new homes was $4,862,368.

All types of construction for which permits were issued through September carried an estimated cost of $5,047,836 as compared with $7,458,280 this time last year.

Building Code Administrator Howard Carson sees high interest rates as the main reason for the building slump.

"I hear it all the time," he told the Courier. "If we could get the interest rates down to 10 percent it would be good."

As it is, families – mostly young families -- are turning to alternatives.

Some are constructing only the basement part of their home with the thought of living there until they can accumulate enough money to complete it.

"If they can show they can meet the code as far as safety measures are concerned and can get Health Department and electrical, plumbing, and heating permits, we try to help them along," Carson explained. "Even when they have the land, a basement house can cost $15,000".

One enterprising company is selling home-building plans and materials to home-seekers at an interest rate of 11 percent for two years, Carson reports. The hitch is that at the end of two years the owners must refinance at the market rate.

Mobile homes have long been the housing answer for many families, and new regulations make them even more popular. There was a time when mobile homes could be located only in areas permitted by zoning laws. Now they can be located anywhere if they meet the requirements for regular houses in that area, i.e., size, placement on lot, setbacks, etc.

"They must have egress windows, smoke detectors, and fire extinguishers. We check for those things and the electrical hookup, but that's about all that's under our jurisdiction," Carson says of mobile homes.

A high percentage of new homes are being built on lake property, especially the larger, more expensive homes, Carson reports. Many of them are being built on property that earlier was considered unsuitable for building.

"You know, you can build houses almost anywhere," he says. If the ground is wet, you can drive pilings like they did at The Harborage in Boyne City. And you can pump the sewage to higher ground from the houses. That's being done in a lot of places."

In real estate language, the "hottest" Charlevoix County area for new houses in the last two years has been Beaver Island, especially Peaine Township, where home-seekers have discovered the rustic shores of Lake Michigan. Most of these new homes are second homes, according to Carson, often occupied only a month or two in the summer.

The greatest activity in the residential building field has been in remodeling. If a person has a sound, older house, he will usually find it less expensive to add a new bedroom, modernize the kitchen, or put in a basement than it would be to build a new one.

Condominium building in Charlevoix County has slowed down considerably, according to Carson. In addition to The Harborage, he has issued permits for 12 more units at Boyne Mountain and reviewed plans for 22 new units at the Weathervane Terrace Inn in Charlevoix.

The only commercial projects of any size now under construction are 15 buildings in the Camping Center at the Lake Louise Christian Association and the Barnard motel-restaurant-party store complex on Ferry Avenue in Charlevoix.

A lesser-known activity of the Department of Building Inspection is that of "red-tagging" derelict buildings that are dangers to the community, perhaps as fire hazards or sources of possible injury to children and others. Carson explains that he can "red-tag" buildings only when doors or windows are open to encourage entering.

A permit from the Department of Building Inspection is required for all construction undertaken in the County. The cost of the permit is based upon the estimated cost of construction. However, the Department cannot issue a permit until the applicant has received a zoning permit from his Township or City, a permit from the Health

Mrs. Saunders addresses Hist. Soc.

At the October 5 meeting of the Charlevoix Historical Society, Mrs. Doria Saunders presented an interesting history of the acquisition of property in the city of Charlevoix located on the city's north side in the 1850's.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon, both graduates of Oberlin College in Ohio, having heard that land was available in northern Michigan, purchased 212 acres, much of which would become known as the Dixon addition. A year later, the Dixons built a home on the site of the Pere Marquette Railway Station overlooking Lake Charlevoix. The building is presently occupied by the Charlevoix Yacht Club.

In 1866, Mr. Dixon platted the village which comprised all the land between Pine River and Antrim Street and Lake Michigan and Round Lake except the park along Lake Michigan, a total of 18 blocks. In the ensuing years, Mr. Dixon platted more parcels of land to many families from whence present streets in the community received their names such as Crouter, Meech, Dixon, Nicholls, Lewis, Burns and Nettleton.

Among the original homes from the Dixon era are those of Dr. Lewis at Petoskey Ave. and Lewis St. and the Frank Rothschild residence on Michigan Ave. which was built in the early 1900s by a Mr. Marling who was associated with a sugar beet factory that was located on the site of the present Irish Boat Works.

At the business session, Mrs. Elmer Gibson, membership chairperson reported that the Historical Society presently has 99 active members and 103 life members. Twenty memberships are unpaid at this time.

A report was also given on the printed materials available through the society including the Bob Miles Book, the Charlevoix Cookbook and the Irene Young maps of the Little Traverse Bay area.

Firemen serve over 600 at pancake breakfast for fire engine fund

The Charlevoix Volunteer Firemen, their wives and children staged a "Pancake Breakfast" Sunday October 10 at the American Legion Hall.

The breakfast was attended by approximately 600 people. The proceeds from the breakfast amounted to $1300 for the growing Fire Engine Fund.

The breakfast menu consisted of wild blueberry pancakes, ham, eggs, orange juice, and coffee.

The firemen expressed thanks to Edwards IGA for donating the hams; Oleson Food Stores for the pancake flour, milk, orange juice, butter, coffee, oil, and buttermilk; Rus-N-Us for the eggs; Charlevoix Kiwanis Club for 5 gallons of pure Maple Syrup; and the First State Bank for the placemats.

They also thanked the American Legion for the use of the legion hall and the donation of plates and cups.

A bake sale was also held in the lobby of the American Legion Hall. The baked goods were donated by the firemen's wives and their friends including Harry Ladd who donated 20 pounds of his fudge. This event added $250 to the Fire Engine Fund.

The Fire Engine Fund with this $1500 boost has now passed the $23,000 mark.

The next event planned by the Volunteer Firemen will be Wednesday, November 3 at Duffy's of Charlevoix. Tickets for this Sean Ryan concert and free hors d'oeuvres will be $10 a person. Tickets can be obtained at the main Fire Station or from any of the volunteer firemen.

Looking for old homes

The Charlevoix Historical Society is in the process of trying to determine which of Charlevoix's many older homes might be established as Historic Sites by the State of Michigan.

A few years ago, the Society located some of the City's oldest homes and designed them with signs as either "Centennial Homes" or "Pioneer Homes", The former were homes built before 1882, and the latter were homes built before 1900.

Now, the Historical Society is trying to further authenticate some of those homes – and perhaps some they missed before – so they might be included in the State's Register of Historic Sites. Members of the Historical Society will assist present home owners in any way they can by checking dates, contacting former owners, and doing local research.

Farmsteads also qualify for Historic Site designation. Any farm that has been owned by one family for one hundred years is almost assured of state recognition.

Anyone who thinks his or her home might qualify for consideration as an Historic Site is asked to contact Mrs. King Saunders, 403 Prospect Street, phone 547-6656, or Mrs. Carl Kohler, 106 Oak Street, phone 547-2963.

New booklet on emergencies to be mailed

by DAVE KNIGHT

Distribution to Charlevoix area residents began this week of a new booklet explaining emergency procedures, particularly those resulting from a nuclear accident at the Consumers Power Big Rock nuclear power plant.

The 28-page booklet replaces a 12-page brochure produced two years ago that was criticized for oversimplified information, misleading illustrations and lack of distribution. The new booklet contains revisions resulting from hearings held this past summer by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC).

The new booklet, entitled "Emergency Preparedness in Charlevoix County and Part of Emmet County", was prepared and printed by Consumers Power. A total of about 25,000 have been printed, according to Consumers Power spokesman Robert Grupp.

Over 4,000 will be mailed by Consumers Power to all residents living within a five-mile radius of the Big Rock plant. Ten thousand more will be given to Charlevoix County Emergency Services director F. Earl Muma.

Several booklets aimed at transient visitors to the area will be distributed to motels, service stations, marinas and other public places.

The main purpose of the booklet, according to Grupp, is to explain what residents should do when they are notified of an emergency by a public address siren. Twelve such sirens were installed last winter within the five-mile radius of the Big Rock plant and are tested on the first Saturday of each month.

The booklet explains the classification of emergencies at Big Rock, what chain of events would result from an emergency, how information would be disseminated and evacuation routes and procedures. It also includes a general explanation of the biological effects of radiation and a glossary of nuclear terms.

Also contained in the booklet is a questionnaire for residents with special needs to be considered in an evacuation such as physical handicaps or lack of transportation. The questionnaire is to be returned to Muma at the Charlevoix County office of Emergency Services.

Muma pointed out that the booklet will be helpful in cases of all emergencies, including fires, tornados, toxic spills and severe winter storms, as well as nuclear incidents.

Any area residents who do not receive one of the booklets in the mail can obtain one through the Emergency Services office at the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department, Charlevoix, 49720 or by 1000 Grant St., calling 547-6087.

Revenue funds sought for seniors, beautification

Two ways for the County to spend some of its Revenue Sharing money were suggested to the County Board of Commissioners last week.

A group of senior citizens from Boyne City appeared before the Commissioners at a public hearing to ask for $20,000 to pay the salary of a director and provide operating funds for their Senior Center. Phyllis Tisron, a former part-time employee of the Center, made the request.

A lesser amount was requested by "Keep Charlevoix Beautiful" founder Bruce MacArthur. He suggested that $1,500 be distributed among the cities and townships within the County to help them promote Michigan Week in the spring by cleaning up, fixing up, and planting to beautify their communities.

Charlevoix County now has $419,280 in unappropriated Revenue Sharing funds in its Revenue Sharing Trust Fund as well as $30,000 in earned interest in that Fund. The County expects to receive another $279,279 in Revenue Sharing in fiscal 1983.

The requests for funds were turned over to the Ways and Means committee of the Board of Commissioners for consideration.

Bill for juveniles: $350,000

The cost of out-of-home care for juvenile delinquents and abused and neglected children in Charlevoix County in 1982 will amount to approximately $350,000.

This figure was reported to the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners last week by D. Bradley Campbell, Juvenile Officer and Court Referee.

While Federal and State agencies pay for part of this child care, the amount borne by Charlevoix County will be about $170,000, Campbell said.

In addition, the County will pay just under $6,000 for counseling the children and their families and another $1,000 for psychological testing.

These high costs mirror the increase in numbers of formal court hearings for children in trouble. In 1979, there were 152 hearings, Campbell reported; in 1980, there were 208 cases, in 1981, there were 244 cases, and in 1982, the figure is projected at just under 300 cases.

These figures are higher than in surrounding counties, according to Campbell. He believes this is due to the high unemployment rate in the County, as well as excellent prosecution and good child protection services.

Campbell told the Board of Commissioners that if he had additional staff in his office, he could recover some of the child care costs from parents who are able to pay.

Ferry to close early

The Ironton Ferry will close early this year. Its last trip of the season will be at 10 p.m. on November 2, election day.

The County Road Commission has announced this early closing with the explanation that the ferry will be put in dry dock for its five-year inspection and overhaul.

Knight on the Town
A bad idea

by Dave Knight

Many of gubernatorial candidate Richard Headlee's ideas on the reorganization of state government have the ring of logic. Abolishing the Department of Natural Resources, however, is not one of them.

Headlee was playing to a sympathetic audience when he announced this latest proposal during a campaign swing through the Upper Peninsula where the DNR ranks in popularity somewhere beneath the Ayatollah Khomeini.

If elected, said Headlee, he plans to shift all environmental protection duties, such as air and water quality, to the Department of Public Health. He would then create a new state agency (so much for less government) called the Department of Tourism and Recreation to handle other DNR responsibilities such as fish and wildlife management, parks administration and forestry.

Headlee has often alligned himself with the aims and goals of the Ronald Reagan administration in the past two years and in this situation, his arrogant, exploitive attitude toward the environment falls neatly into line with Reagan's sorry environmental record to date.

To relegate environmental protection to the Department of Public Health is to say that the only stream worth protecting is that which can be put to human use, the only good air, that which is makes its way to human lungs and if poisons are deposited in the earth, they are okay if nobody gets sick.

To hand over fish and wildlife management and forestry to a Department of Tourism is to say that the only good fish is that which can be caught, the only good deer that which can be seen or shot by city folk and the only good tree that which turns orange in the fall and can be seen from the highway.

What happens to the many aspects of resource management that have no relationship to public health or tourism? Apparently they are of no importanee to Mr. Headlee.

It is the complex interrelationship between all systems in the environment - both the profitable and the oblique - that has become one of the most crucial and least understood scientific principles of our time.

If anything, the DNR should be strengthened and the morale of this once-proud arm of state government restored. Admittedly, its mission should be clarified and updated. But its role as an entity overseeing the wide spectrum of resource management should remain intact.

Lately, Michigan's natural resources have been carrying the ball dropped by business and industry. If it had not been for the visitors attracted by this area's natural splendors, our local economy would have all but folded by now.

I don't think putting our entire environmental future solely into the hands of health officials and tourist promoters is wise management - either economically or ethically - by any means.

Clockwise
Vacation log

by Bob Clock

MEMO TO CLOCKWISE:

Never again take a two-week vacation in October when Judy is at work, the kids are in school and rain doesn't know when to call it quits.

Don't get me wrong. Vacations are beautiful. Everyone needs a break from his work-a-day world to collect his thoughts, do the odd jobs he never has time for on weekends and straighten out his sock drawer.

But that takes about 15 minutes-and I'll have to admit that time has hung pretty heavy on my hands during most of the past week.

Even the three cats haven't been much help. Oh, they purr, meow and climb all over you until they've had their breakfast. But after they eat they're ready to sack out for the rest of the day. The only thing more exciting than watching a cat sleep is watching grass grow. Or paint dry.

Actually, I still have plenty of odd jobs left for the coming week, thanks to the exceptionally wet and windy weather we have had. For one thing, all of our screen windows have to be replaced by storm windows. But I refuse to hang sparkling clean storm windows in a driving rain. In fact, I think anyone who hangs storm windows is entitled to enjoy them for at least 24 hours before they become streaked with rain water.

But it has rained every one of the past seven days and my storm windows are still in the fruit cellar.

The same goes for raking leaves. There is simply no percentage in raking leaves in an 80-knot wind, because by the time you finish you have to start all over again.

Two upstairs windows need to be reglazed and the frames painted. But you can't paint sodden wood, can you?

I have only one project that doesn't depend on the weather. That one is knocking holes in three ceilings so that plumbers can reach a leaky pipe leading to an upstairs bathroom. So far I have knocked through the plaster and lath in two locations, but I have saved the worst one-in the ceiling of a tiny closet-until last.

I would hate to enter the second week of vacation with all my chores completed.

OF COURSE, having the house to myself does have its advantages. Since no one has ever told me how to turn on the TV I have been having a fine old time listening to fine old records on the Hi-Fi which, I am told, is almost as obsolete as the Victrola.

I even unearthed some old 78-rpm records which I had almost forgotten. Remember Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra playing "Time Was?" The corner is chipped off, but most of it is playable.

I also found "Tell Me-Fox Trot" played by Joseph C. Smith's orchestra. Words and music by J.W. Callahan and Max Kortlander. My father used to sing "Tell Me" to my mother when they were courting 60 years ago and I am sure the record-pressed by the Victor Taling Machine Co.-is at least that old.

Remember Dick Contino, the accordionist who hit the big time with Arthur Godfrey a generation ago? I found a record of Contino playing "A Gay Ranchero"-made in the days when "gay" had only one meaning.

I think my favorite discovery is a British recording of Vera Lynn singing "If You Love Me, Really Love Me." Really super.

One thing about the old 78's is that they keep the cats awake. They love to watch that little dog chasing his tail in the center of the turntable.

Letters: GOP, some thank-yous

Blues deserved

To the Editor:

Having just read Mr. Bob Clock's column in the October 13th Courier, I feel it is necessary that some response be registered. It is very clear that Mr. Clock finds it pleasant to publish problems and miss-steps of Democrat controlled government and to emphasize any possible pleasant results of Republican controlled government. We would all like to forget the residue economic adjustment problems of the Vietnam episode, the economic turmoil of unbelievable foreign exchange problems caused by the petroleum price actions of OPEC and the rising tensions of the Middle East that have been long emerging. Mr. Carter was denied a second term in office because of the public's reaction to the administration of these events and problems.

At the present time, however, we are not reviewing those actions, we are now engaged in examining the results of the past two years and are trying to elect persons who will either continue or alter those policies now in effect.

There have been many definitions of the purpose of government over the years such as: Government should do those things collectively that citizens cannot so well do individually; Government should provide protection for its citizens against actions of nature and man that they cannot provide individually etc. It is, however, high time that we recognize once and for all that it is the purpose of government to do its best to provide all of its citizens employment at a wage that is fair relative to his ability and the wage of all of his peers; that government's purpose is to care well for the less able and the less fortunate; to provide education suitable to personal abilities of all citizens at costs that all can afford including, therefore, free to many. Our government must also be willing to recognize promptly citizens' collective desire for seeking other methods of peaceful coexistence in the world than the building of the "biggest stick" with the distortion of use of resources and the creation of the largest ever public deficits that the military big stick inevitably causes.

Historically our economy has been most healthy and everyone has fared best when all citizens felt economically comfortable and assured of their future.

It is for failure to recognize these rightful desires of citizens during the last two years that the GOP may be suffering some "blues".

The Federal Reserve System could have been urged 20 months ago to influence crippling interest rates with federal fund rate, discount rate, reserve regulations and market policies. It was not necessary to wait until 90 days before the election. What will the policy be of those now in office after the election if they are all returned?

It is not necessary for an administration to oppose, and even veto, legislation easing mortgage rates to home buyers through governmental assistance and to oppose proposals to provide public employment on projects to maintain and improve basic park and transportation facilities.

It is not necessary for an administration to follow a tax policy that basically favors industry, its stock holders and management and the most financially able over the citizens whose means are below average.

It is not necessary to fight inflation with policies that so hobble the economy that it results in 10 percent plus unemployment and another 6 percent of uncounted under employed. There are other means of wage, price and credit controls to do the job.

It is not necessary to follow a tax cup policy and a crash military build up policy that cause the largest federal deficits in history.

It is not necessary for the administration to question citizens' willingness to defend his country because the citizens suggest a modification of foreign and military policy.

All of these along with other social improvement cuts could have been handled differently with much fairer results to the rank and file of all citizens during the past two years. This is why there are GOP "blues" and rightfully so.

Old time charity

Dear Editor,

A big hand, please, for the people and merchants of our area who supported the recent Auction-Jamboree benefit for March of Dimes at Tucker Inn at East Jordan. People hit hard by a poor economy found it in their hearts to gather together to raise money for March of Dimes, an organization devoted to fighting birth defects through research and education with the goal of healthy babies born to healthy mothers.

They did it in a fashion reminiscent of a time when people worked together to raise barns or fill silos. They gave their time, talent, materials as they were able. Merchants donated various goods and services, auctioneers and bands and artists donated their talents. Volunteers cooked, baked, served meals, sold tickets, collected auction items, all in a spirit of cooperation and incidentally, having a good time doing it. On behalf of March of Dimes, thanks to all.

Marion K. Parker
Executive Director,
Northern Chapter,
March of Dimes

Thanks for the help

Dear Editor,

The times are a little tough and most of us have to pay attention to each dollar we spend - and donate. We realize most of us also have to budget our time.

That's why, on behalf of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, and as chairperson of the recent "Breath of Life" Campaign for the community of Charlevoix, I would like to thank everyone who volunteered so much of their valuable time to make this year's campaign so successful. I also want to thank all of you who opened your doors and wallets to our volunteers.

The money you contributed will help extend the lives of children and young adults with CF and support the nationwide efforts of researchers to find a cure for this fatal disease. It will also help finance public education to promote early diagniosis and effective treatment.

Ballot proposals draw responses from interest groups

"2. Make director of state police head of the Department.

"3. Set out powers and duties of the department and its officers.

"4. Permit reduction of enlisted personnel below the number employed as of April 1, 1980, only in the event of and in proportion to a decrease in the state's population."

The Michigan Department of State Police is against this proposal, while the Michigan State Police Troopers Association is supporting it.

The State Chamber of Commerce is against proposal B, fearing it would set a precedent of establishing mandated staffing levels for other state agencies. The Chamber points out that if the proposal is passed, the State would have to hire over 100 troopers to meet minimum staffing, and that would cost over $4 million.

Proposal C reads, "Proposal to prevent a lender from using a 'due-on-sale' clause to foreclose a mortgage or land contract when the property is sold, unless security is impaired.

"The proposed law would:

"1. Prohibit court foreclosure of mortgage or land contract when based on transfer of mortgagor's or buyer's interest; EXCEPT where transfer is proved to impair security interest.

"2. If court foreclosure is based on 'due-on-sale' clause and lender has not proved security impaired, then extend time to redeem property from 6 to 48 months.

"3. Prohibit without exception foreclosure of mortgage by advertisement when based on transfer of mortgagor's interest.

"4. Apply to existing and future mortgages and land contracts."

At least two organiztions have expressed concern with this proposal, one opposed and one supporting it. The Committee to Save Michigan Homeowners, said to be "lender backed", is against it, stating that the extention of redemption, or foreclosure, period from six to 48 months would apply to all foreclosures. The Consumer's Committee to Protect Mortgage Rights, said to be "labor-business-consumer-backed", replies, "They know full well that the proposition wording clearly states that the 48-month redemption period would only apply to 'due-on-sale' foreclosures in which the lender does not prove its security is impaired."

The State Chamber of Commerce is against the proposal, saying the proposal "would scare away outstate investors from providing mortgage capital into the state because a lender who invoked due-on-sale under certain circumstances would have to wait up to four years to redeem the property."

The Chamber concedes that "without due-on-sale buyers may be able to assume low-interest homes more easily", but points out the price of a lower interest home is normally inflated and could result in higher property taxes as well."

Proposal D reads, "Proposal to require hearings on all utility rate increases, abolish rate adjustment clauses and establish procedures in rate hearings.

"The proposed law would:

"1. When rate increase is requested, require full and complete hearing on all costs of utility service, including fuel costs.

"2. Abolish existing adjustment clauses that allow rate changes.

"3. Allow only one rate increase hearing per utility at the same time, unless hearings are for different services provided by the utility."

This is the "D is dumb" proposal of television fame. It was put on the ballot by public petition through the Michigan Voters Lobby. The Courier has four releases opposing D and one in support of it. Consumers Power Company is against D. In its "Energy Update" publication, the power company gives what it calls a "prudent internal analysis to examine the range of events that we have to be prepared for in case the propostion passes." Those events are:

"Cash revenue would drop because we could not recover funds through the adjustment clauses in any relationship to the time expenses were incurred...One way this would impact our Company is in the financial markets...We are (already) on the very edge of being unable to sell securities to keep financing our construction programs. If we are downrated one more time, our securities will be ranked so low that large investment institutions...will not buy our bonds."

The publicity group called "Citizens for Michigan Jobs and Energy" states that rather than lower utility bills, proposal D will raise bills, impair gas and electric service, put people out of work, and drive businesses out of the state.

The Michigan Electric Cooperative Association, composed of 160,000 member-consumers, is opposing D with the statement that it would have a "devasting effect on electric cooperatives and their member-consumers by increasing utility bills and threatening Michigan's energy supply".

The State Chamber of Commerce calls proposal D "short-sighted and over-regulatory".

Press releases tout some proposals, rebuff others

Association of Michigan, a government group, reports that the Citizens for Michigan Jobs and Energy Committee is spending $4 million to defeat proposal D. ("D is dumb" is part of the campaign). Perhaps because the Aging Association is made up of government employees, it resorts to a handwritten "Yes" following an explanation of proposal D and a "No" following proposal H. (See more on H following).

Proposal E reads, "A proposal expressing the people's desire for a mutual nuclear weapons freeze with the Soviet Union and requiring State officials to convey that desire to the president of the United States and other Federal officials. The proposed law would:

"1. Establish as a 'finding and declaration' the danger of nuclear war and reduction of that danger by a mutual agreement between the USA and USSR to establish nuclear freeze.

"2. Require House Clerk and Senate Secretary to send to President and other federal officials a communication urging:

a. The USA propose to USSR a mutual nuclear weapons freeze, both countries agreeing to halt the testing, production, and further deployment of all nuclear weapons, missiles, and delivery systems in a way that can be checked and verified by both.

b. Transfer of nuclear weapons funds to civilian use."

This proposal seems like a neglected child compared with proposal D. The Courier has received no high-powered publicity releases either for or against it. Most people know this is a grass roots effort put on the ballot by petition. Support publicity for the proposal comes mostly from Letters to the Editor, rallies, and bumper stickers. There seems to be no organized opposition to it.

Proposal G reads, "A proposal for an elected Public Service Commission.

"'The proposed amendment would:

"1. Establish a 5 member Public Service Commission to be elected for 4 year terms, with no more than 3 terms expiring at same time.

"2. Provide that the Commission perform the duties currently assigned to the appointed Public Service Commission.

"3. Require nomination of candidates for Commission to be by partisan political party convention and election of candidates to be on non-partisan portion of ballot.

"4. Provide that each Commissioner to be elected shall appear on the ballot as a separate office."

Consumers Power Company, which would be personally affected, is uring a "No" vote on this proposal. So is the State Chamber of Commerce, which believes its passage would simply create more politicans at the taxpayers' expense.

The Chamber also notes that it wouldn't keep rates from rising to reflect cost increases and could discourage new business from coming to Michigan.

Proposal H reads, "Proposal to prohibit certain adjustment clauses; prohibit rate increases without prior notice and hearing; and prohibit state legislators from accepting employment with a utility for two years.

"The proposed law would:

"1. Prohibit certain adjustment clauses and provide that utilities may, upon request, recover reasonable and prudent costs of fuel, purchased gas or purchased electricity, only after 'full and complete hearing' on such costs.

"2. Permit separate hearings to be held on any change in cost of fuel or purchased gas at the same time as hearings on general rate case.

"3. Prohibit members of the present legislature from working for any Michigan utility for two years after leaving legislative office."

This proposal reads much like proposal D, but is less restrictive. Proposal H (Public Act 212) was enacted into law after proposal D was put on the ballot by public petition spearheaded by the Michigan Consumers Lobby. Consumers Power Company explains that the proposal was enacted "to give the voters an opportunity to deal with the adjustment clause issue, but still not wreck the utilities or negatively impact the State's economic recovery". The power company urges its passage, as does the State Chamber of Commerce, for the same reasons. The only other comment about proposal H was a "No" recommendation from the Area Agencies on Aging Association of Michigan, as noted above.

Kulkawick-Rowe

Terrie Kulhawick and Robert J. Rowe, Jr. have announced they will be married in August of next year.

The intended bride, who lives in Charlevoix, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Devid Stoel of Eastport. Her fiance is a resident of Toledo, Ohio.

Marriage and family life seminar planned

A Marriage and Family Life Seminar will be held at the Community Church of God, 202 W. Hurlbut Street in Charlevoix, on October 29 and 30, according to the Rev. Walter G. Hastings, pastor.

The seminar will be led by Mr. and Mrs. James Callowey, who are certified leaders of marriage enrichment programs. The purpose of the seminar is not to save marriages which are in trouble, although that may happen, but rather to make good marriages even better.

Among the topics to be covered are: dealing resourcefully with conflict in the home; how to be a good companion; arriving at better marriage relationships; and stability through traditional marriage values.

The seminar will be held from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. on Friday, and from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. on Saturday. The registration fee of $8.00 per couple includes a luncheon on Saturday.

James and Stella Calloway have two children of their own, and are active in the Metropolitan Church of God in Detroit. They have led marriage and family life seminars for many years, and their series has been televised on the June Brown program on Channal 56. They are members of the Association of Couples for Marriage Enrichment.

Although the seminar will focus primarily on marriage and the family, both couples and single persons of all ages are welcome to participate. persons may call the church office at 547-2875 to register.

Several locals in LTCT's, "King and I"

The King and I is coming to the McCune Arts Center in Petoskey, this November, and several Charlevoixans have parts in the Little Traverse Civic Theatre production.

Michael Stargardt, 12, was selected during September auditions to play the role of Louis, the son of Anna, the English widow who goes to Siam (Thailand) to teach the royal children of the King. Trina Wiser, 13, and F.L. Dammann, 11, were chosen to join 16 other northern Michigan young people in the roles of the royal children. All three had parts in the 1981 LTCT production of Oliver.

Bill Henne, also of Charlevoix, was chosen for the part of Captain Orton, skipper of the ship which brought Louis and Anna to Siam. Henne is a veteran of many LTCT productions.

They join a cast of experienced actors including, Ima Williams as Anna, Micky Berryer as the King, Mark Bogelte as Prince Chulalongkorn, and Betsy McCune as Lady Thiang.

Produced in Petoskey by the Little Traverse Civic Theatre, The King and I is the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical adaptation of the 1944 novel "Anna and the King of Siam," by Margarte Landon. It is the story of Anna Leonowens the attractive English widow who went to Thailand (then Siam) in the early 1860's to teach the royal children English and western culture.

The play which first opened in New York in 1951 to "ecstatic notices from the critics" and "ran for 1,246 performances," according to documents in the Rodgers and Hammerstein Library, is directed here by Pat Stedman, a seasoned director and actor with LTCT.

Charlevoixans Fran Tollas and Steve Stargardt are choral and musical directors, respectively. Fran Tollas has directed and performed a range of vocal works, both classical and light around Michigan, as well as conducting vocal lessons locally. Steve Stargardt, Charlevoix Middle School Band instructor, plays with a number of local dance and performing bands. He was musical director for LTCT's production of Oliver.

The King and I will open in Petoskey November 11 with performances the 12th, 13th, 16th, 18th, 19th and closing the 20th. Tickets will go on sale by early November.

Win-Some Women's Retreat to feature Jan Ream as speaker

Jan Ream, a wife and mother, teacher, counselor, and public speaker will be speaking at the 11th annual Win-Some Women's Retreat, on Friday, November 5th and Saturday, November 6th at Boyne Mountain Lodge, in Boyne Falls.

Jan Ream

Jan has counseled professionally, specializing in individual, marriage and family therapy. She now serves as executive vice-president of New Source Counseling Centers. Currently she is working with her sister, Ann Kiemel Anderson, on a book which speaks to the challenges in pursuit of one's self-identity.

Six seminar sessions will be offered. Millie Dienert, internationally known speaker for the Billy Graham Crusades will explore the topic "Wholesome Family Living". Other seminar speakers and topics will be: Malettor Cross, "Building Love in the Family"; Robert Chenoweth, "Husbnads in Mid-Life Crisis"; Jan Ream "The Healthy Human Being"; Arlene Chenoweth, "How You Can Win Over Worry" and Gray Harwell "Living as One in Marriage".

A special Community Banquet, for men and women of all ages will be the highlight of the retreat weekend. Ernie Harwell, famous Tiger baseball sport announcer, will be the guest speaker. The program and dinner will be held November 6th at 7:00 p.m. in the Boyne Mountain Convention Hall.

More information, registration forms and banquet tickets may be obtained by contacting your local area coordinator, Maxine Drenth at 547-2105 or they may be picked up at Aartvark Studio or Bridge St. Hardware. The retreat is sponsored by the neighborhood inter-denominational Bible classes of Petoskey.

Lutheran women plan meeting

Sports

A Charlevoix ball carrier avoids a Gaylord tackler in junior varsity action last week.

Rayders lose to Gaylord by a toe

Friday night's game between Charlevoix and Gaylord was definitely not for the faint of heart. After playing to a 12-12 tie in regulation time, the Rayders saw themselves jump six points up in the tie-breaker only to have Gaylord match that six but add another for the 19-18 victory.

In a contest of conference also-rans, Gaylord pulled themselves up to a 3-3 mark while Charlevoix dropped to 1-4 in Michigan-Huron Shores action.

Pat Mitchell was one ray of bright light in the blustery evening which saw sheets of snow rake the field. Mitchell racked up 165 yards in 28 carries, scoring all three of Charlevoix's touchdowns in the process.

Gaylord hit the scoreboard first when, in the opening quarter, Kurt Kakaviska scampered into the endzone from five yards out for six points. The unsuccessful extra point attempt was one of five missed by both teams in the game.

Mitchell's first TD came later in the quarter on a 32-yard run. The 6-6 tie stood after Tim LaBlance's pass was incomplete on the conversion attempt.

Both teams went scoreless in the second and third quarters but with 10:34 to go in the game, Kakaviska burst one yard for another touchdown and Mitchell matched it again five minutes later with a TD run from the five. Extra point passes were missed by both teams setting up the 12-12 tie when the clock ran out.

Charlevoix won the toss for first possession in the overtime series and naturally gave the ball to Mitchell for the six-pointer. The fateful psss play for the conversion, however, was missed.

It was Kakaviska again for Gaylord scoring from the 1 after three carries but this time, Jim Warren's kick sailed through the uprights providing the one point needed for the win.

If Gaylord had any edge in the game statistically, it was in the passing department where the Blue Devils completed 4 of 10 for 65 yards while Charlevoix's LaBlance hit 3 of 9 for 13 yards. In rushing, Gaylord totalled 202 yards to Charlevoix's 185. The Gaylord edge in total offense was 279-193. Each team was penalized a total of 50 yards in the game.

On defense, it was Al Bergmann and Jack Moran again leading the charge with each logging nine tackles. Thad Morgan and Tim Bergmann each had eight, Dan Buday, six and Aaron Dishong five.

This week is homecoming week at Charlevoix High School (see page one) and the grid squad will be in the spotlight Friday night when they hoist a 4-1 Onaway team.

Freshmen bow 25-20

The Charlevoix Rayder freeshman football team took a 25-20 defeat from Gaylord at Kipke Field last week.

The young Rayders will close out their season at Cheboygan at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The visiting Gaylord eleven ran up a 19-6 halftime score before Charlevoix came alive and scored twice on long runs by Mat Lignell before time ran out.

The young Blue Devils scored on a four yard run in the first quarter on a 14 yard pass play and a one yard quarterback sneak in the second period before the young Rayders got on the board with 14 seconds remaining in the half. A 41 yard run by Lignell set up the scoring play by Jim Morgridge who went in from less than a yard to score.

In the second half, the Rayder defense tightened up, allowing the offense a chance to score on a 40 yard run by Lignell with Jody Putman kicking the conversion.

A Rayder fumble allowed Gaylord a scoring play from the one yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage following the kick-off, Lignell romped 88 yards to score. Putman made it 25-20 with a conversion.

With 3:49 remaining, Charlevoix never got the ball as the game ended in a downpour.

Coach Dave Smith said that the team played an excellent second half. "They really showed what they were capable of doing in the second half," he said.

Blue Devils complete sweep with JV win

The Charlevoix Rayder Junior Varsity football team lost by a score of 20-14 to an agressive Gaylord eleven at Kipke Field Thursday night.

Charlevoix scored first on a 15 yard pass play from Brent Colo to Jim Martin.

Gaylord snapped back to score on a five yard run for a 6-6 tie at halftime.

As the second half got underway, Gaylord scored on runs of 15 yards and 50 yards and a two point conversion to go ahead 20-6.

In the final period Martin broke away for a 59 yard run plus a conversion to put the Rayders back in the game but time ran out before they could score again.

"We beat ourselves" Coach Brian Certa said of the game adding that "We had penalties, fumbles, mental errors that beat us."

He mentioned Martin who had 158 yards rushing, Britt Center and Louis Raymond on offense and Cris Havens, Kyle Smith and Dave McKenzie on offense.

Golfers 3rd in conf. meet

The Charlevoix Rayder golfers finished in third place in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference meet held recently at the Belvedere Golf course.

Petoskey won the meet with a score of 327 for 18 holes as well as finishing first in conference standings with 20 points.

For the second time in a week, Charlevoix and Cheboygan had tied. However, in the conference meet the score of the fifth player broke the tie. The Cheboygan player had one less stroke than Charlevoix's Chuck Klooster. As a result Cheboygan finished in second place with a score of 354; Charlevoix had 355 followed by Gaylord with a 377; Sault Ste. Marie, 390; Boyne City, 405; St. Ignace, 409.

In computing the final conference standings, each team received one point for each dual meet won during the season. The conference meet carries a point value of 2 per team entered. In the conference meet there were seven teams entered therefore the first place team received 14 points, the second place team 12, etc. These figures combined with those for dual meets result in the final standings. Petoskey was in first place with 20 points; Cheboygan with 15; Charlevoix, 14; Gaylord, 12; Sault Ste. Marie, 8; Boyne City, 5, and St. Ignace, 2.

Brian Grow of Petoskey and Brian Bach of Cheboygan tied for medalist's honors with like scores of 78 for 18 holes. In the play-off, Grow won on the first hole to post the lowest score.

Charlevoix scores in the tournament meet were Steve Keller with an 85; Dan Batdorff, 88; Dennis Curtis, 89; Bill Joy, 92.

The Rayders along with Boyne City and St. Ignace advanced to the regional meet at Houghton Lake Saturday. Class B teams were to play at Oscoda.

CC team keeps rolling; wins two more meets

The Charlevoix Rayders, unanimous choice for first place in Class C standings in the state posted two more wins in Invitational meets during the week.

The most recent was the Petoskey Invitational meet held Saturday in which the Rayders had a score of 23 points to top four teams entered in the Class C-D division of the meet. Rogers City was second with 49 points.

Earlier in the week, the Rayders had won over four other teams at Elk Rapids with a score of 25 points.

Bill Taylor placed first in the C-D division with a time of 15:59. The course recorded is 15:23.

Saturday's meet was run in inclement weather that included snow squalls, temperatures in the mind-30s and a soggy course.

Six Charlevoix runners were among the top 10 who received medals. John Tunison finished in third place with a time of 16:30; Matt Peterson in fourth place in 16:34; Lee Allard, sixth in 16:46; Bill Dohm, ninth in 17:18 and Ron Way, tenth in 17:19.

Matt Landon finished in 14th place in 17:58; Rick Gallant, 15th in 18:11; Leo Chase, 16th in 18:22 and Dave Umlor, 23rd in 19:13.

In the 9-10 division of the meet, Doug Sloan finished fourth in 18:42; S.J. Greenway, 12th in 21:19; Jason Brindel, 13th in 21:36 and Tim Gibbons, 15th in 23:01. The winning time was 17:37.

Sandy Wanek, a freshman and Charlevoix's only entry in the girls' division placed 12th in 21:53 in the Open Division. The winning time was 19:28.

On Thursday, the team had topped five teams in the Elk Rapids Invitational with a score of 25 followed by Benzie Central with 55, Petoskey, 72, Boyne City, 90, and Kalkaska, 122.

Bill Taylor, Rayder junior, finished first in a time of 15:03, slightly less than the record of 15:01 held by Jeff Drenth of Charlevoix and Dan Biehl of Mancelona.

Peterson finished in third place with a time of 15:41; Tunison, fourth in 15:45; Bohm, eighth in 16:14; Allard, ninth in 16:19; Landon, 14th in 16:45 and Way, 21st in 17:14.

Girls drop pair

The Charlevoix girls' basketball team dropped two games last week, losing to Grayling by a score of 51-45 on Tuesday and 56-47 to Rogers City Thursday.

Charlevoix will host St. Ignace Tuesday and Boyne City Thursday before traveling to Petoskey the following Tuesday.

In the game at Grayling, Charlevoix trimmed the Viking advantage to 37-35 at the three quarter mark after trailing 18-9 at the quarter and 26-14 at halftime but lacked the momentum to take the lead in the final period.

Ann Wagner paced the scoring with 12 points followed by Laura Kemp with 11 and Rhonda Buchanan with 10. Heidi Bundig had 18 points for the victors.

At Rogers City, Charlevoix overcame a 12-8 first quarter deficit to go ahead 22-20 at halftime and 30-27 going into the final period but were outscored 19-17 in the final period for the loss.

Wagner had 15 points, Buchanan 14 and Kemp 11 for Charlevoix, Teresa Hodak and 18 for Rogers City.

The team will begin its second round of play in league competition when Boyne City plays here Thursday.

Chargers, 5-0, are flag champs

The Chargers concluded the 1982 season with a 5-0 record and the championship of the Charlevoix Flag Football League Dwight Boss, city recreation director, has announced.

The Jets finished in second place with a 3-2 record followed by the Cowboys with a 1-3-1 record and the Falcons with an 0-4-1 record.

Final games, scheduled for Saturday, were cancelled because of inclement weather.

In games played earlier in the week the Chargers defeated the Falcons 26-8 and the Jets downed the Cowboys 32-6.

The Chargers rolled up a 20-0 lead before the Falcons got on the board in the final period.

Roger Smith intercepted a pass to score the Chargers first touchdown. Scott Mitcheltree passed 31 yards to Kevin Shepard and Heath Moore ran the conversion for a 13-0 first period lead. The second period saw Smith score again on a 10 yard pass from Mitcheltree with Wes Cumberland scoring the conversion for a 20-0 halftime margin. Moore scored on a 10 yard pass from Mitcheltree in the final period before the Falcons scored on a nine yard run by Darrin Eakes and Rick Andrus added a safety.

Dan Drury and Terry Bonar teamed up on passes of nine and 10 yards to give the Jets a 13-0 first period advantage before Scott DeYoung passed 30 yards to Darrin Batdorff to give the Cowboys six points.

Drury passed to Jim Mabee for 25 yards and Mark LaBlance added a conversion to give the Jets a 19-6 margin at halftime.

The Jets secured the game as the second half got underway on a two yard run and conversion by Jeff Skeel and a two yard TD run by Drury.

Yachting Notes

A very fine Fall Series!

A dead heat between "Indooroophilly" and "Pine River Hummer" for first Overall; each with identical records in the best five races (1,2,3,5,5), for a 14.5 point total. The nod goes to "Indooroophilly" whose dropped race was a 6th versus "Hummer's" 9th. "Bandit" in a solid third with 19.25 points, followed by "Camouflage" (33.75) and "Tigger" (39.75).

The final standing for the PHRF Fleet, net of the 525's, shows quite a change...Here, its "Hummer" first with only 7.25 points, "Tigger" second with 21.5 and "Night Moves", third with 25.0. They're followed by "Camoulage" (25.75) and "Mint Julep" (26.5).

P-26 Fleet really mixed it up...Counting all six races, "Blazen III" and "Foxy Lady" are tied but "Foxy" only drops a 3rd, so it ends up: "Blazen III", first (6.25); "Foxy Lady", second (7.5); "Tireless", third (11.25); "Win Haven", fourth (16.25); and "San Sue She", fifth (20.25).

"Indooroophilly", after being denied a first in the initial three races, locked up the 525's by getting the cannon on the final three and ending up with only 3.75 points! In second, with 8.75 it's "Bandit"; followed, well back, by "Max" (18.0), "Razzmatazz" (19.25) and "Mud Duck" (20.5).

In the Portsmouth Jib and Main Fleet, it was the fugitive 525 "Itibit", all the way; but come back and join us next year! "Cheemaun" held on by one over "Clockwork" (Another who should steal a "chute" for next year!). Then it was "Seascape" and (the one you can bank on) "Phoencia".

All the above and "The Standings" are absolutely UNofficial, obtained by computer theft while the rest of you were out misbehaving at The Landings. Understand I missed a good one. Honorable Mention goes to Dale Troppman for an outstanding performance in defying the Law of Gravity by consuming a foamy beverage while standing on his head...NO FOOLING! But the grand prize must go to the owners for putting up with such a bunch of sailors and being sooo nice.

It's been a good season and I've enjoyed the opportunity of writing about it in this column; hope you enjoyed reading these tales of our deeds and misdeeds.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made on the part of the mortgagors in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage given by MICHAEL P. KOVAL, a single man, to First Savings and Loan Association of Saginaw, Michigan, now known as Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan Association, bearing date the 22nd day of September, 1976 as recorded of September, 1976 as recorded September 27, 1976 in Liber 147, Page 171, Charlevoix County Records.

Because of said default, said Association by virtue of the option given it in said mortgage, has heretofore, and does now, declare the entire principal sum secured to be paid by said mortgage to be due and payable, and there is now claimed to be due and unpaid thereon the aggregate sum of $42,878.12 Dollars and, as of the date of the sale, the sum of not less than $43,348.76 Dollars and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover said sum, the debt remaining secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, which has become operative by reason of said default and the statutes in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described therein sold at public auction to the highest bidder, by the Sheriff of said County, on the 22nd day of November, 1982, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the Courthouse in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan; said Courthouse being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said County, which premises are situate and being in the Township of Melrose, County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan and described as follows:

Career Night set for high schoolers, parents

The 29th Annual Career Night Program will be held at Petoskey High School on Thursday, October 21 at 7:30 p.m. North Central Michigan College will be but one of forty colleges, nursing schools, vocational and business schools in attendance.

Career night is held early in the fall each year so that graduating seniors will have sufficient time to choose a college and make application for admission and scholarships, and juniors can meet college representatives to better plan their future education. Students and their parents from the northern Michigan area are invited to take advantage of this opportunity.

Three 30 minute sessions are planned. This will allow students to visit three representatives and discuss their questions in depth.

Approximately 1,000 students and parents are expected to attend, representing 20 different area high schools. Junior and senior students are encouraged to attend, but all students are welcome. The general public is also invited.

A representative of the Michigan Higher Education Assistance authority will again be available to explain the State of Michigan Scholarship and Financial Aid programs. All students who wish to apply for any type of scholarship or financial aid should make this one of their visits.

Transit meeting set

A Transit Bus Millage Committee meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, October 25 at the Northwestern State Bank in Boyne City. Participants are asked to use the side entrance.

To make hospital favors

Plans to make Christmas favors for trays at the Charlevoix Area Hospital were made at a recent meeting of the Charlevoix Garden Club held at the home of retiring president, Kate Brady.

Materials to be used in the making of the favors, wild grape vines, were to be gathered by club members on Tuesday when members met at the home of Annebelle Webb. The group then went out into the countryside in search of the vines to be utilized during a workshop meeting in November.

Lucy Witthoeft will host the Nov. 9 meeting of the Garden Club at which Esther Bleha will discuss "Container Gardening". Patsy Ranger and Agate Santek will be co-hostesses at the guest meeting scheduled for 1 p.m.

At the first meeting of the club season which was a "Get Acquainted" session, Nancy Wood, Ruth Ann Curtis, Marge Dinwiddie and Marian Beatty related the history and the progress of the gardens in the community maintained by the club, the Petoskey-Michigan Ave. Island (or triangle), Mercer Blvd. Memorial Garden at the East end of Dixon Ave., Father Charlevoix Sunset Park at the west end of Dixon Ave and the newest garden at the "You are now in Charlevoix the Beautiful" sign at the entrance to the community.

Mrs. Grady also reported on the District V Garden Club meeting held recently at Lake Superior State College at Sault Ste. Marie.

Obituaries

GOLDIE B. HUSTON

Funeral services for Mrs. Goldie B. Huston, 83, who died Friday at her home in East Jordan, were held Monday at the Hastings Funeral Home in Ellsworth. The Rev. Cecil Drost of Charlevoix officiated. Interment was in Maplelawn Cemetery at Boyne City.

Born in South Arm Township April 9, 1899, the former Goldie B. Evans was married to Roy Huston in Detroit Sept. 27, 1971. They made their home in Detroit where she was ordained as a minister at the Bethesda Missionary Church in Detroit and was active in the ministry for many years. In 1969 they moved north to Boyne City and in 1973 to East Jordan.

She is survived by her husband; a son, Wesley Simmerman of Charlevoix and one grand-daughter.

EDWARD F. LEWAND

Funeral services for Edward F. Lewand, 73, who died unexpectedly at his home Sunday, were held Tuesday at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. R. Dale Magoon officiated. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Born in Detroit Jan. 19, 1909, Mr. Lewand was graduated from Wayne State University School of Pharmacy. He was a veteran of World War II having served in the U.S. Army. In 1942 he was married to the former Dorothy Zolnowski in Detroit. He was employed as a pharmacist at the Central Drug Store here from 1969 until he retired in 1973. He was a member of St. Mary's Church and the Father Pierre Charlevoix Council, Knights of Columbus.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy, and a sister, Mrs. Helen LaCroix of Tustin, Calif.

Memorials to St. Mary's Church have been suggested.

CORA C. BREECE

Funeral services for a former resident, Mrs. Victor C. Breece, 86, who died Oct. 14 at a Winter Haven, Fla., nursing home, were held Monday at the Winchester Funeral Home. The Rev. David W. Yingling of the United Methodist Church officiated. Interment was in Brookside Cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix Aug. 11, 1896, the former Cora Driggett was graduated from the Charlevoix High School and the Charlevoix Normal School and later received a degree from the Ypsilanti Normal School, now known as Eastern Michigan University. She left Charlevoix in 1917 to teach in Flint. She was married to Mr. Breece at Angola, Ind., in 1934. They resided in Flint until recent years. They had spent the summers in Alden for many years and had returned to Charlevoix to make their home. They had lived in Florida for the past two years. She was a member of the United Methodist Church in Charlevoix, Michigan Education Association, National Retired Teachers Association, American Legion Auxiliary in Flint, Past Presidents Club of the American Legion Auxiliary and the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Surviving are her husband; a daughter, Mrs. James (Nancy) Sawtelle of Key West, Fla; three grandchildren; two great-grandchildren and a half-brother, James Driggett of Charlevoix.

Building permits

Department (not required for garages, outbuildings, etc.), and a permit from the Soil & Sedimentation Department (if the project is within a given number of feet from a lake or stream, or if more than an acre of land is to be disturbed).

The Department of Building Inspection permit gives the builder permission to proceed with his project and covers a minimum of three inspections by the Department. The first inspection is made of the footings, usually followed by an inspection of the roughed-in building, and a final inspection. However, other inspections are made if needed.

Carson and Electrical Code Inspector Russell Geeck are hired by Charlevoix County and work out of an office in the County Building Annex. The State also requires inspections of plumbing work and for heating, air conditioning, and metal chimney work. These inspections are made by two State-employed inspectors who cover several counties in northern Michigan.

Building permits are posted outside the building project, but because of the dangers of theft, they are often posted away from the roadway and out of public view.

"It seems hard to believe," Carson says, "but if some people know that construction is going on, they will go in and steal lumber and all kinds of building materials. The contractors just try to hide their building and keep it quiet."

Parks & Recreation Commission: John Ferguson of Charlevoix and Herbert Griffin of East Jordan, re-appointed; Steve Wilson of Charlevoix to succeed Ed Rebman of Boyne City.

Veterans' Affairs Committee: Cass Russell of Charlevoix, re-appointed.

DICK BURRIS, seated in the above photo, was recently honored with a special award from Charlevoix County Sheriff George Lasater for his untiring efforts in locating the three Kenwabikise teenagers from Beaver Island who drowned in a September 2 fishing accident. Burris, an island resident, continued the search for the third victim long after the official search was called off and is credited with finding the body on Garden Island over a week after the incident. Said William J. McDonough in a letter to Lasater, "Burris went above and beyond the what was expected of anyone regarding this matter." Shown above at the presentation ceremony, from left, are Sheriff Lasater, Roy Ellsworth, Clarence Maudrie, Bill Welke, Don Cole and Ernie Martin. (Photo courtesy of Tim McDonough.)

Library announces Fall Coloring Contest; five categories offered

The Charlevoix Public Library is sponsoring a fall coloring contest again this year.

Mrs. Jan Glass drew the picture for us, again, to coordinate with the November Children's Book Week theme of dinosaurs.

There will be 5 categories of entrants according to age, pre-school, kindergarten and first grade, 2nd and 3rd grades, 4th and 5th grades and a category for "Kids of all ages" (everyone over 5th grade). There will be a $5.00 prize awarded for each category.

You may pick up your picture to color at the library. It must be returned to the library by 5:30 on November 2, 1982.

Grandvue Auxiliary sets fall festival

The Auxiliary of the Grandvue Medical Care Facility will sponsor its annual fall All-Games party at the facility at 1 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 21. Members and friends are urged to fill a table and join in this fund-raising project.

A home-baked goods sale will be held at the same time.

Catholic women meet

The annual fall meeting of the Northwest Region of the Gaylord Diocesian Council of Catholic Women will be held at St. Matthew's Church in Boyne City on Tuesday, Oct. 26.

The meeting will open with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. with the business session to follow. Those attending are asked to bring a dish to pass, their own table service and an article for the silent auction.

No word on city real estate deal

The Charlevoix City Council held an executive session during a special council meeting Monday night for the purpose of considering a proposal to purchase real estate. The council members adjourned, however, immediately after coming out of executive session and no details were available on the outcome of their discussion.

Before going into executive session, the council held a brief meeting as a Committee of the Whole and heard a presentation by William Jackson who is seeking sideyard variances to build a home on a 57-foot wide lot at the foot of Burns St. on Round Lake. The variances were denied by the council at its regular meeting October 18.

Jackson, an urban planner and landscape architect from Ann Arbor, explained to the council, "We are not arguing whether the lot is buildable; your ordinance states it is buildable. We are only seeking the sideyard variance."

No action was taken on the request Monday night.

Tentative county budget up 5.7 percent; commissioners expenses not reduced

by PEG OHLE

The budget for operating Charlevoix County during 1983 will run about $2,653,589, up 5.7 percent over last year.

Members of the County Board of Commissioners received this news last week when they met as a Committee of the Whole to review the tentative budget prepared by the Board's Ways and Means Committee, composed of Oral Sutliff, Casimir Toton, and Larry Matthew.

They also received some news that surprised and concerned most of them. The first item of expenditures in the budget, which covers Board of Commissioners expenses, was up $25, from $61,175 in 1982 to $61,200 in 1983.

Under most circumstances, this would seem like a modest increase, but there is another factor: Next year, there will be only six members on the Board of Commissioners compared with 15 this year. This means that the suggested salary, anticipated per diem, mileage, and other payments to Commissioners, which averaged $4,071 for each Commissioner in 1982, have been increased to $10,200, up 150 percent.

Only five of the present members of the Board of Commissioners will be serving on the Board nest year, due to the major re-districting and consolidation of Districts necessitated by population shifts. The "lame ducks" who had their eyes opened last week by this budget increase were only half joking when one of them suggested that perhaps they should receive some severance

Halloween WILL be on Sunday

Despite some confusion resulting from October 31 falling on Sunday this year, Halloween will definitely be observed on Sunday evening in Charlevois according to planners of several special events being organized for local youngsters.

From 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday, the Elementary School will be the site of the second annual Halloween Party sponsored by the Parents Advisory Council.

Costume judging will begin at 4:15 p.m. for pre-schoolers and will then progress class by class through the fifth grade. Prizes in each class will be awarded for Funniest, Scariest, Most Original, Best Animal, Prettiest and Best Super Hero.

A "sweet-proofed" dinner at the party will include hot dog, apple, cheese slice, carrot sticks and apple juice for 75 cents. the whole family is invited to have dinner while watching the costume judging.

Then from 6 to 8 p.m., the youngsters can visit a real "ghost ship" in downtown Charlevoix.

The U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Mesquite will become a "ghost ship" for one night as the crew of the cutter entertains the children of the Charlevoix area at its fifth annual Hallowe'en party.

Children of the area are invited to come in costume to enjoy a tour of the ship which will become a "ghost ship" for one night complete with pirates, ghosts and things that go bump in the night. There will also be games, refreshments and treats with the costumed Coast Guards playing host to the visitors.

The ship is tied up at the municipal dock on Round Lake near the bridge. Children may approach the ship from Bridge St. through the park north of Burnsides. The party will be from 6 until 8 p.m. Children are urged to come in costume but this is not necessary.

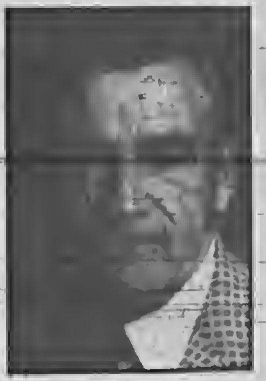
United Way drive Thursday

The annual Charlevoix United Way house-to-house campaign is ready to roll this Thursday evening according to United Way president Patrick Donnelly and house-to-house chairman Susan Dahl. Volunteers for the campaign, crucial to the success of the United Way's $20,000 fund drive this year, are requested to meet at the American Legion post home on E. Garfield St. at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. They will then be assigned sectors of the city and township to canvass. Following the canvassing, volunteers are invited to a party at the Legion hall with refreshments provided.

Candidate Forum

In an effort to help the voters in the City of Charlevoix make up their minds on November 2, this week the Courier features the responses submitted by all six City Council candidates and the two candidates for the city's seat on the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners to questions supplied by the Courier. The responses are printed in their entirety.

First Ward: Wood vs. Greeley



Raymond V. Wood

Michael A. Greeley

In the First Ward City Council race, incumbent Ray Wood is being challenged by Michael A. Greeley. Wood, owner of Wood Construction Company, is a 7-year veteran of the council while Greeley, co-owner of Wharfside Market, is making his first bid for elected city office. Responses from the two candidates to six questions posed by the Courier are as follows:

What should be the city's role in regulating signs, building styles and other aspects of private business?

Wood: I believe the city's role in the control of signs, building design, and in fact, controls on business should be rather restricted. However, the aesthetics of the community is important to the residents. And long range planning should be a part of our community. Changes are inevitable so forethought by our citizens is important.

Greeley: As a general rule, I believe that government should not regulate private business. However, there are a few areas where government can and should regulate private business. In Charlevoix, one of these areas is the regulation of signs. I believe these regulations should be made with the input of the community - private citizens and business people. In the area of building styles, I do not beleive the city should be involved by ordinance, but instead through encouragement. At the earliest possible time, city officials should meet informally with a prospective developer to suggest the style of structure they would like to see. These informal suggestions would, I believe, be very effective in determining the style of construction without the red tape and delay inherent in government regulation. After all, anyone interested in construction in a tourist-resort area like Charlevoix and investing in the large amounts of money needed will be more than willing to build in a style that will make their investment more valuable by enhancing the community overall.

Should it be the city's responsibility to provide such incentives as utilities and tax breaks to industries or businesses wishing to locate or expand within the city?

Wood: It is important to attract business or jobs for our citizens to Second Ward: Whitley vs. Etienne

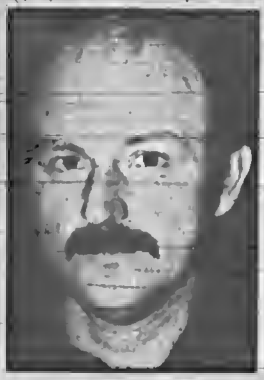
F. Ivan Whitley



Joseph R. Etienne

Two challengers face off for the Second Ward seat on the council following the decision by current Second Ward representative James Block not to seek re-election. F. Ivan Whitley, a former council member whose last bid to return to office in 1981 was narrowly defeated, faces Joseph R. Etienne who is making his first run for the City Council. Their responses to the Courier questionnaire are as follows:

What should be the city's role in regulating signs, building styles and other aspects of private business?

Whitley: We must have sign regulation, otherwise there is just too much abuse. We should not start dictating on styles and designs of buildings; neatness and upkeep for eye appeal should be the only issue.

Etienne: It is important for the City of Charlevoix to play an active role in the regulation of signs and building styles to maintain and preserve the character of Charlevoix. All guidelines, procedures and building codes should be the same for everyone. I feel the city has done a good job in this area. Other aspects in which the city should not play a major role are building colors, window styles, management, keeping the uniqueness of the individual buildings and businesses.

Should it be the city's responsibility to provide such incentives as utilities and tax breaks to industries or businesses wishing to locate or expand within the city?

Whitley: Yes, if it brings in twenty-five or thirty jobs, it would be well worth it, for everyone.

Etienne: Yes, in this time of our economy we as a community should

Third Ward: Roloff vs. Burlew

Shirley Roloff

Paul O. Burlew

In the Third Ward council race, incumbent Shirley Roloff is seeking a third two-year term against challenger Paul O. Burlew. This is Burlew's first campaign for city office in Charlevoix. Their responses to questions asked by the Courier are as follows:

What should be the city's role in regulating signs, building styles and other aspects of private business?

Roloff: I feel the city's role in regulating signs is a very important one. The purpose of the sign ordinance is to regulate outdoor signs so as to provide a framework within which the identification and informational needs of a business can be met and serve to enhance the overall physical apprearance of the city. Trying to regulate building styles I feel is none of our business, as long as everything complies with our zoning ordinance.

Burlew: The city must maintain a responsibility for assuring conformity to the aesthetic compatibility of all businesses consistent with the overall development plan for our city.

Should it be the city's responsibility to provide such incentives as utilities and tax breaks to industries and businesses wishing to locate or expand within the city?

Roloff: With the economy as it is today, I feel the city has a great responsibility to provide such utilities and tax incentives to light industry which will create job opportunities within our community.

Burlew: ONLY when it is consistent with the best interests of the overall population (specifically property tax payers). Any organization which will add to the tax base and provide local employment opportunities in a magnitude to positively offset the added demands on city services and facilities should be favorably considered.

Which parts of the Master Plan do you favor most and which parts do you disagree with, if any?

Roloff: The most valuable product is not the Master Plan itself, but the knowledge we have gained about our community; such as what we can do to preserve our neighborhoods, our business area and our waterfront

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION in the form of loan-out chimney cleaning equipment is now on hand at the Charlevoix Fire Department. The easy to use equipment, some of which is displayed above by Fire Chief John Martin, is available for any residents in the Charlevoix fire district to borrow at no charge. According to Martin, there are cleaning rigs for square, rectangular and round chimneys. Instructions on how to use the equipment will also be offered. Said Martin: "This is the time of year that we start to get many chimney fire calls. We urge local residents to take advantage of this program to save themselves and us a lot of trouble."

Charlevoix Yesterday

This group of earnest men and women were employees of the Fountain City House, probably the first hotel in Charlevoix. It was built in 1865 at the approximate location of the present Weathervane Terrace Inn and served as a boarding house in its early days. Unfortunately, none of the employees are identified and the picture is not dated. (Photo courtesy of Edith Chamberlain.)

Coast Guard, sheriff, police cooperate on city drug bust

The combined efforts of the U.S. Coast Guard Intelligence, Charlevoix County Sheriff's Deputies and the Charlevoix City Police resulted in the arrest of a local couple charged with the violation of the controlled substance act.

They are James Earl Rogers, 30, and his wife, Colleen Patricia Rogers, 23, who were arrested at 2:30 a.m. Oct. 19.

The arrest and subsequent search resulted in a large quantity of controlled substance and paraphernalia which was confiscated.

Bonds were set at $2500 each 10 per cent cash bonds. They have been released on bonds.

They were scheduled to appear in District Court at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Rogers was stationed here with the U.S. Coast Guard.

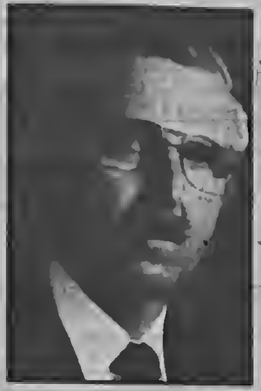
County Board: Moerland vs. Ward



I. Lee Moerland

Oscar W. Ward

Reapportionment has whittled the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners down to six members from a present total of 15. The City of Charlevoix comprises one of the new districts and two incumbent board members, I. Lee Moerland and Oscar W. Ward, find themselves opposing each other for the city's commission seat. Following are their answers to six questions asked by the Courier:

How can the new board of six members best handle the functions now performed by committees?

Ward: The reduction in numbers will require many adjustments. While many matters will have to be addressed by the entire Board sitting as a committee of the whole - matters requiring study and research can best be handled by committees even though smaller in number. Experienced members have already learned the neccessity of flexability and I expect time and practice will point the way to some striking changes in all respects.

Moerland: Specific responsibilities can be assigned to one Commissioner as a Liaison. Where neccessary by demand or mandate a 2 or 3 member committee could be appointed. With cooperation of the elected officials, department heads, courts and agencies, the reorganization and functions of the Board should work smoothly.

What specific steps can the board take to improve the county's economic situation?

Ward: The county's options here are quite limited. Perhaps the best effort would be to set a good example of frugal management at the county level. Occasionally we are able to assist local industry in saving considerable funds through lower interest rates when generating funds in the bond market. The County Economic Development Corporation has been in existence over 18 months with but one prime project assisting the LexaLite Int. Corp. This was the ideal project and the county did some good and I am sure appreciated. I am totally convinced, however, that local government can in no possible way compensate in the market place for financial burdens placed on business and industry by the real power in Lansing where the business climate is set for the entire state. Those that embrace the distant strong central government are "kidding themselves" in their pursuit to influence others that absolute government does not have its penalties.

Moerland: The Board can wholeheartedly act on the recommendations of the Economic Development Corporation. Take full advantage of the regional, state and federal programs to return our dollars to Charlevoix County and make any programs work and be meaningful.

How do you feel about hiring a county manager?

Ward: From what I have been able to gather of a general nature, this arrangement spells TROUBLE as well as added expense. The counties in Michigan that have tried the experience leaves much to be desired. Law suits have resulted in defining areas of juristiction between the manager and the Board. The county elected officials are responsible to the people as they should be but the county manager would have no juristiction in this area which leaves the remaining departments which are responsible to the County Board and the Board can readily administer in this area. If the Board needs any help in the future possibly an executive secretary could be considered.

Moerland: It will take a period of time for the new Board to get acclimated and to see if the position is needed. We certainly don't want to fund another office and staff unless warranted and cost effective. Constituents who have expressed any thought in this regard concur with this position.

What best qualifies you to serve as a county commissioner?

Ward: Well for starters I have spent all but 10 years of my life in the county and as a result of this experience I feel I understand the cyclical nature of our economy. I understand our natural blessings and appreciate them. I personally know many of our people and communicate well. This is my eighth year serving on the County Board and I feel this has been a healthy learning experience. I have been told by some that perhaps I care more than most about our area, our people and our future. I guess our family has been mostly small business people who are willing "to live and let live".

Moerland: As a veteran member of the present Board of Commissioners, active in the business community, and earlier involvement in city government, my experiences are immeasurable. Please let me quote an excerpt from a letter I recently received from a retiring County Commissioner, Keith Annear of East Jordan. "...In working closely with you, I came to appreciate your insight, initiative and careful planning. Qualities that seem to characterize your actions as a commissioner such a flexibility, integrity and resourcefulness should not go a-wasting...".

What direction should county government take in light of recent state and federal budget cuts affecting local programs?

Ward: Most of our recent growth in county government has developed

Board names coach, accepts Mrs. Potter's resignation

by FRAN MARTIN

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at its regular meeting October 18, appointed a ski coach for the current school year, approved the payment of a debt retirement obligation, and accepted the resignation of a veteran teacher.

Eric Lundteigen, a 1982 graduate of Michigan State University and a former member of the Charlevoix High School ski team, was hired as ski coach for the 1982-83 school year. He is presently substituting as an elementary teacher in area schools.

The payment of $16,107 to the City National Bank on bonds for the 1979 addition to the high school was approved.

The board accepted, with regret, the resignation of Betty Potter, Elementary School Librarian, effective December 15, 1982. Mrs. Potter has been a member of the Charlevoix Elementary School system as a teacher and librarian for 27½ years.

The board was advised that the Chicago Club had received a favorable decision from the Michigan Tax Tribunal in its appeal on 1980 and 1981 tax assessments. The units involved, the city, county, intermediate school district and Charlevoix School District, have until Oct. 31 to appeal the decision. An estimated cost to the taxing units would be $43,700 with the school district's share an estimated $26,400; the city's $11,500; the county's $4,150 and the intermediate school district's, $1,500. No decision was made regarding an appeal.

The next meeting of the Board of Education is scheduled for Nov. 2.

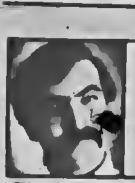
Opinion



Knight on the Town

The word is desire

by Dave Knight

It should be reported that Mayor Kenneth Staley and the Charlevoix City Council refused this week to consider council endorsement of Proposal E, the statewide ballot proposal calling for a nuclear weapons freeze. Though local supporters of the proposal requested that the matter be placed on Monday night's special council meeting agenda, Staley rejected their request saying: "If we put all the ballot proposals on our agenda, we'd never get through."

Some council members did, however, take the opportunity to express their personal views at the meeting.

Shirley Roloff, Third Ward: "I would like to endorse the proposal, not only for myself but for my community."

Robert Timms, Second Ward, "I'll say no...at least that will keep it from being unanimous like Harbor Springs and Petoskey, (councils of those cities both endorsed Proposal E). We're not a bunch of sheep...Why the big push, anyway? You have 85 percent of the voters in your camp already. Why do you need this council's endorsement? I'm afraid it isn't going to happen."

James Block, Second Ward: "I'd like to go on record in favor of the proposal."

Jeffrey Porter, First Ward: "I don't believe that any kind of endorsement like this is in the best interest of the city or the council...I'm opposed to the proposal...It's unverifiable...If you're a student of history, you'll see wars have been traditionally started with conventional weapons. Mankind has always had these conflicts. Nuclear capability, however, has restrained such conflicts. As gruesome as it is, nuclear capability has solved those problems."

Raymond Wood, First Ward, indicated that he was in favor of the proposal. Clement Olach, Third Ward, expressed no opinion.

Obviously a 138-word proposal, no matter how many people vote for it, is not going to change much overnight. Even if it passes by millions of votes, we'll be no safer for it on the morning of November 3. To me, the operative word is desire, as in "the people's desire for a mutual nuclear weapons freeze with the Soviet Union...".

I don't think that right now, even with our present technology, we can accurately verify Russian compliance to a weapons freeze. But I desire to keep trying to change that. I don't trust the Soviet militarist government. But I trust that the Soviet people are as horrified of nuclear holocaust as I am and I desire to express that horror.

To vote against Proposal E is to say "There is no way we can make the Russians comply, therefore we must continue to seek nuclear superiority, therefore we must continue to produce more nuclear weapons and hope we never use them." I am not prepared to make that dire string of assumptions. I, for one, do not want to place the future of the earth solely into the hands of military decision-makers and "hope" they make the right decisions. The more civilized response, the more human response, is the desire to reassess, on a worldwide basis, the wisdom of nuclear proliferation. And that, to me, is all Proposal E entails. No sign of weakness. No concession of principles. Just a small first step in another direction, an expression of desire to change our attitude. An expression that maybe, just maybe, the superpowers can work toward peace wthout holding all the world hostage.

What is so unrealistic about desiring such a change given the alternative we face.

Clockwise

Times change

by Bob Clock

A THOUSAND YEARS ago — in the late 1960s — I worked in the Industrial Relations Department of Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn as a reporter for the Ford Rouge News. My beat was Central Office and part of my job was covering contract negotiations between the company and the United Auto Workers.

I wasn't in on the actual bargaining, but I was among the reporters who cornered Walter Reuther and John Bugas in the hallway when sessions ended to learn what happened.

At the same time was was working on a degree in English at Wayne State University and my thesis was on the pioneering novels on labor relations written by Elizabeth Gaskell in Manchester, England, more than a century earlier. Her chief works — Mary Barton and North and South — dealt with the burgeoning labor movment in the textile industry.

I was struck at the time not by how much contract negotiations had changed in the previous century but by how much they had remained the same — even down to the selection of neutral territory, such as a downtown hotel, for the final hours of hard bargaining.

In the 1850s, the unions were concerned with pay, work standards, hours, health and safety and scab labor. Management — then as now — was interested in turning out a quality product as economically as possible and to winding up each year with a handsome return for the company's shareholders.

Mrs. Gaskell did a superb job of identifying the problems and of treating both sides with fairness and compassion.

However she would have been shocked if she had been around last week to witness the unhappy turn of events at Chrysler Corp., where workers have rejected a contract endorsed by their own leadership in favor of an immediate pay increase.

Chrysler, as you know, has been in a financial whirlpool since the late 1970s, and has managed to stay afloat only because of $1.2 billion in loan guarantees by the federal government and a number of wage and fringe concessions by the workers themselves during the past two years.

Although it has been able to generate a modicum of black ink in recent months, Chrysler still is in deep financial trouble, due to extremely sluggish sales of U.S.-built automobiles. If Chrysler's fortunes fail to turn around in the very near future, the company probably will fold and you and I, through our federal tax dollars, will be forced to make good on the loan guarantees.

What is even worse is that those same Chrysler workers who rejected the contract will lose their jobs.

BUT THIS WHOLE grim scenario seems to have escaped the man-on-the-line at Chrysler. While the entire economy is reeling — partly because of the ungodly share of the nation's wealth auto workers have claimed in the past — he still wants parity with Ford and General Motors workers who earn about $3.50 more an hour for comparable work.

The difference, of course, is that Ford and GM are still solvent — although they may not remain so for long if the recession continues.

Chrysler workers apparently have overlooked the fact that millions of unemployed Americans would appreciate a job — any job — paying $3.50 an hour.

It goes without saying that UAW President Douglas Fraser — who is also a member of the Chrysler Board of Directors — is chagrined by his balky constituents. He has seen Chrysler's books and he knows what the company can afford. It can't afford an immediate pay increase and still nourish any hopes of staying in business.

That is why Fraser has put the question of an immediate strike — or a recess in contract negotiations until January — squarely upon the shoulders of the workers themselves. If they vote to strike, Chrysler automobiles could well follow the same route as the Packard and the Peerless.

The situation is one that Elizabeth Gaskell never encountered. I wonder how much fairness and compassion she could summon up for Chrysler's short-sighted UAW members.

Letters: Reagan's a big spender

To the Editor:

President Reagan is a big spender. A military big spender. His criticism of the Carter administration as big spenders in one breath and as neglecting national defense in the next breath is not accurate. Although candidate Carter campainged on reducing military spending he reversed himself when he was president. The defense budget was 90 billion dollars in 1976 and steadily rose to 130 billion dollars in 1980, an increase of 40 billion dollars. The Reagan increase for a comparable period will be 130 billion dollars in 1980 to 291 billion dollars in 1984, an increase of 161 billion dollars.

A World War II documentary film produced by the United States Government criticized Germany for spending 80 billion dollars during the 1930 decade on military expenditures that could have been used to improve conditions for German civilians. The total cost of World War II, by all participants, was estimated at one trillion dollars. President Reagan proposes to spend 263 billion dollars in 1983, 291 billion dollars in 1984, 338 billion dollars in 1985, 374.9 billion dollars in 1986, and 408.4 billion dollars in 1987 on military budgets. That is a total of 1.675 trillion dollars in five years.

Government big spenders do cause big deficits when tax income does not cover government expenses, and that causes inflation when the government pays off its debts by printing money. The tax cuts and extravagant military budgets proposed by President Reagan will cause increasing deficits, 155 billion dollars this year and much more later, and that will result in significant inflation in the future.

Give us a try

Dear Editor,

There seems to be a lot of confusion about the many services of the Charlevoix County Transit System. I would like to share these few examples with your readers if I may.

What if?

You need a perscription refill and no car?

Your car won't start and you have an appointment (work, doctor, etc.)?

You need groceries but can't leave the house?

Four first grader has missed the school bus?

Your teenager announces during dinner he's forgotten about basketball practice?

Your late for work and you still have to take children to the babysitters?

Your mother arrives at the bus depot and the house is a mess? Start cleaning and call Transit.

She has been here a week and wants to return home. Your husband took the car on a fishing trip six days ago. Call Transit.

Your grandmother buys a brand new car and has never driven a day in her life. Sell car - call Transit.

Are you tired of being so dependant on your friends and relatives? There is a better way.

Give us a call today at 582-6900 and ask for one of our brochures and we'll be more than happy to send you one.

Eco-views

To the Editor;

Your enlightened stand on the importance of wise management of our natural resources under a unified structure such as the Department of Natural Resources is welcome in the face of recent political attacks.

May I qoote a recent article in the Detroit Free Press which reported on a speech by population expert Paul Ehrlich. It said "The major threat to humanity - along with nuclear way - is the destruction of the ecosystem by the aving over, the plowing under, the over-grazing and the pollution of the earth." In other words, destroying our resource base.

More chilling words come from the Detroit Zoo director. "There is a delicate web of nature. Someday we'll lose a pivotal species and the whole web, the whole food chain will crash. The bald eagle is almost extinct because it's at the top of its food chain. Man is at the top of his chain. What does that say about our future?"

Protection of our environment has been given short shrift by Reagan's Interior Secretary Watt and down the road we may all pay the penalty for their lack of vision and understanding about how the ecological system works.

Barbara MacArthur

Oppose "B"

Dear Editor:

As Law Enforcement Administrators and citizens of Charlevois and Emmet Counties and the City of Petoskey, we feel an obligation to alert the voters in our area to some of the negative aspects of Proposal B, The Michigan State Police Troopers Association Minimum Staffing Constitutional Amendment.

It would remove the Department of State Police from the organizational and functional control of the Governor and Legislature by creating an autonomos 21st. State Department.

Grant unlimited, unspecified "police powers" to the State Police.

It would constitutionally guarantee jobs and salaries for 2,257 troopers whether Michigan taxpayers could afford it or not.

Require the immediate hiring of 114 new troopers at an estimated first year cost of several million dollars or will delete nearly 200 civilian State Police jobs if the State Police budget is not increased to fund the enforcement agencies.

We do not oppose the Michigan State Police. We support continued funding for the State Police under the present management and budgetary control of the Governor and the Legislature. The State Police has grown in size, strength and efficiency under the present system.

The voters should know that there will be State Police in Michigan even if Proposal B fails.

We should not lose site of the fact that all policing agencies, Federal, State and local must remain under the control of the public through their elected officials. Proposal B would place the State Police beyond public control which creates a condition not in the best interest of the citizens of Michigan.

It is our opinion that Proposal B is not in the best interest of our citizens.

Transit woes

To the Editor:

I have a question that I have heard from many other residents.

Does the Charlevoix County Transit have a schedule of operation? I asked two weeks ago for a simple list of the regularly scheduled stops, in order to see if I or someone in my family could make use of the service. I was told that the office manager was "too busy" to do it at this time, but would try and do it soon, in a day or so. I called back and was told he still had not had time. I reiterated that I did not need a printed sheet, but a simple handwritten list of where and when the regular stops were made. As yet, I have received nothing.

As a resident being asked to vote "yes" on the County paying for the bus service, I am very agitated at this attitude. I agree there are some seniors that use the bus regularly, and I would not want to deny them this. However, the bus system is being advertised "for use by everyone", and the few times I have tried to make use of it, was told, "I'm sorry we cannot accomodate you". A friend even asked for a ride last week and told the office that he would not mind arriving at his destination two hours early and waiting a couple of hours for return, and still could not be fitted into the schedule.

Where are the buses housed? What hours do they run regularly? How many people actually are able to commute with them? How often has anyone been able to call and get a ride within an hour's time? I think these are questions that should be answered before we vote to give the Transit more funding by the County.

There does not seem to be an adequate accounting of the funds spent now. Do we want to spend more without a proper accounting? Maybe we should buy a bus for the senior citizen's center, to be used by seniors and handicappers. One would probably be enough, or two at the most. I feel we could even get volunteer drivers for this type of service. Why should overtaxed taxpayers pay even more for a system, that, at least for me and my family, cannot be used?

I would suggest that anyone who has questions should contact the Transit Office at 582-6900, and find out for yourself if they provide services you want to help pay for. Again, I'm not stating it does not service a purpose, I'm wondering if it is the best way to provide the service, or the most economical. It is up to the voters to decide this question.

Vote yes on "E"

Dear Editor;

A frequently heard objection to a U.S.-Soviet nuclear weapons freeze is: "But you can't trust the Russians." A freeze would not have to depend on trust. It could be verified by technical means. Satellite-based cameras accurate enough to photograph an automobile license plate cover every inch of the Soviet Union. However, the small efficient cruise missile, developed by the U.S. will not be so easy to monitor. If we go ahead with plans for its deployment, the Soviets will certainly respond with their own version of the cruise missile and the opportunity for a mutually verifiable freeze will then have been lost.

Perhaps neither "trust" nor "verification" is of great importance. Suppose a mutual nuclear weapons freeze agreement is signed by the U.S.S.R. and the U.S. If those "untrustworthy" Russians managed, in spite of our spy satellites, radar and electronic sensors, to continue to secretly add to their nuclear arsenal, it would be their hard-pressed citizenry who would suffer the enormous cost of such a clandestine operation. If the United States, on the other hand, abided by the freeze agreement, billions of defense-budget tax dollars would become available to rebuild a strong, prosperous and united United States, ...a nation that could command the loyalty of our allies and the respect of our enemies! Isn;t that what "hawks" and "doves" alike really want...freedom from fear, freedom from economic want and a restoration of national pride? Go for it!

Whitley vs. Etienne

offer these incentives to reputable industries and businesses seeking to locate or expand within the city. This will help everyone in the long run by creating more jobs, plus lessen the tax burden for the people of Charlevois. However, we also must support the existing industries that are now supporting the community.

Which parts of the Master Plan do you favor most and which parts do you disagree with, if any?

Whitley: The part I disagree most with is the $30,000 I've heard it cost to have it drawn up. The state says we must have a master plan to receive grants so I say we should adopt it as is rather than continue spending for major or minor changes. With all of Charlevoix's uniqueness, I have doubts that any master plan set up today could possibly be the answer for Charlevois of the future.

Etienne: The Master Plan is actually a preservation of our resources. These goals are important for the city to grow and develop in a smooth manner. The existing charscteristics of our town, beaches and neighborhoods are very unique and should be preserved. The expansion of our resort areas and the solicitation of industries will help the economic status of our city. However, at this time I do not favor changes of one-way streets, historical preservation with tax dollars and additional commercial or condominiums along the south shore of Round Lake.

Are there any civic improvements you plan to seek for your ward?

Whitley: Repair to streets going to the ball park, also storm sewer for the ball park parking lot. Separation of storm and sanitary sewers where needed.

Etienne: Yes, there is much improvement to be done in the Second Ward. Road repair, street lighting, curbing programs, sidewalks, inspection of electrical wires, a snow removal system that is fair to everyone and a senior citizen program to help them with their needs such as discounts on fuel, repairs and recreational activities.

Why are you running for City Council?

Whitley: The desire to serve my city.

Etienne: A group of concerned citizens from the Second Ward approached me to run for city council and represent their views on all issues. Currently I am president of the Charlevoix Housing Commission and I enjoy working with and for the community. Local government appeals to me and I want to do my part as a citizen to keep Charlevoix financially sound and within the structure of our means.

How do you rate the city's response to the discovery of TCE in its water system and what would you do differently, if anything, if elected?

Whitley: With the state Department of Natural Resources environmental division working with the county Health Department, financed with some federal monies, we can hope that everything is being done that can be done.

Etienne: I attended a meeting at City Hall regarding TCE in our water systems. Mr. Duke and Mr. Hunt discussed their views on the subject. I feel the problem does exist and that the Health Department is closely monitoring the water and sending reports to our city manager. Personally, I drink the water daily and don't feel there is any reason to be alarmed about the situation at the present time. However, we should definitely be looking into other sources of drinking water, such as Mr. Neff suggested in one of the recent articles in the paper.

Briefing on Soviets set

A briefing by Lt. Michele Gomez of Wurtsmith AFB on the Soviet military capability will be open to the public at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, October 30 in Charlevoix at the V.F.W. post home. COURIER HOLIDAY COOKING CONTEST RULES

1. Contestants are invited to enter as many categories as they wish but may submit only one recipe per category.

2. Recipes should be typed or printed on a sheet of paper with the category indicated.

3. To each recipe there should be a separate sheet of paper attached with the contestants name, address and phone number. The contestant's name should not appear on the actual recipe. As each recipe is received, it will be assigned a number which will be logged with the contestant's name. The names will be removed from the recipes so the judges will not know whose recipes they are judging.

4. Ingredients should be listed in accurate, easily understood amounts and in the order that they are used.

5. Recipes do not have to be completely original. They may be old standards or new variations on familiar recipes. The more original the recipe is, however, the better its chance of winning.

6. If duplicate recipes are received, the one submitted first will be accepted. We will log date and time recipes are received.

7. All contestants must agree to permit their recipes to be published in a special cookbook section of the Charlevoix Courier.

8. Employees of the Charlevoix Courier and Petoskey News-Review and members of their families are not eligible to win the contest.

9. A panel of judges will evaluate the recipes submitted and name three finalists in each of the five categories. The 15 finalists will be notified and asked to prepare their recipes for a final judging session. Judges will then sample the entries, name a winner in each category and a grand prize winner.

10. The deadline for entries is 12 Noon, Friday, October 29. Recipes should be submitted to the Charlevoix Courier, 405 Bridge St., Charlevoix, MI, 49720.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Schneider, II

Gibbs-Schneider

Laurie Lynn Gibbs and Samuel Edward Schneider II exchanged marriage vows on Saturday afternoon, October 9, in Fairbanks, Alaska. The Reverend Ocean Abbott performed the double-ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Gibbs of Charlevoix, and the bridegroom is the son of Samuel E. Schneider and Bette Schneider, both of Fairbanks.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents before an altar decorated with candles, burgundy and pink carnations, ivory chrysanthemums, baby's breath, and ferns.

Her gown was made of ivory lustrous polyester knit, fashioned with cap sleeves, fitted Empire bodice with lace and seed pearl trim, oval neckline, a full pleated skirt, and Chapel train with lace edging. The headpiece was made of silk flowers attached to a two-tier nylon veil trimmed with lace and miniature silk flower appliques. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of burgundy, pink, and ivory miniature carnations, pink sweetheart roses, and baby's breath.

Janel Courier was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of pink polyester organza fashioned with an off-the-shoulder flounce neckline, and flared skirt with bustle. Her bouquet was a nosegay of the same flowers used in the bride's bouquet.

Mark Rudy served the bridegroom as best man, while James Gibbs, a brother of the bride, lighted the altar candles.

Linda Holbrook provided music for the ceremony, playing and singing, "The Wedding Song" and "Trumpet Voluntary and Tune in D Major".

Out-of-town guests at the ceremony included a sister of the bridegroom, who traveled from Hawaii, and the parents of the bride, who traveled from Charlevoix.

For the occasion, the bride's mother wore a gown of pink sheer polyester lined in taffeta, with a pleated bodice and floor-length skirt. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece outfit of burgundy and cream print.

A reception at the Moose Lodge followed the marriage ceremony. It was hosted by Shirley Butts, who was assisted by the bridegroom's mother and sister. The rehearsal dinner was held at the Officer's Club, Eielson Air Force Base, hosted by the bride's parents.

Showcase readied

The chill of winter in the air brings with it thoughts of Christmas.

In anticipation of this busy shopping season, the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild is announcing its annual pre-Christmas showing of gifts at its gift shop, the Showcase, in the lobby of the hospital Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6 Marge Dinwiddie, chairperson of the Showcase committee, has announced.

The Showcase will be offering a host of Christmas gift giving Ideas at its early showing.

Among the newest and cuddliest are the soft sculptured dolls in all sizes being examined by the committee in charge of the Showcase.

Gifts, however, are not limited to this but include a very wide selection of costume jewelry at a modest price, baby gifts of every description including toys, and, as Mrs. Dinwiddie said of the offering "It's impossible to list the many items we are offering. From experience, we have learned that the buying public is looking for that "something special" item that can't be found elsewhere. We try to provide just that in our offerings at the Showcase".

"We specialized in what is known as 'stocking stuffers', the little extras. We hope you will stop in during our two-day pre-Christmas showing and see the wide choice we have prepared for you" Mrs. Dinwiddie said in conclusion.

The Showcase, off the main lobby at the front entrance to the hospital, will be open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 5, and from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday, during the pre-Christmas showing.

The Showcase is open daily during the afternoon and evening hours. Anyone wishing to volunteer a few hours in this clever little shop may call Lucille Ingram for more information.

The Guild is a service organization. All funds realized from the Showcase are utilized in some way to support the hospital and hospital-related services offered by the Guild.

A recent shipment of soft-sculptured dolls that any child would love are being examined by the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild's gift shop committee prior to the annual Pre-Christmas showing to be held at the hospital Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6.

Members of the committee are (seated l to r) Lorraine Eldredge, Jennie Meyers and Mary Bateran, buyers for the gift shop, the Guild's major fund-raising project.

Standing are June Skelton, who is in charge of displays, and Frances Milner, also a buyer.

All five can also be found at designated time staffing the Showcase.

Marge Dinwiddie is coordinator of the Showcase project.

Hospital to offer class on holiday eating for diabetics

Diabetics have special needs and problems, especially as holidays approach. That is why Charlevoix Area Hospital is again offering a series of three classes for diabetics which will include specific advice for making holiday eating enjoyable and healthful.

Beginning Wednesday, November 3, at 7 p.m., at Charlevoix Area Hospital's classrooms, In-Service Director Michelle Bonneville, R.N. and Dietician Diane Charlebois will present a broad over view of diabetes as a disease, its treatment and management.

The first class is November 3rd, followed by sessions November 10 and 17, each beginning at 7:00 p.m. and running approximately an hour and a half. The classes will include lectures, film strips, group activities and plenty of time for questions and answers.

R.N. Bonneville will kick off the first session with a basic introduction to the nature of diabetes. She and the participants will discuss the role of insulin and other medications and blood and urine testing. Particular emphasis will be on daily living, the emotional and psychological aspects of living with diabetes, coping with complications and management of emergencies. Ms. Bonneville will also present ideas for forming a local chapter of the American Diabetes Association, as a support organization for people in this area who have diabetes.

The next two sessions, Wednesdays November 10 and 17, will be led by Registered Dietician Diane Charlebois. On November 10 she will discuss the purpose of managing a diabetic diet, meal planning, food preparation and processing, dietetic foods and how to substitute foods.

November 17, Dietician Charlebois will focus on diet and exercise, how to shop and what to look for on labels. The techniques for healthful survival of holiday eating will include what to do when eating out at family gatherings, restaurants and parties, and how to handle alcohol. She will also present an array of cookbooks and other references for diabetics.

People planning to attend should inform the hospital switchboard (547-4024), by Monday, November 1, to insure adequate space. The three sessions class is free and is another in the continuing series of public health education sessions offered by Charlevoix Area Hospital. This series for diabetics will be repeated in the spring.

Gym Club now offers ballet

The Charlevoix Gym Club now has a new division – the Ballet Dance Division.

Toni Moriarty, an experienced teacher and dancer, recently started classes at the Gym Club's facilities on Taylor Road. They are held on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 4 to 9 p.m. in four different divisions: four and five year olds, six to eight year olds, nine to 12 year olds, and 12 to 16 year olds. Classes for adults will be added later if there is enough interest.

Miss Moriarty began her ballet career at the age of eight in Flint, where she took lessons from Robert Davis, who is now teaching at the Pittsburg Ballet. She later attended Virginia Intermont College, majoring in dance and studying under Robert Barnett, now director of the Atlanta Ballet Company. She had her own ballet company for three years and last year taught at the Hovey Dance Studio in Petoskey.

"Ballet is the basis for all dance," Miss Moriarty explains. "With a ballet background, it is easy to go on to other dances. They are all forms of ballet, and we need the basic ballet movements for all dances."

Four or five years of age is a good time for children to start ballet, Miss Moriarty believes. "At this age, they can learn to deal with other children and handle discipline and the environment," she says.

As to boys, ballet is good for them, according to the teacher. She had five boys in her classes last year, one 16 years old, and they were "amazed at the energy it takes", she reports. "Some boys lack poise and coordination, and ballet is good for that."

Miss Moriarty calls ballet "a lasting art which will always be in style", also noting that more people are studying ballet now because of public interest in physical health. She lists the advantages of ballet for children as "promoting poise and gracefulness, giving a good self image about the body as well as self confidence, promoting good posture and body alignment, and shaping and toning muscles."

Miss Moriarty says her ultimate goal is to have a small ballet company complete with guest teachers and choreographers to travel around and perform as she did in such productions as "The Nutcracker" and "Cinderella" and others.

Persons interested in ballet can contact Miss Moriarty at the Charlevoix Gym School.

Homecoming spoiled by late Onaway field goal; Rayders downed 17-14

Linda Joy was the happy recipient of the 1982 Homecoming Queen's crown, presented to her during halftime of Friday night's game.

Onaway was a most unpolite guest at Charlevoix's homecoming Friday night. The Cardinals spoiled the party with a fourth quarter field goal that provided the margin of victory in a 17-14 Rayder loss at Kipke Field.

Disregarding the unfortunate outcome for Rayder fans, the game was an exciting one with Charlevoix having a chance to eke out a win as the clock ran down late in the game.

At the three-minute mark, Charlevoix was behind 17-14 but had the ball on fourth down at their own 44. A short snap from the punt formation went to running back Dave Batdorff who ran for first down yardage before losing the ball out of bounds at the 36 after a hard hit. All the Cardinals had to do then was run out the clock, which they proceeded to do.

Charlevoix took an early lead when offensive stalwart Pat Mitchell swept left end from 17 yards out for the score. The extra point attempt by Mark Oostmeyer was blocked.

Onaway pulled even in the second quarter when, following a Rayder fumble on their own 15, the Cardinals drove four plays to the one and Jim Winter burst over for the touchdown. Matt Browning added the seventh point. Later in the quarter, Phil Dunn hit Brook Chenowith with a 38-yard touchdown pass and Browning again converted to give Onaway a 14-6 lead.

Charlevoix put themselves right back into the picture when, following a Dan Buday interception putting the ball at the Rayder 44, quarterback Tim LaBlance engineered an eight-play scoring drive capped by a pass to Oostmeyer for the TD from eight yards out with 13 seconds left in the half. Mitchell ran for a disputed two-point conversion that was eventually allowed despite a fumble in the endzone.

Following a scoreless third quarter, the fatal points came with about five minutes left in the game when, with Onaway facing 4th down at the Rayder 11, Browning kicked the winning three-pointer.

Despite the score, Charlevoix dominated statistically racking up 282 total yards of offense to Onaway's 173. In passing, LaBlanee completed 9 of 24 passes for 118 yards and Mitchells led all rushers with 142 yards in 18 carries.

Thad Morgan was in on 10 tackles to lead that category while Batdorff had nine, and Jon Supernaw and Oostmeyer eight each.

This week Charlevoix, now 2-5, hosts Grayling, 1-6, at Kipke Field.

No surprise; harriers are champs

Bill Taylor

The Charlevoix Cross Country team chalked up still another title Saturday, winning the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference championship "going away".

In winning the meet with a score of 29 the Rayders finished one and two and took two other places among the top ten to capture four berths on the All-Conference squad.

Bill Taylor finished first with a time of 15:50 some 10.5 seconds ahead of team-mate, John Tunison, who was running fourth when he put on a last minute spurt to pass Pete Bolen of Gaylord and Fred Ehrlich of Petoskey to come in second in 16:05.

Matt Peterson finished sixth in 16:32 and Lee Allard seventh in 16:36.

Ron Way came in 13th in 17:18; Bill Dohm, 15th in 17:21 and Matt Landon 17th in 17:23.

Gaylord finished second in the meet with 55 points. The Blue Devils were followed by Rogers City with 72; Petoskey with 90 and Boyne City with 118.

Erhlich in third place finished in 18:06; Bolen of Gaylord in fourth, in 18:11; Max Hogan of Rogers City in fifth, in 16:26; Mike Wood of Rogers City in eighth, in 16:39; Chris Brown of Gaylord, ninth, in 16:50 and Andrew Stonehouse of Gaylord in tenth in 16:52.

These 10 runners make up the All Conference team.

In the Junior Varsity and girls division, Charlevoix, with 57 points, finished second behind the winner, Gaylord, with 32 points. Rogers City had 64 and Petoskey 89.

Petoskey's Jeff Kutcher set the pace with a time of 17:49.

Charlevoix's Doug Sloan finished third in 17:53; Rich Gallant, fifth in 18:05; Dave Umlor, 15th, in 19:13; Leo Chase, 18th, in 19:13; S.J. Greenway, 18th, in 19:30; Jason Brindel, 20th in 19:41; Jon Spieles, 21st, in 20:03; Chuck Hastings, 24th, in 20:50; Tim Gibbons, 25th, in 21:02 and Sandy Wenek, Charlevoix's only entry in the girls' division, 30th in 22:21.

The Rayders will travel to the Class C regional meet at Ferris State College Saturday.

Coach Pete Spieles was pleased with his team's performance in winning the title. "They really came through. I'm very proud of them" he said of the team.

Girls bow to St. Ignace, beat Boyne

The Charlevoix girls basketball team split last week, losing to St. Ignace 60-48 early in the week and winning over Boyne City on their home court by a score of 52-38 on Thursday.

This week Charlevoix will be at Petoskey Tuesday, host Gaylord on Thursday and travel to Cheboygan the following Tuesday, Nov. 2.

In the game with the Saints, Charlevoix went ahead 17-13 at the quarter and 29-24 at halftime before losing the lead 42-35 at the three-quarter mark.

Mary Boynton paced the game with 17 points followed by Marlon Walker with 18 and Vicki Garcia with 10.

Laura Kemp had 12 for Charlevoix.

The Charlevoix JVs won by a score of 37-17. Michelle Gagnon has 12 points for Charlevoix.

In the game with Boyne City, Charlevoix was in control all the way, heading the visitors 17-8, 27-12, and 41-26 by quarters.

Ann Wagner had 18 points and Kemp 11 for Charlevoix. Liz Sturm had 18 and Julie Paquette 10 for the visitors.

The Charlevoix JVs won by a 42-25 score. Chris Austin had 11 points.

Golfers 14th in State finals

The Charlevoix Rayder golf team, playing in the state Class C finals in Marshall Saturday, placed fourteenth in the state with a score of 368 Coach Glen Taylor reported on their return home.

The team had placed third with a score of 365 in the Class C regional at Houghton Lake the week before to qualify for state competition.

Taylor said that Charlevoix had tied with Marlette and that the score of the fifth man on the team, Chuck Klooster who had a score of 100 to Marlette's 106 gave the team fourteenth place in the final standings.

Saginaw St. Stephens won the state title with a score of 326. Mike Hirach of Pontiac Catholic was medalist with a score of 77. Seventy-two was par for the course.

Steve Keller shot an 83; Bill Joy, 91; Dennis Curtis and Dan Batdorff, 97s.

Taylor called attention to the teams that had placed one and two at the regional meet, Reed City and Tawas Area. They had reverse scores of 379 and 378, respectively, at the state meet.

Charlevoix finished the season with a record of 5-2 in dual meets and placed third in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference and third in the Class C regional meets.

Seniors on the team are Keller and Klooster from the top five, Fred Mielke, Mark Mosley, Steve Cooper, Chris Lieberman, Jim Petterson and Larry Wilson.

MICHIGAN DUCKS UNLIMITED

Island trek unites high schoolers, 5th graders

by ANNE KELLY

Historic Beaver Island has always beckoned to sailors and outdoor enthusiasts alike. It provides one of the last nearby frontiers for local adventurers, untainted as it is by the faster pace of the mainland communities.

Three years ago, the Charlevoix Public School System acquired a 64.5 acre parcel of land on the Island which includes the lighthouse and 2200 feet of lake frontage to be used for educational purposes. Since 1974, and more specifically as an on-going CETA (Comprehensive Employment and Traning Act) funded project of the last 4 years, the Beaver Island Outdoor Center has been restored and improved. Unemployed area youth from 10 counties, financed through CETA have restored the lighthouse buildings, carved nature trails through the woods and undergrowth and have built auxilliary buildings and log cabins on the property.

Enthusiastic about their treasure 8 miles off the coast of Charlevoix, Charlevoix school officials scheduled this year's teacher in-service day on Beaver Island, Oct. 1st, as a means of acquainting the staff with the available facilities there. The innovation of a unique in-service experience was met with enthusiastic response from the staff. Many teachers look forward to future excursions with their classes. The P.A.C. (Parent Advisory Council) is considering funding for such a trip for fifth graders, according to discussion at a recent meeting of that group.

Two staff members have paved the way for future small group excursions to Beaver Island. High School biology instructor, Pete Spieles and 5th grade teacher, Cara Hochhalter, spoke at one of the in-service sessions as "pioneers" who were there to spread the good news about their successful experience.

Earlier in September, Pete and Cara, along with their students and Pat Bonedao who helped with cooking and a little bit of everything else, partook in the program Pete wrote entitled "Career Education: An Environmental Encounter". The written format outlining the objectives and goals for the program was a pre-requisite for funding by the Youth Employment and Training Program based in Traverse City. The project, as stated in Pete's master plan was to involve 12 participants for a 2-week period and a class of 25 5th graders for a period of one week. The high school students were to undergo training during the first week which prepared them to become group leaders or "big brothers and big sisters" of the 5th graders during the following week.

All reports indicate that the outcome was well worth the effort involved which took two teachers and their students away from the traditional mode of desk learning and into the outdoor classroom on Beaver Island. An actual 11 high school students who had been carefully screened through the Intermediate School District to comply with the regulations of the funding, and 20 elementary students chosen by Cara (her reading class) participated in the experience.

The two weeks, according to both teachers, were a successful educational endeavor; interlaced with campfire stories and songs and friendships made and cemented as the result of seeing an adventure through together. Conjuring up images of Rachel Field's poem "If Once You Have Slept On An Island":

Oh, you won't know why, and you can't say how such change upon you came,
But once you have slept on an island you'll never be quite the same.

Students learned to live outdoors and respect nature. They were introduced to ecology, the natural habitats of local plants and animals, how to hike for 3 or 4 miles with back packs laden with gear, to set up a campsite, build a campfire rain or shine (and it rained the entire day of the first week's overnight outing, Pete reports) ration food and water and sleep out on the trail.

"There isn't a better way to teach biology than using the outdoors as a classroom", Pete said, convinced of the validity of his experience. "It's pretty tough to do those kinds of things (done of Beaver Island) here with class time allotments. This was an experience in environmental education the purpose of which was to inspire a real appreciation of the outdoors."

Cara Hochhalter found her 5th graders held up well after the initial distress caused by a rough boat ride over to the Island.

"I was really proud of the way they snapped right back and got involved as soon as we got over there," Cara who had felt like Florence Nightengale on the trip over reported.

The students were matched up right away with a big brother or big sister for every two 5th graders, and transported in vans out to the lighthouse (about 17 miles from St. James).

Their week, while learning about plants and animals and "roughing it", was also a growth experience in learning how to react to many unpleasant situations. "The feelings of being wet, cold, tire and lonely, were among the things we taked about in the classroom before we made the trip," Cara explained. Later the students were proud that they had made it and not gotten homesick.

Some student comments after the trip include this one by 5th grader Tina Kraft, "I made a friend at Beaver Island. I was scared out of my wits at the lighthouse. We went to a bog and saw carnivorous plants like the Sundew and Pitcher Plant." Sonya Wilhite thought it was fun to go "for a long hike on a trail that went back in the woods to a clearing where we stayed the night in tents", and Mike Stoneham told how he "liked the water at night and how cold it was. The lighthouse was so big that you could see for miles."

Perhaps the best summary of the experience is to be found in a song the reading class has just paraphrased, sung to the tune of "We're Off to See the Wizard."

We're Off To Beavers Island (Or a Spieles Adventure)
by Cara Hochhalter's Fifth Grade Reading Class

We're off to Beaver Island!
that beautiful isle off the shore.
To see what a wonderful time we'll have with spiders and snakes and their habitats,

Sleeping on floors and in the wet grass
Eating canned food as fancy as that We're off, we're off....
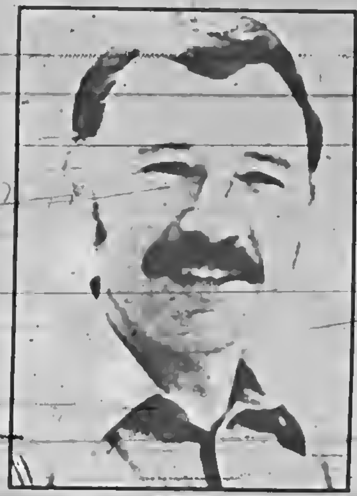
to see what a wonderful time we'll have.

We made it to Beaver Island
The Islander brought us ashore
The waves did roll and the boat did crunch
We lost some hats and we lost some lunch
But all the kids were still a great bunch
We made it, we made it...
And o what a wonderful time we had!

We've been to Beaver Island
The Island with beauty galore
We squished in the bog with our bare little toes
How many miles we hiked, nobody knows.
Big and small friends we'll not forget those!
Farewell, farewell,....
And oh what a wonderful time we had!

Cara Hochalter, far right, readies the troops for the hike to the camping area.



Pete Spieles

Fifth grader Patrick Elliott leads the way through the Beaver Island forest.

STATE OF THE SCHOOLS

With the cooperation of parents, teachers, students and all others involved, the school year is off to a good start.

By making appropriate cutbacks in the custodial, teaching and administrative staff, we have been able to adjust the budget accordingly. The operational millage is now 2 mills lower than in 1977.

The roofing project and insulation project at the high school are now completed. The insulation should cut down on the amount of fuel consumed and, consequently, result in a cost saving in the next few years.

Judging by national and state test scores it appears that our students are achieving at a high level. Reviewing the curriculum is an ongoing task for teachers, administrators and board of education members.

Recently the State of Michigan has demanded a $28,000 payback and another ruling will require us to return $26,000 in taxes received for the past two years. Naturally, this will make the budget much tighter for the remainder of the year.

The board of education members, the administration and teachers invite your suggestions toward improving the system. Please do not hesitate to contact us.

We appreciate the support shown by parents and taxpayers.

Gordon VanWieren
Superintendent of Schools

THE FIRST BIG BLOW of the season October 20 was the last big blow for a nearly 100-year old maple tree in front of the Thomas Bickersteth home on Mercer Blvd. Also damaged in the mishap was the Bickersteth's station wagon, the rear of which was crushed by the tree. A bumper sticker on the car obscurred by tree limbs read: "Give a Plant a Home."

Tentative county budget

pay out of the 1983 budget.

Also dismayed are the 85-plus grade employees of the County – the clerks and secretaries who do the everyday work of the various departments. The suggested wage increase for them is 25 cents an hour, which works out to $455 a year.

The same is true of elected officials. Since they do not work on an hourly basis, they are being considered for a straight $455 a year raise. In the case of the County Prosecutor, whose salary was $33,146 in 1982, the suggested raise is 1.37 percent.

Most County Department tentative budgets show some increase over last year, but two Departments show decreases:

Judicial Department, including Circuit, District, and Probate Courts, is up from $306,970 to $342,889, an increase of 11.7 percent.

General County Government, including County Clerk, County Treasurer, Prosecuting Attorney, Register of Deeds, Equalization Department, is up from $770,467 to $788,275, an increase of 2.3 percent.

Public Safety Department, including Jail, Emergency Services, and Sheriff, is up from $431,182 to $472,250, an increase of 9.5 percent.

Health Department, including District Health Fund, Medical Examiner, Chip Counseling Center, and State Institutions, is DOWN from $188,193 to $152,553, a decrease of 18.9 percent.

Welfare Department, including Child Care, Services to the Aging, Social Services, and Veterans' Affairs, is DOWN from $321,353 to $310,772, a decrease of 3.2 percent.

On the revenue side, the County anticipates its share of property tax receipts will be up from $1,391,615 to $1,672,876, an increase of 20.2 percent.

After review and questioning of the tentative budget by the County Board, it has been returned to the Ways and Means Committee for further consideration. Presumably this tentative budget or another one will be brought before the County Board again next month.

A check of recent yearly County budgets shows that the cost of operating Charlevoix County has increased from $1,598,660 in 1977 to the anticipated $2,653,589 in 1983. This represents an increase of 65.98 percent.

By year, the figures were:

1978 – $1,841,423
1979 – $2,168,725
1980 – $2,152,131
1981 – $2,395,084
1982 – $2,510,424
1983 – $2,653,589

The Courier will print the entire 1983 budget when it is finally approved.

Methodist Women plan annual bazaar, luncheon

The United Methodist Church Women will present their annual casserole-salad luncheon, bake sale and Christmas bazaar at the church at 105 State Street, Thursday, Mrs. Jill Washburn, president of the group, has announced.

The luncheon featuring home cooked hot casseroles, rolls, salads of every description, a dessert and and choice of beverage will be served from 11 until 1:30 p.m.

The bake sale will be offering home-baked breads, quick breads, cookies, cup cakes and other homemade goodies. The Christmas bazaar will offer many articles suitable for holiday giving. Mrs. Maxine Hooker will be in charge of the bake sale and bazaar.

Mrs. Dorothy Groves will serve as dining room hostess.

Rehearsals now underway for production of Messiah

Rehearsals are now underway for the choir and the orchestra which will present Handel's "Messiah" at St. Mary's Church Sunday, Dec. 5, Ellen Addington, director of the oratorio, has announced.

The first rehearsal for the orchestra will be held at the First Congregational Church at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 1. Other rehearsals will continue on succeeding Mondays.

The choir will continue to meet at the same site at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Area musicians and vocalists are invited to participate in preparation for this moving holiday production

LEGAL NOTICES 207

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made on the part of the mortgagors in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage given by MICHAEL F. KOVAL, a single man, to First Savings and Loan Association of Saginaw, Michigan, now known as Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan Association, bearing date the 22nd day of September, 1976 as recorded September 27, 1976 in Liber 147, Page 173, Charlevoix County Records.

Because of said default, said Association by virtue of the option given it in said mortgage, has heretofore, and does now, declare the entire principal sum secured to be paid by said mortgage to be due and payable, and there is now claimed to be due and unpaid thereon the aggregate sum of $42,876.12 Dollars and, as of the date of the sale, the sum of not less than $43,248.76 Dollars and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover said sum, the debt remaining secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, which has become operative by reason of said default and the statutes in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described therein sold at public auction to the highest bidder, by the Sheriff of said County, on the 22nd day of November, 1982, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the Courthouse in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan; said Courthouse being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said County, which premises are situate and being in the Township of Melrose, County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan and described as follows:

—Lot 118, PLAT OF SPRINGBROOK HILLS No. 2—

The period of redemption is six months.

First Ward City Council race: Wood vs. Greeley have year round income and a 50 percent tax break to industries for their first four, five or six years of getting established in our city would not hurt our city budget. However, utilities is an expense to all of us and as such our citizens should not be burdened with someone else's cost expense.

Greeley: I think the city should do everything possible to encourage new and expanded business in Charlevoix. It's a fact of life today in Michigan, and across the United States, that businesses shop for the best incentives for locating in a particular community. To me, 50 percent of the possible taxes on a new or expanded building and 5, 10, or 100 new jobs is better than 100 percent of the taxes on a vacant piece of land and no new jobs.

Which parts of the Master Plan do you favor most and which parts do you disagree with, if any?

Wood: Our Master Plan in general looks rather well done. The parking problem seems to be major in our city during the resort season and is considered within the plan. However, one-way traffic on Bridge and State Street doesn't record well with me. Likewise, multiple housing must be controlled as to location and size. Particularly, landscaping and open space of sufficient area around the structures should be firmly established.

Greeley: Overall, I agree with the content of the Master Plan. The only area which troubles me is the idea of one-way traffic on Bridge Street. There is a traffic problem on Bridge Street, however it occurs only in July and half of August when the bridge is up. At the present time I don't feel it is neccessary to implement the one-way traffic section. The portion I most strongly support is the development of the industrial park. A manufacturer who desires to locate in Charlevoix is going to locate in our industrial park or for that matter anywhere in town, if the neccessary utilities and services are available. Right now they are not, although steps are being taken to provide them. It should have been done long ago.

Are there any civic improvements you plan to seek for your ward?

Wood: Change is inevitable, but I do want to see the ward I represent, and the other wards, progress with the pride all of our citizens have for our community. We must work together and contribute our share for the good of all.

Greeley: The two civic improvements I would like to see in the First Ward are improved electrical service and the separation of the storm and sanitary sewers. The electrical department does an excellent job, especially in responding to outages, but I would be more interested in discovering why the outages occur and to see if it's possible to correct problems before they occur. Regarding the separation of storm and sanitary sewers, this is an odorous and obvious problem. The separation should stop the problem of cellars backing up and Petoskey Ave. flooding, but it's expensive. The solution is going to be long term because the city doesn't have the financial resources to deal with the problem right now. The recent millage increase has been committed for the next several years. I would like to develop a list of the problem areas with a projected schedule of completion for the sewer projects based on financial realities.

Why are you running for city council?

Wood: My reason for running for council is basically my pride in our city and surrounding area. It is indeed an important part of my life.

Greeley: I'm running for council for two reasons. I'd like to see Charlevoix grow in a way that will improve the unique community we have, and because I'm a doer not a watcher. For the community to grow, we must attempt to attract new, clean, environmentally sound industries, support major portions of the Master Plan as a design for growth and generally provide an atmosphere on the council conducive to to responsible, balanced growth. For this growth to occur, tough decisions must be made by the council. I feel as an independent businessman, I can make these decisions. I have to balance priorities daily in making business decisions and this balancing of priorities readily lends itself to council decisions. Different priorities but the same process. As far as being a doer and not a watcher, I'm the type of person who beleives that when something is wrong or can be improved I'd much rather work at improving from within, rather than complaining from without.

How do you rate the city's response to the discovery of TCE in its water system and what would you do differently, if anything, if elected?

Wood: Our water system must be cleansed of the trichloroethylene as soon as possible, but I believe the risk of cancer of one in two hundred thousand in a seventy-year period doesn't compare to the possibility of nuclear war or the problem of smog that affects our lives throughout our country.

Greeley: Overall, I think the city has done a reasonably good job in handling the TCE problem. The main complaint I've heard is that the city hasn't moved fast enough. My feeling is that the main reason things haven't moved faster is that the city has had to depend on other governmental agencies to do the testing and analysis in order to attempt to define where the chemical is coming from. Before you can pose permanent solutions, you have to know the scope of the problem. The only thing I would perhaps have done differently is to take test borings on the north side where the pollution is least likely to have come from to try and find a new, reliable well. Expensive, yea, but possibily better.

in the last ten years. Federal revenue sharing funds were initiated in 1972. If federal and state funds are reduced considerably I think the size of our county government should be reduced accordingly unless our people are willing to vote in support of the status quo.

Moerland: The Board should scrutinize all budgets involving state and-or federal participation and possibly redefine our priorities. However, contrary to general belief, a considerable amount of money will still be returned to local governments through regional agencies and again I emphasize, we must be involved.

Does your district have any specific needs?

Ward: I do not know if you mean my present district or the new one but I think the overriding need in all districts in the north country is jobs. When the automotive suplier shops were busy as recent as three years ago, I felt we had a well balanced economy. It is becoming more evident that automotive related jobs demand replacement in other areas.

Moerland: The 6th District (City of Charlevoix) is experiencing economic difficulties liken to the rest of the county and area. We have capable council persons and administrative heads in the 6th District and through cooperation with adjoining governments and all pulling together for the common cause will make a vast difference on the outcome of "OUR" recovery.

Uni's sought

Wanted: Cub Schout uniforms is the plea that has gone out from the Cub Scout committee as the scouting season in Charlevoix gets underway.

"Many people have Cub Scout uniforms that their boys have outgrown. Perhaps they would be willing to contribute the uniform or offer it for sale at a modest price if they realized there was a need for used uniforms" Mrs. Rathjens said in asking for uniforms.

Anyone who might have such a Cub Scout uniform they might want to dispose of is asked to call her at 547-4273.

Roloff vs. Burlew

resources. Some of the land use I disagree with; especially in the Third Ward. I feel we have concentrated on multi-family dwellings and haven't given enough consideration to single-family dwellings.

Burlew: I agree most with the balanced development plan for our limited vacant land areas within the city. Which will eventually provide an equitable tax base between commercial and residential. At present the majority of the tax load is being carried by the residential tax payers. I disagree most with the proposed transportation re-allignment of one-way traffic on Bridge St. This would cause one-half of the major traffic flow to be routed through an area occupied by churches, funeral parlor, city and county buildings...not to mention placing the traffic flow closer to the school.

Are there any civic improvements you plan to seek for your ward?

Roloff: Civic improvments for the Third Ward that I would like to see would be the removal of the railroad sheds across from Ferry Beach and holes drilled through the walk-out pier so the water can flow through to improve the swimming area.

Burlew: My involvement in and support of civic improvements will be predicated upon the input which I receive from the people I will be representing.

Why are you running for City Council?

Roloff: I love "Charlevoix the Beautiful" and I enjoy serving my community. I believe with four years of experience I have more knowledge about the day to day activities of the city and plenty of energy and ability to give to the community.

Burlew: I am not certain as to why. It would seem to be a mixture of reasons. I feel a frustrated compulsion to be actively involved. As a member of the public there are too many limitations and restrictions on the amount of input or disagreement which can be interjected during a council session.

How do you rate the city's response to the discovery of TCE in its water system and what would you do differently, if anything, if elected?

Roloff: At first I was very upset with the city's response to the TCE problem. I felt we were taking it too lightly and trying to keep it quietly among ourselves. I feel very strongly now that the city has been responding in the right direction, trying to find out why and where the trichloroethylene is in our water system. These questions must be answered before we blindly start digging wells all over town. I only wish we could move faster in correcting this problem. I am very much concerned with the TCE in our water system.

Burlew: The city, county and state agencies have reacted in a completely prudent and responsible manner concerning the TCE problem. It is always neccessary to first determine the threat to the populace, secondly, to find the source of the contaminate and, then to determine the most practical method of removal. In this particular instance, I do not feel that I, as an elected individual, could have provided anything to that which is now being considered as a practical solution to the problem.

Church to mark 15th ann.

The Charlevoix Church of the Nazarene will mark its 15th anniversary on Sunday, October 31. There will be a Fall Rally emphasis during the Sunday School hour at 10 o'clock. Each child will receive a Halloween treat. Following the morning worship service there will be a harvest dinner in the fellowship hall for members and friends of the congregation. This Sunday also marks the first anniversary of service for the present pastor, Rev. James Raum.

Conferences set at H.S.

Parent-Teacher Conferences will be held for the high school on Monday, November 8, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Any parent desiring to schedule a conference with their child's teachers should phone the high school office during the week of November 1 through 5, 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. and arrange a conference appointment. Each conference is 20 minutes in length.

Information sheets concerning the conferences will be sent home with all high school students on Friday, October 29.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX COUNCIL MINUTES

October 18, 1982
8:00 P.M.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Staley presiding.

Present: Councilmembers Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, and Block. Absent: None.

The Minutes of the October 4, 1982 regular meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

Harold Lang, a member of the General Public present and co-owner of Murdick's Fudge store in Charlevoix, voiced his objections to the recently adopted Snow Removal Ordinance. Mr. Lang stated that he and several other merchants feel that the snow should be removed by the City because the State Right of Way is to the front of the buildings which the State pays the City for maintenance.

Council adjourned to the Board of Appeals.

Following the Board of Appeals, roll call was again taken with all members being present.

The following Resolution was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Porter and supported by Councilman Wood:

Resolution 82-10-3
City of Charlevoix
County of Charlevoix, Michigan
RESOLUTION APPROVING
CHARLEVOIX DEVELOPMENT COMPANY PROJECT PLAN
AS SUBMITTED BY THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION
OF THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX

WHEREAS, there exists in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix, Michigan (the "City") the need for certain programs to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment and to assist and retain local industrial and commercial enterposes in order to strengthen and revitalize the City's economy, and

WHEREAS, a program to alleviate the aforesaid conditions has been initiated by The Economic Development Corporation of the County of Charlevoix (the "Corporation"), and

WHEREAS, the Corporation in conformity with Act No. 338 Public Acts of Michigan, 1974, as amended ("Act No. 338"), has prepared and submitted a project plan providing all information and requirements necessary for a project, and

WHEREAS, in conformity with Act No. 338 the County Board of Commissioners of the County of Charlevoix (the "Board") has or shortly will conduct a public hearing on said project plan,

WHEREAS, the Board has or shortly will approve said project plan,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

1. The project plan, as submitted and approved by the Corporation, meets those requirements set forth in Section 8 of Act No. 338 and the same is hereby approved.
2. The persons who will be active in the management of the project for not less than one year after approval of the project plan have sufficient ability and experience to manage the project properly.
3. The proposed methods of financing the project as outlined in the project plan are feasible and the Corporation has the ability to arrange or cause to be arranged, the financing.
4. The project as submitted is reasonable and necessary to carry out the purposes of Act No. 338.
5. Based upon the information submitted and information obtained at public hearings, the project plan as submitted and the project to which it relates, services to alleviate and prevent conditions of unemployment, strengthen and revitalize the City's economy, encourage the location and expansion of enterprises in the City, and, therefore, constitutes an essential, vital and necessary public purposes.
6. All resolutions and parts of resolutions insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this resolution be and the same hereby are rescinded.

Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, and Block. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The Council generally agreed to Mr. Hunt's (City Manager) request for hiring special counsel for the Chicago Club Tax Appeal. Mr. Hunt informed Council that he wishes to hire VanTil, Kasborski, & Ronayne Law Firm of Detroit for this matter.

Council generally agreed to renew two Coast Guard leases with the City as amended: East Park moorings and 204 State Street, house rental. After much discussion, Council approved the leases with the following alterations:

(1) 204 State Street.
- A. Lower monthly rent from $400.00 to $310.00.
- B. Coast Guard be responsible for all utilities.
- C. Termination upon 30 days notice and no renewal obligation.

(2) East Park Moorings.
- A. Coast Guard maintain pilings.
- B. Limit of 7 free parking spaces instead of 13 as in the current arrangement.
- C. Reduce the length of rental space from 120' to 100'.
- D. Initiate Coast Guard to participate in marina expansion planning.

The Council discussed with Mr. Hunt the scheduling of the Consolidation Referendum with Charlevoix Township.

The City Manager reported that a Public Hearing will be held on November 1, 1982 for the Westhervane Terrace Motel's proposed Commercial Redevelopment District.

Council authorized the payment of bills totaling $214,095.97.

Council adjourned.

October 18, 1982 (cont'd.)
Board of Appeals
October 18, 1982

The Board of Appeals convened with Councilmembers Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood and Block present. Absent: None.

Carol Sullivan appeared before the Board of Appeals on behalf of William Jackson, requesting variances to allow construction of a single family dwelling on property located on Round Lake at the foot of Bums Street. The request of three variances for Mr. Jackson required a reduction in the required lot width from 100' to 57' and a reduction in the two side yard setback requirements from 15' to 10'. Several members of the General Public present, including neighbors of the proposed construction project, voiced their objections of the variance request due to the small dimension of the lot.

The City Attorney pointed out that the City Code provides for the development of vacant lots of record and that the Board of Appeals must have compelling reasons to deny variances which would allow construction on this lot provided development does not violate sound planning practices.

Walter Hufford, Chairman of the Planning Commission, stated that a Public Hearing was not held during a Planning Commission meeting and advised Council not to return the matter to the Planning Commission if it could not be settled because the work would be duplicated.

Moved by Councilman Timms to allow a variance for William Jackson's property on Round Lake by reducing the west side yard setback requirement from 15' to 5', and to acknowledge that Round Lake is designated as the front yard. The motion failed due to lack of support.

Moved by Councilman Porter and supported by Councilman Timms to approve the following for William Jackson's property on Round Lake: (A) Round Lake being designated as the Lot Front, (B) Reduce Lot Width requirement from 100' to 57' and, (C) To establish a time limit of 18 months for construction.

Motion was denied by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmen Porter and Timms. Nays: Councilmembers Olach, Roloff, Wood, and Block. Absent: None.

The Board of Appeals tabled any further action on the matter until the next regular meeting on November 1, 1982 and further discussion at the next Committee meeting on October 25, 1982.

The Board of Appeals adjourned.

"Politics Makes Strange Bedfellows"

Stanford D. Arnold

James Barrett

In this election year two Michigan civic leaders are surprised to find themselves involved in an unusual coalition to protect the interests of their constituencies.

James Barrett, president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, and Stanford D. Arnold, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council, are working together with Citizens for Michigan Jobs and Energy to fight Proposal D. D is a controversial initiative, put on the ballot by the Michigan Citizens Lobby, which would eliminate the "automatic" fuel adjustment clause on utility bills but, because of hearing delays, could force utility companies to borrow money in order to continue operating.

Arnold's primary concern is jobs. Utility companies are the state's largest single employer of construction workers.

"If the MCL initiative is passed, the financing of construction will be seriously jeopardized," says Arnold. "And if utility construction projects are stopped, thousands of construction workers will be out of a job."

Arnold points out, however, that it is not only construction jobs that would be lost if Proposal D passes.

"Consider as well the availability of emergency fuel reserves. If utilities were forced to restrict their fuel supplies to avoid borrowing at today's interest rates, we could be caught short of fuel in the event of unexpected severe weather. And major industrial users are the first to lose energy supplies when fuel runs short. Then when bad weather hits, Michigan workers would be out of jobs — for days — even weeks."

Barrett's concern is for business and industry in Michigan, and the state's prospects for economic recovery. But the bottom line is still jobs.

"Proposal D is dangerous to Michigan's economic climate because it could have an adverse effect on our employment picture," says Barrett. "It also could cripple the long-range capacity of utility companies to offer reliable energy service at reasonable rates.

"It poses a very real threat to the capacity of utility companies to provide reliable, efficient service to industrial and commercial customers. As a result, prospective business and industrial energy users may think twice before saying "yes" to Michigan as the location for a new production plant or commercial facility."

Barrett and Arnold agree that the problem with Proposal D is that it permits only one rate hearing before the Public Service Commission per utility at a time. That would be a cumbersome process that could lead to higher interest rates on operating funds — a cost that would be reflected in higher utility bills and could eventually result in service cutbacks.

Both men are backing another ballot proposal, Proposal H, which they say would "allow utility firms to recover, after Commission scrutiny, month-to-month costs of doing business in a timely manner, reducing their need to borrow operating funds at unreasonably high interest rates."

They are joined in the CMJE coalition by other business, labor and civic groups, plus the Michigan Farm Bureau and a number of individuals throughout the state.

Altogether, it is an unusual coalition of Michiganians fighting to defeat a proposal that would mean further economic disaster for the state.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Once in a great while in Charlevoix there is a historic opportunity to buy real estate at unusually low prices. The last such opportunity occurred in early 1975. Over the next 5 years prices increased between 25-100%.

As a result of the continuing recession and high interest rates, we now have another inbalance of supply and demand, causing some Sellers to offer their properties at very attractive prices --- some with owner financing --- and some --- priced at less than reproduction cost (land value plus construction cost).

As a customer service, our Sales Counselors researched the existing inventory of the Charlevoix Multiple Listing Service consisting of more than 500 properties (land, condominiums, townhomes, homes and waterfront) and identified the 20 best buys on the market today.

This analysis included all of our listings as well as those of our competition. If you would like a list of those properties and the reasons "Why You Can't Miss" by buying now, please call, drop in, or write us.

Incumbents win City Council races

by DAVE KNIGHT

Tuesday's general election in Charlevoix saw two incumbents and a former member re-elected to the City Council in voting that attracted 47 percent of the city's registered voters to the polls.

In the First Ward, incumbent Raymond V. Wood narrowly got past challenger Michael A. Greeley in the closest council race, 234-203. Second Ward results saw F. Ivan Whitley easily succeed in his bid to return to the council after a two-year absence. Whitley defeated Joseph R. Etienne by a 353-150 margin. Incumbent Shirley Roloff was another clear-cut winner in the Third Ward outdistancing challenger Paul O. Burlew 330-179.

In the contest to decide who will represent the city on the six-man County Board of Commissioners, Republican I. Lee Moerland defeated Democrat Oscar W. Ward 939-634. In the only other board seat contested, Democrat Ralph Harmon beat Republican Martin Bieganowski 824-448 in the Second District in the southeast portion of the county.

In a reversal of the August primary election balloting, Charlevoix County voters approved a three-year, .25 millage for the county Transit System which will allow the county buses to keep running.

City balloting in other races yielded the following results: For Governor, city voters gave the nod to eventual loser Richard Headlee, 842-718, over Democrat James Blanchard. Attorney General Frank Kelley, a Democrat, outpolled Republican L. Brooks Patterson in the city 828-753. Projected winner Mitch Irwin, a Democrat, in the 37th District State Senate race topped Republican John Anderson 807-770 in Charlevoix. Unsuccessful U.S. Senate candidate Phillip Ruppe, a Republican, did well in the city against Democrat Donald Riegle, topping the incumbent by a 972-602 margin.

A total of 1660 ballots were cast in the city. A more complete breakdown of area voting results will be featured in next week's Courier.

Burns St. home gets approval

by DAVE KNIGHT

Persistence paid off for William M. Jackson of Ann Arbor who was finally granted the neccessary variances by City Council Monday night, after twice being rejected, to build a home on Round Lake at the foot of Burns St.

At issue was the unusual shape of the lot, 57.75 feet wide by 272 feet long, which was criticized by opponents to the variances as being too narrow to accomodate a home. Under the city's zoning code, homes normally cannot be built on lots less than 100 feet wide.

Jackson maintained, however, that under the ordinance, the lot was defined as buildable and that unless specific reasons for denial were outlined by council, the requested variances should be granted.

Jackson's original plan was for a home fronting on the lake requiring a 37-foot wide buildable area but staggered so that no part of the actual home would be more than 27 to 30 feet wide. To accomodate this arrangement, he sought 25 and five foot sideyard setback variances.

After the Planning Commission's Sept. 27 recommendation for approval, the council voted 4-2 against designating Round Lake the front of the lot thus effectively rejecting Jackson's variance request. Several north side residents attended that meeting to voice opposition to the variances.

Some of those same residents were on hand Monday night, however, and after seeing a color rendering of the proposed home, changed their minds. It was largely that sway which resulted in the council's eventual action.

Acting as the Board of Appeals, the council first voted again on a motion designating Round Lake as the front of the lot. A 3-3 tie resulted with council members Robert Timms, Jeffrey Porter and Shirley Roloff voting in favor and Raymond Wood, James Block and Clement Olach against. Mayor Kenneth Staley does not have power to break ties in the Board of Appeals so the motion failed for lack of a majority.

After further discussion of potential legal complications resulting from the council's action, essentially the same motion came up again, this time with the sideyard setback variances included, and failed again by the same tally.

Carol Sullivan, speaking on behalf of Jackson, then pointed out to the council that in its discussions of the matter, the only reasons given for denial had been public input received by council members and that the specific application of the ordinance to Jackson's request had not been considered. She proceeded

Gibbons resigns as city attorney

City Attorney Michael Gibbons submitted his resignation to the Charlevoix City Council Monday night. Gibbons attributed the increasing demands of his private law practice along with the city's growing need for legal services as major factors in his decision. Gibbons suggested that council consider restructuring the city attorney's position and making it a staff position. He agreed to handle the city attorney's responsibilities until a replacement is named. Gibbons has held the post of city attorney two separate times. He returned to the postion 18 months ago following the death of former City Attorney Frank Hoffman.

Stakes mean trees to come

City residents who find stakes marked with the word "tree" in their front yards this week can expect a tree to be planted at those spots by city crews unless they object. As part of the city's tree replacement program, locations all over the city have been marked for new trees which arrived this week. Property owners who have a question about the locations of the trees to be planted are asked to contact the city street department at 547-6571.

Meeting to feature TCE report

A comprehensive report by Granger Engineering on the TCE contamination of the Charlevoix city water supply will be presented at the City Council's committee of the whole meeting this Monday at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend the meeting at which engineer David Rommelman will explain his firm's findings on alternatives for ridding the water system of the suspected carcinogen trichloroethylene which was discovered in the city's water last year.

Come to the party!

The finals of the Courier's Holiday Recipe Contest are going public this year in a big way. Judging of the 15 finalists in the contest will be held in the Market Mall starting at noon on Wednesday, November 10. Members of the public are invited to inspect the award-winning dishes in five categories, hors d'oeuvres, salads, breads, casseroles and desserts, which will be prepared especially for the final judging. At stake is a total of $500 in prizes, including a grand prize worth $250. Along with the recipe contest finals in the Market Mall will be a kitchen show put on by several area merchants featuring displays, demonstrations and samples.

County commissioners give themselves hefty pay raises

by PEG OHLE

Through the years, just about the best place to work in Charlevoix County for those who want steady employment has been the County building. It still is because there have been no mass layoffs – or layoffs of any kind, for that matter – in County government in the memory of the oldest employee there.

So, when employees of Charlevoix County learned that their salary increase for next year would be 25 cents an hour, or $455 a year, most of them accepted it gracefully, even though it does not cover the increase in cost of living for many of them.

The 1983 pay schedule for County employees, which was prepared by the Ways and Means Committee of the County Board of Commissioners, was approved by the County Board last week.

However, the pay schedule reveals one important fact: The Commissioners themselves, some of whom have had County jobs for over ten years, are not as willing as lower-grade employees to take a small raise in these times of recession.

While the salary of the Commissioners remains at $150 a month (which they receive whether or not they attend a regular meeting of the Board during the month), they increased their per diem from $35 to $60 for all Commission committee meetings lasting more than four hours. If the meeting, including travel time, takes less than four hours, they will receive $40 per diem.

This increase in per diem was defended by Ways and Means Committee members Oral Sutliff, Casimir Toton, and Larry Matthew and voted for by them and Commissioners Delbert Ingalls, Clyde Cunningham, John Haggard, Martin Bieganowski, Ralph Harmon, Thomas Breakey, Marving Loding, and Donald Meggison. Voting against the increase were Lee Moerland and Oscar Ward, both of Charlevoix, and Keith Annear of East Jordan.

Sutliff, Matthew, and Breakey, along with newcomer Don Smith of Charlevoix Township, will definitely serve on the new six-man Board of Commissioners which takes office in January. The other two will be yesterday's winner of the Moerland-Ward contest and the winner of the Bieganowski-Harmon contest. All the others are "lame ducks".

Those defending the higher per diem point out that each Commissioner will have more committee meetings next year because of the smaller Board, but, as Commissioner Annear pointed out, they are paid for each meeting anyway, making the explanation

Ground broken for Weathervane expansion; tax relief probable

by DAVE KNIGHT

Ground was broken at a 2 p.m. ceremony Tuesday for a 33-unit expansion of the Weathervane Terrace, Hotel following a flurry of last minute negotiations on a tax abatement program for the project.

As late as Monday night, partners in the project Richard Georgi of Charlevoix and Arch Wright of Boyne City were debating whether to go ahead with construction following an ambiguous response from City Council on the tax abatement request. Had ground not been broken Tuesday, the long-planned expansion would have been again postponed indefinitely, according to Georgi, because of constraints by the winter weather on outdoor construction.

Georgi and Wright appeared before the Charlevoix City Council at its regular meeting Monday night to seek creation of a commercial redevelopment district, the first step toward a tax abatement plan. Georgi proposed a ten-year, 50 percent tax relief program which would terminate for any unit sold as a condominium. The developers plan to sell 11 units as condominiums and retain ownership of the remaining. All 33 units, however, will be available for hotel use similar to the existing Weathervane Terrace arrangement.

City Manager Robert Hunt cautioned the council about approving tax relief for the project saying, "There are other incentives available. Tax abatement is the most precious thing you can give away." According to Hunt, such a program could save the developers between $12,000 and $19,000 annually in property taxes, up to $5,000 of which would normally go to the city.

After the council balked at a ten-year plan, a five-year period was suggested to Georgi and Wright who indicated that such a plan was agreeable to them. Though council proceeded to establish the redevelopment district Monday night, they did not act on the actual tax program thus giving the developers no guarantee that tax relief would be forthcoming.

After meeting with Hunt and several council members Tuesday morning, however, Georgi said he had received "enough votes of confidence" to proceed with the groundbreaking. The total project cost is $1.225 million which includes $725,000 in Charlevoix County Economic Development Corporation assistance, $400,000 from conventional financing and $100,000 in equity. With construction getting underway this week, completion is scheduled for May 1, 1983 leaving a tight 181-day building schedule for the three-story project.

In a scene from The King and I, opening Nov. 11 for 8 performances at McCune Art Center, eastern and western cultures clash. Ann (Ima Williams, Harbor Springs) and the King of Siam (Michey Berryer, Petoskey) look on as Louis (Michael Stargardt, Charlevoix) challenges a remark made by Prince Chulalongkorn (Mark Bogetto, Boyne City). Tickets are now on sale for the production.

Curtains go up Nov. 11 for "King and I"

Steve Stargardt

The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "The King and I" will open in Petoskey at the McCune Art Center November 11. Tickets for the seven evening performances and one matinee are now on sale.

The musical, which opened in New York in 1951 and was revived just last year by Yul Brynner, is being produced here by the Little Traverse Civic Theatre. The production features several outstanding performers including Mickey Berryer as the King of Siam, and Ima Williams as Anna Leonowens, the English woman who goes to Siam to teach the King's children western culture, but who also develops a fascinating and poignant relationship with the autocratic King.

Berryer, born in Paris, France, has had 20 years of theatrical experience, largely in the Detroit area. Ima Williams, who recently completed a summer tour with The Young Americans production of "Music Man", also has an extensive theatre and musical background.

A highly complex musical, based on a true story, "The King and I" tells of the benevolent but despotic King of Siam (now Thailand) and his eagerness to bring some western ideas to Asia in the mid 19th centruy. His flamboyance is quietly supported by his number one wife Lady Thiang, played here by Betsy McCune.

McCune's theatre credits include "Oliver", "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum", and "John Loves Mary".

The tragic love story of Tuptim, the young Burmese woman given to the King as a bride, and her lover Lun Tha, is dramatically portrayed by Dianna Weltich of Petoskey and Eric Grandstaff of Alanson. Weltich, dance instructor at the art center and owner of the Homestead Cafe, has danced and sung in professional and amateur theatre for several years. This summer she was the lead dancer in Bay View's production of "West Side Story".

These girls in white dresses and hairbows and the much-outnumbered boy are apparently members of a graduating class, but there is no record of the year. Gloria Taylor Gerritsen, who furnished the picture, says the young man is her father, Albert Taylor, but she does not know the names of any of the girls. Does anyone else? The picture was taken by Priest Studios of Charlevoix.

Beaver Island's are lowest property taxes in county, Boyne City's highest

by PEG OHLE

Persons looking for low-taxed property in Charlevoix County will find the best bargains on Beaver Island, according to the 1982 Township and City Clerks' report recently prepared by the County Equalization Department.

In Peaine Township on Beaver Island, the millage rate is 28.6689, the lowest in the County, which means that taxes on a parcel of property with a State Equalized Valuation of $40,000 would be $573.38. In St. James Township on the Island, the millage rate is 30.2643, which means that taxes on a similar parcel of property there would be $605.29.

The next lowest millage rate in Charlevoix County is in the Vanderbilt School District of Chandler Township. The rate there is 31.1408 mills, which means that taxes on a $40,000 parcel would be $622.82.

The highest property taxes in the County will be levied in Boyne City, where the millage rate is 57.57. The taxes there on a $40,000 parcel would be $1,151.40, paid in two installments, winter and summer.

The next highest property taxes in the County will be levied in East Jordan, where the millage rate is 56.4900. The taxes there on a $40,000 parcel would be $1,129.80, paid in winter and summer installments.

The third highest property taxes, but the lowest of the three cities of the County, will be levied in Charlevoix, where the millage rate is 46.9400. The taxes there on a $40,000 parcel would be $938.80, paid in winter and summer installments.

Outside the cities, the highest taxes will be paid in the East Jordan School District portions of Eveline and Wilson Townships. The rate in both of these areas is 41.4900 mills, resulting in a tax of $829.89 on a $40,000 parcel of property.

The next highest rural taxes will be paid in the East Jordan School District portion of South Arm Township, where the millage rate is 41.4168 and the taxes on a $40,000 parcel would be $828.34.

In other townships, taxes will be levied as followx for a $40,000 parcel of property:

Bay Township in the Boyne City School District, $827.75; Boyne Valley Township in the Boyne Falls School District, $792.86; Boyne Valley Township in the Boyne City School District, $827.46; Chandler Township in the Petoskey School District, $724.42; Charlevoix Township in the Charlevoix School District, $708.80; Evangeline Township in the Boyne City School District, $820.88.

Eveline Township in the Boyne City School District, $812.80; Eveline Township in the Charlevoix School District, $688.80; Eveline Township in the Ironton School District, $880.60. Hayes Township in the Boyne City School District, $812.80; Hayes Township in the Charlevoix School District, $688.80; Hayes Township in the Petoskey School District, $727.80; Hudson Township in the Boyne Falls School District, $774.84; Hudson Township in the Vanderbilt School District, $642.64; Marion Township in the Charlevoix School District, $888.36; Marion Township in the Ellsworth School District, $812.96.

Melrose Township in the Petoskey School District, $724.67; Melrose Township in the Boyne Falls School District, $794.67; Norwood Township in the Charlevoix School District, $688.41; South Arm Township in the Ellsworth School District, $811.94; Wilson Township in the Boyne City School District, $812.80.

Nine separate school districts serve Charlevoix County. Some townships, as noted above, are served by two or more school districts, resulting in different tax rates within the township. This is due to the County to receive $440,000 for job training

Charlevoix County is scheduled to receive approximately $440,000 in 1984 through the new federal Job Training Partnership Act.

Charlevoix County Commissioner Lee Moerland, who is chairman of the ten-county Manpower Consortium, told the Board of Commissioners last week about the program, which will put emphasis on private industry and offer training in industry.

It is similar in concept to the Comprehensive Education and Training Act (CETA) which it replaces, but will not provide jobs in the public sector as CETA did.

The Board of Commissioners plans to enter into a contract for participation in the new program at its November 10 meeting.

Opinion

Knight on the Town
Annual report

by Gretchen Knight, with a little help.

To my Shareholders and Other Interested Parties:

I have been in business exactly one year today so my Dad thought it appropriate for me to issue an annual report.

Engineering and Product Development

Management has devoted substantial effort toward an aggressive program. Most of the capital investment in this area has yielded good results but there have been some questionable moves. Like the little yellow walker on wheels. Ever try to get across a throw rug on one of those? It's enough to make me tear out what little hair I've grown so far. A retooling project was considered but eventually tabled when management considered the property damage potential of a walking baby as opposed to a crawling one. Said one executive: "Let her crawl. We don't have to dust the floor as often." Since coming home from the factory I have added some components such as three and-a half teeth which have tested out well in such experiments as the "Can You Bite Daddy's Finger?" test which management has since discontinued.

Assets

I wrinkle my nose when I smile. I like vegetables. I look good in pink. I enjoy taking baths. I smile for cameras. I don't eat dust balls (just chew 'em and spit 'em out.)

Liabilities

I can reach high E above C if neccessary. I don't like sleeping all night. I shred newspapers. I like food fights. I have no irregularity problems.

Summary of Significant Policies

I have found that a marketing strategy based on cuteness has enabled me to accomplish many important gains over the year. When parlayed just right, cuteness can overcome any deficit. Say I toss a piece of toast with honey onto the floor - honey side down, of course - right after management has cleaned up the cheese slice that preceded it. The timing is crucial. First I open my eyes real wide as if to say "Did I do that? Oh, my goodness! I just don't know what got into me." Then, as management's window of vulnerability slowly cracks open, I go for the kill: a big grin with a jaunty tilt of the head. Situation stable. Cuteness is also an excellent sales tool. Management's Apple Orchard Sales Division posted noticeably higher sales figures during the Apple Festival when I was on hand to sit on the counter with an apple and look cute. Management is now trying to figure out how to sell advertising with me.

Future Risk and Uncertainties

Outside consultants have painted a worrisome picture as I enter a second year. They say I'll soon start making unreasonable demands that may defy negotiation. They warn management of all the pitfalls that await. Indeed, management has expressed substantial concern in the areas of pension plans, costs of investments and product warranty. Well, my outlook for the next four quarters is definitely thumbs up! I predict continued growth in all major areas and foresee a more than satisfactory return on investments. As operating efficiency improves and product diversity continues, I think management's fears will prove to be unfounded.

I'd invite you all to my first annual stockholders' meeting but I don't think there will be enough cake to go around.

Letters: Response to freeze

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on Mrs. Margaret Duerr's letter in the Oct. 27, 1982 Courier. She seems to have a simple solution to mankinds problems. We should honor a nuclear freeze regardless of whether the Soviets do or not. She says, "Suppose a mutual nuclear weapons freeze agreement is signed by the U.S.S.R. and the U.S. If those 'untrustworthy' Russians managed, in spite of our spy satellites, radar and electronic sensors, to continue to secretly add to their nuclear arsenal, it would be their hard pressed citizenry who would suffer the enormous cost of such a clandestine operation. If the United States, on the other hand abided by the freeze agreement, billions of defense-budget tax dollars would become available to rebuild a strong, prosperous and united United States."

I would like to say that the citizenry of Russia has been hard pressed since 1917. I would also like to say that a strong prosperous America would be a "pipedream" if we ever let our guard down. The only way we will have freedom from fear or anything else is to be strong.

Read the October issue of Reader's Digest. The feature article is about the Russian Secret Police, the K.G.B., and how they are using the freeze movements to lull the West to sleep. Nobody wants to see wars of anykind, but, if in order to prevent lunatics from distroying freedom in the world, we must arm to the teeth, than that's what we have to do. Most people would like to see a "nuclear freeze" but not if its based on blind trust of the Soviet rulers.

Thank-you
Robert L. Olson

to go over several points of law previously addressed in an October 20 letter from Jackson to the council.

That explanation, plus comments favorable to the proposed home by at least three neighboring residents at the meeting, prompted another motion by Timms to designate Burns St. the lot front thus requiring front and rear yard setback variances of 20 and 25 feet respectively and no sideyard variances at all.

It was Olach who switched his vote to approve the variances which will allow Jackson to build a 32-foot home on the lot. Olach also requested that Jackson leave the artist's rendering of the proposed home with council so that interested citizens can view it.

pointless.

The pay schedule for other elected and appointed officials, as approved, also indicates a $455 annual increase for most, as follows:

Probate Judge supplement, $2,820 in 1982, same in 1983.

County Clerk, $17,415 in 1982, raised to $17,870.

Register of Deeds, $18,566 in 1982, raised to $17,021.

Prosecuting Attorney, $33,146 in 1982, raised to include $455 in cooperative re-imbursement funds.

Civil Defense Director, $12,564 in 1982, raised to $13,019.

Equalization Director, $19,842 in 1982, raised to $20,297.

County Treasurer, $17,415 in 1982, raised to $17,870.

Sheriff, $20,849 in 1982, raised to $21,304.

Under-Sheriff, $18,457 in 1982, raised to $18,912.

Building Maintenance Man, $14,167 in 1982, raised to $14,622.

County Planner, $17,920 in 1982, raised to $18,375.

Building Code Official, $17,669 in 1982, raised to $18,910.

County Drain Commissioner (part time), $3,745 in 1982, raised to $3,836.

Veterans' Affairs Counselor (part time), $6,005 in 1982, raised to $6,233.

County Board of Commissioners, $1,800 both years.

County Road Commission, $1,200 both years.

Medical Examiner, $500 both years.

In addition to his salary, the Medical Examiner receives $50 per call in his own area and $75 per call outside his own area, the same as in 1982.

Per diem allowances for the various citizen Boards and Commissions and other County Commissions were set as follows:

Board of Canvassers and Plat Board (which meet infrequently) raised from $35 to $60.

Road Commission, Welfare Commission, Elections Commission, Special Elections Commission, Building Authority, and the Economic Development Corporation Board of Directors, raised from $35 to $40.

Planning Commission, Parks Commission, Building Codes Appeals Board, Jury Board, Commission on Aging, and Library Board, raised from $25 to $30.

Clockwise
Got to be a better way

by Bob Clock

BY THE TIME this sees print, another general election will be history, and if you don't feel winded you're in better shape than I am.

I keep telling myself that there has to be a better way to select local, state and national leaders — but no one has been able to come up with an acceptable alternative.

Of course, there's always someone waiting in the wings willing to serve as a "benevolent dictator." But too much benevolence is cloying. Thanks, but no thanks.

I guess I am more bothered by the cost of elections than anything else. Millions of dollars have been spent in Michigan alone — the figure undoubtedly runs into the billions in the nation at large — to promote or deride the various candidates and causes.

And when you look at some of the foolishness that passes for government you can't help wonder if it's worth it.

I am particularly worried about the $3 million plus the big utilities have spent in Michigan to defeat Proposal D which would eliminate automatic pass-through rate adjustments without a full-blown hearing by the Public Service Commission. The utilities reportedly are afraid they'll be forced into borrowing money at outlanding interest rates while waiting for the PSC to act.

Maybe so. But as a consumer I am highly chagrined that money that could have been used to reduce my monthly bills has gone into a political campaign.

The very fact that the utilities are fighting so hard to defeat Proposal D makes me wonder if there isn't something more at stake. I don't know what it could be, but doubts linger.

Opponents tell me Proposal D is "dumb" — to quote the TV ads — but they haven't told me precisely why. I can't buy the high-cost-of-borrowing argument.

HOWEVER, I AM not all doom-and-gloom insofar as elections are concerned. This time around I have been struck by the high quality of candidates in many of the races. Take Bob Davis Jr. and Pat Gagliardi running for the House of Representatives in the 103rd District. Both are top-notch candidates who have done their homework. The electorate could not go wrong by voting for either one.

The same holds true for the 37th Senatorial race. Mitch Irwin, a Democrat, has done a fine job for the district in the past. But I am convinced that radioman John Anderson of Traverse City also would be a first-rate public servant. Both are knowledgeable and articulate about the problems facing Michigan and the North.

From here it looks as though both races will be very close. And I certainly hope the losers — whoever they are — are not soured on the idea of public service. They have too much to offer.

Out of the Blue

Did the Good Guys get in?
Did we throw the rascals out?
Do the ones that we elected

Engagements

Joseph R. Etienne and Christine Chase

Chase-Etienne

Christine Chase and Joseph R. Etienne, Jr. of Charlevoix have announced their engagement.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chase of Seattle, and the intended bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Etienne, Sr. of Charlevoix and Port Charlotte, Florida.

Miss Chase is a graduate of Lake Washington High School in Kirkland, Washington, and earned bachelor's and master's degrees from Washington State University. She was an instructor at Michigan State University before taking her present position as Fashion Eyewear Consultant in Michigan for Turo, Inc. of New York.

Mr. Etienne, who is the owner of the Kentucky Fried Chicken store in Charlevoix, returned here in 1979 after 18 years of high school teaching and coaching in the Saginaw area. He is a graduate of Charlevoix High School and earned a bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan University as well as a master's degree from Central Michigan University.

The wedding will take place on December 31, after which the newlyweds will take a trip to Florida.

Miller-Bentley

Nanci M. Miller

Michael S. Miller of Charlevoix and Millie M. Reid of Gastonia, North Carolina announce the engagement of their daughter, Nanci Marie Miller, to Randy Glen Bentley of York, South Carolina.

The intended bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bentley of York. He is a graduate of the high school in Clover, South Carolina, where his future bride is now a senior, and is employed by the Duke Power Company.

The wedding is planned for November 13 at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Clover.

Hospital to offer free diabetes testing

Charlevoix Area Hospital will again offer free diabetes testing on November 10, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., for anyone 18 or over who has not been previously diagnosed diabetic.

An estimated 240,000 persons in Michigan have diabetes and don't know it. Persons who run a high risk of developing diabetes are over forty, overweight, and related to diabetics. They should be checked once a year for diabetes advises Dr. Nancy Caputo, Detection Chairman for the American Diabetes Association.

November 7-13 is annual Diabetes Detection Week. Free blood tests are being offered by 180 Michigan hospitals.

No appointment is necessary for the free testing at Charlevoix Area Hospital. For best results a meal high in carbohydrates with large amounts of starches and sugars should be eaten two hours before the test. Breakfast could be fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, two slices of buttered toast, with jam and coffee or tea. A person planning to take the test after lunch could have soup, a sandwich, cake or pie and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten quickly, within 15 minutes, and nothing else but water should be taken before the test. Following these suggestions will help ensure an accurate test, says Ralph Corwin, Chief Laboratory Technologist at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Diabetes is a serious disease that is a major cause of heart attack, kidney failure, blindness and death. The symptoms of diabetes, when present, may include frequent urination, abnormal thirst, unusual hunger, rapid weight loss, itching, fatigue, blurred vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

Charlevoix Area Hospital participates annually in this program of free testing as a service to the communities it serves.

If the tests indicate a person may have diabetes, he will be advised to see his own physician for further evaluation.

4-H Notes by Leah Green

Time for annual renewal

In case you didn't know, fall is a time of renewal for 4-H people. The 4-H year has once again come to a close after the last big event of the summer, the Fair, and many clubs and leaders are gearing up to begin the process anew. Fall is also a time when it is natural for people who have been thinking about becoming 4-H leaders to do something about it.

One of those folks is Susan Turski. Susan lives in the area behind Ironton with her husband and young daughter. She is willing to lead a club of youngsters between the ages of 8 and 12. She tells me that the project area(s) the club will pursue are a matter of choice to be decided by the group when they meet. However she does have some interst already in Foods and Nutrition. Mrs. Turski will be ready to begin 4-H club meetings around the end of November. To contact her just call the Cooperative Extension Service Office at 582-6232 and we will put you in touch.

Sometimes a current leader decides to branch out. One such person can be found in the Barnard area. Dr. Merle Plagge, who has been connected with our Livestock program for several years, most recently as a leader, would like to add a small club in a very different project - photography. He is interested in helping about five people age 13 or more. The skills taught would be improving ones picture taking (with a 35mm camera) and some darkroom techniques. If you have or have access to a 35mm camera, want to learn more about photography and are 13 or older, you might want to be part of this new group in 4-H. Just let the CES know and we'll be on our way.

4-H clubs, county events, projects - actually anything to do with 4-H is open to anyone. Members are youngsters between the ages of 9 and 19. In Charlevoix County, however, children as young as 5 or 8 are welcome in many groups. Membership does not need to end until the end of the calendar year during which a person turns 19.

Leaders come from the community. They are volunteers who believe in the basic goals of 4-H. Briefly, these center around developing good citizens and teaching lifelong skills as well as a measure of leadership experience for the generation which will hold all of us in its hands in the future.

Some leaders in 4-H are as young as 14. These are young people who posses the level of maturity it takes to teach a project to younger children. They may operate independently. Junior leaders work with and assist an adult. They have some responsibility, share in the job, but don't have to work alone.

Through these and other methods 4-H structures things to maximize the learning opportunities of all who participate. Nationally and at the state level 4-H offers a wide array of opportunities for exchange trips, training workshops for volunteers, and other events which also seek to make the most of learning and broadening of one's horizons. All of this is done at the least cost possible.

Maybe you are a person in the community who has wondered about 4-H. You may be thinking that your skills could be used as a leader, but you don't know anything about 4-H. You can get information and advice from the 4-H staff in the county and you can get training in your project and in leadership from the many events sponsored by the state 4-H people, the county and from other leaders. Many new leaders feel very unsure. That is where the 4-H structure is often at its best - with adults. Yes, 4-H is for kids, but adults are where the examples and role models and teaching come from. The 4-H support structure for them is a good one.

4-H leaders have a choice about many of the characteristics of their clubs. Leaders decide how many children they will be comfortable with and the age group they want to work with. They also have the chance to decide what subject material will be best. Hopefully most decisions will be made by the club itself in the democratic manner. After all, capable adults are the end product we are striving to create. Its worthwhile and it's fun.

If you have a skill you would like to share with some children or want to know more about 4-H, please let me know at 582-6232 or drop in at the CES office, it is located in the Boyne City City Hall right on Lake Street.

Hospital receives cost award

Charlevoix Area Hospital was recently awarded a commendation certificate from the American Hospital Association for its ability to control costs and meet new Medicare cost requirements.

Charlevoix Area Hospital has been participating, for the past three years, in a voluntary operational monitoring system which watches costs, employee productivity and utilization, both internally and in comparison with other hospitals.

The result, according to the American Hospital Association, is that Charlevoix Area Hospital has been "able to provide higher quality services with greater staff efficiency while keeping patient charges lower."

Probation Dept. has new phone number

The Probation Department of the 90th District Court has a new telephone number. It is (616) 547-4321.

All calls having to do with District Court Probation should be made directly to this number, according to Probation Officer Laurie L. Howell.

Previously, Probation calls were handled through the District Court office telephone.

Bands set concerts, seek parent support

A busy schedule of concerts and other activities have been planned for the Charlevoix School bands Terry Isenbarger, directror of the instrumental music department at the Charlevoix schools, has announced.

The first event will be a concert by the Charelvoix High School band at 7:30 p.m. Thurdsay, Nov. 11, featuring musical selections performed during halftime football shows during the fall months. There will be no admission charge for the concert.

On Dec. 15, the seventh grade, the eight grade and the high school symphonic bands will present their annual Christmas concert.

Both events will be presented at the high school gymnasium.

Isenbarger went on to say that one of the chief concerns in regard to the band program is the recent inactivity of the Charlevoix Band Boosters organization. He added that the many activities of the school bands can be carried out successfully only with the assistance and support of the parents and other adults who are willing to help.

He then went on to list some of the support functions that a band booster organizaion is counted on to provide. They include fund raising for band uniforms, equipment and trips; chaperoning on trips, concerts and other events; assistance in the fitting, care and storage of band uniforms and assistance in publicizing band events.

The Charlevoix school will be hosting the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association District II Junior High School Band and Orchestra Festival on Saturday, March 5. Much help will be needed in the preparation and planning for the event.

A meeting to re-organize the Charlevoix Band Boosters will be held in the band room immediately following the November 11th concert. Parents of all high school and middle school band students and all other interested persons are urged to attend the meeting at approximately 8:30 p.m. and participate in the re-organization of the Charlevoix Band Boosters. "Bring your ideas," Isenbarger said, and "help get the Band Boosters going again!"

Ratigan is speaker at Indiana Dunes program

William Ratigan, author and journalist, was guest speaker for the National Park Service at Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore, October 22. His program "Great Lakes Shipwrecks and Survivals" was held at the Visitor Center. Over three hundred people attended the lecture, the largest audience of the year. In addition to writing the popular historical novel, "Great Lakes Shipwrecks and Survivals", Ratigan has written, "Soo Canal!", "Captain McCargo", and "Straits of Mackinac!" among other titles.

In Charlevoix, he is best known for having founded an internationally known private press, complete with pressmark — The Dockside. He was accompanied for the talk by his daughter and son-in-law, Alvin and Pat Ranger, his brother Bernard Ratigan, and his grandson and wife, Art and Beth Ranger.

Sheriff issues report on Marine Patrol activities

The Sheriff's Department report on 1982 activities of its Marine Patrol Division indicates a busy summer.

Marine Deputies handled 64 marine-related complaints, issued 41 marine citations, issued 518 marine warnings, inspected 107 boats at rental liveries, inspected 595 pleasure boats, investigated four boating accidents, investigated three drownings, instructed 165 students in boating safety classes, recovered 15 boats, and recovered $21,550 in marine property.

Donald Sproul is the Deputy Sheriff and Officer in Charge of the Marine Division. The Marine Deputies are Ron Moore of Charlevoix and Hank Lentz of Boyne City.

Members of the Charlevoix County Unit of the American Cancer Society show off the two plaques they recently received for fund-raising activities. Seated are Ruth Price of Charlevoix and Lynda Christensen of Boyne City; standing behind are Claire Wilcox of Charlevoix and JoAnne Curtis, also of Charlevoix.

County cancer unit honored

by PEG OHLE

Members of the Charlevoix County Unit of the American Cancer Society recently received two important awards:

They received the Sword of Hope Award in recognition of outstanding achievement in exceeding their 1981-1982 challenge goal (102.6 percent), and the Outstanding Achievement Award for collecting 80 percent of their 1982-1983 goal by the end of the third quarter.

The 1981-1982 goal was $13,000 and the local Unit collected $13,337. The 1982-1983 goal is $13,750.

The Charlevoix County Unit of the Cancer Society obtains all its funds through its annual drive, from memorial contributions, and from such fund-raising projects as cook book and Christmas card sales. Part of the funds raised locally go to national and state eduction and research projects, but a large part remains in the County to serve local cancer patients.

Perhaps the most helpful service provided by the local unit is furnishing needed equipment from its loan closet. Such items as electric beds, wheel chairs, crutches, and walkers are available to those who need them. Financial help is also provided for some people, including paying mileage to and from therapy treatments for those who can't otherwise afford it.

Most Charlevoix County cancer patients learn about the services offered by the Cancer Society before they are released from the hospital, while others hear about them when they sign up for therapy, according to Ruth Price of Charlevoix, who is the group's Reach to Recovery chairman.

The local Cancer Society Unit is a county-wide organization, offering services to everyone in the County who needs them. Officers of the Unit come from the three cities in the County:

President, Lynda Christensen, Boyne City; vice-president, Linda Poole, East Jordan; secretary, Bonnia Staffel, Charlevoix; treasurer, Hugh Mason, Charlevoix; medical chairman, Michael Engel, D. O., Boyne City; crusade chairman, JoAnne Curtis, Charlevoix; crusade committee, Ginny Carey, East Jordan; memorial chairman and Reach to Recovery chairman, Ruth Price, Charlevoix; public education chairman, Sally Wolff, Boyne City; public information chairman, Chris Hubbarth, Charlevoix; service and rehabilitation co-chairmen, Chris Anderson and Clair Wilcox, Charlevoix.

The Charlevoix County Chapter of the American Cancer Society meets the third Monday of the month in rotating cities. The next meeting is scheduled for the Northwestern State Bank building in East Jordan on November 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the Society say they need "lots of help" from people who have some spare time and energy. Anyone wishing to volunteer should call Mrs. Lee Wilcox at 547-9367.

Demonstrating the use of one of ten infant seats now available on a loan basis from the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department is young Donald Russ Ward. Looking on, from left, are John Beckwith, Charlevoix area manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan, County Commissioner I. Lee Moerland and Sheriff George T. Lasater.

To loan infant seats

Since April 1, Michigan law has required all infant car passengers under age one to ride in an approved restraint seat and children between one and four to ride in an approved seat when they are in the front seat.

To help Charlevoix County parents of young children meet this requirement without having to buy an expensive restraint system, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department now has ten infant restraint seats on hand to be loaned. The seats were presented to the department by the Automobile Club of Michigan which has donated 600 child restraints to community loaner programs statewide. The program was brought to the attention of the Sheriff's Department by County Commissioner and District Health Board member I. Lee Moerland.

The infant seats are available on a first come first serve basis to any permanent resident of Charlevoix County. Application for a seat can be made at the Sheriff's Department. There is a $20 deposit fee required for one year's use of the seat; the fee will be returned to the user when the seat is returned in good condition. Use for longer than one year requires re-application.

Homemakers plan holiday program

The Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers of Charlevoix and Antrim Counties will be presenting their annual Holiday Program at the Community Reformed Church in Charlevoix on Saturday, November 13, from 9:30 to 1:30 p.m.

The public is invited to enjoy a variety of lessons and see demonstrations on Christmas projects and crafts.

Classes include Pastry Delights presented by the Commercial Foods Department of the Petoskey Area Skills Center; Holiday Plants and Greenery by Sue Smith, Greenleaf Country Gardens, Charlevoix; dried apple santas by Penny Lewis, Charlevoix County Extension Service; tatting with Judy Crooks, Charlevoix; tole painting taught by the House of Hobbies, Petoskey; radiant star with Leonna Winchester, Charlevoix and stained glass Christmas cookie ornaments, Sheri Rhoads, Charlevoix and Antrim County Extension Home Economist.

There is a small registration fee with pre-registration due November 10, 1982. Call Sheri Rhoads at the Charlevoix County Extension Office for more details, 582-6232.

Petoskey, Gaylord eke out wins over girls BB team

The Charlevoix girls basketball team lost two close games to strong opponents during the past week, losing to Petoskey 46-43 and to Gaylord by a score of 48-44.

On Tuesday the team will travel to Cheboygan and host Grayling on Thursday and Rogers City Nov. 9.

In the Petoskey game, Charlevoix tied the game with 15 seconds to go and then lost by three points as Petoskey pulled the game out with a field goal and charity shot in the final seconds. Charlevoix trailed 16-6, 27-17 and 35-31 by quarters. Laura Kemp had 22 points and Rhonda Buchanan 13 for Charlevoix. Sue Damschroeder 17 for Petoskey.

In the JV game, Charlevoix came from behind to win by a score of 44-34. Maureen Buday had 13 points for Charlevoix.

In the game with Gaylord, Charlevoix took an early lead and headed the visitors 15-12 at the quarter and 27-25 at the half before being outscored 13-7 as the second half got underway to trail 40-34 going into the final period of a game marred by 51 personal fouls.

Gaylord had 19 field goals and connected on 10 of 36 free throws while committing 28 personal fouls. Charlevoix had 17 from the floor, 10 of 32 free throws and 25 fouls.

Charlevoix lost four starters and Gaylord two via the foul route.

Angie McClanaghan and Mary Lenhart shared scoring honors with 11 points each. Julie Hansen had 14 for Gaylord.

Charlevoix won the JV game 28-23.

Rayder CC Express rolling keeps on

The Charlevoix Rayder Cross Country team added one more title to its impressive list, the Class C Regional title, at Ferris State College Saturday and qualified for state competition at Watervliet Saturday.

In winning the title, Bill Taylor finished first and team-mate John Tunison second as the team placed first with 37 points.

Charlevoix was followed by Reed City, second with 58 points Benzie Central, third with 99 points. All three qualified for state competition.

White Cloud with 149 points finished fourth; Muskegon Oakridge, fifth with 152; Hart, sixth with 164; Boyne City, seventh with 173; Mason County Central, eighth with 165; Lakeview, ninth with 213; Elk Rapids, tenth with 253 and Kalkaska, 11th with 262.

In winning the meet, Taylor covered the course in 15:59; Tunison, second in 16:15; Matt Peterson, eighth in 16:42; Lee Allard, 11th in 16:49; Matt Landon, 15th in 17:06; Bill Dohm, 20th in 17:12 and Ron Way, 32nd in 17:46.

Sandy Wanek, the only girl on the team, placed 35th in the open race for girls with a time of 23:13. She is a freshman.

Coach Peter Spieles had only praise for his runners. "These are boys who are dedicated. They give their best everytime we run. You will notice that they have been consistent. I can depend on them. They run their allotted time, they keep in shape. When one isn't having a good day, there's always someone to fill in the gap and run a little better than the time before. They're a good bunch of kids" was all Spieles would say of a team of whom he is so proud.

He then went on to relate incidents that happened in Saturday's meet. He said that in the early part of the race when runners were bunched together, Tunison had someone step on his heel which pulled his shoe off. This was at the end of the first half-mile of the three mile course. Tunison, without breaking stride, tried to get his foot back in the shoe and when, at the end of the first mile he hadn't succeeded, he kicked the shoe off and continued to run, coming in behind the winner, team-mate Taylor. Much the same thing happened to Allard who'd had his shoe pulled off while the runners were still bunched and, like Tunison, kicked his shoe off and finished the remaining two miles with only one shoe.

A short time later, Wally Drenth, Assistant Coach, walked up to Coach Spieles and, saying "I think these belong to you" handed him Tunison's and Allord's shoes.

"That will point up when I say these kids are dedicated. A thing like running over a strange course without a shoe didn't even cause them to stop, much less break stride" he commented.

The Rayders continue to be rated first in the Class C standings. Last week the Royders received the votres of all 15 judges.

Another 1st; Gaylord Inv.

The Charlevoix Rayder Cross Country team chalked up another first place in the last of the invitational meets in the area.

The Rayders, with 51 points, came in first in the Gaylord invitational followed by Rogers City with 71; Gaylord with 72; Petoskey, 99; Bay City Handy, 143 and Boyne City, 149.

Pete Bolen of Gaylord was the overall winner in a time of 15:54.

Matt Peterson came in fifth for Charlevoix with a time of 16:38; Bill Dohm, sixth in 16:42; John Tunison, ninth in 17:03; Lee Allard, 13th in 17:07; Ron Woy, 18th in 17:18 and Matt Landon, 23rd in 17:37.

The teom ran without Bill Toylor.

Gridders snap losing streak with shutout of Grayling, 21-0

The Charlevoix Red Rayders, hungry for a win after three straight defeats, took out their frustrations on hapless Grayling Friday night by shutting out the Vikings 21-0 at Kipke Field.

The Rayders stuck primarily to a balanced ground game amassing 250 net yards rushing in the contest. Three players were over 70 yards in individual rushing yardage. Quarterback Tim LaBlance passed only eight times, connected on one, but gained no yardage on that completion.

The defensive effort that kept Grayling out of the endzone all night was led by Thad Morgan and Jack Moran who each logged 12 tackles. Tim Bergmann had six, and Al Bergmann, Dan Buday and Alec Sheets four apiece.

It was the defense, in fact, who got the Rayders onto the scoreboard first. After scoreless football for the entire first half, Mark Oostmeyer snagged a third quarter interception on the Grayling 20 and ran it in for six points. The extra point attempt was no good giving Charlevoix a 6-0 advantage.

Later in the quarter, the offense finally came to life and capped a long drive with a Pat Mitchell touchdown run from eight yards out. Mitchell's TD was his ninth of the season. Jeff Lemerand took the ball on a two-point conversion attempt and smashed into the endzone to give the Rayders a 14-0 lead.

Lemarand struck again in the fourth quarter when he capitalized on two long runs by LaBlance and Morgan by going into the enzone from the two-yard line. Morgan kicked the conversion to make the score 21-0, the eventual final.

Mitchell racked up 99 yards in 18 carries to lead the Rayders in the rushing department; Morgan ran the ball six times for 79 yards, LaBance nine times for 73 yards and Lemerand five times for 10 yards.

Charlevoix's total offensive effort of 250 yards - all rushing - was matched by Grayling's 113-yard total output, 43 by passing and 70 rushing. Mistakes again hampered the Rayder attack as Charlevoix was penalized a total of 100 yards in the game compared to 40 for the Vikings.

Besides Oostmeyer's scoring interception, Dan Buday also recorded an interception while Dove Batdorff, Morgan and Moran all recovered fumbles.

Charlevoix and Grayling went into Friday night's game with identical 1-5 records. The Rayders will get one more chance to better their 2-5 mark against a 4-4 St. Ignace team Friday night when the team closes out their 1982 schedule at Kipke Field.

Last minute efforts help JV squad post win over Grayling

The Charlevoix Rayder JV football team pulled a game out in the closing minute of play last Thursday to down Grayling 30-22.

The young Rayders will close out the season at St. Ignace Thursday.

In the game at Grayling, Coach Brian Certa said his team had trailed the entire game when they gained possession of the ball on their own 30 with two minutes remaining. In a concerted drive, they moved the ball to the 20 where Brent Cole got off a 20 yard pass to Jim Martin for the winning touchdown with 30 seconds remaining. Kyle Smith ran the conversion.

Grayling got off to an early lead in the game on runs of 40 and 30 yards before Charlevoix got on the board with a 45 yard run by Martin who also ran the conversion.

Grayling countered with an 18 yard pass play for a third TD to take a 22-8 lead before Kyle Smith romped 45 yards to score and Martin tied the game 22-22 at halftime with a two point conversion.

With five minutes remaining in the final period Grayling got the ball but the Rayder line held and Charlevoix took over on their own 30 with two minutes remaining. With 50 seconds remaining Cole connected with Martin on the 20 yard pass for the victory. Smith ran the conversion to make the score 30-22.

Coach Brian Certa siad that the game gave Martin a 1,000 yard plus running record to date.

Certa credited Martin, Louis Raymond and Cole for outstanding performances on offense and Cris Havens, Pat Hamlin, John Pearl, Mark Trimper and Britt Center on defense.

"After trailing the entire game and pulling it out in the final seconds speaks well fo rthe team. They never gave up Certa said of the team.

Yachting Notes

After saying "Good Bye" for the Season, it's embarrassing to need one more issue to correct last week's column!

Because of an error in scoring one race, we reported a tie for first place, Fall Series, Overall and an incorrect tie breaker!

The corrected results in Overall are:

First: "Pine River Hummer" 13.25 points (1,2,2,5,5)

Second: "Indooroophilly" 13.50 points (1,2,3,4,5)

Third: "Bandit" 19.25 points (2,3,4,4,7)

Fourth: "Camouflage" 32.75 points (1,1,1,11,21)

Fifth: "Tigger" 38.50 points (3,3,4,13,16)

"Camouflage" missed the first race, but dropped that 25 point item. The missed bouy in the next to last race cost 21 points (as a "DNF") and the Fall Series Championship!

That's all for this year, folks!

Middle School posts wins

The Charlevoix Middle School girls basketball team posted victories last week as their eight-game schedules nears its conclusion.

The teams were scheduled to play at Cheboygan Monday night before going into the Middle School tourney at Cheboygan beginning Nov. 8. This will conclude the season.

In the games with Harbor Springs Wednesday night, the seventh graders won 19-15 and the eighth graders by a 15-10 margin.

Earlier in the week, the seventh grade had downed the Boyne City seventh graders 24-16 and the eighth graders won by a score of 24-9.

In the Harbor game, Charlevoix led 7-4 at halftime before winning 19-15. Monica Havens paced the game with eight points. Richards had nine for Harbor.

In the eighth grade game, Ann Kroll had six points as Charlevoix headed the visitors 4-2 at halftime before winning 15-10. Lisa Brady had four for Harbor.

In the seventh grade game with Bone City, Becky Smith had eight points as the seventh graders led 12-2 at halftime. Calleen Williams had the same number for Boyne City.

The eighth graders, playing a good defensive game, were ahead 11-0 at halftime before winning 24-9. Kendra Huldroath had four for the losers.

Charlevoix's Scott Morgan, above, is now displaying his football talents at Ferris State College, coached by Nick Coso. The 6-foot, 190-pound sophomore is a heavy-duty hitter who has been shifted from defensive back to outside linebacker this season. While in high school, Morgan was a four-sport man earning 10 prep letters in football, basketball, baseball and track. The son of Barry and Gwen Anderson of Charlevoix, Scott is majoring in business administration.

Middle School girls to enter Cheboygan Inv.

The Charlevoix Middle School girls basketball teams will enter the Cheboygan Invitational tournament Monday, Nov. 8 after completing an eight-game schedule.

Charlevoix's initial appearance in the six-team tournament will be Monday when the seventh grade meets their counterpart from Cheboygan Catholic at 3:45 p.m. and the eighth grade plays the Cheboygan Catholic eighth grade at 5 p.m.

The winners of these games will meet the seventh and eighth grades from Petoskey at 3:45 and 5 p.m., respectively, on Wednesday, Nov. 10. The losing teams will go into the consolation bracket where they will meet the losers of the Soo-Cheboygan-Newberry Games at 3:30 and 5 p.m., respectively, Monday, Nov. 15.

The finals in the winner's bracket will be played at 6 and 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 17. The finals in the consolation bracket will be played at 3:30 and 5 p.m. the same day.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made on the part of the mortgagors in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage given by MICHAEL P. KOVAL, a single man, to First Savings and Loan Association of Saginaw, Michigan, now known as Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan Association, bearing date the 22nd day of September, 1976 as recorded September 27, 1976 in Liber 147, Page 173, Charlevois County Records.

Because of said default, said Association by virtue of the option given it in said mortgage, has heretofore, and does now, declare the entire principal sum secured to be paid by said mortgage to be due and payable, and there is now claimed to be due and unpaid thereon the aggregate sum of $42,876.12 Dollars and, as of the date of the sale, the sum of not less than $43,248.76 Dollars and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover said sum, the debt remaining secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, which has become operative by reason of said default and the statutes in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described therein sold at public auction to the highest bidder, by the Sheriff of said County, on the 22nd day of November, 1982, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the Courthouse in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan; said Courthouse being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said County, which premises are situate and being in the Township of Melrose, County of Charlevois, State of Michigan and described as follows:

New H.I.P. program under Tom Terry bridges the gap between mainstreaming, special ed.

by ANNE KELLY

There's a brand new program based at the elementary school this year. Provided as a service of the Char-Em Intermediate School District and in conjunction with the Charlevoix Public Schools, the "H.I.P." (Highly Individualized Program) will hopefully bridge the gap between esistant special education programs and "mainstreaming", the term used when students with special needs are incorporated into regular classroom schedules. At present there are four H.I.P. classrooms in the Intermediate District: elementary programs in Petoskey and Charlevoix, and middle school programs in Boyne City and Littlefield (Alanson). Children who qualify for the program at Charlevoix Elementary school are drawn from the southern section of the Char-Em District, including the school districts of Boyne City, Central Lake, Ellsworth, East Jordan and Boyne Falls.

It takes a special teacher to staff such a classroom, and Tom Terry is a well-qualified instructor for the program. A visit to the H.I.P. classroom by this reporter, confirmed the fact that children with special needs do well in this highly structured situation, apparently thriving in the atmosphere of security and kindness which prevail there.

"I feel like a 1st year teacher," Tom commented to a parent group at a recent meeting in which he explained his program, "but I feel welcome here." He feels that his self-contained classroom which is open to the comings and goings of the rest of the school, is a perfect atmosphere in which to develop the concentration needed for the learning of basic skills, at the same time it affords his students the sense of belonging to a larger group of their peers.

Hardly a 1st year teacher, Tom is perhaps better known to the community as school psychologist, a position which he held for most of his seven years with Char-Em. Tom holds degrees in Business Administration and Education, a M.A. in Elementary Education, a Specialist's degree in School Psychology, and is presently working on his Ph.D. in Family Ecology all out of Michigan State University. As part of his Ph.D. work, Tom is presently collecting data to the Charlevois area for the M.S.U. Institute for Family and Child Study.

He has previously held teaching positions in Kalkaska Lapeer, and Traverse City before joining the staff at Char-Em in 1975. He has, other than serving as school psychologist in the area, taught a pre-school Developmental Needs class in East Jordan and a class in Human Growth and Development at North Central Michigan College. His course work in the field of family ecology is directed primarily to his interest in the families of the handicapped and step families.

"There seemed to be a need for something beyond the learning center," he esplained. "H.I.P." students spend most of their learning day in a self-contained classroom with their teacher and an aide. The program is referred to as "highly individualized" because that is exactly what the classroom provides: highly structured, teacher directed, flesible when appropriate learning esperiences which are tailor-made for each student. It is designed to meet individual needs, foster individual abilities, and realize individual limitations, all within an atmosphere of gentle firmness and high espectations.

How does a student qualify for "H.I.P."? Referrals are a result of team diagnosis. Char-Em specialists, parents and teachers all participate in making the decision to enter a child in the program. The categories of individual need include: a) the educable mentally impaired; b) the emotionally (neurologically) impaired; c) the physically or otherwise health impaired and d) children with learning disabilities.

Presently there are six children in Tom's class which can accomodate ten students maximum. There are three from Charlevois, and one each from Boyne City, Central Lake and Ellsworth. The children range in age from 6-11 and qualify for "H.I.P." by virtue of one of the handicaps mentioned previously. Although the children are unable to succeed in a regular classroom situation, they are mainstreamed for the special subjects of music, art and physical education and have lunch and play on the playground with their peers. Some students may be able to attend regular reading classes but homebase for individualized work in other areas is in the H.I.P. room.

"We stress self-awareness, self identity and give lots of positive reinforcement," Tom esplained. Tom and aide Mari Bascom work on student behavior, like sitting in their seats, raising their hands to speak, paying attention, doing their work and learning social behavior, i.e., being polite and waiting turns right along with teaching basic learning skills.

Tom is most enthusiastic about the possibilities for growth in the H.I.P. classroom and is ansious to explore new ways and new techniques for espanding the world and esperiences of the handicapped child. Right now, for example, the class is learning simple equestrian terms like: saddle, horse and mane. This is in preparation for an opportunity presented to the progam to participate in a horseback riding esperience for handicapped children being offered through El Lobo Ranch in Harbor Springs, which will improve balance, help children to relate to animals and participate in a unique group experience.

Taking the children at their ability level and going from there is the focus of H.I.P. Instead of getting the feeling that education is headed up a deed-end street for impaired children, one is encouraged by the overall feeling in Tom's classroom of optimism, joy and high hopes.

Tom Terry works with student Krista Williams, 7, of Charlevoix.

State Bar pres. speaks here

"A bar association that ignores its obligations to reach out and serve its community will be a failure," John A. Krsul, president of the State Bar of Michigan, told the Emmet-Charlevoix Bar Association at its monthly meeting held October 27 at the Grey Gables in Charlevoix.

"That is why the State Bar of Michigan is committed to supporting programs which enhance the delivery of legal services to all segments of the community," he added.

Krsul said that, 'as president, he is seeking to make outreach the underlying theme supporting programs of the State Bar. Outreach to the public is especially important in terms of making legal services available and affordable to all, particularly the poor and middle class," Krsul said.

He noted that he has asked the State Bar to continue its efforts to retain funding for the federally supported Legal Services Corporation, which oversees local Legal Aid programs serving the indigent and poor.

"Fereral government funding may continue to decline, however," Krsul said. "To fill the void, I supported the State Bar decision to make funds available for local projects by providing $50,000 for state legal essistance operations. In addition, I am encouraging bar leaders, legal service agencies and Michigan attorneys to increase pro bono work to help meet the need."

Krsul also noted that today's economic climate is forcing many middle class individuals to put off legal help when they need it because, in this era of tight budgets, they believe they cannot aford to pay legal fees.

"Prepaid legal services are a key element of any delivery program, and the State Bar remains committed to espanding such plans in Michigan. The bar supports open-panel, participating-attorney plans. These have made Michigan a leader in delivering legal services to the middle class."

Krsul said he will also address the problem of public misunderstandings about the law and the role of attorneys in society.

"The public is the direct beneficiary of the work done by lawyers, and we will attempt to better educate it about the role lawyers play in public service," he said.

Krsul also noted that the State Bar will continue assisting its various committees in updating the organization's long-range plans and goals so, that it will be ready for the future and prepared to help its members deliver legal services to all segments of society.

"With the help of each member," Krsul said, "the State Bar will meet its obligations to serve everyone in the Michigan community."

St. Mary's students learn origins of Halloween

by ANNE KELLY

The origin of modern day Halloween dates back many centuries. Today children dress up in colorful costumes and have parades and parties, or go trick-or-treating. But St. Mary's students are being reminded this week that Halloween was originally "Hallowed Eve", the night before the Christian feast of All Saints Day which is celebrated Nov. 1. In the early Church, Christians would dress up to commemorate their patron saints, holy men and women who were venerated by the church for the example they set for others in their life by living and dying for God. They would then form a procession to their church to celebrate midnight Mass.

Pagans, those not converted to Christainity or holding with the Jewish tradition, perhaps feeling slighted by the custom, did their best to show their disdain and often ridiculed the Christians by dressing up as just the opposite: Satan figures like ghosts, devils and witches.

Eventually, over a period of centuries, the customs evolved, modified and even merged into the relatively benign celebration which we know today as Halloween, still however celebrated the night before All Saints Day.

This year, Christians have renewed cause to observe the feast of All Saints Day. The recent canonization of Father Maximilian Kolbe has proclaimed Father Kolbe to the the official "Saint of Auschwitz". This Franciscan priest volunteered to take the place of a Polish army sergeant in a random punishment of prisoners at that concentration camp. Father Kolbe was inhumanely starved to death, and when he did not succumb after two weeks, was injected with a dose of lethal acid. He died on August 14, 1941, in the "Block of Death" at Auschwitz. The sergeant whose life he saved, Francis Gajowniczek, and another prisoner who was also with Fr. Kolbe at Auschwitz, Francis Mleczko, were present at the canonization this month in Rome.

St. Mary's students celebrated Halloween in the ancient tradition of dressing up like their favorite saint, and also portrayed the life of Father Kolbe by enacting a play entitled "A Twentieth Centruy Saint".

Grandstaff, who has a degree in theatre arts was with the international cast of Up with People. He has performed radio dramas for public radio and is currently with the news department of WPZ Petoskey.

The delightful swaggering son of the King, Prince Cholalongkorn, is played by Boyne City High School student Mark Bogetto, who began his acting career eight years ago in another production of the "King and I", Louis, Anna's 12 year old son, is played by Michael Stargardt of Charlevoix, who first performed in Petoskey in "Oliver".

The supporting cast includes 18 area young people as the royal children, Diana Mason and a corps de ballet, 7 additional royal wives and several palace guards.

The King and I is a complex production with subplots, elaborate scenery and magnificent costumes. As director Pat Stedman of Harbor Springs commented recently, "It is complex. We've depended on a lot of people to bring all the parts together.

"It looks wonderful. I'm excited," the director says as the play goes into its final week of rehearsal.

"King and I" opens Nov. 11 with performances the 12, 13, 16, 18, 19, 20 and a matinee Sunday the 21st. Tickets are available at the art center, Hovays in Harbor Springs, The Apple Tree in Charlevoix and Photo Art Shop in Petoskey.

American Legion Auxiliary plans casserole luncheon

The American Legion Auxiliary will host a casserole luncheon at the American Legion Post Home, Wednesday, Nov. 10 Mrs. Ray Wood, president of the sponsoring organization, has announced.

The luncheon, to be served from 11:30 until 1:30 p.m. will feature a wide variety of casserole dishes and salads, rolls, dessert and a choice of beverage.

Tickets will be $2.50 and senior citizens, $2.25.

Mrs. William Farkas is general chairman of the event. She will be assisted by Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Milo Smith, Mrs. Henry Borths, Mrs. Gergrude Holt, Mrs. Lillian Hull and Mrs. George Luchner.

Advice to landowners

Charlevoix County landowners who want to give friends and relatives permission to hunt on their property should give them a signed permit.

The permit forms can be obtained at the offices of the Charlevoix County Sheriff or from individual deputies. According to Sheriff George T. Lasater, the permit will assist law enforcement officers when responding to trespassing complaints and help the property owner and hunter as well.

The permit, which is to be signed by the landowner and the hunter, also shows a description of the property on which hunting permission is being givewn, and notes that by signing the permit, the hunter agrees to observe the rules of safe gun handling, not to shoot in the direction of buildings or livestock, to leave gates as found, and to use care in crossing fences.

May filter TCE out temporarily

City to tap lake water?

by DAVE KNIGHT

Under citizen pressure for a quick solution to the TCE problem but hearing expert advice to seek a long term remedy, the Charlevoix City Council leaned Monday night toward a program integrating both approaches.

Meeting as a committee of the whole, the council, with about 25 interested citizens on hand, heard David Rommelmann of Granger Engineering, Inc. of Gaylord recommend that a system be constructed to treat Lake Michigan water for city use as opposed to drilling new wells or filtering the existing city well supply.

Rommelmann's advisory was part of a study commissioned by the city and conducted by Granger to determine alternatives in eliminating trichloroethylene (TCE) from the city water supply. Detected one year ago, the industrial chemical suspected to cause cancer has been monitored at various times over the year at levels of up to 51 parts per billion.

After drilling 11 test wells this past summer with no conclusive results, the city has abandoned the search for the source of the TCE, according to City Manager Robert Hunt. The analysis of two additional test wells drilled in October has not yet been received, however, he noted.

Thus the Granger analysis, explained Rommelmann, made no attempt to quantify the TCE levels or identify the source. The study deals only with three potential alternatives to ridding the TCE from the municipal water system. Following are summarizations of the study's findings:

1. Filtration

A carbon activated filter system would reduce TCE down to less than 1 ppb. Other chemical properties of the water, such as hardness, would be unaffected. The quantity available, in a two-phase construction program, would meet the city's current maximum demand of 1.9 million gallons a day in Phase One and meet the 20-year projected demand of 2.4 mgd in Phase Two. Construction cost for Phase One would be $712,040. Phase Two would add another $340,550 for a total project cost of $1,052,590. Operation and maintenance would cost $143,870. The reliability of such a system is rated at "fair" for Phase One, "good" for Phase Two. There is no perceived risk in source development. Rommelmann explained that the carbon filters would have to be backwashed regularly to rid them of particulate buildup and bacteria growth. They would also have to be replaced annually, he added.

2. Lake water

The water quality of Lake Michigan, said Rommelmann, is considered generally superior to groundwater. Although the sodium level is higher - 5 ppm compared to 3 ppm - nitrates, hardness and chloride would sll be lower. TCE does not exist in lake water. The available quantity of water is obviously adequate to surpass the 2.4 million mgd projected demand. The estimated cost of a treatment system constructed at the site of the existing city well is $1,421,100 minus whatever could be saved by incorporating the exsiting pumping facilities. Cost for operation and maintenance would be $117,700. The reliability of such a system is rated "excellent" and there is no risk involved in developing the source.

3. New wells

A new groundwater source would Flight station bid is in

by PEG OIHLE

Charlevoix County, through its Economic Development Corporation (EDC), has offered a proposition to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) for the establishment of an automated flight service station at the Charlevoix airport.

The proposition, prepared by County Planner Lawrence Sullivan under the direction of an EDC sub-committee, was forwarded to the FAA in time to meet a November 1 deadline. Details of the proposition have not been made public, however, apparently because the committee does not want other counties to learn what Charlevoix County is offering as an inducement.

The FAA is seeking a building of at least 11,000 square feet, equipped to certain special specifications, at or near an airport, which it could lease over a period of 20 years for a nominal sum, perhaps as little as $1 a year.

The facility will be located somewhere within the state and will provide weather information and other services for the entire Lower Peninsula and the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula. It is estimated that the facility will employ 60 to 80 people and generate an annual payroll of up to $1.5 million initially, with prospects for a larger operation in future years.

While no cost figures for the proposition presented to the FAA are available, when the project was originally discussed last summer, it was determined that construction of a building under FAA guidelines would run about $600,000. Since the FAA pointedly noted in its solication for offers that Terre Haute, Indiana had offered to build and equip an automated flight station there and lease it for $1 a year, it is believed that a similar offer will be necessary to secure the proposed flight station in Michigan.

The Charlevoix County EDC proposition to the FAA was prepared with funds provided by Charlevoix County, the City of Charlevoix, the Charlevoix Development Corporation, and Charlevoix Township. No further local funds will be solicited for the project unless and until Charlevoix County is awarded the flight station. The county has no commitment and may withdraw its offer at any time.

If Charlevoix County's proposition for the flight station is accepted and the county decides to follow through on the project, then ways of paying for the building must be decided upon. Among possibilites would be for the county to issue bonds for the necessary funds and redeem them with voted millage; another way would be for private enterprise to assume the cost of the building; Still another way would be to use a combination of public and private funds.

All offers for the flight station will remain open until September, 1983, which supposedly means that they can be revised by those submitting them until that time – therefore the assumed need for secrecy. It is known that Emmet, Antrim, Otsego, and Alpena Counties are among those in northern Michigan seeking the flight station, in addition to Charlevoix County.

There is no secret about the offer made by Otsego County. A story in the Gaylord Herald-Times proclaimed that Otsego County had offered to "build a $600,000 facility and lease it to the federal government for $1 a year."

The suggested location for the proposed flight station in Charlevoix is on US-31 South, just south of Harbor Industries, Inc., and adjoining the airport. In its early planning of the flight station proposition, the EDC sub-committee considered the possibility of renovating a Harbor Industries building, but finally decided against the idea.

The community to which the flight station is awarded must have it ready for occupancy by February, 1985.

Members of the Charlevoix County EDC flight station sub-committee are Richard Sayward of Charlevoix, Charles Shenk of East Jordan, and Casimir Toton of Boyne City.

Rayder harriers win state Class C title

by FRAN MARTIN

The Charlevoix Rayder Cross Country team, coached by Pete Spieles, proved Saturday that they deserved the top spot in the state ratings that they've received in recent weeks by winning the State Class C Title...Charlevoix's first title ever.

In winning the title, the Rayders settled for 73 points and placed three runners, Bill Taylor and John Tunison, both juniors, and Matt Peterson, a senior, on the All-State Class C team.

"I was sure we could do it. This has been a bunch of kids dedicated to the cause. They proved they deserved the top spot in the weekly

Volunteers to conduct Lake Charlevoix testing

by DAVE KNIGHT

With Lake Charlevoix's 65 miles of shoreline and 800-plus shoreline property owners, it would take an army to conduct weekly tests of the entire lake for the bacterial byproducts of civilization. But that is just what the Lake Charlevoix Property Owners Association (LCPOA) has in mind: an army of volunteers.

By next spring, the association hopes to have enough volunteers enlisted to conduct weekly tests for coliform bacteria in at least two dozen suspected problem areas. Those areas were visited recently on a day-long automobile tour around the lake by a contingent of the LCPOA Board of Directors.

Guiding the tour were Chuck Grant, a water quality expert from the Northwest Michigan Regional Planning and Development Commission, and Larry Levengood, District Health Department sanitarian and member of the Citizens Clean Water Policy Advisory Committee.

Grant is currently completing a two-year algal study of the Lake Charlevoix shoreline which is being used by the LCPOA as a reference guide to areas where polluting nutrients may be entering the lake.

In his study, Grant walked almost the entire shoreline of the lake, including the South Arm, scanning for a type of shoreline algae known as cladophora. Cladophora is a common algae that forms a dense, fibrous green mat on rocks or logs submerged in shallow water along the shore. In a relatively clean lake such as Lake Charlevoix, cladophora growth indicates a concentrated presence of nutrients entering the lake. Thus it can be used as a fairly accurate indicator of potential pollution sources.

Each time he observed cladophora growth on his trek around the lake, Grant noted the extent of the growth and logged a physical description of the landscape, including nearby buildings. From this data, the LCPOA has designated at least 24 spots in the lake to be tested for coliform bacteria, organisms found in the intestinal tracts of animals and humans. Coliform bacteria, which typically find their way into Lake Charlevoix from old, inadequate or faulty septic systems, pose a public health threat to swimmers and other recreational users of the lake.

Grant noted, however, that raw sewage is not the only type of nutrient that can cause cladophora growth so the algae is not always a sign of sewage discharge. Phosphorus and nitrogen, prime components of lawn fertilizer, are other nutrients commonly introduced into the lake as a result of shoreline development. Even areas in which ducks regularly congregate, of which there are a few in Lake Charlevoix, are apt to have an overabundance of nutrients from the resulting excrement.

According to LCPOA President Donald Yenni, the coliform testing program to be mounted next season will require a sizeable number of dedicated volunteers. At the 24 designated areas - plus any others which volunteers offer to test - a water sample must be drawn each week and sent to the State Health Department laboratory downstate. Results from the laboratory analysis of each sample will then be forwarded to the District No. 3 Health Department in Charlevoix

Consumers ordered to refigure pool criticality

by DAVE KNIGHT

An Atomic Safety and Licensing Board order dated October 29 gives Consumers Power Company 60 days to modify calculations on the potential of fuel pool criticality at the Big Rock nuclear plant.

The decision applies to Consumers' application, pending before the board, to expand the spent fuel pool at Big Rock. It comes as a result of hearings held on the application this past summer at Boyne Mountain resort.

In the 25-page, highly technical document, the ASLB questions calculations used by Consumers Power in determining at what point the spent fuel pool would reach unacceptable levels of neutron multiplication, or, criticality, in the case of loss of cooling water or a distortion of the fuel racks caused by a dropped fuel assembly or other occurence.

The board also questioned the thoroughness of its own staff's review of the Consumer analysis.

According to the bord order, Consumers has a 60-day period to amend its application to reflect the ASLB concern that calculations on spent fuel pool citicality are not conservative enough.

Robert Grupp, Big Rock spokesman, said Monday, "It is our opinion that the ASLB is adding more conservatives on top of the conservatives that are already in the exisitng analysis. What they are requiring of Big Rock is different than any other plant."

Grupp added that a decision had not been made as to whether the board order will be appealed.

Gaskin tells of Iddings family

John Gaskin, a former resident who has returned to Charlevoix to make his home, presented the history of the Iddings family at a recent meeting of the Charlevoix Historical Society.

He spoke of his grandfather, Harvey Lee Iddings, who was born in Oxford, Ohio, in November 1856, and who came to Charlevoix at a young age. He was graduated from the Charlevoix High School and Albion College. He became the first mayor of Charlevoix.

He entered the hardware business with M.J. Stockman in 1880. The business bore the name of Stockman and Iddings Hardware. Later he became sole owner and the store was known as the Charlevoix Hardware Co. In 1887 he was married to the fomrer Nellie Gayle.

Mr. Gaskin read Mr. Iddings obituary which had appeared in the Charlevoix Sentinel, a weekly newspaper, at the time of his death in 1910. It told of his interests in municipal affairs and mentioned that he had been a member of the Charlevoix Improvement Association in the 1880s.

His father was the Rev. Jospeh Iddings, a Republican who spoke often in national and state campaigns. He was also a supervisor of the township and a member of the Charlevoix Board of Education, Methodist Church, Masons and the Maccabees. He had a strong personality, Mr. Gaskin commented. He lived at the corner of Park Ave. and Grant St. The present address of the house is 300 Park Ave.

Mr. Gaskin's mother was Constrance Iddings Gaskin. Mr. Gaskin was born in the house at 300 Park Ave.

Mr. Gaskin said his grandfather was shopping in Block's Grocery Store on Bridge St. when he was stricken and died.

Mr. Gaskin displayed many pictures of his family and also a 1910-11 program of the Charlevois Historical Society.

Pine River Place notes

Halloween was celebrated at Pine River Place with a special program arranged by Harold McFarland.

More than 90 including tenants and their guests, many in costume, turned out for the event which featured music by the youg Harmeling Brothers of Boyne City; the Chicken Dance, a Canadian import, by Ivy Woodcock and Betty Taylor and vocal selections by the "Misfits", a barbershop quartet composed of Si Doctor, Sr., Harold Lendenbaum, Si Doctor, Jr., and McFarland.

Refreshments including cider and a choice of donuts followed.

Mac McFarland was master of ceremonies.

In mid-October, tenants gathered in the lounge for a Pizza Party followed by a social hour.

Recently, the Charlevois Area Hospital sponsored a program at Pine River Place, which was open to the public, relating to the problem common to senior citizens. Speakers were Dr. Merle Plagge and Dr. Bruce Lindsay of the hospital staff.

More than 50 seniors including tenants attended the clinic.

Last weak, the Courier ran a picture of 13 young ladies and a lone young man, all dressed in graduation attire. We identified the young man as Albert Taylor and asked for help in identifying the young ladies.

Benona Kohler has come to the rescue. Mrs. Kohler believes the picture was taken about 1912 and is of the eighth grade graduating class. She identified the young lady in the middle of the top row as Mary Kirschner Cooper, the eighth grade teacher.

She identified the first girl in the bottom row as Marsha Goss, the third girl as Annis Driggett, and the fourth girl as Helen Parsons.

Mrs. Kohler also identified the second girl in the second row as Helen Marking and the third girl (fourth person) as Dorothy Armstrong, daughter of the late Dr. Robert B. Armstrong.

Unemployment at 14.6

With 1,325 residents out of work for an unemployment rate of 14.8 percent in September, Charlevoix County had the highest unemployment rate of the three Counties served by the Petoskey office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

Emmet County had an unemployment rate of 9.8 percent, and Otsego County had an unemployment rate of 10.4 percent.

Tbs figures were provided by the MESC.

Board hearings set for budget, Weathervane

Two important public hearings will be held by the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners as part of their regular meeting today (Wednesday, November 10) in the County Building Annes.

The most important meeting is scheduled for 2 p.m., which all citizens, especially senior citizens, are invited to attend to provide County Commissioners with written and oral comments and ask questions concerning the General Fund budget and the relationship of Reveoue Sharing Funds to that budget.

The entire proposed budget for 1983 and a statement on the proposed uses of Revenue Sharing funds can be viewed every day this week at the office of the County Clerk in the County Building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The other hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m., at which time County Commissioners will hear written and oral arguments about the plan of the Charlevoix Development Company to use the services of the County Economic Development Corporation in helping to finance an espansion of the Weathervane Terraca Inn in Charlevoix.

Spanish Club to give away ski package

The Spanish Club at the Charlevois High School is selling tickets on a ski package and a host of other prizes as a fund raising project, Ted Miller, club sponsor, has announced.

The proceeds of the give-away will be used toward a trip to Spain for Spanish Club members in the spring of 1984.

The give-away include 22 prizes valued at more than $600 in merchandise from various Charlevois businesses. The grand prize is a complete cross country ski package valued at $150 donated by the Bahnhof of Charlevoix and Petoskey.

Tickets, which cost $1 or six for $5 may be purchased at the Bahnhof or at Room 24 at Charlevoix High School. Club members are also selling tickets.

The drawing will be held at the first home game of the Rayder basketball team Dec. 3.

Opinion

Knight on the Town
Let's do it

by Dave Knight

Support for an economic bonanza worth literally millions of dollars to Charlevoix and surrounding communities is gaining momentum at a rapid pace among Chambers of Commerce and several units of local government. The word is salmon...as in Chinook...the King.

The possibility of establishing a Chinook salmon fishery in Lake Charlevoix took a quantum leap forward last Thursday when a couple hundred sport fishermen gathered in East Jordan to hear DNR fishery experts say the idea can work, downstate coastal residents say it has worked and local backers say it will work.

Nobody, it should be added, said it will be easy.

If, for example, 500,000 salmon are planted at the mouth of the Jordan River next spring, ten percent, or 50,000 fish, can be expected to turn up at the that spot three years hence when they are mature enough to spawn. Its agreed by all that, uncontrolled, such a run would be disastrous to the fragile upstream environment. Snagging, trespass and odorous accumulations of dead fish are just some of the problems that would result.

Said David Borgeson, assistant chief for programs in the DNR fisheries division, "One part of salmon fishing that gives it a black eye is the intense concentration that occurs of both fish and fishermen."

The answer lies in a highly sophisticated weir system, tried and tested on both the Manistee and Platte Rivers, which could perform a variety of important functions. Its primary objective would be to prevent salmon from getting upstream while letting browns and steelhead through. This is accomplished by allowing both salmon and trout climb a fish ladder into a resting pond. From there, they are all channeled onto a stainless steel table where the salmon are picked out and the trout put into a tube that shoots them right back into the river going upstream.

The salmon harvested by the weir would then be sold to a processor. At the Platte River, the best, most silver fish was selling for up to 95 cents a pound making it a distinctly profitable venture. It should be noted that East Jordan already has one food processing plant; could not the entire production process - with the many jobs it would entail - be kept completely local?

A third major role of the weir would be to keep lamprey eels out of the Jordan. The lampreys would not be able to climb the fish ladder and thus not be allowed access to the river bed in which they reproduce. By eliminating lampreys with a weir, the costly and ecologically questionable practice of treating the river with strong chemicals would be unneccessary.

Says Myri Keller, director of the DNR fishery station in Charlevoix, "We don't want the lampreys in the river and we don't want the chemicals either. With chemicals that strong, we know that other organisms in the river are being affected. The money saved by eliminating lampricides alone would almost pay for a weir."

Thus is raised the big question? Who pays. According to both Borgeson and Keller, if the public support for a salmon program is strong enough and makes itself heard, the Great Lakes Fishery Commission could come up with a large portion of the cost of the weir, estimated at up to $500,000.

The adequacy of this type of program for the Lake Charlevoix watershed is astounding. The annual salmon run starts around Labor Day and extends into October - a perfect extension of the existing tourist season without overlap. The protection offered by Lake Charlevoix would allow even more fishing than in Ludington or Manistee where rough weather on the Big Lake can keep many boats tied to the dock during prime spawning runs. The marina facilities are already in place and growing - at least in Charlevoix. For pier fishermen, a beautiful new pierhead has been finished on the north side of the Pine River channel where there will be lots of action when the salmon head into the river system.

From the thrill of hauling in a 40-pound King on the lake to the welcome ring of the cash register register downtown, a well-run salmon fishery has much to offer this area. Hopefully all area sportsmens clubs, the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce and the Charlevoix City Council will join their colleagues from other nearby communities in voicing strong support for a salmon plant this spring.

Letters: Military-Industrial Complex

To the Editor:

The letter of Ray E. Peltz, entitled "Reagan's a Big Spender" which appeared in your October 27th issue, was both highly informative and singularly timely. I should like to supplement it with some observations of my own.

President Eisenhower sternly warned the nation of the danger of domination by a "military-industrial complex" in his farewell address, televised in January, 1961. Yet - when runaway spending threatens to wreck our economy, this warning is almost totally disregarded. The subject is unpopular - with industry, with the military establishment and with the Administration. But the nation will ignore it at its peril.

Said President Eisenhower: the United State has been compelled to create a permanent armaments industry of vast proportions; and to add to this 3½ million men and women directly engaged in the "defense establishment". Twenty years ago that was the situation. How enormous in size and power must that establishment now be!

President Eisenhower recognized the imperative need for this development and for a mighty defense, "ready for instant action". But, referring to the "conjunction" of such immense military establishment and "large arms industry" be nevertheless urged that we do not "fail to comprehend its grave implications".

In the councils of Government he said: we must "guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military - industrial complex". In that complex, he declared "the potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will exist". And, he concluded with this exhortation: "We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberty or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense."

The "conjunction" of industry and the military in such powerful complex is critically relevant today to our pressing financial, social and economic problems. Some of these are: the imperative need to bring our huge escalating budget under control; the need to cut dreastically our mounting deficits - the largest in history, - conceded by President Reagan to be the "core of our economic ills"; the need to make balanced judgments between military spending and spending for social programs; and the need to increase our national debt ceiling to $1,290 billion, as now proposed by the Administration.

On all of these problems the amount of defense spending is an essential consideration. Yet, in his tax policy address on August 16, 1982, President Reagan adamantly reaffirmed a belief on which he had campaigned in 1980: that defense spending is one area of Government spending which "could not be reduced but, must, instead be increased". But, no program of Government is sacrosanct or should be free from continuing critical analysis in the light of emerging realities. Such devotion to "consistency" is not a virtue.

Perhaps President Reagan might also reflect upon some further farewell advice by President Eisenhower. He counseled that each program must be weighed in the light of broader considerations, and stressed the "need to maintain balance in our national programs - balance between the private and the public economy".

Dwight D. Eisenhower - surely a foremost authority on national defense in its relation to presidential functioning - boldly warned against possible domination by a military - industrial complex. Equally boldly President Reagan should, in the national interest, consider, evaluate and strongly deal with such possible domination today.

I'm Chiquita Banana and I've come to say
Bananas have to ripen in a certain way.
When they are flecked with brown
And are a golden hue,
Bananas taste the best
And are the best for you.

You can put 'em in a salad,
You can put 'em in a pie, Ay!
Any way you want to eat 'em,
It's impossible to beat 'em.

But bananas like the climate
Of the very, very tropical equator,
So you should never put bananas
In the refrigerator.

Remember that old singing commercial from the days of radio? Of course you do, if you were around in the 1940s. My problem, Mr. Anthony, is that I not only remember such junk, but I find it impossible to forget it.

I am beginning to wonder how much clutter I have stored away in my cranial computer. I am afraid the floppy disc in my head must be filled almost to capacity. Unless I can get rid of some of it, the entire system may become overloaded and crash, to borrow some of the jargon from the computer age.

My grandmother, for example, died in 1938. Yet why, after 44 years, do I still remember her telephone number (TOwnsend 7-6721)? It is information I will never use if I live to be 1,000, yet the number is so deeply engraved in my brain that I can still hear my mother dialing it on our old pedestal telephone. I always knew when she was calling grandma by the two short strokes at the end.

For some reason, much of the trivia I have stored away comes from the early days of radio and I wonder why so many educators prefer visual aids over audio aids to impart information to the young. I think audio impressions may be stronger, since they require the listener to summon up his own visual images.

There is no reason why I should remember that Andrew H. Brown on the radio program "Amos and Andy" had a girlfriend named Madam Queen and a secretary named Miss Blue. Or why Fibber Magee and Molly lived at 79 Wistful Vista. Or why the opening lines from "The Hermit's Cave" have been cast in bronze somewhere in my cerebellum:

Ghost stories, weird stories, the Hermit knows of them all. Turn out your light. Turn them out! While the Hermit tells you the story of...

What I need, of course, is a computer "kill" button somewhere on my anatomy that would allow me to delete superfluous information from my memory bank and, hopefully, free additional capacity for pertinent data that might be of some use.

Why, for example, must I be burdened for the rest of my days with the names of all of the towns between Detroit and Lansing along the route of Old U.S.-16? Farmington, Novi, New Hudson, Brighton, Fowlerville, Webberville, Williamston, East Lansing, Lansing. When you take I-96 today you don't see one of them.

Or why should I, who am well into my middle years, be bothered remembering the names of Snow White's Seven Dwarfs? Sneezy, Grumpy, Doc, Sleepy, Happy, Dopey and Bashful.

It's ridiculous:

Pepsi Cola hits the spot,
Twelve full ounces that's a lot,
Twice as much for a nickle, too,
Pepsi Cola is the drink for you.
Nickle, nickle, nickle, nickle...

TCE study: Lake usage is most feasible

probably mean slightly more iron, sodium and hardness in the water but no chloride as opposed to the 5 ppm in the exisiting system. TCE concentration would hopefully be eliminated. Again, a two-phase construction program is suggested. Phase One would meet the current maximum demand of 1.9 mgd with Phase Two designed to meet the 2.4 mgd projection. Estimated cost for Phase One is $671,440, Phase Two, $596,960; total: $1,268,400. Operation and maintenance costs would be $59,100. The reliability of Phase One is rated as "fair", Phase Two "good" and overall, "good". The risk of this alternative is rated at "medium to high" because of the vulnerability of any new groundwater source to future chemical contamination.

In his presentation, Rommelmann pointed to long term reliability, long term cost savings and ease of implementation as the major factors justifying his recommendation of Alternative No. 2, use of lake water.

Several citizens at the meeting, however, were concerned about the two-year period it would take to put a lake treatment system on line.

Advocates of a filtration system included Thomas Duke who disputed the Granger cost estimates of a filter and maintained that "an expense of $120,000 could solve the problem in three weeks."

Duke said he had received estimates from the Calgon Company, makers of carbon filter systems, that such a system could operate for all but the 180 hours a year when water usage is at peak flow.

He further expressed dissatisfaction with delays in eliminating TCE saying, "We came before the council five months ago. What are you (the council) waiting for? I say purify the water now and make long term modifications later."

When asked by Duke if he (Rommelmann) would allow his wife and children to drink Charlevoix city water, Rommelmann answered, "No."

Rommelmann contended, however, that he viewed the filtration alternative proposed by Duke as oversimplified and characterized it as "a short term solution to a long term problem.

Charlevoix First State Bank President Louis Hollow repeated an offer made earlier this year to lend the city the neccessary funds at low interest rates if the TCE problem is solved by January 1, 1983.

Alvin Ranger of Ranger Engineering proposed that a temporary filtration system be used while a new lake-water treatment plant is designed and built.

Added Ranger, a resident of Charlevoix Township, "Both the city and the township should be working together in developing a new water supply."

City Manager Hunt explained methods of raising up to $1.3 million for a water quality improvement program using various combinations of millages, water rates and possible grants.

Mayor Kenneth Staley ended the discussion saying, "We (mayor and council) seem to be in accord with alternative number two and would further like to see Dave Rommelmann investigate the capital cost of a temporary solution."

No action was taken by the council Monday night because of the meeting's designation as a work session, not a regular council meeting.

LCPOA to organize lake tests

and the LCPOA which will compile the data into a comprehensive report.

Where possible, cooperative property owners will be asked to help with the sampling in their area. In other areas, samples will be taken by boat. Yenni said that in cases where people did not want to commit themselves to taking a sample every week, an arrangement could be worked out with a pair of volunteers in which each would only have to sample every other week.

A preliminary coliform study, much smaller in scale than that propsed for next year, was conducted by Yenni this fall. He reported that most samples taken were within acceptable limits and actually below readings taken in 1972 and 1973 when coliform testing was last done in Lake Charlevoix.

Yenni said that the coliform testing will be used only as a means to pinpoint problem areas of the lake. Those areas will then be offered the support of the LCPOA to help correct the problem.

Lake Charlevoix area residents wishing to volunteer to help with the testing program are asked to call either Yenni at 582-9092 or LCPOA board member Trish Wright at 582-7601 for further details.

Van Wieren-Edmonds

Janet Van Wieren

Janet Van Wieren and William Edmonds of Sarasota, Florida have announced they will be married on November 20.

The intended bride is the daughter of Jean Haun and Gordon Van Wieren of Charlevoix, and her fiance is the son of Meda Walden of Shepherd and Robert Edmonds of Detroit. He is a graduate of Shepherd High School and attended Michigan State University.

Miss Van Wieren is a graduate of Charlevoix High School and is pursuing a modeling career in Sarasota.

The wedding will take place in Sarasota.

Program to stress "positive" of holidays

Will this year's holiday season be a time fondly and positively remembered?

"Hope for the Holidays" is the title of a program to be presented at Charlevoix Area Hospital by CHIP Counseling Center counselors Terry Smith and Pat Gaskin, with the intent of "creating positive memories from a joyful holiday season."

The program, free to the public, will be held Wednesday November 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Charlevoix Area Hospital's classrooms. It is part of the hospital's continuing program of community health education.

Putting a positive focus on the holidays, which can be times of stress, the two counselors recognize that how one feels about oneself and others during the holidays determines whether it is a time of joy and pleasure.

"Holidays are times of change in ones activities and routines," Smith explained recently. "Holidays are also anniversaries, with certain expectations from society and family. Holidays can be joyful or not so joyful. Whether or not they are joyful has a lot to do with our attitudes."

They have entitled sections of their presentation: "Gifts for the Body, Gifts for the Mind, Gifts for the Spirit, Gifts for Friends and others, Winners and Gift Giving and Gifts for the World – caring and improving our life quality."

The evening will include some participation by the audience according to Smith. Such activities may include stress evaluation, "becoming aware of stress factors in one's life," the counselors explained.

"Here are some of the factors in my life," Smith said participants will be shown. "If I am experiencing moods or just not feeling right, there are things I can do about it," he continued.

"Particularly important during holiday times is how one relates to ones self and others. That has a lot to do with whether holidays are joyful and pleasureable."

Some how to's will be part of the evening, Smith continued, such as how to take care of oneself, affirmatively and delightfully, and how to relate to others, their demands and the expectations of your environment.

"This will be an upbeat and positive evening," Smith said. "We hope people will leave, having a greater power for taking care of themselves and creating positive memories."

People who wish to attend are urged to call Charlevoix Area Hospital by Monday, Nov. 15, to insure adequate seating. This is another of the hospital's free programs focussing on community health education and preventive medicine.

KCB wins plaque; sets anniversary meeting

A distinguished service plaque was awarded October 20 for Operation Petunia to Keep Charlevoix Beautiful, Inc. by the state beautification organization, Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc.

The idea of planting 30,000 petunias from one end of the city to another also won a distinguished service award for Dale Boss who suggested it last winter to KCB.

The organization plans to celebrate the award and its first anniversary at its meeting Saturday, Nov. 13. Birthday cake will be served prior to the meeting beginning at 9 a.m. at City Hall.

While the group's primary focus to date has been Operation Petunia and it funding, other committees have met seeking ways to improve the overall quality of the local environment.

The Air and Water Quality committee will report on the current status of water purity and make recommendations for improving air quality.

Funding has been provided for a community Christmas tree, according to Pat Ranger, chairperson of the Beautification committee. She asks that anyone knowing of a suitable tree for transplanting contact her at 547-6135.

The committee will also report on the tree management program and landscaping and improvements at both East Park and Mt. McSauba ski hill.

New board members are Dorothy Rothschild, Lisa Mosher and Chris Gibbons.

The stuffed animals were made by Grange members throughout the state and distributed to local grange members at their annual convention, this fall. The Barnard Grange distributed some 50 stuffed animals locally, including the 20 for pediatric patients at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Obituaries

LUCILLE BYERS

Funeral services for a former resident, Mrs. Lucille Byers, 77, who died November 1 at Waterford Township, were held Thursday at the Winchester Funeral Home. The Rev. David W. Yingling of the United Methodist Church officiated. Interment was in Brookside Cemetery.

Born in East Jordan June 10, 1905, the former Lucille Henning was graduated from the East Jordan High School and the Charlevoix County Normal School. She taught in rural schools in the area until her marriage to Harold Byers at East Jordan June 12, 1926. They always made their home here. Mr. Byers preceded her in death in January 1972. For the past three years she had resided in Waterford Township with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Byers. She was a member of the United Methodist Church.

Besides her son, Douglas, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Richard (Audrey) Hardy of Saugus, Calif.; eight grandchildren; two great-grandchildren and a brother, Kenneth Henning of Troy.

THELMA C. SMITH

Thelma Crandall Smith, 78, died October 29 in Detroit. She was born in Charlevoix May 4, 1904 and attended Charlevoix schools and Hillsdale College and taught school in Clarion for many years.

The deceased married Wesley L. Smith, a former Charlevoix resident, in Detroit. He preceded her in death on January 26, 1965.

Survivors included a son, Donald, and a daughter, Constance, both of Detroit; a brother, Oakley Crandall of Detroit; a sister, Ferne Friend of Harbor Springs; and two grandsons.

Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit, on November 1.

V.F. W. to sponsor Voice of Democracy essay contest

The Charlevoix Post No. 1153, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its Auxiliary are sponsoring the annual Voice of Democracy essay contest for students in the 10th through the 12th grades Mrs. Ivan Phillips, essay contest chairperson, has announced.

Theme of the 36th Annual Voice of Democracy contest is "Youth--America's Strength".

The local auxiliary is offering a $50 Savings Bond as a prize for first place and a $25 Savings Bond for second place. The first place winner will be eligible for district and national competition with the national prize, a $14,000 college scholarship.

Radio station WVOY has volunteered to record the prize winning essay, if desired.

Mrs. Phillips said that cassette tapes of previous winners were available to those planning to enter the contest for study of format and content though the topic is changed each year.

Though the essay contest is not being conducted through the school, any student wishing to enter may do so on a personal basis. Anyone wishing to enter the contest may call Mrs. Phillips at 547-4774 for more information and assistance.

The deadline for entering the contest is November 30.

October is busiest month since June for county building permits

With the issuance of 45 permits in October, the Charlevoix County Department of Building Inspection had its busiest month since June.

While only eight of the permits were for new houses, another 13 were for residential additions and remodeling, nine were for residential garages, two were for decks and porches, and four were for residential outbuildings.

The commercial category was slow with only one permit issued for a new building, one for an addition and remodeling, and one for an outbuilding.

Five permits were issued for mobile homes and mobile home additions, and another permit for a mobile home relocation.

Evelina Township showed the greatest building activity with seven permits, followed by the City of Charlevoix, six; Wilson Township, five; Boyne Valley Township, four; Hayes Township, four; South Arm Township, four; Charlevoix Township, three; Peaine Township, three; St. James Township, three; Bay Township, two; Chandler Township, one; Hudson Township, one; Marion Township, one; and Boyne City, one.

No permits were issued in Evangeline, Melrose, or Norwood Townships, the City of East Jordan, or the Village of Boyne Falls.

Results received on state assessment tests

The results of Michigan Educational Assessment tests given to fourth, seventh and tenth grade students in September reveal that 75 per cent or more of the students writing the tests achieved the objectives of the tests.

In the fourth grade the percentage of students meeting the criteria in math have shown an increase to 85.7 per cent this year from 83.5 in 1981 while in reading there was a slight decrease in the number of students who achieved the objectives or a drop from 81.4 last year to 76.2.

In the seventh grade, it was the math students whose percentage dropped from 84.6 to 76.2 while reading percentages jumped from 84.6 to 96.2.

Both percentages bettered themselves for tenth - grade students. The math percentages increased from 61.0 to 77.0 and the reading from 84.6 to 88.9

Scores in mathematics for 1982, 1981 and 1980 respectively were: fourth grade, 85.7, 83.5 and 73.7; seventh grade, 76.2, 84.6 and 83.2; tenth grade, 77.0, 61.0 and 63.6. Scores in reading for 1982, 1981 and 1980 respectively were, fourth grade, 76.2, 81.4 and 77.8; seventh grade, 96.2, 84.6 and 86.9; tenth grade, 88.9, 84.6 and 76.5.

In commenting on the results of the tests, Condit Drury, Charlevoix Middle School Counselor who is district coordinator, called attention to the fact that the tests are administered in September after students are back from more than three months vacation and that the tests are given to a new class of students each year. "You are not comparing the development of a class from year to year but a new group of students each year. Every student in the class takes the tests so the results are an average."

Mr. Drury went on to say that special attention will be given to those areas where percentages decreased and every effort will be made to determine those areas that need special attention.

In conclusion, he said that all but a very small percentage of the students taking the tests achieved 50 per cent or more of the objectives.

State averages will not be available until January. "At that time we will be able to see how our students compare with those throughout the state."

Purpose of the tests is to learn the student's strengths and weaknesses in reading and math.

The results are used by administrators and teachers to develop individual programs for students who do poorly on one or both tests in order to bring them up to the level where they should be and to generally improve a school's curriculum.

The test results of all students will be made available to parents-guardians within a week. If parents-guardians have any questions they are asked to contact Mr. Drury and David Smith, middle school principal, at 547-4407.

CHIP receives state arts grant

CHIP Counseling Center has received a $500 grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts to sponsor a series of musical mini-programs, voice lessons and recitals by Fran Tollas over the next eight months.

Mrs. Tollas, a Charlevoix soprano who has a lengthy list of performance credits and teaching experience to her name, sought the grant on behalf of CHIP and is now seeking matching funds from local donors to complete the project's funding. The matching funds in the like amount of $500 are a grant requirement set by the M.C.A.

Fran Tollas

Entitled "Sing-Help-Enjoy", the project will consist of eight mini-programs, voice lessons for two individuals and two public recitals, all to be held within the three-county area - Charlevoix, Antrim and Emmet - covered by CHIP Counseling Center.

The mini-programs will each last from 30 to 40 minutes and will be presented by Mrs. Tollas to two groups of children, two youth groups, two adult groups and two senior citizen groups. They will consist of song and narration on vocal technique, composer and period history and song. The programs, according to Mrs. Tollas, are designed for people not ordinarily exposed to classical music and trained voice.

As another part of the project, voice lessons will be given by Mrs. Tollas to two individuals weekly for nine months. Goals of the lessons will be to strengthen personality development, improve self image and to teach basic singing skills. Students will be obtained through the court system.

Finally, Mrs. Tollas will perform two recitals at the First Congregational Church of Charlevoix, open to the public, to explain the other parts of the program.

Fran Tollas holds a B.M. degree in Music Literature from the University of Michigan. She has held several positions as a private teacher, choir director, singer and choral workshop chairman since graduating. She received last year a B.M. degree in Vocal Performance from Grand Valley State College and participated in an artist apprenticeship program, through an M.C.A. grant, with Beverley Rinaldi at the Interlochen National Music Camp. Benefit at Duffy's nets $1756 for fire engine fund

A total of $1,756 was added to the Charlevoix Fire Department's Fire Engine Fund last Wednesday evening as a result of the Sean Ryan benefit concert and cocktail party held at Duffy's of Charlevoix.

Winner of the 50-50 raffle was Judy LaFave whose share of the prize money was $171. One-hundred seventy four tickets were sold to the event and 126 people turned out to enjoy a well-stocked table of free hors d'oeurves.

The Volunteer Firemen expressed thanks to Sean Ryan and Duffy's for donating their services to the Fire Engine Fund. The goal of the fund is $125,000 which will be used to purchase a new pumper for the fire department.

"Are changes in the telephone business going to change my telephone service?"

—Michigan Bell Customer Andrea Cherry of Detroit

People like you and Andrea Cherry want to know about the changes that are taking place in the telephone industry. But we at Michigan Bell want to assure you that if you're concerned about the quality of your phone service don't be. We promise it will continue to be the same dependable service you've come to expect over the years. In fact, the coming changes within Michigan Bell are giving us new opportunities to improve and greatly expand your service. With broadening technology, your telephone service today is ready to put you in touch with tomorrow.

Still, you may have specific questions such as, "How will I get my repair work done?" "Will I keep the phones I have now?" or "Where will I go for telephone service?" And we want to give you straight answers. So, let's talk.

Because you have a need to understand the "who, what, where, when and how" of your changing phone service, we've set up a new Customer Information Center ... so that we can talk. It's staffed with Michigan Bell people ready to answer your questions. You can talk with them ... toll-free. The number is 1 800 555-5000.

Also, with the idea of passing along phone service facts that may interest you, we're starting an informational program called "Let's Talk." We'll be talking with you in more detail about phone services and repairs, telephone availability, and other possible changes that may affect the way you do business with us. We want you to know we're working hard to make them changes for the better.

"Let's Talk!"

CC team wins it all

polls that has been theirs almost since the season opened. This was our best race," Spieles said Sunday.

Kalamazoo Christian was runner-up with 130 points.

The winning time was 16:43.0 set by a Cass City runner, Bliss; Scharich of Unionville-Sebawing was second with a time of 16:53.7.

Charlevoix's Bill Taylor finished third in 16:59.7 with John Tunison on his heels in 17:06.05. Peterson finished in 13th place in 17:25.5 to also win a berth on the Class C All-State squad.

Bill Dohm finished in 17:54.9 to take 26th place followed by Lee Allard in 27th place in 17:55.2; Matt Landon in 31st plce in 18 00.8 and Ron Way in 18:30.0 to finish in 67th place.

Rogers City, the only other team from the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference to compete in the state meet finished 11th with 277 points.

The meet was run at Watervleit over a course that had been snow-covered early the morning of the meet but which was muddy in spots after the sun melted the snow. The temperature was ideal for running, Coach Spieles said, ranging from the late 30s to the mid-40s.

How does a team run to capture a state title? "They ran like we've been running all season" was Coach Speiles response. "They went out there to win and they did the job. Since early in the season they've set a goal for each meet and they have accomplished their goals along the way by dedication and hard work." He went on to say that all the boys ran well adding that he thought Bill Dohm and Matt Landon ran exceptionally well. He said that Roy Way was disappointed in his performance but still ran a good race.

In commenting on the success of his team this season Coach Spieles said "I think if you're going to be there (out for the team) you should give it everything you've got and not just go halfway. I've tried to instill this in my runners. They gave everything they had all season and it has paid off for them. We're very happy to have brought Charlevoix its first State title."

The meet Saturday marked the first state meet for Allard, Landon and Way. The others had run with the team that finished ninth last season.

Peterson, Dohm and Way are the only seniors on the team. The others are juniors.

Other members of the team are Tim Young, Jon Spieles, and Steve Young, seniors; Dave Umlor, Rick Gallant, and Leo Chase, juniors; Doug Sloan and S.J. Greenway, sophomores, and Sandy Wanek, Chuck Hastings, and Jason Brindel, freshmen.

When the team returned home at midnight Saturday, their van was met at the south city limits by two fire trucks, a police car and a caravan of fans who accompanied them through the city, horns blasting and sirens sounding, returning to the Village Inn Pizza where the team members, Coach and Mrs. Spieles and the parents of team members, all of whom had accompanied the team to southern Michigan, were served free pizza and Kentucky Fried Chicken, courtesy of Joe Etienne.

Coach Spieles expressed the appreciation of the team for the reception and for the support they have received all season from the community and particularly the Sports Boosters. He especially mentioned the parents of all team members. "Without their support we couldn't do what we have" he added.

A special assembly was held at the Charlevoix High School Monday morning honoring the team and Coach Spielea.

The Rayders worked their way to the title by winning four dual meets, five invitational meets, the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference title and the Class C regional meet at Big Rapids.

Fourth quarter score by St. Ignace spoils season finale for Rayder gridders

For the seniors playing their last football game as Red Rayders, Friday night's loss to St. Ignace was a disappointing end to a season that never seemed to get on track.

Charlevoix saw a 15-15 deadlock broken in the fourth quarter by St. Ignace's Matt Oja who scampered 49 yards for the touchdown that provided the Saints with the eventual margin of victory in the 21-15 game.

Charlevoix seniors making their final appearance on Parents Night included Jack Moran, Shannon Reynolds, Tim Bergmann, Mark Oostmeyer, Jon Supernaw, Al Bergmann, Dave Batdorff and Jeff Trumper.

The loss drops the Rayders to a 2-6 overall record for the season. Charlevois ends its schedule with the fourth best record out of six other Class C opponents in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference.

If there was a bright spot in Friday's action, it was junior Pat Mitchell's touchdown and two-point conversion which gave him a total of 70 points and the conference individual scoring honors for the year.

Charlevois got onto the scoreboard first when quarterback Tim LaBlance capped a long drive in the first quarter by finding receiver Mark Oostmeyer in the endzone for six points. Thad Morgan kicked the conversion for a 7-0 Rayder lead.

A dropped Charlevoix punt attempt on the 25 yard line, however, set up the Saints first touchdown, a five-yard quarterback keeper by Rich Frazier. Pat Doud added the point after to knot the score at 7-7.

St. Ignace took the lead in the second quarter when Frazier went over again from inside the five and Steve Becker ran a two-point conversion for a 15-7 halftime lead. In the third quarter, Mitchell broke away on a 30-yard run setting up his touchdown, a one-yard burst into the endzone, and the two pointer to tie the game.

The only other scoring was Oja's touchdown run that sealed the Saints' victory.

Statistically, St. Ignace totaled 297 yards of offense to Charlevoix's 193. The domination was especially evident on the ground as the Saints rushed for 233 yards to Charlevoix's 157. In passing, St. Ignace had 64 yards while LaBlance went 4 for 11 for Charlevoix for 36 yards.

Mitchell ended with 105 yards rushing in 22 carries while LaBlance rushed for 58 yards.

Jack Moran was the only defensive player singled out by the coaching staff for individual performance.

JVs blown out by St. Ignace

The Charlevoix Rayder JV team closed out its 1982 season with a five win-four loss record last week after losing to St. Ignace 57-0 Thursday.

Coach Brian Certa said the team threatened a couple times but lost the ball on fumbles to halt any scoring threat.

Girls split; lose to Chiefs, beat Vikes

The Charlevoix girls basketball team split last week, losing to Cheboygan 50-39 and winning over Grayling 53-35.

In the Cheboygan game, Charlevoix led 14-12 at the quarter but trailed 22-28 at the half and 35-27 going into the final period.

Rhonda Buchanan had 11 points for Charlevois. Mary Lenhart had 24 rebounds.

Miss Maybank had 22 points and Mary Kester 11 for Cheboygan.

The Cheboygan JVs also posted a 35-24 win.

In the game with Grayling, Charlevois took an early lead and headed the visitors 14-4, 24-19, and 36-27 by quarters before putting the game away by a score of 53-35.

Laura Kemp canned 25 points to Heidi Bindig's 10 for Grayling.

Grayling won the JV game 48-33.

Charlevoix will host Rogrs City on Tuesday which will also be Parent's Night. The team will close out the season at St. Ignace on Thursday.

Eighth grade girls finish 6-2, seventh grade 5-3

The Charlevois Middle School girls basketball teams closed out their regular season last week with the eighth grade defeating the Cheboygan five 15-13 and the seventh graders losing 23-10.

In the eighth grade game, Charlevoix had an 8-7 halftime margin but trailed as the game went into the final minute of play when Ann Kroll dumped in the winning bucket at the buzzer.

Barbie Boss had four points for Charlevoix and Candi Redoski and Ann Smallwood four each for Cheboygan.

In the seventh grade game Charlevoix trailed 12-7 at the half and 23-10 at the final buzzer.

Kaye Stoneham and Jill Austin had three points each for Charlevoix. Jenny Shaw had 14 for Cheboygan.

The Charlevoix teams will play in the Cheboygan Invitational tournament. The teams were scheduled to meet their counterparts from Cheboygan Catholic in the opening games of the tournament Monday.

The eighth grade team finished the season with a 6-2 record and the seventh grade with a 5-3 record.

Barry Pierce is the seventh grade coach and Stan Martin the eighth grade coach.

Jimmy the Crow is back in town

by SARA GAY DAMMANN

Jimmy the Crow is back in town, eating like a gormet, sitting on his human friends' shoulders and driving his crow friends wild.

Jimmy, a true bird of passage, has been drifting through Charlevoix, on either edge of winter, for the past six years. Like several other seasonal residents, he leaves when the cold weather gets serious and returns when it leaves.

But he only stays a couple of weeks each time. In the spring it is presumed he heads further north with his friends who spend the whole time he is here cawing from the trees. It is also assumed his winter home is in the south.

Jimmy is well known on Nettleton Street. He spent a full year there when Mike Seymour took him in as an injured fledgling. During his wild youth, when he learned a few worlds of English, he became the neighborhood brat, delightful but troublesome at times. He stole one neighbor's car keys, dangling them from a tree, cadged steak at the willing Julius Gilberts', teased the Seymour family dogs, baffled joggers by talking in human fashion from the trees, untied young Chris Seymour's shoelaces, and proudly joined the family, dogs and all for Sunday strolls.

Then he took off that spring. The Seymour's were philosophical. They had never intended to keep him. They had urged freedom upon him. When he returned for a few weeks of hamburger, hot dogs and old English Cheddar Cheese that fall and the following spring, his returns became great events. His last visit was six months ago.

One day, about two weeks ago, as Jean Seymour was returning from work, a large black crow swooped from the trees at the corner and followed her car down the street. When she got out and softly called "Jimmy" he flew to the hood and let her pet him.

That was two weeks ago. Last week the calls of the other crows in the trees began getting noisier and Jimmy seemed nervous. As Kent held him on his arm, he observed, "He may be getting ready to leave again."

The departures aren't easy for the Seymours. Outdoor writer Reg Sharkey recently told them a crow's life expectancy in the wild is about six years, although they have been known to live up to 20 years in captivity.

When Jimmy takes off this fall, the Seymours will worry and hope until Spring.

V.F.W. sets coming events

Plans for several upcoming events were made at a recent meeting of the V.F.W. Auxiliary held at the post home.

The first of these was the annual Veterans' Day and membership dinner for V.F.W. and Auxiliary as well as other veterans and military personnel and spouses to be held at the post home at 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 11. Those attending are asked to bring a dish to pass and their own table service.

On Thursday, Nov. 18, the Auxiliary will meet at the post home for a social meeting. Members are asked to bring gift items such a toiletry items and personal gift items for men. These are to be forwarded to VA hospital for use as gifts for hospitalized veterans. Gifts may also be left at Staley's store or given to an Auxiliary member.

Plans were also formulated for the annual Christmas dinner party for members of both the V.F.W. and Auxiliary and their respective families to be held at the post home on Saturday, Dec. 11. The meat will be furnished for the potluck dinner. Members are asked to bring a $2.00 gift for adult gift exchange. Children's gifts furnished by parents will be distributed, along with gifts of candy, by Santa Claus.

In other business, it was announced that all per capita quotas had been paid plus a contribution to the Health and Happiness Fund for the National Children's Home at Eaton Rapids. It was also noted that all those present had voted in the Nov. 2 election. Several had contributed time in other ways to the election such as working for candidates or as members of election boards.

Mrs. Kenneth Staley, cancer chairperson, reported that she had redeemed $170 in green slips at Glen's Market for cancer research. Anyone having green slips are asked to contribute them for this purpose.

Only six members remain to pay their dues by Nov. 25 in order that the Auxiliary may have a 100 per cent participation. Everyone is asked to pay dues by that date so the local auxiliary may compete in the state membership contest.

Phyllis Goosen, State Auxiliary President, has advised that she has named the Special Olympics and aid to the handicapped as her project for the year and has asked all members to assist. Mrs. Clarence Rabach, local Youth Activities chairperson and former "State Volunteer for the year for Special Olympics", advised members of the various ways one may assist in the program. She also related how rewarding the volunteer work in this project can be.

Mrs. Russell Dohm served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Amnesty offered overdue books

The Charlevoix Public Library is have a "free time" to return all past due library books. From now through the 1st of December you may return any overdue book without paying a fine.

Sandi Spieles, Char-Em librarian, knows where to find whatever you're looking for

by ANNE KELLY

Chances are if you are a teacher, administrator, or a parent of a handicapped child, you have had contact with one of Char-Em's most efficient natural resources. Sandi Spieles, as media center librarian at the Char-Em Intermediate School District office (I.S.D.), has at her fingertips access to approximately 2000 films and an assortment of professional and curriculum support resource materials, as well as availability guides on microfiche which indicate the holdings of our State universities and hospitals.

Those who deal with Sandi in this capacity appreciate her obvious enthusiasm for her job and expertise in organizing and disseminating a multitude of information. Receiving her B.A. from Michigan State University in Biological Science and Education, Sandi taught high school biology after graduating. A substitute teacher while raising her family, Sandi returned for a M.A. in Educational Media at Western Michigan University.

Sandi has been part of the I.S.D. for 15 years, over the course of which she has seen her position evolve and expand along with the availability of services rendered by Char-Em. From the original offices housed in the County Building and a library of only 200 films, Char-Em now operates on a much larger and efficient scale out of their present facility on Mercer Blvd. with its library of 2000 films.

In the beginning, Sandi recalls, her job entailed more purchasing of films, equipment and the organization and expansion of other resource materials. "The broad base philosophy of media centers provides a cooperative effort, realizing that there is no way that individual schools could possibly provide all the films they need by their own funding," Sandi explained. "Assisted by state funding, our library has evolved into a full fledged media center, which along with other libraries around the state, can provide many kinds of information not locally available."

Sandi is an active member of the Michigan Association for Media in Education (for librarians and media specialists), the Michigan Intermediate Media Association (for regional film library directors), and the Association for Educational Communications and Technology. She also serves on several committees and belongs to several groups which deal with information dissemination and micro-computers.

A typical day, might find Sandi along with her colleagues in the media library: Catherine Stebo, Georgia McKenney and Em Ellison sending out 100 films to schools throughout the Char-Em District. Films are booked up to nine months in advance and the I.S.D. van, operated by media transporter Ed Harris, runs twice a week to every school in the district bringing films and other educational materials to teachers and administrators upon request. Other aspects of her job involve gleaning advice from contacts around the state on the best buys in new equipment acquisition, searching for reference materials or where in fact they can be located for persons doing research and instructing as to the use and availability of media center materials and equipment. As Sandi would put it, "We provide a clearing house for information."

Who then has access to the Media Center Library?

The library is most heavily used by professional staff members of Char-Em's schools. This is the primary purpose of the Center. But it is also available to any private, non-profit groups or individuals who have need of the films, filmstrips, equipment or materials. Thus, Scouts or other community groups, students or any level seeking reference material not available in their school or local libraries, parents of handicapped or problem children who are searching for the latest articles or books on their subject of concern, public service organizations, senior citizen groups...the list goes on and on. If the need is there, the Media Center Library with a knowledgeable and accommodating librarian in the person of Sandi Spieles, is there to offer assistance.

Stovepipe starts fire

The Charlevoix Township Fire Department was called to the home of Terry Boss on US 31 North Thursday evening to extinguish a fire in the ceiling of a mobile home.

Fire Chief Jerry Paul said the fire was believed to have resulted from an overheated pipe leading from a wood stove in the living room of the mobile home. There was limited damage to the ceiling and some smoke damage he said.

Chief Paul took this opportunity to warn residents with wood stoves to check the installation to make certain there is proper insulation to protect the area around pipes and to make certain that chimneys have been cleaned properly. "We are getting more and more of these calls and most are the result of improper installation or chimneys that have not been cleaned. So far we have been lucky that the fires have not resulted in serious damage. However, with the onset of winter the danger becomes greater. We are advising everyone with a wood-burning stove to have the installation checked and to have the chimneys cleaned."

Chicago Club tax appeal far from over

by PEG OHLE

The Chicago Club, which has been part of the City of Charlevoix for over 100 years, feels that its recent property tax bills have been too high.

The club appealed its assessment of $1,983,700 for 1980 and 1982 to the State Tax Tribunal, which rendered a "proposed judgement" in its favor. The "proposed judgement" gives the city 20 days to appeal the decision, which is being done through a Detroit law firm specializing in tax appeals.

If the city loses the appeal, a total of $43,710 collected in taxes for 1980 and 1981 will have to be returned by the city, county, Charlevoix School District, and Intermediate School District based on the millage allotted to each unit, as follows: city, $11,585; county, $4,150; school district, $26,440; and Intermediate School District, $1,535.

The latter three taxing units are helping the city in the appeal by paying a share of legal expenses, which are expected to run between $5,600 and $8,300.

The Chicago Club has also appealed its 1982 assessment to the local tax Board of Review, which is a preliminary step to taking it before the State Tax Tribunal.

Board to intervene

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at its regular meeting Nov. 1, set the date of Commencement and voted to intervene on the appeal of the tax reduction for the Chicago Club.

The time and date for Commencement exercises for the class of 1983 was set for 3 p.m. Sunday, June 5.

In voting to intervene in the appeal of the tax reduction for the Chicago Club, the school district has engaged the firm of VanTil, Kasidorski & Ronayne for the purpose of pursuing the matter. The appeal by the school district followed the decision by the Michigan Tax Tribunal in favor of the Chicago Club in its appeal of 1980 and 1981 property assessments. The school districts joins the City of Charlevoix and the Car-Em Intermediate School District as intervenors in the case.

The appointment of a volleyball coach was tabled and will be acted on at a later date.

The bus stop problem that was placed on the agenda was resolved prior to the meeting Supt. Gordon W. VanWieren advised the board.

The next meeting of the board was scheduled for Nov. 15.

Episcopal Women set luncheon

The Episcopal Church Women of Christ Episcopal Church will host their annual hearty harvest luncheon at the church at the corner of State and Clinton Streets Wednesday, November 17.

The event will feature a smorgasborg that will include a choice of hot soups and casseroles, a wide selection of salads, rolls and a choice of beverage.

The luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.

Tickets will be $3.25 and $2.50 for senior citizens.

A cookie sale will be held in connection with the event.

The buyer may fill his or her cookie can with a choice of cookies, Mrs. Charlotte Mills, general chairperson said in announcing the event. She will be assisted by Barbara Kurkierwicz as co-chairperson. Debbie Geldenblom will be in charge of the cookie sale.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX COUNCIL MINUTES

November 1, 1982
8:00 P.M.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Staley presiding.

Present: Councilmembers Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, and Porter. Absent: None.

The Minutes of the October 25, 1982 Special Council Meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

The Minutes of the October 18, 1982 Regular Meeting were corrected to read that Harold Lang is an employee of Murdick's Fudge store and not co-owner as was written; and to correct Councilman Timms' motion that the west side yard setback for William Jackson's variance on Round Lake be 15' to 10' in lieu of 15' to 5' as written. The Minutes of the October 18, 1982 regular meeting were approved as amended.

A Public Hearing was held regarding the establishment of a Commercial Redevelopment District for the Weathervane Terrace for a purpose of tax abatement.

Dick Georgi, co-owner of the Weathervane Terrace, appeared before the Council explaining at length the financial reasons for applying for the tax abatement. Mr. Georgi reacted favorably to Councilman Porter's recommendation for a five year tax abatement for the Weathervane Terrace Commercial Redevelopment District.

The City Manager explained the tax abatement methods the City of Charlevoix uses to create such a district. Mr. Hunt commented that if the Weathervane Terrace stops operating as a motel, the tax break would be lost, that the tax abatement will cease as individual units are sold, and that Charlevoix Development Company must repay the City for a portion of the tax break upon sale of any unit.

Councilman Block asked to go on record stating that he will approve the proposed abatement of the Commercial Facilities Tax Exempt Certificate upon consideration and recommendation by the City Manager.

The following Resolution was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Porter.

Resolution 82-11-1
RESOLUTION CREATING
CHARLEVOIX COMMERCIAL REDEVELOPMENT DISTRICT NO. 3

WHEREAS, Authorization was granted to the City Administration to schedule a Public Hearing for consideration of the establishment of a Commercial Redevelopment District in Charlevoix on November 1, 1982;

WHEREAS, The City Council has met in public hearing as heretofore noticed for the purpose of reviewing a certain described area known as:

Part of Lot 6, Block 1 of said "Dixon's Addition to the Village (now City) of Charlevoix" and other land in Government Lot 2, Section 26, T34N, R8W, City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County Records and containing 0.55 acres of land, more or less.

to be established as a Commercial Redevelopment District of the City of Charlevoix;

WHEREAS, During said public hearing the City Council has heard all persons desiring to be heard either orally or in writing with respect to the designation of the subject area as a Commercial Redevelopment District, pursuant to 1978 PA 255, Sec. 5 et seq;

WHEREAS, Such designation meets all of the prerequisites of the cited Act (Sec. 5, (1) (a);

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the above described property be designated Charlevoix Commercial Redevelopment District No. 3.

RESOLVED this 1st day of November 1982, A.D.

Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, and Porter. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council adjourned to the Board of Appeals.

Following the Board of Appeals, roll call of the Council was again taken with all members being present.

The following Resolution was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Porter and supported by Councilman Wood.

RESOLUTION 82-11-2
RESOLUTION APPROVING
BELLE RIVER POWER SALES CONTRACT AND PROJECT SUPPORT CONTRACT

WHEREAS, the City of Charlevoix (the "City") is a member municipality of the Michigan Public Power Association ("MPPA"), a joint agency organized and existent pursuant to Act No. 448 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1976; and

WHEREAS, MPPA anticipates that it will enter into agreements with The Detroit Edison Company ("Edison") to purchase an undivided ownership interest in the Belle River I ("Belle River") fossil fuel fired plant and other facilities, all in St. Clair County, Michigan and certain transmission facilities in various locations; and

WHEREAS, MPPA anticipates that it will enter into agreements with Consumers Power Company ("Consumers") to purchase transmission lines and other facilities with respect to Belle River; and

WHEREAS, the City and other member municipalities of MPPA desire to enter into contracts with MPPA to provide for the purchase and sale and transmission of power and energy derived from Belle River; and

WHEREAS, MPPA intends to finance its purchase of Belle River and certain transmission lines and facilities by the issuance of revenue bonds; and

WHEREAS, in order to issue such revenue bonds it is necessary that MPPA have substantially similar binding contracts with this municipality and each other municipality electing to participate in the purchase of power and energy, back-up power and transmission with respect to Belle River; and

WHEREAS, MPPA will pledge the payments required to be made in accordance with such contracts as security for the payment of such revenue bonds; and

WHEREAS, the City Clerk has on file a copy of the proposed Belle River Power Sales Contract (bearing a draft date of 10/7/82), to be entered into by MPPA and each municipality participating in the Belle River project which Power Sales Contract provides for the purchase and sale of power and energy derived from Belle River, the purchase of back-up power and energy and the purchase of rights to utilize certain transmission lines and facilities; and

WHEREAS, the City Clerk also has on file a copy of the proposed Belle River Project Support Contract (bearing a draft date of 10/7/82), to be entered into by MPPA and each municipality participating in the Belle River project which Project Support Contract provides for the payment by each municipality to MPPA for certain fixed costs relating to the purchase from Edison and Consumers and the ownership of MPPA's undivided interest in the Belle River project during those periods in which power and energy is not made available to such municipalities under the Belle River Power Sales Contract; and

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Charlevoix as follows:

1. The forms of the Belle River Power Sales Contract and the Belle River Project Support Contract (the "Belle River Contracts") presented to the City on this date are hereby approved and the Mayor and Clerk of the City are hereby authorized and directed to execute such contracts on behalf of the City in substantially the form as presented on this date with such insertions, deletions and minor modifications as the Mayor and Clerk deem necessary; provided, however, that the following insertions shall be included:

a. The Belle River Contracts shall provide that the City shall purchase a power entitlement share in the Belle River project equivalent to 4.0 megawatts of power and energy and provide for the resale of a portion of such power and energy as planned excess capacity; and

b. The Belle River Contracts shall provide that the City shall purchase back-up capacity equivalent to 4.0 megawatts of power and energy; and

c. The Belle River Contracts shall provide that the City shall purchase a transmission entitlement share equivalent to 4.0 megawatts.

2. The Mayor and the Clerk of the City are further authorized and directed to execute such other documents and deliver or cause to be delivered such other articles, opinions and documents necessary to enable the City to enter into the Belle River Contracts hereby authorized.

3. The City hereby agrees to make such payments as are required under the Belle River Contracts.

4. All ordinances and resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with this resolution are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed; provided, such repeal shall not impair the contractual obligations of the City under the Power Sales Contract and the Project Support Contract, both dated as of October 1, 1979, as amended, entered into between the City and MPPA, relating to the Campbell Project.

Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, and Porter. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council generally agreed to accept the bid from Charlevoix Agency for 1982-83 commercial insurance coverage for the City at a cost of $31,949.00.

Mayor Staley proclaimed November 11, 1982 as Veteran's Day as requested by President Reagan.

Michael Gibbons, City Attorney, presented Council with a letter of resignation, effective as soon as his replacement can be found.

The Council having examined the bills totaling $150,036.02 find them correct and recommend the bills be allowed.

Council adjourned.

BOARD OF APPEALS
November 1, 1982

The Board of Appeals convened with Councilmembers Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach and Porter present. Absent: None.

The Board of Appeals discussed the variance requests for William Jackson's proposed house on Round Lake at the foot of Burns Street which was tabled at the last regular meeting on October 18, 1982. Mr. Jackson's request for two side yard setback requirements from 15' to 10' was discussed at length.

Mr. Jackson presented a character sketch of the proposed single family dwelling which he wishes to build on the property. Mr. Jackson stated that he felt the variance was necessary for the side yards only.

Mr. Boone, current owner of the property, questioned the City Attorney regarding the City Zoning Code. He stated the Ordinance does not indicate that, if the property is bounded on one side by a street or on another side by a body of water, it leaves the question of setback requirement open for interpretation by the Board of Appeals.

Councilman Wood objected to Round Lake being the front yard because of the Public input he has received from citizens in the area who do not want this project built.

Mr. Jackson stated that he is only concerned about the side yard set back variances and that the house will look the same regardless if Burns Street or Round Lake is designated as the front yard.

The City Attorney stated there would be a difference in the variance if Round Lake were the front yard because of the minimum lot width requirement being 100' and the width of this lot being only 57'.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Porter to consider Round Lake as the front yard of the proposed William Jackson home.

Motion was denied by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timms, Roloff, and Porter. Nays: Councilmembers Wood, Block, and Olach. Absent: None.

William Jackson stated that the City Zoning Ordinance, Sec 7.5, indicates that this is a buildable lot. Further, that is states "a residence shall be allowed to be built on" and, "that variances may be allowed to be granted so that is possible". He stated that he is not requesting that the lot be designated as buildable because the Zoning Ordinance offers an alternative solution if Burns Street is designated as the front yard. Mr. Jackson then requested a 25' front yard variance and 35' rear yard variance, which would allow adequate room to build a house, with Burns Street being the front yard.

Moved by Councilwoman Roloff and supported by Councilman Timms that William Jackson's property on Round Lake be designated as the front yard; the East and West sides of the lot must maintain 15' side yard requirements; mandatory 42¼' variance for lot width; and a time limit of 18 months to be established for issuance of the building permit.

Motion was denied by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timms, Roloff, and Porter. Nays: Councilmembers Wood, Block, and Olach. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Porter to approve the following for Mr. Jackson's property on Round Lake: 20' front yard variance, (15' front yard remaining on Burns Street); 25' rear yard variance (10' rear yard remaining on West lot line); Burns Street to be designated as the front yard, and to set a time limit of 18 months from this date until issuance of the building permit.

Motion was approved by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timms, Roloff, Olach, and Porter. Nays: Councilmembers Wood and Block. Absent: None. Board of Appeals adjourned.

Volunteers honored by Social Services Dept.

A group of 47 men and women were recently honored by the Charlevoix County Department of Social Services for volunteering to help the County's needy.

Meeting for lunch at Duffy's of Charlevoix, all volunteers received certificates of appreciation and those with many extra hours of service received pins.

According to Doug McCombs of the Department of Social Services, the volunteers were assigned to 22 different programs that provided services to delinquent, abused, and neglected children and their parents; helped with adult foster home residents; and worked with elderly and handicapped individuals and others in need.

Specific services included teaching parents how to deal with the problems that led to the abuse or neglect of their children; bingo games, a picnic, and color tour for adult foster care residents; phone calls and visitations to isolated elderly and handicapped persons; transportation to doctors' offices, hospitals, counseling centers, etc.; and money management instruction for individuals overwhelmed by their financial circumstances.

Special recognition was given to Luella Barnes of East Jordan for exceeding 500 hours of volunteer service, and to Mary Jo Henderson and Leon Bolhuis, both of Charlevoix, for exceeding 200 hours of volunteer service.

Five other volunteers who had previously received similar recognition were cited as still being active volunteers. They are Jane Sooy of Charlevoix, Charlotte Kline of Charlevoix, Evelyn Thies of Ellsworth, Virginia Daniels of East Jordan, and Ron Putman of Charlevoix.

Road Commission holds dinner to recognize safety record, employee years of service

Charlevoix County Road Commission personnel were honored recently at a dinner at the Grey Gables Inn in Charlevoix in recognition of their fine safety record and for their years of service.

Those working out of the Ironton garage have had 920 days without an accident and the Boyne City garage 540 days, Fred Welch, Engineer-Manager said.

At the same time, employees were presented with pins in recognition of their years of service which are presented every five years.

Dr. Harry Custer of Charlevoix who had set up the safety program for the commission and Mrs. Custer were special guests at the dinner attended by 65 employees and their spouses and guests.

Edward Herndon of the Michigan Department of Labor presented plaques to each garage and commended the personnel for their fine safety records. "Your safety record speaks volumes for you when you consider the fact that you are working daily with heavy equipment and on main highways in all kinds of weather, especially that of northern Michigan" Herndon said. Fred George of Petoskey, representing Michigan Mutual, the commission's insurance carrier, presented individual pins to all personnel and also commended the workers for their fine safety record.

Receiving special recognition was James "Doug" Coblentz, a veteran of 38 years with the Charlevoix County Road Commission who plans to retire in July. He has been a truck driver and equipment operator with the commission and, at the time of his retirement, will have complete 39 years of service.

Donald Graham, who is retiring at the end of the year after 12 years as a member of the Charlevoix County Road Commission, presented Mr. Coblentz with a 35 year pin and expressed the gratitude of the commission for his dedicated service.

Other employees receiving years of service pins were Garrett Potter of Charlevoix and Donald Cole of Beaver Island who were presented with 25 year pins by John Kujawski of the commission; Leonard Zakrzewski of Boyne Falls, Ray Sloop of East Jordan, Charles Griffin, James McCarrey, Wilfred Nichols and LaVerne Hall of Boyne City who received 20 year pins from Robert Stowe, a member of the commission.

Joseph Martinchek and James Novotny of Charlevoix, William Ealy of Boyne Falls, DeVere Washburn of Walloon Lake, Lester McGeorge and Robert Dunnette of Boyne City received 15 year service pins from Mr. Welch.

Mr. Welch also presented 10 year service pins to Joseph Martin of Beaver Island, Walter Olson and Mr. Graham of East Jordan, Glen Anderson, Ronald Willis and Carol Hulett of Boyne City and five year pins to Richard Stangis, Robert Baker, Melvyn Thayer, George Lochner and Robert Hammerberg of Charlevoix, James Downey of East Jordan, LaVerne Rouse, Randall Thompson, and Thomas Webb of Boyne City.

The Ironton Ferry: not your average boat and trailer

It was a little like pulling a house out of the lake so what better people to do the job than house movers? Due for its regular five-year dry docking for hull inspection, the venerable Ironton Ferry was pulled from Lake Charlevoix last Thursday at the city boat launching ramp at Ferry Beach. The last time the ferry was dry docked, it had to be taken to Traverse City. Irish Boat Shop of Charlevoix won the bid for the job this year, however, and was able to dry dock the vessel right on its yard. Subcontracted by Irish was a firm from downstate that moves houses intact. The task of hauling the 50-ton ferry out involved placing iron rails on the ramp going into the water and reinforcing the submerged end of the ramp itself. The ferry was then towed out by heavy trucks, above, and moved to its winter berth across the parking lot, left.

Weathervane gets tax abatement, loses variance for towers

by DAVE KNIGHT

Weathervane Terrace expansion developers Richard Georgi, Jr. and Arch Wright batted .500 at City Council Monday as they obtained the tax relief sought for the project but lost a variance request for three decorative towers.

In his recommendation to approve a 50 percent tax abatement program for five years, Hunt pointed to the project's potential to meet many goals of the community, its tenuous financial projections for the short term and the "positive fiscal impact" it will have, in both taxes and services, for the city.

Over five years, the potential taxes on the project total about $164,000, (current real estate tax for the W. Dixon Ave. property are about $400, or $2,000 over five years). Approximately $46,000 of that will be abated under the plan approved by council. Even with the abatement, said Hunt in his recommendation, the project will generate about $116,000 more in taxes than if it weere not built.

In return for the city's share of $12,000 in abated taxes over five years, the developers are investing about $16,000 in public improvements such as an access stairway to the Lake Michigan beach and a new water main.

Wrote Hunt, "The direct fiscal impact of the project on the City as a governmental entity is unquestionably positive and probably exceeds $30,000 over five years, even with the abatement."

Conditions on the tax relief plan passed by council include that abatement cease at any time the project ceases to operate as a motel and cease for each unit as it is sold as a condominium. Developers plan to sell 22 of the 33 units as condos and retain 11 for rental.

Final approval of Charlevoix County Economic Development Corporation funding in the amount of $725,000 for the $1.225 million project was granted by the County Board of Commissioners last Wednesday.

Plans for three circular towers in the Earl Young architectural style were stymied, however, when council refused to grant the neccessary height variances sought by the developers Monday night.

Proposed were three towers, two housing stairways and a third housing an elevator and whirl bath, rising 52 feet above ground level. The city zoning ordinance sets 35 feet as the maximum allowable height thus the variance sought was for 17 feet.

According to Georgi, the primary purpose of the towers was to be aesthetic and to make the expansion project look "better than a just box". The City Planning Commission recommended approval of the variance at its November 8 meeting saying the towers do not intensify use of the building, do not block any views and are consistent with the existing architectural style of the Weathervane Terrace and restaurant.

Council president pro-tem Raymond Wood argued for maintaining the integrity of the zoning ordinance saying, "Every time we blow our zoning, we put our chin on the line."

Opposing the variance were council members Wood, Clement Olach, James Block and Shirely Roloff. Voting in favor were Jeffrey Porter and Robert Timms.

Clean city water to cost big bucks one way or another

by DAVE KNIGHT

Since its discovery in the city's water system a little over a year ago, trichloroethylene (TCE) has been dealt with primarily as a health issue. What is becoming evident now, as various alternatives are being weighed to rid the suspected carcinogen from city water, is that the city is dealing with a major financial issue as well.

No matter which way it's accomplished, getting rid of TCE is going to be an expensive proposition.

With a probable seven-figure cost to be passed along, city taxpayers and-or water users can safely expect a major increase soon in either taxes or water bills or both.

Final engineering studies on a lake water treatment facility are in the process of being completed by Granger Engineering, Inc. of Gaylord. Treatment of lake water was one of three alternatives presented to City Council November 8 by Granger's David Rommelmann.

Rommelmann recommended use of a surface water supply (Lake Michigan) over filtration of the exsiting supply or drilling new wells on the basis of several criteria including raw water quality, reliability, projected future needs and long-term practicality.

His initial estimate of the cost for a treatment plant was $1,421,100. He added, however, that up to $100,000 or more could be saved by incorporating components of the city's existing

Bus drivers' day off points up internal problems

by PEG OHLE

The Charlevoix County Transit System did not operate last Thursday.

That's because Thursday was Veterans' Day and Charlevoix County employees, by contract, had the day off.

All of which is well and good except that the Transit System serves employees of businesses and schools which did operate on Veterans' Day and many of them had no way to get to work or school.

The Transit System shut-down closed the Bergmann Center in Charlevoix for the day, decimated attendance at the Headstart and Christian Schools, and put employees of Grandvue Medical Care Facility and many factories and stores in a hitch-hiking scramble. It also caused cancellation of Senior Citizens meals, both congregate and home-delivered.

However, Thursday's shut-down did not come as a surprise to most Transit System riders, according to Gene Beer, bus driver.

"We had notices posted in all our buses for a week before Veterans' Day," Beer told the Courier, "and when they got off the buses Wednesday night, we reminded them again."

At the root of the Veterans' Day shot-down by Transit System employees, according to Beer, was the refusal by Transit management to honor their request for "comp time" – a day off with pay for working on a holiday.

Another bus driver, Jim Ehrcke, told the Courier that in the past they have received time and a half for holiday work, even as recently as last election day.

"This holiday they wanted us to volunteer our time with no pay and no day off," he said.

Of course, Transit employees receive their usual holiday pay as do all other County employees.

The Commission on Aging, which oversees the Transit System, met on the Monday before Veterans' Day, and at that time Art Saworski, Transit System manager, asked the Commission for a resolution on the question of holiday compensation, saying there was dissatisfaction among employees about working Veterans' Day. The Commission approved compensation at straight time.

Saworski did not mention to the Commission on Aging on Monday that his drivers were already advising their riders that there would be no service on Veterans' Day. Following Thursday's shut-down, Saworski could not be reached for comment.

This disagreement between employees and management of the County Transit system is the latest in a long series of grievances voiced by bus drivers and office personnel.

Last Wednesday, the day before Veterans' Day, members of the County Board of Commissioners were presented with a grievance signed by all Transit employees except Saworski and his assistant, George Kraft.

The grievance noted that the work hours of employees had recently been cut from 40 to 35, thus cutting their incomes, but that Saworski was still being paid on the basis of 40 hours a week.

Last February, Treansit employees presented Saworski with a list of grievances which included policies on sick leave, accidents, and work schedules.

According to Beer and Ehrcke, none of the grievances presented by employees has ever been acknowledged or answered by Saworski. Presently, the Treansit System employs eight bus drivers, a dispatcher, and a secretary in addition to Saworski and Kraft.

For the first two years of operation, the Charlevoix County Transit System was funded by the State, with the only local contribution being the small fares paid by riders. State funding has now been cut to 75 percent, and next summer it will be cut to 50 percent. The County appropriated $8,500 from its general fund this year to keep the Transit System going until a millage election could be held. The first millage request, for .29 mills for three years, failed at the August primaries, but another request, for .25 mills for three years, passed at the November general election. It is hoped that with this supplement to State funds, the Transit System will remain in business.

The Transit System is big business, although it is used by a relatively small percentage of County residents. In 1981, it operated on a budget of $267,107. It provided just under 80,000 one-way rides during that time, making the cost per rida approximately $3.33. The average fare collected was 48.83 cents.

In an over-all review of the Commission on Aging and the Transit System last week, County Commissioner Lee Moerland told the County Board that future plans for the Transit System are to incorporate it in a Transportation Authority which would also include the Ironton Ferry. The Transportation Authority would be run by an appointed board.

When this comes about, the Transit System will be divorced from the Commission on Aging, leaving that group to oversee such programs as nutritional meals, home health aide, home chore, homemaker, East Jordan senior center, and senior employment.

County board passes 1983 budget with little fanfare

by PEG OHLE

There was hardly a murmur at the public hearing held last week to consider the 1983 County budget.

Only two interested persons and two reporters were on hand when the budget of $2,653,569 was approved unanimously by members of the County Board of Commissioners. This is an increase of 5.7 percent over last year.

Although the above figure indicates the amount of revenues and expenditures expected to come and go through County hands next year, Commissioners will also have at their disposal $449,280 in Revenue Sharing Funds ($419,280 plus $30,000 in interest). This money is listed on the revenue side of the budget as "Unappropriated Funds" and on the expenditure side as "Future Years' Allocation".

Joan Blanchard, head of the County Equalization Department, asked about this fund as it related to the County Board ignoring her requests for raises for employees in her Department. Ways and Means Committee member Casimir Toton told her that the present economy did not permit raises of more than the 25 cents an hour already granted County employees.

The law requires that a public hearing be held for input from citizens as to how Revenue Sharing Funds should be spent. Such a meeting was held by the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners on October 12, at which time a delegation of men and women from the Senior Citizens Center in Boyne City appeared to request $20,000 for operating the Senior Center. Bruce MacArthur of the Keep Charlevoix Beautiful organization appeared to suggest that $1,500 be divided among the townships and cities in the County to help them spruce up their areas in the spring.

Asked last week if either of these requests had been honored, Ways and Means Committee chairman Oral Sutliff said they were still under consideration.

To explain window insulating

Cold weather is here and with it higher heating bills. Energy saving window treatments may help to keep those heating bills in line. The cooperative Extension Service of Emmet County is sponsoring a two-part workshop "Window Sense - Save Dollars" on Wednesday and Thursday, November 17 and 18, at the 4-H Building, Fairgrounds, Petoskey from 7:00 - 9:00 p.m.

On Wednesday evening Beth Bjorkman of Bjorkman's Decorating will present a slide show and discussion of "Warm Window" and insulated Roman Shade System of window treatment. "Window Sense" a presentation of window quilts will be done by Martha Drake, Extension Energy Coordinator.

Thursday, November 18, a two hour workshop on making your own Warm Window or window quilt will be presented by Julie Michael, Extension Home Economist and Beth Bjorkman.

Materials list will be given to participants on Wednesday evening. Some materials will also be available for purchase at the workshop. A one dollar registration fee will cover cost of bulletins.

Questions? Call the Emmet County Cooperative Service at 347-2596.

Char-Em will conduct public survey by phone

The Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District (Char-Em) will be conducting a public opinion survey November 29 - December 2, 1982. The interviews will be conducted by telephone between 5:00 and 9:30 p.m.

The survey, which seeks to collect information on educational priorities, will be conducted by a team of 96 volunteers. These volunteers have been recruited from the twelve local school districts in Char-Em Intermediate including Charlevoix.

The survey is being conducted at the request of the State Board of Education as part of Project Outreach. Project Outreach is the State Board's program to gather information about people's feelings about their schools, improve the public's confidence in education, and to establish educational priorities for the 1980's.

These interviewers will be trained in three training sessions on November 29, 1982. The two-and-a-half-hour training session are scheduled for 9:00 a.m., 1:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. at the Intermediate office, Mercer Boulevard, Charlevoix and the Petoskey School District Administration Office, Howard Street, Petoskey. The training sessions will be conducted by the Project Outreach staff, Mike Ward and Kathy Feaster, from the Michigan Department of Education and the Ingham Intermediate School District.

A total of 400 interviews will be completed. This sampling will guarantee a 95 percent confidence with a sampling error not to exceed plus or minus 5 percent. All answers will be confidential.

The questionaire has been developed by the Project Outreach staff and local questions of concern to educators and citizens in the Emmet, Charlevoix, and northern Antrim area have been included.

The results of the survey will be reported to the Char-Em Boards' Association at their Winter meeting.

The results of the Char-Em survey and surveys completed in other Intermediate School Districts in the State this school year will also be reported to the State Board of Education in the Spring.

James S. Shepard, Char-Em Superintendent, in announcing the survey, requests residents who are called to take a few minutes to answer the questions. "We ask that you cooperate with the interviewer and help us collect this information," he said. "It will be invaluable to the educators in our counties and in Michigan as we face these times of declining resources."

Candidates named for Chamber Board

Six candidates are seeking election to four vacancies on the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Jacquie Merta, executive director of the chamber has announced.

Candidates are Michael A. Greeley, co-owner of Wharfside Market, who was appointed to fill an unexpired term and can now be a candidate for a three-year term; Josh Barnes of the Lexalite Corp.; James Dahl, manager of the Charlevoix Federal Credit Union; Kjell Johansson, manager of the Weathervane Terrace; Dr. David Strawbridge, local dentist and former member of the Charlevoix Planning Commission and John Frey, farmer.

The four elected will succeed George Richardson, James McGarry, Phillip Loomis, who was transferred to Jackson with Consumers Power Co., and Greeley.

Ballots have been mailed to Chamber of Commerce members who must return their ballots by Dec. 31.

Other members of the board of directors are Peter Pace, Suzie Reis, Jeannine Wallace, Roy C. Hayes, David Knight, James Mabee, Dr. James Stewart and Linda Mason.

Chx. Township sets hearing on sewer improvement

The Charlevoix Township Board moved forward with plans to begin a $500,000 sewer improvement project in the Ferry Rd. - Lakeview Court area by voting at their November 8 meeting to set a hearing date for the project.

Thursday, December 16, 1982, at 8 p.m. was designated by the board as the date and time for the hearing which will be held at the Charlevoix Township Hall.

The project will entail installation of 6,245 linear feet of sanitary sewer, two lift stations, 1,270 linear feet of forcemain and the repavement and site restoration that will result from construction.

An original estimate of $439,500, approved by the board last December when it tentatively endorsed the project, was increased by Granger Engineering of Gaylord to $500,000. An itemized account of the cost estimate and the boundaries of the special assessment district to be created are on file with Township Clerk JoAnn Elzinga and are available for public inspection.

Notices of the hearing will also be sent in the mail to affected property owners.

In other business, the board approved the appointment of William Behrens to fill the unexpired term on the Board of Review held by the late Edward Lewand. The board also accepted from Mrs. Lewand a Veteran's Flag formerly belonging to Mr. Lewand to hang in the new township hall.

Vets office open longer

The Charlevoix County Office of Veterans' Affairs is now open three days a week.

Counselor Ronald G. Geer will spend Monday, Tuesday, and Friday in the Veterans' Affairs Office in the County Building to help veterans and their families with any problems they may have with reference to military service.

Up to now, the Office has been open two days and a half each week, but there has been an increased demand for help from local veterans in recent months.

The Veterans' Affairs Office is under the jurisdiction of the Veterans' Affairs Committee, made up of local veterans of the last four wars. They are Samuel King, World War I; William Bennett, World War II; Cass Russell, Korean Conflict; and Robert Muma, Vietnam Conflict.

The telephone number of the Office of Veterans' Affairs is 547-9365.

Knight on the Town
(Opening) daydreaming

by Dave Knight

It is predawn. I am sitting on my deer stand.

It is not predawn, dreamer. It's broad daylight and you're staring at a video terminal.

Stars twinkle their last as the night gives way to the morning of opening day. Nothing is like the stillness of the woods on opening morning of deer season. It is as if all creatures are waiting for the drama of the hunt to unfold.

The only thing that's unfolding is your shirttail, Dave. Looks real good hanging out of your best church sweater.

In my mind's eye, I replay the scene I want to happen: A rustle in the brush...from behind the tree a magnificent antlered head...twelve points...moving slowly...still early opening day so he hasn't been spooked...grazing, sniffing the ground...raises his head nice and slowly...moves into the clearing...I raise the barrel smoothly...I squeeze.

You'd better get your mind's eye refocused. There's a paper to get out and you're sitting here curling your index finger and squinting.

Ah, the hunt! But what endurance and patience it takes. Even now as the sun rises higher the stump I have chosen to sit on is leaving a permanent imprint. Time to move. Maybe I'll try some jump shooting. Get the circulation moving.

That pain in your seat is the pen in your back pocket.

Time for a snack. I pull out some energy food - raisins, grsnola, dried apple.

I believe that's a custard filled long john on your desk, Dave.

As afternoon wears on, the booming of long guns echos through the woods.

Remember? They're fixing the roof of the Market Mall this week.

Opening Day! The excitement! The tradition!

Sorry, Dave. Someone's on the phone with a complaint about last week's paper.

Clockwise
Dodging deer and snowflakes

by Bob Clock

THE SEASON'S first snow has arrived just in time for the opening of deer season.

Despite last year's bumper harvest, a heavy winter kill and staggering highway toll, the Department of Natural Resources expects a fairly successful season.

Anyone who does moch traveling on the roads around Charlevoix probably will agree.

A few weeks ago en route home from Ironton I was forced to come to a dead stop while a herd of about nine deer crossed M-66 in front of me. Fortunately traffic was not heavy and they all made it without mishaps, although a few does had a bard time crossing the smooth pavement. They were like little girls in their first high-heeled shoes.

Deer also have been plentiful in the area of Big Rock Point. It's a good idea to cut your speed by 10 or 15 miles an hour — and look alert — between Shanahan's farm and the LexaLite pisnt.

THE FIRST SNOW also has given all of us a short-course in winter driving, whether we're ready for it or not.

The secret of driving on icy pavement is remember that all of the old isws governing moving objects no longer apply. When you tromp on the brakes suddenly, you won't stop but you might:

1. Speed up.
2. Turn right or left, depending on your tire tread and vagaries in the ice surface.
3. Start to fish-tail, or
4. Do a pirouette in the middle of the highway.

Turning corners also is exciting, because you never know which way you're going to turn. If you're traveling faster than conditions dictate, you'll probably continue moving in the same direction — regardless of how hard you swing the wheel. Or you may take off at an oblique angle toward a row of parked cars.

Hopefully our first bout with snow and ice won't last long. I for one would appreciate a few more days in Indian Summer before we move into another long, cold Northern winter.

PAID A BRIEF visit to our Canadian neighbors at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Saturday and I'm happy to report that the Canadian economy seems to be improving slightly.

Unemployment remains high, but interest rates are moderating and the imbalance between the American and Canadian dollar is not as great as it has been. The differential is down to about 20 percent.

The Christmas shopping season is in full swing. Santa Claus already is holding court at the Station Mall, where shoppers were elbow-to-elbow Saturday afternoon.

Unfortunately, most of the merchandise — including food — is high-priced by American standards, even with the currency discount. Unless you're in the market for baked goods, you'll find better bargains at home.

Letters: A thank you

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank you for the excellent job you did covering all the Proposals and candidates for the General Election on November 2, 1982.

To the winners, Ray and Ivan, congratulations!

A special thanks to all of you who had faith in me and voted for me in the past election. You can be assured I will continue working for the City of Charlevoix and it's citizens.

Thank you 3rd ward voters!

The most important thing I learned in college

by KIP CINNAMON

Kip Cinnamon is a Charlevoix native and recent graduate of Williams College.

When I returned to Charlevoix, people asked maoy questions. "What did you learn in college?" friends said. I didn't know what to say. Sure, I learned plenty, but I can't sum it up. I told a close friend about this. He said, "Well, how about one thing you learned?" I can do that now. It goes like this:

It happened at Stigs. Stigs was the deadest bar in the West and the homliest. There were two semis in the fot next to a signboard with a yellow ligbt inside. 'STIGS WESTERN RANCH' it announced. In the window a blue neon blinked 'COLD' and a red one 'BEER'. It was so dead, the screen door banged behind me and I heard an echo. Three farmers and the two truckers sat at the bar. Behind the bar sat Stig. Otherwise the cinder block ballroom contained empty tables with clean ashtrays. A Coors calendar hung over the cigarette machine. It was a week late. Stigs was the only bar in Salina.

Saline is halfway into Utah on 50. Salina has Stigs, the Corral Motel and Cafe, a Texaco, and some houses and stores. It is an outpost. Truckers and travellers eat and drink there and sometimes stay the night. Ranchers in Sevier County find something else to do there. It is not an attractive town. Then, it was dark and there was nowhere else for miles.

I stopped at noon in mid-Nevada. Big scattered drops pinged off my helmet. The greasy blue clad attendant smiled, flashed a golden incisor and told me something. He said "One thang 'bout Nevady, if you don't like the weather, jus' wait fi' minutes." He smiled his smile. "Cuz it's bound to change!" This was utterly untrue.

I rode in the rain for hours. It was often violent. Gusts bucked the bike from side to side. Beyond every low brown mountain I hoped to see blue over the empty plain. But five minutes stretched to five hours. On ridge after ridge, in valley after valley, I was blown and splashed by another rolling grey squall line. Finally it stopped. I rode until I found Stigs.

I sat at the bar between the farmers and the truckers.

"What'll it be thar stranger?" said Stig. "Yu'd better take two, cuz I'll be across the street fer a bite." He served me two Olys and left. His bar was as dead as a disconnection. So I sipped and listened to the neons buzz. Often in these places a stranger carrying a helmet is a curiosity. People ask "Where you from?" or "Where you headed?" or "Don't you get wet when it rains?" They may feel friendly about this and treat to one or two. There seemed little chance of this at Stigs.

By and by my beers dried. Still there was no threat of dislogue. I decided to start something. I bought some smokes. It was startling how loudly the change jangled in the machine. The others did not seem to notice. They remained hunched over their beers.

I breathed deeply, twice, and asked one trucker for a match. I regretted this instinctively. Time in Michigan taught me to ask for 'a light'. Otherwise it's "Sure, your face and my behind. Haw, haw, haw." I bit my lip. He turned to me, blinked deliberately and siad "Cert'n'ly". The man unsnapped his shirt pocket. I exhaled, relieved. This guy hadn't been to Michigan.

"Cert'n'ly, yer breath and a buf'flo ___."

The deadest bar in the West burst alive. I laughed too. My face felt very, very warm.

We all got to talking. The farmers were ranchers. "Ranchers is ranchers not farmers" one said. I said I was a student riding east to finish. The truckers hauled plywood to Flagstaff. They were from Idaho. The only things I knew about Idaho were the license platea said 'FAMOUS FOR POTOATOES' plus what a myopic friend recently told me in San Francisco. She had traversed Idaho and mistook dust devils for tornadoes. "The weather in Idaho was most frightening," she said.

"I hear the weather in Idaho is most frightening," I said to one trucker.

He shook his head. "We hain't had a hellstorm all year."

I was agog. I've seen blizzards blast across the big lake. I've seen a tornado tear through Kalamazoo. I've never seen anything that I could even hyperbolize into a hellstorm.

"Wow!" I said. "A hellstorm? What's a hellstorm?"

The man wrinkled his brow and looked at me. "It's when little pieces a ice come down and bounce all around."

"Ohh, a hailstorm," I said. "I thought you said a hellstorm."

The man wrinkled his brow and squinted at me. "That's what I sayid, a hellstorm."

Then he told me that Idaho was God's country. All mountains and volcanic ranges and dense forests and not too many people to junk it all up. Most of what remains wild in the West is up in the panhandle he said. He told me of a road up in Boundary County that cuts down the side of Mt. Kanisku, the only trail to the northernmost logging camps.

"Fifty-six switchbacks in twenty-one miles," he said. "Fine-ly closed it down when somebuddy figured more was wreckin' than was gettin' to the bottom!"

I told him I would surely like to see all that.

He said, "All you got to do is head north fer a day!"

Stigs walked in. He tongued a toothpick around to the side. "Idaho? God's country. North fer a day."

Everyone nodded at this. I did too.

That's pretty much what I learned. I can go to Idaho if I choose. More than that. From those unusual instructors in that unlikely classroom, I discovered some freedom. Whether it is "heading north fer a day" or choosing something else off a prescribed path, I can do it. There may be plenty of utter untruths, hellstorms and switchbacks along the way, but I can do it. This is very important. Maybe the most important one thing I learned in college.

Clean water to cost $

water plant into the new facility. The estimate was based on the assumption that the treatment plant would be located on the present city well site in Lake Michigan Park just south of the pier.

Using, then, a sample cost figure of $1.3 million, City Manager Robert Hunt has explored several ways of raising the money.

With no outside funding such as a federal grant, a 3.0 mill tax increase would be neccessary to pay for the project should the council decide to place the burden solely on taxpayers. If the decision is made to raise the required funds through water rates alone, users of city water can expect a 65 percent increase in their bills.

Another alternative, according to Hunt, is a combination plan involving both increased millage and higher water rates. Such a plan might feature a 1.5 mill tax increase along with a 32 percent increase in water rates.

There is the possibility, however, of obtaining a grant, said Hunt, which could ease the local burden substantially.

If, for example, a $500,000 grant is obtained, an added tax of 1.8 mills could fund the project with no change in water rates. Using the grant and a boost in water rates alone, the rates would jump by about 40 percent. Using both tax proceeds, water rates and a $500,000 grant, a 1.0 millage and an 18 percent increase in user rates would suffice.

Though the lake water treatment plant involved the most costly initial outlay of the three alternatives studied by Granger, cost estimates for all three plans were over $1 million. A filtration system constructed in two phases, said Rommelmann, would total $1.052 million and carry an annual operation and maintenance cost of an additional $143,000. Even the cost of drilling new wells, the least expensive in terms of operation and maintenance (about $59,000 annually), he estimated at $1.2 million.

Operation and maintenance of a lake treatment plant would be $117,000 according to Rommelmann who is also studying the possibility of temporarily filtering the TCE out of the water while the treatment plant is being built.

Hunt points out that there are advantages to passing the cost along through property taxes. One is that state income tax deductions can be utilized to lighten the burden - even for taxpayers who don't own property such as renters. Such deductions would be especially attractive and available to the elderly and the poor.

On the other hand, cautioned Hunt, using tax dollars to "subsidize" such enterprise functions as a water plant tends to reduce the emphasis on cost effectiveness. Using rates to fund such a project, he explained, more accurately reflects a market situation based on supply and demand. No more plant is built than is needed as reflected by usage, to put it briefly.

Footing the cost through rates will also promote conservation. Those people with alternatives to using city water, said Hunt, will use them.

Even if TCE had not been discovered, the eventuality of a new city water supply was not that far away, says Hunt. There are currently some times of the year when the city is actually pumping more than its believed capacity of 1.8 million gallons per day.

In five years, according to Hunt, the city would have started encouraging water conservation. The estimated demand 20 years from now was set by Granger Engineering at 2.4 million gallons a day.

Regardless of the details on precisely how much will come out of whose pockets, somebody's pockets will be reached into soon.

As soon as engineering proposals from Granger are submitted to council, which could be a matter of weeks, Hunt will seek the neccessary tax or rate increases. As to how a grant figures into to the picture, he does not expect to hear official word on the application until January at the earliest - and probably much later.

Though no date has been set, Hunt has advised the council to hold a public hearing on the financial implications of the water quality improvement project.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Gary J. Thaxton

Etienne-Thaxton

Cynthia Ann Etienne and Gary J. Thaxton, both of Traverse City, were married Saturday afternoon, September 25 at Trinity Lutheran Church in Traverse City. The Reverend Edwin Fitz officiated.

The bride is the daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Forbrig of Charlevoix, and the bridegroom is the son of Elizabeth Thaxton of Traverse City.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of imported satin and lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses, white fugi mums, stephanotis, and baby's breath.

Brenda Forbrig assisted her sister as brideamaid, and Stephanie Etienne, daughter of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid.

Dennis McKinney was best man, while Tim Thaxton and Gary Forbrig served as ushers.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Traverse City Golf and Country Club. The bridegroom's mother created the three-tier wedding cake. The rehearsal dinner was held at the Holidy Inn.

The bride is employed by the 4C's Child Care Council of Traverse City, and the bridegroom is employed by the Holiday Inn there.

Following a trip to Canada and Nisgara Falls, the newlyweds are at home in Traverse City.

Some old-fashioned advice on cooking turkey

Those getting ready to prepare their Thanksgiving turkeys may find a tip or two in this "To Roast a Turkey" recipe in the Modern Cookery cookbook published in 1880:

"In very cold weather, a turkey in its feather will hang (in an airy larder) quite a fortnight with advantage; and, however fine a quality of bird it may be, unless sufficiently long kept, it will prove not worth the dressing, though it should always be perfectly sweet when prepared for table.

"Pluck, draw, and singe it with exceeding care; wash, and then dry it thoroughly with clean cloths, or merely wipe the outside well, without wetting it, and pour water plentifully through the inside. Fill the breast with forcemeat (dressing), or with the finest sausage meat, highly seasoned with minced herbs, lemon-rind, mace, and cayenne.

"Truss the bird firmly, lay it to a clear sound fire, baste it constantly and bountifully with butter, and serve it when done with good brown gravy, and well-made bread sauce. An entire chain of delicate fried sausages is still often placed in the dish, round a turkey, as a garnish.

"Is usual to fold and fasten a sheet of buttered writing-paper over the breast to prevent its being too much coloured; this should be removed twenty minutes before the bird is done. The forcemeat of chestnuts may be very advantageously substituted for the commoner kinds in stuffing it, and the body may then be filled with chestnuts previoulsy stewed until tender in rich gravy, or simmered over a slow fire in plenty of rasped bacon, with a high seasoning of mace, nutmeg, and cayenne, until they are so; or, instead of this a well-made chestnut sauce, or a dish of stewed chestnuts, may be sent to table with the turkey.

"A turkey should be laid at first far from the fire, and drawn nearer when half done, though never sufficiently so to scorch it; it should be well roasted, for even the most inveterate advocates of under-dressed meats will seldom tolerate the taste or sight of partially-raw poultry."

Local churches to hold Union Thanksgiving service at Church of God

The annual Union Thanksgiving service whose theme will be "Thanksgiving...Then, Now and Always" will be held at the Community Church of God at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 24, under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Ministerial Association David W. Yingling, president of the sponsoring organization, has announced.

Participating in the special service will the the host pastor, the Rev. Walter Hastings, the Rev. Mr. Yingling of the Charlevoix and Greensky Hill United Methodist churches, the Rev. Michael Mitchell of the Assembly of God church, the Rev. Charles Hastle of Mackinaw City, interim pastor at the First Congregational Church, the Rev. Robert Smith of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. James Raum of the Church of the Nazarene and the Rev. Roger Ames of Christ Episcopal Church.

Special music will be by the choir of the Community Church of God.

The offering will be used for The World Hunger Organization.

A special collection of canned good will be taken for St. Mary's pantry, Rev. Yingling said.

Plan Christmas buffet

The Holy Childhood of Jesus School Annual Christmas Buffet Luncheon will be held on Dec. 2 at Boyne Highlands Convention Center beginning at noon.

General Chairman for this years event is Doris Hoffman; Darlene Marvin is in charge of the craft booth, Marcella Fisher the bakery, Mary Mattick and Dorothy Sagataw will be working on the raffles, Mary Lou Dawson is in charge of tickets.

Tickets will cost $10 and may be purchased at Holy Childhood rectory, Harbordashery, and Dante Inc. of Harbor Springs or by calling Mary Lou Dawson at 526-5548.

Alan Bergmann, Pat Mitchell MVPs

Two members of the Charlevoix Rayder football team were named to the Michigan-Huron Shores conference Most Valuable Players list league officials have announced. Two other members of the squad were given honorable mention.

Names to the MVP list were Alan Bergmann, Rayder lineman, and Pat Mitchell, Rayder back and the league's top scorer.

Receiving honorable mention were Shannon Reynolds, also a lineman, and Jeff Trimper, a back.

All are seniors with the exception of Mitchell who is a junior.

It was explained that each team selects its own players for honors with the number of selections based on final finish in the league standings.

Charlevoix finished the season with a 2 win-6 loss record.

Mens B-ball scores

In action in the Charlevoix Recreation Department B League Air Force edged First State Bank 46-45; Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage dumped Medusa 65-54 and Staley Hardware trimmed Wojan Aluminum 50-46.

In the first game, Air Force trailed the bankers 16-10 at the quarter and 28-19 before knotting the score 34-all going into the final period to take the game by a one point margin. Joe Travers and J.R. Greenway had 12 points each and Chris Claytor 11 for the victors. Steve Martinus had 11 and Dennis Dominic and Ralph Doan 10 points each for First State.

After trailing 15-12 at the quarter, Carson-Charlevoix Garbage found their stride and took over 38-29 at halftime and 53-43 at the three-quarter mark before coasting to an 11 point win behind the scoring of Roger Crain who had 21 points, Mike Crain with 12 and Larry Brock with 10. Jim Parrish had 19 and Doug Winnell 14 for Medusa.

In a seesaw battle, Staley Hardware managed a win over Wojan Aluminum 50-46. Staley's trailed 10-7 at the quarter, tied the score 24 all at halftime and managed a 36-34 margin going into the final period when they stretched the victory to four points. Larry Skippergosh with 10 points paced the victors. Don Ward, Stan Martin and Bernie DeVries had 12 points each for Wojans.

On Thursday, the strong Ellsworth I.D.C. team defeated Boyne Auto 71-67 and Depot Restaurant downed Village Inn Pizza 75-60.

I.D.C. trailed 15-10 at the end of the first period but came back strong to go ahead 34-24 at halftime and 45-42 going into the final period. Brian Farrell with 20 points paced the game followed by Jim Danbert with 19 and Tex Drenth with 16. Dale Tims had 18, Keith Fitzpatrick 13 and Hal Price 12 for Boyne Auto.

The first half of the V.I.P.-Depot Restaurant game was a close one with V.I.P. leading 15-14 at the quarter before Depot Restaurant went ahead 35-33 at halftime before coasting to a 56-48 advantage at the three-quarter mark. Jeff Belford paced the scoring with 20 points followed by Al Looze with 18, Hartwick with 14, Dean Hicks with 13 and Tom Byers with 10. Jerry Skippergosh had 15 points, Woody Pearson and Matt Doan 14 and Vince Left 12 for V.I.P.

Winners named in Gun Club drawing

In a recent Charlevoix Rod & Gun Club drawing, the winners included: 1st prize, a 30-06 Ruger rifle, Robert Schleman; 2nd prize, rod and reel, Don Behrens.

Other winners were Bob Anderson, gun case, Emery Sloan, gun case, Tim Oakes, knife; Big Bergmann, compass and Joe Otmanowski, knife.

Girls end with 3-11 mark

The Charlevoix girls basketball team closed out its 1982 schedule Friday night with a loss to St. Ignace by a score of 65-38.

Earlier in the week the team had lost to Rogers City by a score of 45-29.

The team had a three win-11 loss record in Michigan-Huron Shores League play and a 6-11 overall record for the season.

On Friday night, playing at St. Ignace, the Saints took an early lead and paced the game 16-5, 30-17 and 51-23 by quarters.

Lichlyter had 12 points and Cindy Paquin 10 for the winners. Laura Kemp scored 12 for Charlevoix.

The Charlevoix JVs defeated St. Ignace 29-28.

In the game with Rogers City, Rogers was in command all the way with advantages of 8-4, 18-13 and 33-19 at the quarters.

Kemp had 10 points for Charlevoix. Carmen Rohrer had 18, Teresa Hudak 13 and Patti Furtaw 12 for the victors.

The Charlevoix JVs posted a 50-37 win with Michelle Gagnon accounting for 18 points.

St. Ignace with a 10-4 record in league and a 13-6 overall record captured the conference title.

Seniors on the Charlevoix team who will be playing their last prep school games in the forthcoming tournament will be Laura Kemp, the team's top scorer with 161 points for the season, Connie Borths and Kim Bolduc.

8th graders advance

The Charlevoix eighth grade girls basketball team has advanced to the finals against the winner of the Cheboygan-Soo game at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Cheboygan Invitational Junior High Tournament.

The eighth graders advanced to the finals after defeating Cheboygan Catholic 29-17 in the opening game of the tourney on Monday and edging Petoskey 24-23 on Wednesday.

The seventh graders made it past their first opponent, Cheboygan Catholic, 15-10 but lost to Petoskey 24-23 on Wednesday. This team was to meet Newberry Monday.

In their opening game, the eighth graders led Cheboygan Catholic 10-6, 16-6, and 22-11 by quarters before taking the game 29-17.

Amy Pischner and Ann Kroll had eight points each. Dobrowolski had 10 for Cheboygan Catholic.

In their game on Wednesday, the eighth graders got off to an 8-3 first period lead only to trail 11-10 at halftime. Charlevoix out scored Petoskey 10-6 going into the second half to go ahead 20-17 going into the final period.

Charlevoix had 11 field goals and two of five from the line while Petoskey had 10 from the floor and three of five charity shots.

Kroll had 10 points and Becky Boss eight for Charlevoix in the closely contested game. Jill Mathews had nine for Petoskey.

The seventh graders won their game over Cheboygan Catholic by a score of 15-10 after heading their opponents 6-4 at halftime behind the scoring of Becky Smith who had five points for the game. Cronk had four for Cheboygan.

In the game with Petoskey, Charlevoix was less fortunate, losing to Petoskey 25-24. Charlevoix trailed 15-13 at the half and 21-19 at the three-quarter mark. Lisa Smith had eight points for Charlevoix. Missy VandenBrink had 17 for Petoskey.

Roxie Loding is an art teacher, not just an artist

by ANNE KELLY

Roxie Loding

"I'm not a professional artist," commented Roxie Loding, Middle School art instructor, "I'm a professional art teacher." And there's a difference she went on to explain. Roxie, a graduate of Olivet College and presently working on her M.A. out of Michigan State University, admits to "learning as many new things as I possibly can." Her interest seems to be diversified into many areas of her discipline. However one "quality", I would call it when speaking with teachers, shines through – that of an honest love of the profession of teaching.

"I take teaching seriously. I love the kids and get to know them as well as their individual tastes and abilities."

Roxie went on with enthusiasm to describe her program for the year in middle school art. The first semester, she explained, is a concentration on drawing skills at all levels.

The art room itself is a collage of work either completed, or in one stage or another along the way to completion. Black and white drawings employing various techniques involved in exhibiting the elements of art, i.e. line, shape, shading, are hanging on the bulletin boards. Materials and projects are stacked on tables, accessible for the next class. Charcoal sketches which are for the students; the synthesis of drawing skills learned in the first nine weeks, are on display in the library.

The progression of skills and techniques acquired through the three years might run something like this:

Sixth grade students, learning the rudiments of line may be found making treasure maps, using line to show direction and to have meaning. Seventh graders would deal more with design, texture, pattern, and value. 8th graders, building upon their past experience in art, might use line to demonstrate drawing techniques like hatching, stipple drawing, using converging lines, dealing with perspective and so on.

"This age group (middle schoolers) is finicky about realism," Roxie noted. "What they draw must really look like that thing. So I tell them, okay, to make things real, you have to learn how to see; that's the price you have to pay."

An enjoyable project nearing completion, is that of the reconstruction of a cut-apart poster, puzzle fashion. Each square is numbered and given to a student to enlarge and draw in his own style. The completed "drawn" poster will be displayed as a joint effort of many artists and their respective styles.

"They'll look at the completed project and realize that everyone of them is unique in belonging to the whole... they'll learn that in art, you're putting a little piece of yourself down on paper."

This, and a lot of art theories would be pretty dry if the instructor spent her time trying to explain her point in words.

"I set them up, and they learn by doing," Roxie explained.

"We're the place (middle school) where you get to try many interest areas .. art class is often a turn about in terms of success in school ... (one of it's values in the curriculum lies in the fact that)... anyone can succeed in this class regardless of his scholastic ability."

Roxie attributes much of her continued success and enthusiasm in the classroom to belonging to a supportive group of colleagues - both teachers and administrators, periods of renewal, when she gets the opportunity to pursue her own interest in the arts, and an honest love for the students she teaches.

Her only regret seemed to be that "there often isn't enough time in a class period" to accomplish all she had hoped.

Rinaldi to present McCune recital

Beverley Rinaldi, soprano and a member of the faculty of the University of Michigan School of Music, will present a Master Class in Voice at the Ross Stoakes Theatre of the McCune Arts Center in Petoskey on Saturday, November 20 at 1:30 p.m.

Ms. Rinaldi received her Master of Music from the College-Conservatory of Cincinnati, and has performed extensively throughout the United States as soloist with groups such as the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, the Pro Arte Chamber Orchestra, the New York Choral Society and the Musica Sacra Chorus and Orchestra. She has toured with the Robert DeCormier Folk Singers and Harry Belafonte and Company and appeared in numerous musicals. She recently audited for Beverly Sills and has performed in Carnegie Hall.

Ten students of June Zoerhof and Fran Tollas will participate in the Master Class, which is made possible by the Crooked Tree Arts Council.

Any music lovers are welcome to attend this interesting class lesson, which will open with Ms. Rinaldi performing for the students. Admission will be $2.00. Further information can be obtained by calling the Crooked Tree Office at 347-4337.

Recently Fran Tollas of Charlevoix completed an artist apprenticeship grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts under Beverley Rinaldi. Mrs. Tollas will perform a number of the works that she prepared under Ms. Rinaldi in a concert on Saturday evening, November 20 at 8 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church in Petoskey, as a guest of Barbara Hoig. Tickets will be available at the door.

Obituaries

HARRY W. MOHRMANN

Funeral services for Harry W. Mohrmann, 62, who died November 11 in Detroit, were held Monday at the Sajeswki Funeral Home. Interment was in a Detroit area cemetery.

Born in Highland Park Jan. 2, 1920, Mr. Mohrmann had visited here often when his mother, the late Mrs. Harry (Mae) Mohrmann resided here. He was a former foreman for the Department of Public Works for the City of Detroit.

He is survived by his wife, Ann; a daughter, Mrs. George (April) O'Dale; a son, Kurt; two grandchildren and a brother, Robert.

CECIL E. RICHARDSON

Funeral services for Cecil E. Richardson, 77, who died Thursday at Grandvue Medical Care Facility, were held Saturday at the Winchester Funeral Home. The Rev. Glenn Britton of the Norwood United Methodist Church and the Rev. Bruce Persenaire of Ellsworth officiated. Interment was in the Norwood cemetery.

Born at Norwood Aug. 20, 1905, Mr. Richardson was married to Jennie Antonisson at Chicago in 1933. They returned here to make there home. Mrs. Richardson preceded him in death in 1957. In December 1958 he was married to the former Vida Black. In 1960 they moved to their present home in Charlevoix. He was a farmer and from 1954 until he retired in 1979 he was employed at the Belvedere Club. He was a former member of the Farm Bureau.

Surviving are his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Meadows and Mrs. Richard (Beverly) Smith of Charlevoix and Mrs. Jerroll (Marilyn) Drenth of Ellsworth; 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The family suggest memorials to Grandvue Medical Care Facility or the Norwood Cemetery Association.

Tollas, Hoig to perform

Barbara Hoig of Petoskey and Fran Tollas of Charlevoix will present a recital on Saturday, November 20 at 8 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Petoskey.

Ms. Hoig studied under Bane Hill at Interlochen and with Janis Epke at Bayview, and has performed as a soloist in numerous churches in the Petoskey and Traverse City areas. She will include works by Handel, Faure, Hovannes and a group of spirituals.

Also performing will be Fran Tollas, soprano, of Charlevoix, and Vera Mae Bryant of Traverse City, who will be playing her own compositions. Accompanist will be Albert Jordan, pianist, from the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

The public is cordially invited to attend this musical program.

Critic's Corner

The King and I

by DAVE KNIGHT

Imagine Rex Harrison as the King and Claire Bloom as Anna and you have a pretty good idea of the leads in the Little Traverse Civic Theatre production of "The King and I".

There is nothing wrong with the respective interpretations of Mickey Berryer and Ima Williams. Both work well in the context of the script, even if they are not carbon copies of the actors most often associated with the roles.

After all, if every "King" tried to be Yul Brynner, what fun would that be?

Berryer establishes the neccessary aloofness of the King of Siam in his own way. Instead of a commanding physical presence, he uses a more subtle approach; maybe even slightly aristocratic. This is only adds to the irony of his self image in the play as a barbarian.

At any rate, aristocrat or autocrat, the effect is the same as he softens from the inside out through the course of the story. Fortunately for Berryer, most of the King's songs in the play call for more macho than vibrato - his voice suffices.

Mrs. Williams is romantically expressive and very English in the role of Anna, - two qualities that are not always easy to develop simultaneously. She is a strong actress with stage presence that belies much experience. Since she is on stage probably more than anyone else, this is a very smart bit of casting.

Vocally, Dianna Weltich and Eric Grandstaff as the young lovers deliver the most outstanding performances. Both have voices that could fill Ottawa Stadium, much less the cozy McCune Art Center.

But the most valuable musical performance award goes to conductor Steve Stargardt and his eight-piece pit orchestra. Unusually in tune and consistently tight for only having played together over the past couple months, the orchestra is lively and amazingly responsive to the action on stage which, on opening night anyway, demanded considerable flexibility.

Stargardt does not fall into the trap of overconducting which can happen when a conductor has a big score but a small ensemble.

Director Pat Stedman uses the McCune facility well in her staging. It is a director's stage - that is, many possibilities for creative entrances, exits and other action – and she takes full advantage.

Special mention is also due choreographer Diana Mason and costume designer Jil Ieestma. Unless you do the "King and I" on location in Thailand with an Oriental cast, it takes a certain professional effort to portray the visual charm and physical grace of the Southeast Asian culture on a Northwest Michigan stage.

And, oh yes, one name or names was not mentioned in the program but deserves some credit. That is the one who had the responsibility of tending to 18 children actors (who, incidentally, do a great job between scenes and during rehearsals.

Something tells me he or she will be taking a long vacation come the end of the play's run.

"The King and I" will be presented at the McCune Art Center in Petoskey this week, Thursday through Saturday nights with a matinee Sunday.

Chamber orchestra to headline first Community Concert

Solisti New York will present the first concert of the Community Concert Season on Monday, November 22 at 8 p.m. at the Petoskey Middle School Auditorium.

Solisti New York is a chamber orchestra composed of New York's finest young musicians. Its members play in or have played in the New York Philharmonic and the orchestras of the Metropolitan Opera, New York City Opera, American Ballet Theatre and New York City Ballet, as well as the Orpheus Ensemble and New York Pro Arte Chamber Orchestra.

Founded in 1980, the orchestra each season presents a series of concerts in New York, and will be featured in a gala Christmas concert at the renowned Cathedral of St. John the Divine, along with the St. Thomas' Church Choir of Men and Boys, the brass section of the New York Philharmonic and personalities such as Cyrus Vance and Walter Cronkite. In its first concert tour during the 1982-83 season, Solisti New York will appear in twenty cities of the Eastern United States and Canada, including performances in Boston, at Princeton University, the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Va., and the Petoskey performance.

Ransom Wilson, the conductor, is recognized as one of America's finest musicians. In addition to flute recitals in major concert halls throughout this country and abroad, he has appeared as guest soloist with the Israel Philharmonic and Leonard Bernstein, the National Symphony, Seattle Symphony, Los Angeles Chamber Orchestra, Mostly Mozart Festival Orchestra of New York, and the chamber orchestras of Prague, Cologne, Nice, Stuttgart, and the Netherlands.

Prices for the four-concert series are adult, $15; student, $8 and family ticket, $38. Memberships may be purchased at the door on November 22 or at the McCune Arts Center, 347-4337. Persons who have already paid for their '82-'83 memberships should have received their cards in the mail.

Names In The News

Sgt. MARK A. ROKUS, son of John A. and Delphine Rokus of Boyne City has been decorated with the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Osan Air Base, South Korea.

The Air Force Commendation Medal is awarded to those individuals who demonstrate outstanding achievement or meritorious service in the performance of their duties on behalf of the Air Force.

Rokus, a communications specialist with the 4th Combat Communications Squadron, is a 1979 graduate of Boyne City High School.

Pvt. JED A. MONROE, son of Mary M. Lambert of Battle Creek and Joseph G. Monroe of East Jordan, has completed training as a Pershing missile crewman under the one station unit training (OSUT) program at the U.S. Army Field Artillery Training Center, Fort Sill, Okla.

Students were trained in the maintenance and firing of the Pershing missile. they also learned the transportation skills required for reliable weapons deployment and the ability to assemble and arm the weapon for maximum tactical effect.

OSUT is a 13-week period which combines basic combat training with advanced individual training.

Airman CHARLES F. PETERSON, son of O.M. and Isabel A. Peterson of Ellsworth has been assigned to Fort Leonard Wood, MO., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the civil engineering field.

Peterson is a 1980 graduate of Ellsworth Community High School.

MRS. WOODBURY RANSOM, member of the Board of Trustees of Warren Wilson College, was on the campus recently for three days of decision making. The Charlevoix summer resident is on the Trustees' Development and Library Committees.

The focus for the fall Trustee meeting was the college's institutional self-study, undertaken to renew accreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Warren Wilson is a four-year liberal arts college located in the mountains of Western North Carolina. Each student works 15 hours per week for room and board and also completes a non-credit service project in keeping with the school's "academics, work, and service" orientation.

Davis to push for new department

Michael B. Davis of Boyne City, Youth Activities Director for Charlevoix County, will testify before the House Tourism and Industry Committee in Lansing this Thursday (November 18) in support of the formation of a State Department of Tourism, Recreation, and Culture.

Davis, who also serves on the Governor's Recreation Advisory Committee, believes that this new State Department would more effectively meet the leisure needs and desires of Michigan residents and would also help in strengthening the economy.

The new Department would coordinate several activities that are now spread across several departments, he says, resulting in better coordination. For example, the development, management, and publicizing of Michigan's State Parks and marinas is not coordinated with the overall development and promotion of Michigan tourism.

Similarly, the State's programs that support local public recreation are not coordinated with its programs that support local historic and fine arts efforts. Placing all of these functions under a single commission and management would provide a mechanism for communication and coordination between groups, Davis points out.

The Draft Bill to create a State Department of Tourism, Recreation, and Culture suggests that the following commissions be abolished: the Travel Commission, the Mackinac Island State Park Commission, the Waterways Commission, and others as necessary.

The following state agencies would be transferred to the new Department under the bill:

From the Department of Natural Resources: recreation services division, parks division, land and water conservation fund administration, state exposition and fairgrounds, natural rivers program, and land use recreation unit.

Also, the Mackinac Island State Park agency, waterways division; the travel bureau of the Department of Commerce; the Michigan history division of the Department of State; the travel information section of the Department of Transportation; the Michigan Council for the Arts of the Department of Management and Budget; and the swimming pool section of the Department of Public Health.

Here's how the contest worked

This year's Courier Holiday Recipe Contest attracted almost 200 recipes from all over Northwest Michigan. A judge was assigned to each of the five categories, hors d'oeuvres, salads, breads, casseroles and desserts. Each judge screened the recipes in his or her category and selected three finalists. Those finalists were then notified to prepare their recipe for the final judging Wednesday, November 10. In a new twist to the finals, the Courier this year opened the finals to the public in the Market Mall and invited area retailers to participate in a kitchen show with demonstrations and samples. Included in this cookbook are as many of the recipes submitted that could fit plus special mention of the finalists and winners of the contest.

SWEET & SPICY MEATBALLS

Dianne VanGulder
Charlevoix

2 lb. ground beef
1 c. dry bread crumbs
2-3c. minced onion
½ c. milk
2 eggs
2 T. parsley
½ t. ginger
2 t. salt
1 T. worchestershire sauce

SAUCE:

12 oz. bottle chili sauce
10 oz. jar grape jelly

Mix ingredients for meatballs together. Make tiny meatballs about size of a walnut. Brown in oven on sheet pan 20-30 minutes. Meanwhile mix and blend together, over low heat, the grape jelly and chili sauce. Put cooked meatballs in sauce and simmer 30 minutes.

1 t. dry Italian dressing mix
¼ t. salt
1½ t. Worchestershire Sauce
¼ t. curry powder
1 T. parsley flakes
1 T. minced onion
1½ t. lemon juice

Mix all ingredients together well and store in refrigerator. Serve in bowl surrounded by cauliflower.

CUCUMBER STARS

Jennie Burchfield
Williamsburg

Cucumbers
French dressing
1 T. butter (soft)
2 boned Sardines
2 hard cooked egg yolks
Sprig parsley (minced)
Pimento (cut in star shapes)

Cut stripes vertically from cucumbers leaving striped green and white color on sides. Cut cucumbers in 1½ inch pieces. Scoop out centers to form cups, place a marinate of French dressing in each cup and refrigerate for 1 hour. Meanwhile chop the cucumber pulp very fine. Mash egg yolks and sardines, add butter and parsley. Mix well and add cucumber pulp. Fill cup and top with star of pimento.

CARMEL CORN

Kathy Ann Neff
Petoskey

2 qts. popped pop corn (no salt or butter)
½ c. butter
1 c. brown sugar
¼ c. honey
1 t. vanilla
1 c. salted peanuts

Pop popcorn and set aside. Bring to boil: butter, sugar and honey, boil for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Pour over popcorn in a large roaster pan and add peanuts. Mix well. Place in 200 degree oven for 1 hour. Every 15 minutes take out of oven and stir very well. Cool and store in a closed container. Makes 3 quarts.

SWEET & SOUR SAUSAGE APPETIZERS

Ginny Longman
Boyne City

3 oz. horseradish mustard
10 oz. apple or currant jelly
2 4 oz. cans Vienna Sausages (drained)

In saucepan mix mustard and jelly. Add sausages. Simmer over low heat until syrupy. Put in fondue pan and serve with toothpicks or hors d'oeuvres sticks.

HOT CHIPPED BEEF SPREAD

Karen Hoffman
Petoskey

Blend:

8 oz. softened cream cheese
2 T. milk

Add:

4 oz. chipped beef (shredded in blender)
¼ c. green pepper, chopped
2 T. onion, chopped
½ t. garlic powder

Fold in:

½ c. sour cream

Pour into baking dish; sprinkle with mixture of 2 T. melted butter or margarine and ¼ c. chopped pecans. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve hot with party bread.

STUFFED MUSHROOMS

Betty Zipp
Bay Shore

1-3 c. diced onions
2 T. butter
1 c. fine soft bread crumbs
1 c. finely chopped walnuts
2 T. chili sauce
2 T. lemon juice
1 t. salt
pepper
22 mushroom cups fresh or canned

Melt butter in 8" glass pie plate. Add onion and cook 2 minutes, stir in remaining ingredients, except mushrooms. Fill cups and pile high. Put 8 mushrooms on 7" paper plate - covered with waxpaper. Put in microwave 1½ minutes. Cool 2 minutes.

MEATBALLS IN FESTIVE SAUCE

Georgene Alger
Petoskey

1 lb. ground beef
¼ c. dry bread crumbs
2 T. finely chopped onion
½ t. salt
½ t. seasoned salt
¼ t. nutmeg
½ c. milk

Mix thoroughly all ingredients. Portion out on a greased cookie sheet with a teaspoon. Roll in balls. Bake until slightly brown, at 350 degrees.

SAUCE:

Combine 1 cup chili sauce (can use one whole 12 oz. bottle) with ½ cup grape jelly (more or less to taste). Simmer for about 15 minutes before adding meatballs. Coat each meatball and keep warm in oven until serving time.

While these meatballs make a great hors d'oeuvres they can also be served as a main dish with buttered noodles or rice as a side dish.

CRAB CHEESE ROLLS
Bonnie Hand
Charlevoix

½ c. crab meat
8 black olives chopped
½ c. cheddar cheese grated
½ c. creamy Italian salad dressing
½ c. mozzarella cheese grated
2 T. butter or margarine softened
2 T. green onions chopped
8 onion rolls split in half paprika

Sprinkle crab meat over onion rolls. In a bowl, combine olives, cheese, salad dressing, butter and green onions. Spread mixture over top of crab meat and garnish with paprika. Broil about 2 minutes until cheese bubbles and browns lightly. Cut into 4 wedges (each onion roll half). Serve warm.

Joyce Persenaire
Ellsworth

2 lbs. Polish sausage, cut into ½" pieces
1 c. beer
¼ c. brown sugar
2 T. cornstarch
¼ c. vinegar
¼ c. prepared mustard
1 T. prepared horseradish

In skillet combine sausage and beer. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Combine brown sugar and cornstarch, stir in vinegar, mustard, horseradish. Add to sausages, cook and stir until bubbly. Turn into fondue pot or hot plate. Serve warm with wooden picks. Makes about 50 pieces.

TACO APPETIZER
Patricia Scott
Petoskey

Mix together:—
1 16 oz. carton sour cream
1 pkg. taco seasoning (1.5 oz.)

Spread above mixture on flat platter. On sour cream mixture layer 2 medium tomatoes - seeded and chopped. Cover tomatoes with shredded cheddar cheese, as desired, then top all with shredded crisp lettuce. Chill for a short while and serve with tostito chips. Appetizer is used like a dip.

HOLIDAY NUTS
Angie Supernaw
Charlevoix

20 oz. pecans
¼ lb. butter
2 egg whites
1 c. sugar
½ t. salt

Spread nuts in a jelly roll pan (10x15x1") and toast in 250 degree oven for 30 minutes. Remove nuts and to same pan melt butter. Beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar and salt; continue beating until thick. Fold in nuts. Spread into pan with melted butter and bake 300 degrees, 45 minutes. Turn with pancake turner once or twice gently so nuts do not break. Remove from oven and cool.

Finalist - Hors d'oeuvres

STUFFED MUSHROOMS
Liane Christensen
Charlevoix

Melt 2 T. butter in saucepan. Add 2 T. flour. Mix well. Add 1 c. hot milk and ½ c. grated cheddar cheese. Stir constantly for 2 minutes. Set aside.

Melt 4 T. butter in heavy skillet. Saute following for 2 minutes: 24 large mushroom caps, 2 T. chopped parsley, 1 finely minced garlic clove, 4 minced shallots (or one medium finely chopped onion). Remove from heat.

Combine 1 lb. crab meat with cheese sauce mixture. Add shallots, garlic, parsley, ½ t. white pepper. Stuff mushroom caps with mixture. Sprinkle toasted bread crumbs over top. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 350 degrees for 2 minutes.

CHINESE PORK AND SHRIMP POCKETS
Diane Meale
Boyne City

1 pkg. frozen puff pastry
1 lb. pork cutlets, cut into juillienne strips
½ c. green onions, sliced
2 T. vegetable oil
2 T. soy sauce
1½ t. ground ginger
10 oz. baby cooked shrimp
1 egg yolk mixed with 1 T. water

Thaw puff pastry sheets and on lightly floured board, roll each square to a 12 inch square. Cut into four inch squares and put ¼ cup filling in center of each. Fold two opposite sides (not corners) of pastry square toward center, overlapping slightly to form a rectangle. Moisten ends with egg mixture and press with tines of fork to seal. Do not seal top seam. Chill. Place pockets on ungreased cookie sheet and bake in preheated 425 degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes or until puffed and golden brown. Serve warm or cold. Makes 18 pockets.

SPICY STUFFED MUSHROOMS
Frani Phalen
Charlevoix

1 lb. large mushrooms
½ lb. "Jimmy Dean" brand hot sausage
½-¼ c. grated onion parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 272 degrees.

Wash mushrooms and remove stems. (Use stems in soups or salads.) Place caps on cookie sheet. Set aside. Mix Jimmy Dean hot sausage with onion. Mound into mushroom caps. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Place in oven. Bake for 25 minutes or until bubbly.

BAR CHEESE
Betty Neff
Petoskey

2 lb. velveta Pomento Cheese
16 T. Miracle Whip
10 dashes of tabasco sauce
2 oz. bottle of Horseradish

Melt cheese in double boiler. When cheese is melted add Miracle Whip, tabassco sauce and horseradish. With an electric mixer beat at low speed for 2 minutes, then on high speed for 2 minutes. Keep to closed container and refrigerate. Will last indefinitely but must be refrigerated.

Serve with crackers, celery or as a dip or spread.

SAUSAGE BALLS
Janet Simpson
Charlevoix

2 c. Bisquick
½ c. cold water
8 oz. grated cheese (cheddar)
1 lb. bulk pork sausage

Mix Bisquick and water. Add cheese and sausage. Mixture will be thick and heavy therefore it is easier to use your fingers to knead until well blended. Roll in 1 inch balls and place on cookie sheet not too far apart since they don't spread too much. Bake 20-30 minutes in 250 degree oven or until slightly browned and done in middle. Makes about 60.

SAUERKRAUT BALLS
Sandra Marquardt
Charlevoix

1 lb. lean ham
1 lb. lean pork
½ lb. saurkraut (drained)
2 c. flour
2 c. milk
1 t. dry mustard

Grind meat, and saute till brown, add flour, milk and dry mustard and cook until thick. Cook kraut separately, then grind kraut and meat mixture together. Mix well, return to stove and cook until very thick. Cook, shape into balls, roll in flour, dip in milk, roll in cracker crumbs, and fry in deep fat at 360 degrees until brown.

Chill until firm.

Here are some tips on preparing your holiday turkey this year from Michigan State Cooperative Extension Service

Thanksgiving is the day Americans will gobble up approximately 30 million turkeys, or almost 20 percent of the 1982 national turkey crop.

This crop – estimated at 163.8 million turkeys nationally – is 4 percent smaller than the 1981 crop. The Michigan turkey crop of 1.4 million birds is also down slightly from a year ago. Allan Rahn, MSU poultry economist, says individual turkeys are larger, however, because of lower feed costs and more heavy breed strains being raised this year.

These larger birds are a good deal for shoppers. Larger turkeys cost less per pound and yield a higher proportion of meat to bone than turkeys weighing 12 pounds or less.

Most shoppers will choose frozen turkeys. Frozen stuffed turkeys and frozen turkey rolls go directly from the freezer to the oven. Other turkeys require thawing. Proper thawing is necessary to avoid food poisoning. Keep the turkey solidly frozen until the thawing procedure begins.

To thaw, leave the turkey in its original wrapper and use one of the following methods. Place the turkey on a tray in the refrigerator and thaw. It will take three to four days, depending on the frozen temperature of the turkey, the size of the bird and the temperature of the refrigerator.

The faster brown-bag method involves putting the frozen turkey on a tray in a tightly closed brown grocery bag. Let it sit out at room temperature for the required amount of thawing time – about one hour per pound. The heavy bag keeps the outside of the turkey from getting too warm before the inside is thawed.

The cold-water method is the fastest but least desirable because it results in a greater loss of moisture. That means the turkey will be less juicy, especially if it's roasted rather than steamed. To thaw a turkey in cold water, cover the plastic-wrapped bird with cold running water. It takes about ½ hour per pound of turkey.

It is wise to check thawing progress by any of the three methods. Refrigerate or cook the turkey as soon as it is thawed. Once thawed, the turkey should be refrigerated no longer than two days, and it should not be refrozen until it is cooked.

Don't stuff the turkey the night before, no matter how enticing this advance preparation may seem. Stuffing is a perfect culture for bacteria. Once stuffed, the bird should be cooked immediately.

Follow the cooking timetable on the turkey wrapper. Today's turkeys are very tender, and the cooking times in old cookbooks are incorrect. For best results, use a meat thermometer placed in the center of the inside thigh muscle of unstuffed turkeys or in the center of the stuffing in stuffed birds. When done, it will register 180 to 185 degrees F. in unstuffed birds, 165 degrees F. in stuffed turkeys.

After your holiday feast, make sure you refrigerate the turkey immediately. Separate the turkey meat, stuffing and gravy and store them in the refrigerator in different containers. If you have a large quantity of a hot dish left over, put it in several small containers rather than one large one to speed cooling. Cover tightly to prevent dryness and loss of flavor.

If kept cold in the refrigerator, cooked turkey will maintain its quality for three or four days; gravy and stuffing, two days. If you don't plan to use them within that length of time, freeze them immediately.

1 c. yellow cornmeal
1 c. buttermilk
½ c. molasses
¼ c. honey
1 t. baking soda
½ t. salt
½ c. raisins

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In large bowl mash bananas. Add flour, cornmeal, buttermilk, molasses, honey, baking soda and salt. Beat at medium speed of electric mixer for two minutes or until well blended. Fold in raisins. Turn into three greased and floured empty one pound tin cans up to two-thirds full, or into three small loaf pans 7½x3½x2¼ inches. Bake for 50 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes. Remove from pans. Serve warm or cold with butter.

FRENCH ONION BREAD
Karen Hoffman
Petoskey

Combine 1 envelope onion soup mix with 2 cups water. Simmer 10 minutes (covered). Add 2 T. sugar, 1 t. salt, 2 T. grated parmesan cheese, 2 T. shortening. Cool to luke warm.

Soften 1 pkg. dry yeast in ¼ cup warm water, set aside.

Sift 6½ cups flour. Stir 2 cups of this flour into soup mixture. Beat well. Stir in yeast. Add enough remaining flour to make moderately stiff dough. Turn onto floured surface, knead until smooth. Place in lightly greased bowl turning once. Cover, let double (1½ hours).

Punch down, divide into 2 parts. Cover, let rest 10 minutes. Shape into 2 long loaves, tapering at ends. Place on greased baking sheet sprinkled with corn meal. Gash tops diagonally ⅛ to ¼" deep. Cover, let double (1 hour). Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Brush with mixture of 1 egg white and 1 T. water. Bake 10 to 15 minutes longer. Cool on rack.

CARAWAY RYE BREAD
Charles S. McDowell
Boyne City

2 to 4 c. bread flour
1 T. caraway seed
2 t. salt
1½ t. onion powder
2 pkg. active dry yeast
2¼ c. water
2 T. brown sugar
2 T. margarine
2½ c. rye flour
1 egg white - beaten
Coarse salt if desired.

Grease two bread loaf pans. In large mixing bowl, combine 2 c. bread flour, caraway seed, salt, onion powder, and yeast. Blend well. Heat water, brown sugar, and margarine until warm. (120 degrees F.) Margarine should melt into water. Add warm liquid to flour mixture. Blend at low speed until moistened and then beat 2 minutes at medium speed.

By hand, stir in rye flour, plus enough bread flour to form a stiff dough (about 1 to 2 cups). On floured surface knead in remaining bread flour until dough is smooth and elastic - about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, cover, and set bowl in warm water for about 20 to 25 minutes.

Punch down dough several times to remove air bubbles; shape into ball. Place back in greased bowl and bowl in warm water for another 20 minutes.

With floured hands, knead about 30 seconds to remove air bubbles. Divide into 2 parts and place dough into bread loaf pans. With sharp knife, make a ½ inch deep slash down center of loaf. Brush with egg white. Cover, let rise in warm place 20 minutes.

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. Sprinkle loaves with coarse salt, if desired. Bake 30 minutes or until loaves sound hollow when lightly tapped. Cool on wire racks.

GRAPE-NUT CARROT BREAD
Bruce Personnaire
Ellsworth

2 c. boiling water
1⅓ c. grape-nuts
2 T. shortening
1 T. salt
½ c. brown sugar
2 pkg. yeast dissolved in
2-3 c. warm water
½ c. grated carrots
5-6½ c. flour

Pour boiling water over grape-nuts in large bowl. Add shortening, salt, and sugar. Mix well until shortening is melted. When mixture is lukewarm, add dissolved yeast and grated carrots. Beat well. Add 4 c. flour. Cover with damp towel and let rise in warm place until double in size. Stir down. Blend in remaining cup of flour and place on floured surface. Let rest, covered, for 10 minutes. Knead dough until smooth and elastic, adding more flour if necessary to prevent dough from being sticky. Place in well-greased bowl, turning, to grease top. Cover with damp towel and let rise in warm place until double in size. Punch down and let rest on floured board, 10 minutes.

Shape into 2 loaves and place in greased loaf tins. Lightly grease tops and cover with dry towels. Let rise in warm place until doubled. Bake at 350 degrees for 45-60 minutes. Remove from oven and butter tops of bread. Let cool in pans 10 minutes on rack. Remove from pans and let bread cool on its side on racks. Serve with butter.

CANDY CANE COFFEE CAKES
Diane Maske
Boyne City

2 c. dairy sour cream
2 pkg. active dry yeast
½ c. warm water (105-115 degrees)
¼ c. butter or marg. softened
1½ c. finely chopped dried apricots
1½ c. drained finely chopped maraschino cherries
1-3 c. sugar
2 t. salt
2 eggs
6 c. flour
soft butter or marg.
Thin Icing

Heat sour cream over low heat just until lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Stir in sour cream, ¼ c. butter, sugar, salt, eggs, and 2 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Mix in enough remaining flour to make dough easy to handle. Turn dough onto well floured board; knead until smooth, about 10 min. Place in greased bowl; turn greased side up. Cover and let rise in warm place until double, about one hour. Heat oven to 375 degrees. Punch down dough; divide into 3. Roll each part into rectangle 15"x6". Place on greased baking sheet. With scissors, make 2 inch cuts at ½" intervals on long sides of rectangle. Combine apricots and cherries; spread 1-3 of mixture down center of each rectangle. Crisscross strips over filling. Stretch dough to 22". Curve like candy cane. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Brush softened butter over candy canes and drizzle with Thin Icing. If desired, decorate with cherry halves or pieces.

Yield: 3 coffee cakes.

Thin Icing - Blend 2 cups powdered sugar with about 2 T. water.

DATE LOAF
Donna Fisher
Ellsworth

Let 1 pkg. dates soak 1 hour in 2 c. hot water and 2 t. soda.

Mix in bowl:
1½ c. sugar
½ c. melted butter
2 eggs
2 t. vanilla
2 c. flour
½ t. salt

Add date mixture with flour mixture. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour. Makes 2 loaves.

CRESCENT SHAPED COFFEE CAKE
Elizabeth Mielke
Charlevoix

MIXTURE:
1 c. milk
½ c. honey
½ c. shortening
1 t. salt
2 pkgs. dry granular yeast
½ c. lukewarm water
2 eggs beaten well with fork
5 c. sifted flour
FILLING:
butter or margarine
granulated sugar
cinnamon ICING:
confectioner's sugar milk vanilla

Warm milk. Add honey, shortening, and salt to milk while it warms. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Beat eggs in large mixing bowl. Add to eggs: yeast mixture, milk mixture and 3 cups flour. Beat well with mixer. Add 2 cups flour. Mix well with spoon. Knead on floured board until smooth, 5 to 10 minutes, using more flour as needed. Place in slightly greased bowl, turn mixture over in bowl. Cover with light weight towel and let rise until double in bulk (about 2 hours.

Punch down and form into 2 or 3 parts. Roll each part as flat as possible in circle shape. Spread with oleo or butter. Sprinkle granulated sugar over butter. Sprinkle generously with cinnamon. Roll tightly as if a jelly roll. Place on lightly greased baking sheet with sealed edge down in crescent shape. Using scissors cut a lengthwise slit in crescent exposing the filling in each roll. Let rise about 1½ hours. Bake at 325 degree oven near top, 12 to 15 minutes. Cool on rack. Spread top lightly with icing.

DITTO BREAD

Jeanne A. Moore
Alanson

2 pkgs. dry yeast
½ t. sugar
¾ c. warm water (110-115 degrees)

6 T. butter
3 c. milk - heated to lukewarm only
3 T. corn meal
3 T. sesame seeds
¼ c. molasses
1-3 c. brown sugar, packed
2 eggs, room temperature, well beaten

2 c. whole wheat flour
7-8 c. bread flour
1 T. salt

Proof yeast with sugar and water.

In a large bowl mix butter, cornmeal, sesame seeds, molasses and brown sugar. Add warmed milk, beaten eggs and proofed yeast. Mix well with wooden spoon. Gradually add the whole wheat flour. Cover bowl with waxed paper and place in barely warm oven. No hotter than 80-85° Farenheit. The electric light in your oven often heats if sufficiently. Check oven with a room thermometer to be sure. Allow to rise 25 minutes.

Remove from oven, stir in 1 T. of salt and gradually add the bread flour, 7-8 c. depending on the humidity. Knead til smooth and elastic - 10 minutes. Place in large greased bowl, cover with towel and return to the 80-85 degree oven to double in size, usually 1 hour.

Test with two fingers to see if an indentation remains. If so, punch down with one blow of the fist, cover and allow to rest for 15 minutes.

This dough makes 4 large loaves or five medium size ones. Divide dough accordingly, use a scale if you have one, roll out and form loaves which go into well greased pans. Place back in 80-85 degree oven for last rising. Usually 1 hour. Bake in pre-heated oven at 325 degrees, on the next to lowest shelf to prevent the tops of the loaves from burning. Bake 30 minutes, test with wooden spoon for a good hollow sound. If done, remove from pans and place on sides in the oven and bake another 5-10 minutes. Remove and cool on wire racks. If freezing, allow to cool thoroughly. Package in plastic bags.

OLESON'S
FARM-FRESH MARKETS

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

We are taking this opportunity to thank you for being our customers for the past fifty-six years that Oleson's has been in business. We have always maintained our courteous carry-out service, fresh baked goods daily, well stocked shelves, lots of free parking and fresh, local produce when available, all for your shopping convenience.

Our meat department features fresh U.S.D.A. Choice beef....and we are especially proud that we can serve you with specialty cuts and buffalo meat in all our locations in Northwest Michigan.

If you're interested in having us cater a party our references serve us well as last year we catered the college barbecue at N.M.C. (Northwestern Michigan College), in Traverse City, where we served approximately 13,000 guests.

In Petoskey you can visit The Little Red Shoe House for all your family's footwear needs....and if you are planning a party our Petoskey store carries all your liquor needs.

So again, thank you for your patronage throughout the past fifty-six years and in the years to come.

With Sincere Appreciation,

Make 4 even circles of meringue (smooth as much as possible) Bake in [illegible] oven 250 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes, until it is pliable. Remove from oven and carefully peel meringue off. Place on oven racks to cool.

Melt chocolate with water over double boiler. Drain juice from raspberries, between each meringue layer spread a thin coat of chocolate, then spread ¼" layer of whipping cream and top with raspberries. Continue each layer. Frost cake with the rest of the the whip cream. Pour extra chocolate and berries over top. Chill 2 hours. This cake is very large and looks nice.

FORGOTTON MERINGUE

Frani Phalen
Charlevoix

5 egg whites (room temp.)
¼ t. salt
1 c. sugar

Preheat oven to 450 degrees.

Beat egg whites and salt until stiff. Take 15 minutes to add sugar one teaspoon at a time. Spread mixture into greased pan. Place in oven. Turn off oven. Close door and let stand in oven overnight. Do not open oven door till morning. Absolutely no peeking!

Few objections aired at master plan hearing

by DAVE KNIGHT

Charlevoix's newly developed master plan took a step closer to ratification Mondsy night when it was the subject of a public hearing before the City Planning Commission.

The only phases of the plan drawing comment from the small audience were proposed development ideas for the Wayside Motel property, traffic flow alternatives and the closing of Clinton St. between Bridge and State St. downtown.

Planner Ronald Nino emphasized that none of the proposals detailed in the plan will neccessarily happen without specific approval through normal governmental channels.

"What we are considering tonight does not legally affect anybody's land," said Nino, "A plan is required by law, however, as a policy guideline, a framework around which policy decisions are made."

Nino, a planning consultant from Grand Blanc, waa commissioned by City Council to develop the master plan in tandem with a state-funded Coastal Zone Management Plan for Charlevoix's wsterfront areas.

Major thrusts of the plan, according to Nino, are to provide a legal basis for zoning changes, give direction to the city manager and council on capital improvement within the city, promote balanced growth, influence decisions by private developers and protect the city's environmental interests.

Many aspects of the plan are based on the potential for population growth in Charlevoix. Nino used a projected population figure of 4830 for 1995 with a peak population in the summer of 7300.

Nino indicsted that with these projections, "You (the city) are going to run out of land."

He thus based his proposals for realdential, commercial and industrial growth on the anticipated needs of the next two decades.

The master plan calls for 590 new dwelling units to be built in the city over the next 20 years. Of those, 194 would be single family homes and 396 included in multiple family structures. There are presently 1227 single family homes and 552 dwelling units in multiple family complexes in the city.

"These numbers should be an important part of the city'a zoning strategy and in determining the amount of land that has to be set aside for housing," said Nino, "Too often in the past, we have tended to make zoning decisions based upon who is the loudest at the hearing. This plan would put the decision making process on a more objective basis."

Land use proposals in the plan were also determined on a formula basis, said Nino. He explained that, using projected needs, the city will have to provide an additional 93 acres for housing development by 1995, 48 acres of a low density type and 45 acres for high density and multiple use development.

An effort was also made, he said, to balance different types of land use among all sectors of the city.

Under the planned growth strategy presented by Nino, ideally 60 percent of the city's tax base would be generated by residential properties and 40 percent by such non-residential uses as commercial and industrial.

To meet projected needs, he added, Charlevoix will have to increase its total assessed valuation from $48.5 million to 90 million by 1995.

Other highlights of the master plan as presented by Nino:

-Commercial development will require an additional 27 acres as determined by a market analysis. An estimated 250-300 jobs are expected to result from tbis development.

-The city will have to provide 46 acres for industrial development to meet needs of balanced growth. According to Nino, the city already has that much land with location suitability - 28 acres on the north side and 16 on the south.

-A traffic pattern involving one-way flows on Bridge St. and State St. may be neccessary eventually. Said Nino: "Bridge St. carries much more traffic than it is supposed to and you have a condition where you cannot widen the atreet and there is no other corridor for a bypass."

North side property owner Norman Probert pointed out that the development proposal for the Wayside Motel involved five other proerty owners. Planning Commission Chsirman Walter Hufford assured Probert that the plan was meant only for the Wayside property and that adjoining lots were not meant to be included in that specific plan.

Probert cautioned against promotion of development in scenic areas saying, "I think we're changing too much. People come here for the natural beauty and now you can't even see the lakes from the highway."

The Planning Commission took no action on the master plan Monday though no major objections were voiced by commission members. It is expected the commission's approval will be forthcoming, following which the plan will be forwsrded to the City Council for that body's approval.

GORILLAGRAM FOR CHARLEVOIX AREA HOSPITAL: The gorilla with the message got special treatment from Charlevoix Area Hospital nurses last week. The gorilla's message is: The Fifth Annual Luncheon and Bake Sale, sponsored by Charlevoix Area Hospital Employees is Thursday, December 2, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the American Legion Hall. Along with a stuffed gorilla, an afghan and Christmas ornaments will be raffled. All proceeds will be used for hospital equipment. Giving the gorilla treatment are Esther Carey, R.N., Sue Miller, R.N. and Joyce Chellis, R.N., all of whom helped organize the Luncheon and Bake Sale. See page 3 for more on the story.

Supreme Court decision sheds new light on implementation of solid waste plan

by PEG OHLE

Now that Charlevoix County has a Solid Waste Management Plan, the question of implementing it is up in the air.

As a result of a Michigan Supreme Court decision last week, the State is enjoined from enforcing landfill regulations against counties, townships, and cities without reimbursing them for the costs of compliance.

The decision was rendered in the case brought by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) against Delta County in the Upper Peninsula. Delta County contended that if the State (DMR) wanted to impose its regulations on the County and its landfill, it would have to pay the costs inherent in meeting the regulations, and cited the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment as its legal basis.

Charlevoix County wss among several municipslities which assisted Delta County financially in its court fight.

The State Solid Waste Msnagement Act, which the DNR wss trying to enforce in Delta County, became effective January 11, 1979 and provides that "A municipality or County shall sssure that all solid waste is removed from the site of generstion, frequently enough to protect the hesith and is delivered to licensed solid waste disposal areas."

The Headlee Amendment, which became law on December 23, 1978, before the Solid Waste Management Act, simply states that when the State tells a municipality "You must do this", the State must provide the funds for doing it.

Charlevoix County, as required by the State Solid Waste Management Act, went to work on a Solid Waste Management Plan. It was recently completed after over two years of work by an appointed committee of persons interested in solid waste disposal. It has been approved by the County Board of Commissioners after a public hearing and now awaits only ratification by County municipalities. Thirteen of the 19 cities and townships must approve it

Eye in the sky is bad news for poachers

by NANCY JARVIS

Jerry Johnston has the bird's eye view from a Piper Super Cub sirplane, looking down on a field of cops and robbers.

The cops are Department of Natural Resources (DNR) conversation officers (COs) and the robbers are the thieves of wildlife - Michigan's deer herd.

It's Saturday night during firearm deer hunting season and the shiners are out in full force. Johnston, a DNR pilot flying a 60 square mile area tonight in Charlevoix County, spots from the air, then radios to the COs, the location of suspicious looking deer hunters.

To Johnston's passenger directly behind him in the the tiny two-seat plane, it's difficult to see the shiners with an untrained eye. But Johnston can spot them with ease. Then he peers through his binoculars to verify. If the car stops, it's a good bet it might be a poacher.

"I've got about six shiners north of the tower," Johnston calls to one CO. "I'll try to pick out the best ones. Okay, I've got one about a mile west of you."

"I'll turn right just ahead," the CO responds.

No, I'm headed south."

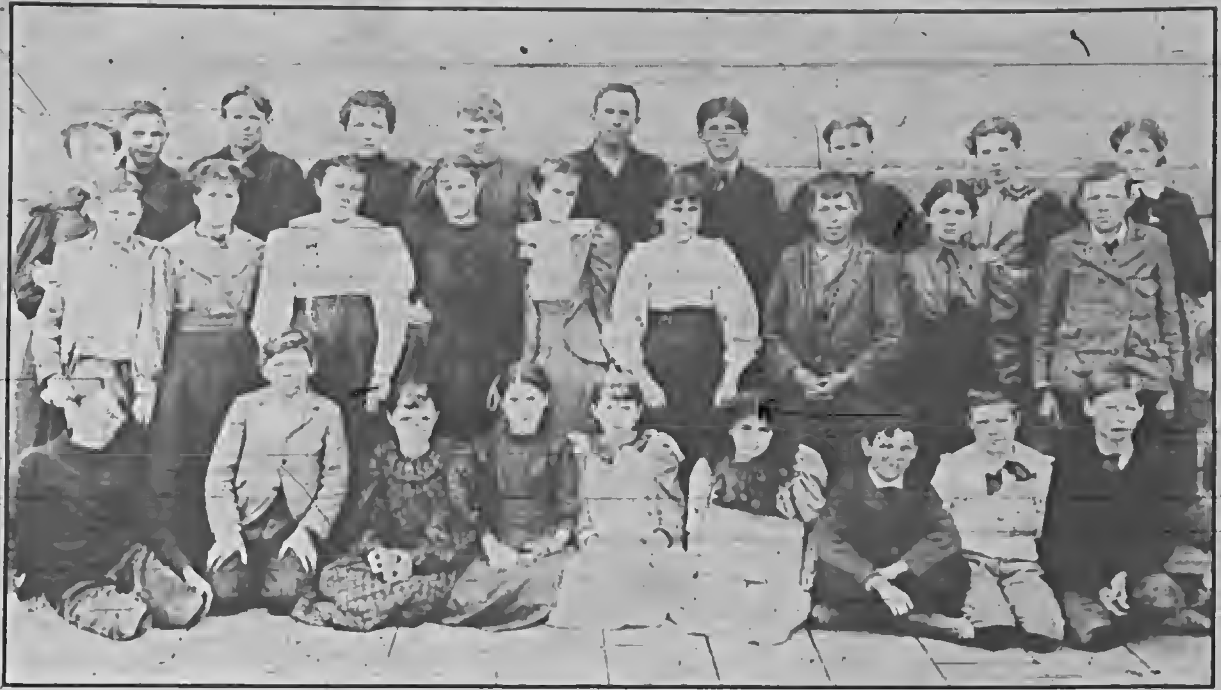
Chamber to sponsor contest

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce will again be sponsoring a Window Decorating contest for business places throughout the community Jacquie Merta, executive director of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, has announced.

Entries will be divided into four catagories: soft goods (clothing and similar items); hard goods (furniture, etc.); service division (offices) and gift shops. Prizes will be awarded in all four catagories with the overall winner being award the traveling trophy which the winner will keep for one year Mrs. Merta said.

Judging will be done the night of December 17.

NOV



Charlevoix Yesterday

Unlike most school pictures, this one comes with names of all the students. It is described as a "7th grade picture, Charlevoix", but no year is mentioned. The students are:

Second row: Iola Humiston (teacher), George Thompson, Mable Francis, Belle McNeil, Nellie Brown, Grace Swartz, Maud Cunningham, George Whitford, Lela Miller, Bert Burnett.

Third row, seated: Earl Miller, Bert Sharrow, Maud Ross, Mary Tyover, Matilda Curtis, Myrtie Miller, Roy Lobdell, Will Harding, Sam Ross.

Vets reminded to file cards

All veterans and families of veterans who are receiving VA pensions are reminded that they must have their income cards into the VA office on or before December 31, 1982 Ronald G. Geer, Charlevoix Veterans Counselor, warns.

If the income card arrives at the VA office after that date, December 31, checks normally received February 1 will not be forthcoming on that date or possibly not at all.

The Charlevoix County Veterana Counselor's office will be open Tuesday and Friday through December 16 for anyone needing assistance in filling out the income cards.

The counselor will be prepared to assist with Homestead Property Tax and Heating Credit Claims beginning January 7.

Boyne City plans Hobbycraft Fair

The Fourth Annual Hobbycraft Fair sponsored by the Boyne City Community Education program will be held at the Boyne City gymnasium and cafeteria Saturday, Dec. 4.

The hours will be from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

More than 60 artists and craftsmen incuding several from Charlevoix will be among the exhibitors who will be displaying and offering their hand crafted items for sale.

Career test results ready

The results of the Career Planning Program (C.P.P.) given in October to Charlevoix High School juniors will be shared with junior students and their parents at the high school study hall at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 29.

Developed by the American College Testing Corporation, the tests not only measure the student's interest in terms of a wide range of career opportunities but also take into account abilities and experience with many of those same careers.

On Monday the counseling staff at the high school headed by Charles Bentley will share the test results with the students who took the tests and their parents.

Each student who participated in the program will receive a student booklet that will allow them to compare their levels of interest, ability and experience to many potential careers.

There are many experiences and pieces of information that need to be collected before an individual can make a career decision. In helping with career decision making, the evening's program will also include a discussion and demonstration of materials and resources available at the Charlevoix High School, Mr. Bentley said.

Potter to retire

Harry Potter, custodian of the County Building and County Boilding Annex, will retire in January after 16 years of service, the County Board of Commissioners learned last week.

Potter's wife, Betty, who has been a teacher in the Charlevoix school system for over 27 years, will retire from her job on December 15 of this year.

"HELPING TO BUILD A BETTER COMMUNITY TOGETHER"

Gorillagram gets message across on bake sale

The gorilla with the Gorillagram apnooncing the Fifth Annual Luncheon and Bake Sale sponsored by Charlevoix Area Hospital employees, got complete attention last week.

The gorilla's message is: The Annual Luncheon and Bake Sale will run from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the American Legion Hall in Charlevoix on Thursday December 2nd.

The gorilla was particularly interested because along with the amazing array of good food for lunch and sale, a magnificent stuffed gorilla will be raffled off, as well as a handmade afghan and six hand painted Christmas ornaments. The stuffed gorilla is being hand sewn by Phyliss Priest, who works in the hospital's medical records department. The afghan has been made and donated by Mrs. Robert Green, and the ornaments have been painted by R.N. Sue Miller.

Tickets for the luncheon are $3 for adults, $2.75 senior citizens, $2 children under 12 and anyone under five is free. Raffle tickets, being sold by hospital employees are $1.00 and will be available at the door.

The annual event, for which Charlevoix Area Hospital employees donate all the food for lunch and sale, has raised as much as $1500. Last year the employees used the funds for a new isolette for the newborn nursery. Funds raised this year are earmarked for a new crib for the pediatrics department. Additional proceeds are added to the hospital's general equipment fund.

The gorilla, who requests anonymity, urges everyone to join her friends and stuffed twin — reputedly the more handsome of the two – at the American Legion hall in Charlevoix on December 2.

Cut Energy Costs!

"CUT LOCAL ENERGY COSTS" say the Charlevoix Kiwanians as they sponsor a new homeowner energy-saving program. Project chairman Jim Mills is shown above with one of several information racks to be placed at various locations around Charlevoix. The racks will contain free brochures and booklets on such subjects as insulation, caulking, solar design and woodstove safety. Cooperating with the Kiwanis on the project is County Extension Director Rodney Cortwright who supplied much of the literature for the racks. Businesses that will have racks on display include 7-11, Michigan National Bank North, First State Bank, Staley Hardware, Ace Hardware, Colwell Realty, Kit Carson Lumber, Ski & Shore Realty, Concerned Citizens of the Charlevoix Area, Charlevoix Credit Union, Oleson's Market, Glen's Market, Juilleret's Restaurant, Judy's Restaurant, the Market Mall, Kentucky Fried Chicken and the Shell Station.

County budget detailed

by PEG OHLE

The 1983 budget for operating Charlevoix County recently adopted by the Board of Commissioners is not drastically different in most departments from the County's 1982 budget, although overall it is up 5.7 percent.

The greatest increase is in the "Other" category, which has gone up by approximately $94,000, due mostly to an increase in the Contingency Fund from $16,467 in 1982 to $105,459 in 1983.

The only new service item is $4,025 for rural house-numbering, which is being undertaken by the Department of Building Inspection.

Over 68 percent of the operating funds will come from property taxes. Other large sources of income will be federal and state revenue sharing; business and industrial taxes; licences, fees, and fines; and interest on invested funds.

By departments, the budget reads:

Buses now to make regular stops around county

Residents of Charlevoix County may be able to "catch" a Transit System bus at one of several stops around the County if plans recently discussed by the Commission on Aging are found to be practical.

Since the buses travel regular routes between cities five days a week and are often empty or near-empty, the thought is that they could stop at pre-arranged places along the route to pick up persons who want a ride to town.

Some of the places mentioned where stops could be made were Ironton, Advance, Walloon Lake, and Horton Bay. Others could be added if demand indicated it.

If riders want to return to the pickup stop, they would have to wait for the next scheduled bus run to the area.

Prospective bus riders who have suggestions for a pickup service should present them in writing to the Charlevoix County Transit System in Boyne City.

A special message to our friends and customers at this time of Thanksgiving

Dear friends,

This is a very special time of year for all of us. It's a time to reflect on how truly fortunate we are, not only for the Thanksgiving feast which is spread on our tables, but for the family and friends gathered with us to share in the bounty.

It's also a good time to reflect on the freedoms we are blessed with and our obligation to make use of and defend those freedoms. America remains one of the few countries that allows its citizens the right to an education, the right to dissent, the right to a free press and free enterprise and all the other freedoms we so easily take for granted.

In a world torn with strife and hunger, let us remember how truly minimal our problems are and give thanks for this great land which feeds us and protects us and gives us our strength.

The officers and employees of First State Bank join you and yours in giving thanks for all of our blessings. We wish you the best of all things this Thanksgiving Day and hope we may continue to offer you the best in banking service.

Knight on the Town

Let's get thankful

by Dave Knight

Have you ever felt sorry for someone who cannot be thankful?

There are such people, you know.

They fall into a few general categories. For instance, there are the worriers. Regardless of what happened yesterday, be it good or ill, they cannot help worrying about tommorrow. At some point along the line, they fall into s chasmal funk that recycles itself.

It's hard to break out.

For them, worrying is easy to justify. After all, they claim, are these not unusually worrisome times? Combine the many hardships people are facing in their everyday esistence with the perils that loom on a global level and it's easy to build a case for worrying 18 hours a day, with six hours left for fitful sleep.

And then there are the cynics. "Thank you" is not in their vocabulary because they see whatever good coming their way as due them in the first place. It's just business. What you earn is what you get. What you don't earn, you don't get. Simple.

Somebody gives you a break, so what? Next time maybe they'll nail you. Everything works out in the end. Might as well not think about it.

Can we also add the fast-laners to the list? These are the ones who tend to be so wrapped up in career and-or personal gain that the little pleasures along the way are lost in the confusion.

It is a syndrome of far-sightedness to a fault. They are so intent on distant goals that sometimes the little things closest to them, things that could mean a lot if favored, are overlooked.

One nice aspect of Thanksgiving in Charlevoix is that, perhaps more than in many other places, ample opportunity is given all the types described above to reexamine their attitudes.

It is pretty difficult to live in Charlevoix and not be at least a little thankful. In fact, it really takes some effort not to be at least a little thankful.

So, for all you local worriers, cynics, fast-laners, et. al., ease up and be thankful for a day. Nobody has to know. If you have a reputation to protect, you can be a closet thankful. You don't even have to smile.

It can be like the Great American Smokeout. You can try being thankful for just one day. When you wake up Friday, you don't have to be thankful if you don't want. But if you kind of like the experience, you might want to try it a couple days a month or something.

Besides, it's a lot easier to ease into thankfullness gradually than to have some traumatic revelation spring it all st once. This happens to people occasionally and it can be misinterpreted. When some unthankful person turns thankful all of a sudden, people tend to think he got away with something.

That's just human nature.

For those of you who are not used to it but want to give it a go, this Thursday provides a good opportunity to try out being thankful.

Most Charlevoixians I know are planning to be thankful that day so you won't stick out in the crowd.

Clockwise

New mag, right price

by Bob Clock

HOW NICE IT was Saturday to find a brand new magzine, Great Lakes Life, for sale at Oleson's checkout counter at an affordable price — 29 cents.

The magazine is jam-packed with feature articles about Michigan and Michiganders (there's even an article about that touchy subject) and contains some excellent color prints. On the cover is a picture of Big Mac on its 25th anniversary.

There must be some kind of connection between the magazine and the Michigan Food Dealers Association, since the association has exclusive sales rights, through its grocery store members. The MFDA also has a full page ad in the maiden issue entitled Michigan Food News — tidbits about apples, microwaves, reduced-salt foods, hamburger standards and other subjects.

Of particular interest to Northern Michigan readers is an article by Audrey Collins of the Petoskey News-Review staff entitled "Carrying on an Ottswa art." The article tells about the porcupine quill craftsmanship of Yvonne Walker, a former Charlevoixan now living in Petoskey.

Other articles deal with how Detroit is fighting the economic blues, Michigan's two Lindell restaurants (including the famed Lindell Athletic Club in Detroit), Michigan potatoes, a Midland bird collector, the charms of the Garden Peninsula on the south shore of the Upper Peninsula, and a candymaker from Jonesville, Mich.

Publisher of the new magazine is David T. Hayhow, whose family has been involved in Michigan journalism since the beginning of time. The editor is Betty Lou Kitzman.

Although the launching of a new magazine in these perilous times is a risky business, I have a hunch that Great Lakes Life might make it. The price is right, the product is top-drawer and you can't beat the checkout counter when it comes to direct sales.

If you appreciate first editions, pick up Vol. 1, No. 1 of Great Lakes Life. It could be the cornerstone of an interesting collection.

ALTHOUGH THE tomato season was a washout along the chilly Northern-Lake Michigan shore, I am happy to report that the carrot crop is escellent.

Clockwise dug the last of his carrots at the city garden Saturday, and I was stunned at the size of the harvest from a single package of seeds.

Unfortunately, carrots aren't quite as versatile as tomatoes. Who ever heard of carrot spaghetti sauce, for example? Or carrot chili? Or carrot soup?

This weekend, however, we did have turkey soup laced with carrots and a nice beef stew, heavy on the carrots.

Before too many days pass we plan to make carrot slaw, carrot bread and Harvard carrots.

Harvard carrots?

Just make the same sweet-and-sour sauce you use to make Harvard beets, but substitute cooked carrots. They're not just palatable; they're delicious.

Letters: Thanks from the winner

Dear Sirs:

Many thanks for sponsoring the Holiday Recipe Contest and thanks too, to the Judges who selected my casserole as Grand Prize winner.

It couldn't have come at a better time of the year, with the forthcoming holidays and company to think of. We all know food prices as everything else are high. It's been a big boost to our budget.

It was an exciting and rewarding day for me and my family.

Thanks again,

Mrs. Herman (Clara) Heuvelhorst

Ed. note: For those planning to try Mrs. Heuvelhorst's Grand Prize winning recipe for Chicken Broccoli Casserole, she advises us that she left out one can of cream of mushroom soup when she submitted her list of ingredients.

Solid waste plan

before it is sent to the State for its approval.

The Charlevoix County Plan calls for mini transfer stations in Charlevoix, East Jordan, and Boyne City and shipment of part of the waste to landfills in Kalkaska and Crawford Counties. The privately-run landfill in Eveline Township would also be continued in use, as would the green box transfer stations in Boyne Valley and Melrose Townships. Either a modular incinerstor or a lined landfill is suggested for Beaver Island.

The above facilities would replace the seven landfills in Charlevoix County now recomended for closure by the DNR, including those in East Jordan and Boyne City.

The Charlevoix County Solid Waste Management Plan, if adopted, would cost somewhere between $2.75 million and $4.25 million over a ten-year period, according to present estimates. Several methods of public and private financing are suggested, but there is no overall actual financing plan.

With cost figures of this size for one of the smaller counties in the State, it is obvious that the State cannot bear the cost. In fact, it is estimated that state-wide the cost would be around $250 million a year.

The future of the State Solid Waste Management Act is now questionable. County Planner Lawrence Sullivan believes that some of its problems could be eliminated if the State eased up on landfill closure procedures and went back to those procedures practiced before the Headlee Amendment went into effect, so the State would not have to pay the costs of closings.

He also believes that removing the phrase which says the counties and municipalities are responsible for the disposal of solid waste would solve a lot of problems.

Whatever changes are made, the fact remains that solid waste — usually described as garbage and trash — must be disposed of in a manner protecting the health and well-being of the public. It is piling up at the rate of 2.4 pounds for every man, woman, and child in the County every day of the year.

Eye in the sky

Johnston chuckles. Occasionally a CO will lose direction as he travels amidst wooded territory on two-track roads away from city lights. He's surrounded by thick woods and a haze distorts the stars.

"Take the road just ahead, left," Johnston directs. He watches as the CO comes up from behind. He sees the shining cease. The cars stop.

"He's got him," Johnston tells his passenger, then looks for more activity for another CO in the area. There are three cars working under him tonight and he expects a fourth shortly.

Shining until 11 p.m. is legal as long as the shiner has no accessible firearms. The new law, Act 181 which took effect April 1, 1982, prohibits the casting of lights between 11 p.m. and 8 a.m. The law resulted from too many complaints from rural residents about lights shining in their homes in the early morning hours.

Pilot patrol has been around far longer than the new shining law and the two-year-old Report All Poaching program, which urges citizens to report witnessed game law violations. Pilot-CO patrol started in Michigan 14 years ago when Johnston, a 47-year-old former National Guard pilot, began the patrol on a regular basis. He covers the entire northern portion of the lower peninsula during deer season and also flies fire patrol, general law patrol and DNR employee transport. He says he can identify any northern Michigan city on sight.

The record for pilot patrol is 26 arrests in one night - arrests that may have resulted from high speed chases with the shiners being convicted of felonies like possession of concealed weapons.

Time Fournier of the DNR's Law Enforcement Division said the conservation officers across the state find pilot assistance extremely helpful in locating poachers.

Says Johnston, "I can account so far this year for 42 arrests, all game violations, and deer season is just getting started."

Does Johnston every worry about the COs? When patrolling sometimes intoxicated, armed men on the hunt, men who may consider game law violations an insignificant crime, the man in the airplane couldn't help but be concerned for the CO's safety.

"The officers often stop people on dope or drunk and they're armed, so I stick around until I know they're okay," Johnston said. "I'm glad I'm up in the air and they're down there."

"Gimme a beam," Johnston radios to a CO so he can find his location. "I see you I've got you three of them, all about one half mile east of the tower."

"East is to my right, isn't it?" the CO asks.

Johnston chuckles.

Out of the Blue

Thank you, Lord, for the turkey,
And joyous repast of it—
And we'll thank you again
When we've eaten the last of it!

Homemakers program draws fifty participants

The Michigan Association of Extension Homemakers (M.A.E.H.) sponsored another successful annual Holiday Program, Saturday, Nov. 13, at the Community Reformed Church in Charlevoix. Proceeds will go towards College Week scholarships, a four-day event held each spring on the MSU campus.

The 1982 Holiday Program offered a variety of class options to nearly fifty participants. Jim Danuter's Commercial Foods Class from the Petoskey Area Skills Center tempted taste buds with Pastry Delights, a demonstration of fanciful international pastries. Sue Smith of Greenleaf Gardens, Charlevoix, gave information on caring for holiday gift plants and demonstrated how to make holiday arrangements and dish gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Santas made from dried apples was taught by Penny Lewis, Charlevoix County Extension Service. Each participant make their own Santa.

Judy Crook, Charlevoix, offered tatting for beginners, and Mary Lou Raftery, House of Hobbies, Petoskey, provided hands-on tole painting.

Leona Winchester, Charlevoix, volunteered to teach radiant stars made from folded cloth. Sheri Rhoads, Extension Home Economist for Charlevoix and Antrim Counties, had participants making stained-glass Christmas ornaments.

A drawing for Mr. and Mrs. Santa decorations and hand-made Christmas stockings was held during lunch. Winners were: Nancy Brooks, East Jordan (Mr. and Mrs. Santa); Pat Dillon, Charlevoix (stocking); and Helen Donaldson, Kewadin (stocking).

A participant in the MAEH holiday program works on a craft project.

The Federated Garden Clubs of American are observing Ambassador Month across the nation.

The Charlevoix Area Garden Club, which was organized in 1939 and joined the Michigan Federation 10 years later, is observing the special event with a pictorial account of the club's operation through the years. The display, assembled by Ann Mikulski (left) and Lucy Witthoeft, explains the various projects sponsored by the club...and they are many.

Among the projects in the community are the beautification of the sign marking the entrance to Charlevoix from the South, the mini-park, Pere de Charlevoix, at the west end of Michigan Avenue overlooking Lake Michigan, the memorial gardens in the islands at the east end of Dixon Avenue at Mercer Blvd., the island at the intersection of Petoskey and Michigan Avenues on US 31 North and the flower planter at the U.S. Post Office on Mason Street.

Accompanying the pictural display is a scrapbook containing accounts of the club's many accomplishments.

The club is presently headed by Portia Crawford. Her staff of officers include Keith Morris, first vice president; Lucile Ingram, second vice president; Carolyn Christiansen, recording secretary; Phyllis Block, corresponding secretary; Pat Wakulat, treasurer.

The club has 46 members, 13 honorary members and one life member.

St, Mary's Christmas Ball to usher season in

A Christmas ball, sponsored by the St. Mary's Parish Club, will usher in the holiday season in Charlevoix.

The event will be held at the American Legion post home on Saturday, December 4, beginning at 8 p.m. Music for dancing until midnight will be by the Red Hearts.

Tickets will be $10 per couple; $7.50 for a senior couple; $5 singles and $3.50 single for seniors. The ticket includes the cost of hors d'oeuvres, refreshments and music for dancing.

"This is a party that will be just for fun...something to put everyone in a holiday spirit before they are too busy to enjoy themselves" a spokesperson for the club said.

Sue Gengle and Karen Campbell are co-chairpersons of the event. They may be contacted for additional information.

To present "Free Again"

Charlevoix First Baptist Church will show the documentary motion picture, "Free Again", Sunday, November 28 at 7:00 P.M.

"Free Again" is narrated by Dr. Grady Wilson, Associate Evangelist of the Billy Graham team and is produced by Earl Miller, creator of the popular film series, "Focus on the Family", featuring Dr. James Dobson.

The church is located on South M-66, ¼ mile south of the junction with US 31.

Rayder cagers in District finals

The Charlevoix Rayder girls basketball team is scheduled to meet Traverse City St. Francis in the finals of the Class C District tournament at Elk Rapids Tuesday night.

The team advanced to the finals after defeating Boyne City 54-47 on Thursday and East Jordan 48-43 on Saturday.

The game at Elk Rapids is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday.

St. Francis made it to the finals by winning over Elk Rapids and Kalkaska.

In their opening game in the tournament, Charlevoix headed Boyne City 17-6, 24-23 and 37-33 by quarters in a game marred by personal fouls. Charlevoix had 23 and Boyne City 31 fouls for a total of 54 for the geme.

Charlevoix lost Laura Kemp with seven minutes remaining and Rhonda Buchanan with five remaining in the game while Boyne City lost three, Terri Heirmann, Keisha Crozier and Liz Sturm. Charlevoix ended the final period with four sophomores on the floor. Sophomores Mary Lenhart had 15 points and Ann Wagner had 13 points. Kemp had 11 before leaving the game. Tracy Pruetz had 11 and Julie Paquette 10 for Boyne City.

On Saturday night, East Jordan trailed Charlevoix 14-6 at the quarter and 21-17 at halftime before pouring in 21 points as the second half got underway to go ahead 38-28 at the three-quarter mark.

As the final period got underway, Charlevoix snatched the offense and scored 20 points to six for the Jordanites to win by a score of 48-43.

Charlevoix had 19 field goals, hit on 10 of 26 charity shots and had 22 personal fouls. East Jordan had 17 from the floor, nine of 21 from the line and 24 personal fouls.

Wagner paced the scoring the 15 points followed by Buchanan with 11 and Kemp, before leaving the game early in the fourth period, 10 points.

Joelyn Ingalls had 13 for East Jordan.

The Charlevoix Middle School eighth grade basketball team won the title in its division of the annual Cheboygan Junior High tournament held over the past two weeks.

A-League basketball scores

Townhouse knocked Ellsworth IDC out of the win column last week by a score and Boyne Auto dumped Village Inn Pizza 82-61 in A League action in the Charlevoix Recreation Department program.

After playing to an 18-18 first period tie, IDC went ahead 38-36 but Townhouse came back to outscore Ellsworth 20-10 as the second half got underway and then held on to the lead for the win.

Bud Klooster with 17 points, Rick Leslie with 16, Dan McKenzie and 13 and Ken Griffen with 12 shared the scoring for the victors. Jim Danbert has 21 points, Tex Drenth 14 and Taylor 13 for IDC.

It was Boyne Auto all the way as they headed Village Inn Pizza 20-14, 41-27 and 67-41 before coasting to an 82-61 win over V.I.P.

Hal Price led the attack with 26 points followed by Keith Fitzpatrick with 17, Rob Spencer with 12 and Dale Tims with 11. Vince Left had 26, Jerry Skippergosh 15 and Woody Pearson 12 for V.I.P.

B-League basketball scores

Competition in the B League of the Charlevoix Independent Basketball program is running high as teams vie for the league lead.

This week saw Medusa edge Carlson Heating and Plumbing 57-56; Wojan Aluminum hand the Air Force a 35-29 defeat and Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage win over Staley Hardware 62-50.

Jim Parrish poured in 29 points as he led Medusa to a one-point victory over Carslon Plumbing after his team had led 12-8, 27-24 and 45-37 at the quarters. The plumbers made a valiant effort in the final period, outscoring Medusa 19-12 before going down to defeat.

Randy Holecheck had 25 and Beano Archey 14 points for Carlson Plumbing.

A bad third period in which they failed to score a point spelled defeat for the Air Force as they moved into the loss column after trailing Wojan Aluminum 11-8 and losing a 20-17 halftime lead to trail again, this time by a 23-20 margin going into the final eight minutes. Don Ward had 11 points for Wojan's. J.R. Greenway was top scorer for the Air Force with 15 points.

Kit Carson-Charelvoix Garbage romped past Staley Hardware 15-6, 25-17 and 38-33 by quarters in a scoring duel. Ron Bindi had 17 points and Barney Way and Dale Boss 13 each for the victors. Terry Smith and Larry Skippergosh had 12 points each and Scott Olmstead and Mark Schaberg 11 each for the Hardware.

Eighth graders win Cheboygan title

The Charlevoix Middle School eighth grade girls basketball team won the title in its division of the Cheboygan Invitational Junior High basketball tournament held recently.

The team edged the host team, Cheboygan, 13-12 in the finals to take the eighth grade title after playing a strong defensive game.

In the final game, Charlevoix trailed Chegoygan 2-0 at the quarter before going ahead 4-2 at halftime on field goals by Ann Kroll and Barbie Boss.

Cheboygan came back strong as the second half got underway to outscore the visitors 5-1 to take a 7-5 lead going into the final period. Three buckets by Kroll and one by Amy Pischner as they outscored Cheboygan 8-5 gave Charlevoix the title.

Charlevoix had six field goals, one of five from the free throw line and 11 personal fouls for the game. Cheboygan had five from the floor, two of four free throw attempts and 13 personal fouls.

The team had defeated Petoskey 24-23 and Cheboygan Catholic 28-17 to win the title.

Stan Martin is the team coach.

Spieles named "Coach of the Year"

Pete Spieles

Pete Spieles, whose Charlevoix Rayders recently won the Class C Cross Country title, has been named the Class C "Coach of the Year" by the Michigan Cross Country Coaches Association.

Spieles, coach of Charlevoix's Cross Country team since 1978, has compiled an impressive record during those years. His Rayder teams have qualified for state competition all seven years, placed fifth in the state in 1978 and '80, ninth in 1981 and won the state Class C title in 1982.

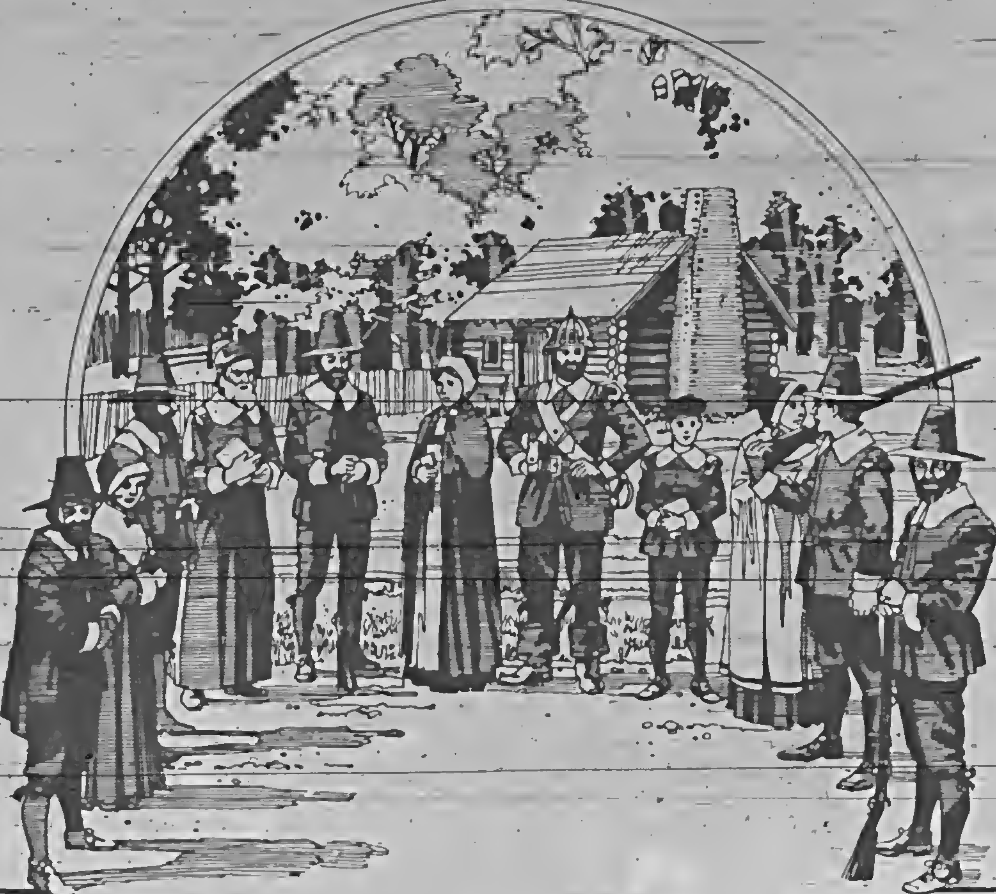
His teams have a record of 46 wins and six losses in dual meets; 14 titles in invitational meets and runner-up 13 times. His Rayders won Michigan-Huron Shores Conference titles in 1977, '78, '80 and '82 and Class C regional titles in 1978 and '80.

During those years he has had seven of his runners named to All-State Class C teams. They are Walter Drenth in 1976; Mark Russell and Jeff Drenth, 1978; Jay Swartout, 1980 and Bill Taylor, John Tunison and Matt Peterson, 1982.

Spieles has been a teacher in the Charlevoix schools since 1967. A native of St. Ignace, he has a B.S. degree from Michigan State University and an M.S. degree from Northern Michigan University with majors in Health and Physical Education and minor in Biology and a Master's degree in Education plus credits for a second Master's degree in Biology.

Prior to joining the faculty of the Charlevoix schools he taught at Dundee, two years in a K-5 school in the Upper Peninsula and at Bois Blanc Island.

The cross country program was introduced into the sports program in 1973. Spieles also coaches baseball.



Thanksgiving

...a time to reaffirm our faith in freedom and our determination to preserve and cherish it. A Holiday to enjoy the warm traditions of our Heritage ....a day to count the blessings of abundance and opportunity that our great land holds for us. Also to express Our Thanks for the loyalty and confidence you have placed in us as a friend and patron. Truly ... we have much to be thankful for, mostly the chance to serve you. May your Thanksgiving be joyful and festive.

EVELINE TOWNSHIP

The regular meeting of the Eveline Township Board was called to order by Supervisor David Willson on November 9, 1982 at 8:05 p.m. at the township hall. All board members were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Punch card voting was discussed. The clerk will contact Doubleday to get a price on voting machine election supplies.

There was also discussion on whether a telephone should be installed in the township hall. It was decided that the cost would be too much for what use we would get out of it.

Marty Bieganowski gave a commissioner report.

Linda Hilderbrant gave a treasurer's report. Motion by Eric Beishlag to pay the bills on hand with check #824-#843 totaling $8,025.47; supported by Wayne Saunders; motion carried unanimously.

Wayne Saunders made a motion to reappoint Dave Willson to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a 3-year term from November 1982 to November 1985; supported by Eric Beishlag; motion carried.

Motion by Wayne Saunders to adjourn; supported by John Smith; motion carried. Adjournment at 9:50 p.m.

Obituaries

ALICE M. GALLAGHER

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice M. Gallagher, 79, who died Thursday at an East Jordan foster care home where she had lived for the past two years were held Saturday at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. R. Dale Magoon officiated. Interment was in the Northside Catholic Cemetery in Pittsburg, Pa.. The Rosary was recited at the Winchester Funeral Home Friday evening.

Born in Pittsburgh March 1, 1903, the former Alice M. McGary was graduated as a librarian from Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh and was children's librarian at the main branch of the Carnegie Library there until her marriage. On July 24, 1929, she was married to Charles A. Gallagher in Pittsburg where they lived until coming to Pontiac in 1969. In 1971 they came to Charlevoix to make their home.

She was a member of St. Mary's Church in Charlevoix and St. Joseph's Church in East Jordan and the Rosary Altar Societies of each. In Pittsburg she had been a founding member of the South Hills Catholic Women and was a member of the Pittsburg Business and Professional Women's Club, Grey Ladies and the Red Cross, Roselia Foundling Home, St. Bernard's Sewing Group of Mount Lebanon and the Gaelic Society of Pittsburg.

Surviving are her husband, Charles A. Gallagher of Charlevoix; a daughter, Mrs. Charles (Carol) Morris of Charlevoix; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to the Little Sioux St. Francis Indian Mission at St. Francis, S.D.; or St. Labrie Indian School at Ashland, Mont. Envelopes for this purpose are available at the Winchester Funeral Home.

Arbuckle's work to be featured in national catalog

by DAVE KNIGHT

One need only glance through the 1982-83 gift catalog of the National Trust for Historic Preservation to understand the prestige involved for artisans whose works are chosen for inclusion in the catalog.

Items range from a cast iron reproduction of a turn-of-the-century lampost ($2995) to an engraved powder horn ($72.50) to cookie molds in the shapes of historic houses ($11 each). Also included are several exclusive, handcrafted works by some of America's finest traditional craftsmen.

Thus when the family of Charlevoix native Michael Arbuckle learned that his series of architectural wooden tree ornaments were to be featured in the catalog, they were understandably pleased.

Michael is the son of Mrs. Marian Arbuckle and the brother of Mrs. Janis Glass, both of Charlevoix. A 1965 graduate of Charlevoix High School, he now lives and works in New Orleans.

Since leaving Charlevoix for Michigan State University, Arbuckle's career has taken some unique turns. In 1969 he obtained a bachelor's degree from MSU in hospital administration and in 1971 was awarded a Masters Degree in public health from Tulane University in New Orleans.

A brief employment with the federal Office of Economic Opportunity left him somewhat disenchanted, however, with his chosen field. The politics and related bureaucratic hassles of working for a governmental agency created more frustration than satisfaction.

In a 180-degree career change, Arbuckle turned to creative woodcrafting.

A rich tradition of arts and crafts runs in the family. Several members of his mother's family, including her father, were skilled in woodworking and his sister, Mrs. Glass, has exhibited several of her paintings and other works locally.

Though he first concentrated on furniture, Arbuckle has become best known for his wooden toys. The antique-style toys are crafted using a variety of native and exotic woods. No stains or varnishes alter the natural color and grain of the woods. The only finish is a Danish oil that enhances the natural color and grian of the wood.

The toys are put together with pegs and glue - no nails or screws - and are built with children in mind. Arbuckle's toys feature lots of moving parts and intriguing shapes. Some, like his streetcars, can even be ridden.

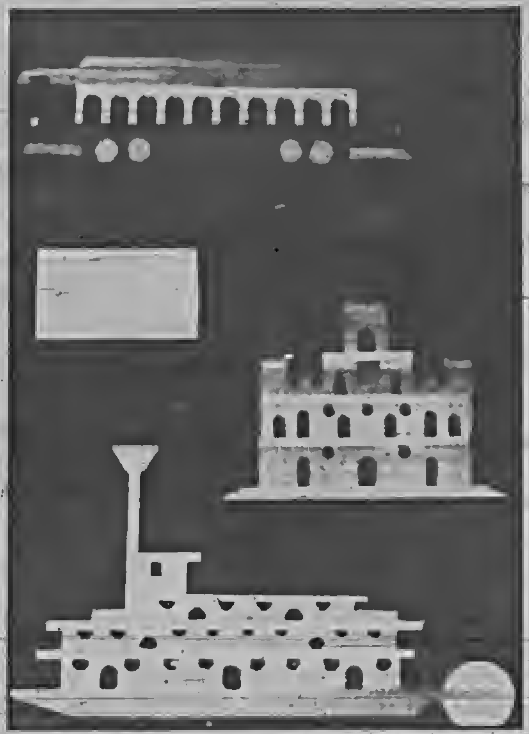
And if you don't think he understands children, consider the sign in his toy-strewn showroom: "Please Touch".

His studio, located in a basement-garage, is called Trees to Toys. Many of his creations, though technically toys, are obviously for adult appreciation. Ornate uses of wood grain and graceful design have made his renditions of New Orleans streetcars, steamboats and landmark buildings collector pieces available at exclusive gift shops.

His contribution to the National Trust for Historic Preservation catalog is a set of three Christmas tree ornaments on a New Orleans theme depicting the streetcar Desire, the steamboat Natchez and the St. Louis Cathedral. The set sells for $16.95 in the catalog. It is one of a series Arbuckle has done of architectural ornaments. Similar sets represent such other cities as Philadephia, Washington, D.C., and New York.

Inclusion by the National Trust of Arbuckle's work in its catalog denotes no small achievement. The trust was chartered by Congress in 1949 to encourage public participation in the preservation of districts, sites, buildings and objects significant to American history and culture. The catalog is distributed nationally and can be obtained for $1 from the National Trust for Historic Preservation, 1600 H Street, N.W., Washington D.C.

Charlevoix residents will be able to see Arbuckle's work first hand at the Apple Tree gift shop. Both his and Mrs. Glass's work will also be exhibited at the McCune Art Center gallery in Petoskey.



Included in the New Orleans series of ornaments featured in the National Trust catalog are, from top, Streetcar Desire, St. Louis Cathrdral and Steamboat Natchez.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX COUNCIL MINUTES

NOVEMBER 15, 1982
8:00 P.M.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Deputy Mayor Wood presiding.

Present: Councilmembers Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, Porter, and Timms. Absent: Mayor Staley.

Moved by Councilman Block and supported by Councilman Olach that the Minutes of the November 1, 1982 regular meeting be approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, Porter, and Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council adjourned to the Board of Appeals.

Following the Board of Appeals meeting, roll call of the Council was again taken with all members being present.

A Public Hearing was held regarding Charlevoix Development Company's request for a Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificate for their Weathervane Terrace expansion project. Richard Georgi of Charlevoix Development Company presented a graph showing that the Weathervane taxes exceed those of other motel units in the City. He stated that the proposed expansion project would generate a turn over of five million dollars per year in the City.

The following Resolution was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Porter and supported by Councilman Olach.

RESOLUTION 82 11 3

WHEREAS, the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on Monday, November 1, 1982, in a Public Hearing as heretofore resolved and noticed for the purpose of establishing a certain described area known as Charlevoix Commercial Redevelopment District #3, and

WHEREAS, during said Public Hearing the City Council heard all persons desiring to be heard either orally or in writing with respect to the designation of the subject area as Commercial Redevelopment District #3, pursuant to 1978 PA 255, Section 5, et seq.; and

WHEREAS, such designation met all of the prerequisites of the cited act; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to 1978 PA 255, section 5, et seq. the City Council established Charlevoix Commercial Redevelopment District #3; and

WHEREAS, Charlevoix Development Company, owner of all realty within said District #3, has applied for a Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificate under the provisions of 1978 PA 255, Section 6, et seq.; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to 1978 PA 255, Section 6 (2), the City Clerk has caused to be posted a notice of Public Hearing concerning granting of said Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificate, and

WHEREAS, the City Clerk has further notified in writing the legislative body of each affected taxing unit of said hearing, and

WHEREAS, the representatives of said taxing units and interested citizens have had an opportunity to be heard with regard to said application; and

WHEREAS, the Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificate for Charlevoix Development Company is located on property described as.

Part of Lot 6, Block 1 of said "Dixon's Addition to the Village (now City) of Charlevoix" and other land in Government Lot 2, Section 26, T34N, R8W, City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County Records and containing 0.55 acres of land, more or less, and as such is located within the Charlevoix Commercial Redevelopment District #3, and

WHEREAS, the City Council has determined that said property will be operated as a motel and is in the process of being condominiumized and that individual Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificates should be granted for each motel condominium unit in the development, and

WHEREAS, the application of Charlevoix Development Company for a Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificate is for ten (10) years, or less as described in Section 7 of application, permitted under Section 9 (2) of PA 255 of 1978, and

WHEREAS, the City Council has determined that the application meets the criteria and conditions established in 1978 PA 255, Section 10, et seq.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, the City Council of the City of Charlevoix, in consideration of the facts identified above, hereby approve the Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificates numbers 3-1 through 3-33 for Charlevoix Development Company. Each certificate will have a life of five (5) years, or until sale of the unit covered by that certificate, or until that unit is no longer used for nightly or weekly lodging purposes, which ever is less, said certificates being permissible under the act based on the property's assessed valuation as of December 31, 1983.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that Charlevoix Development Company shall provide the City with written notification of the sale of any unit within ten (10) days. Failure to provide such notification will result in immediate revocation of all Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificates issued per this resolution.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, should any unit in the development cease to be used for nightly or weekly lodging purposes, all Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificates issued per this resolution shall be immediately revoked.

Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Wood, Block, Olach, Porter, and Timms. Nays: Councilwoman Roloff. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilwoman Roloff to approve a lease for a portion of the City owned Erber Building with Charles T. Koucky, Jr., for a period of one year at $350.00 per month, said lease to include three parking spaces, a thirty day termination provision, and the requirements that the tenant pay all utilities and maintain liability insurance.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, Porter, and Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Porter to renew the contract of Robert Hunt, City Manager, for a term of one year at an annual salary of $28,000 plus 10% for a retirement program and an additional week of vacation.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, Porter, and Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council generally agreed to hold a Public Hearing on November 29, 1982 regarding the proposed new water system for the City.

Council generally agreed to hold a special Council meeting at 5:00 p.m. on December 1, 1982 for purposes of awarding the bid for bonds for the City stormsewer project.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Porter to authorize the City Treasurer to transfer $60,000 from the Electric Fund to the Public Improvement Fund for payment of stormsewer project bills until the bonds for the project are sold.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, Porter, and Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council authorized the payment of bills totaling $238,333.36.

Council adjourned.

Board of Appeals
November 15, 1982

The Board of Appeals convened with Councilmembers Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, Porter, and Timms present. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Olach and supported by Councilman Porter to approve a variance as requested by Richard Georgi of Charlevoix Development Company for the Weathervane Terrace expansion project to increase the maximum allowable height of the project from 35 feet to 52 feet to accommodate construction of three towers, said variance being recommended by the City Planning Commission.

Motion was denied by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, and Timms. Nays: Councilmembers Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach. Absent: None.

The Board of Appeals adjourned.

Raymond Wood, Deputy Mayor
Deanne Balch, City Clerk

PUBLIC HEARING ON CITY WATER SUPPLY

The City of Charlevoix is requesting public input regarding how it should proceed with improvements to the City water supply. These improvements are required to eliminate Trichloroethylene (TCE) a suspected carcinogen from the drinking water and to ensure an adequate supply of water to City residents in future years.

The City is considering three long range alternatives (1) constructing a filter system on the existing supply; (2) drilling a well system to replace the existing supply; or (3) building a treatment plant to take water directly from Lake Michigan. A new water treatment plant appears to be the preferred long range alternative at this time. Several short range alternatives are also under consideration, to eliminate or reduce the levels of TCE until a permanent solution is in place.

The long range alternatives range in cost from $1 million to $1.6 million, and additional sums will be required to operate the completed facilities. A financing plan has not been established as of yet, but could include a property tax increase (up to 3.5 mills), a water rate increase (up to 100%), or some combination of both.

The Public Hearing will be held Monday, November 29, 1982 at 8:00 P.M. at City Hall, 210 State St., Charlevoix, Michigan.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
$170,000
CITY OF CHARLEVOIX
COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX,
STATE OF MICHIGAN
LIMITED TAX GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS
(CHARLEVOIX CONSOLIDATED DRAIN NO. 1)

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the Clerk's offices located at 201 State Street, Charlevoix, Michigan 49720, on Wednesday, the 1st day of December, 1982, until 4:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read. In the alternative, sealed bids will also be received and read at the same time and date by an agent of the undersigned at the offices of the Municipal Advisory Council, 2135 First National Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

BOND DETAILS: Said bonds will be coupon bonds of the denomination of $5,000 each, registrable as to principal only, dated December 1, 1982, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards and will bear interest from their date payable on September 1, 1983, and semiannually thereafter.

Said bonds will mature on the 1st day of September, as follows:

$25,000	1983.
40,000	1984.
50,000	1985.
55,000	1986.

PRIOR REDEMPTION: The Bond shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 12.8% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period will be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rates bid shall not exceed 3%. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned. The rights or remedies of bondholders may be affected by bankruptcy laws or other creditor's rights legislation now existing or hereafter enacted.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are to be issued to fund part of a special assessment levied against the City by the Statutory Drainage Board for Charlevoix Consolidated Drain No. 1 for drainage improvements in the City. The bonds will pledge the limited faith and credit of the City and will be paid in the first instance from the revenues of a 1 mill tax levy approved by the City's electors at the November 3, 1981 election. In the case of insufficiency of said voted tax levy the City is obligated to pay said insufficiency from its general funds within applicable charter, statutory and constitutional limits. The rights or remedies of bondholders may be affected by bankruptcy laws or other creditor's rights legislation now existing or hereafter enacted.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $3,400, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the City Treasurer must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. The good faith check of the successful bidder may be immediately cashed in which event payment for the balance of the purchase price of the bonds shall be made at the closing.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from January 1, 1983 to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The fees of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone for services rendered in connection with such approving opinion are expected to be paid from bond proceeds. Except to the extent necessary to issue their unqualified approving opinion as to validity of the above bonds, Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone has not been requested to examine or review and has not examined or reviewed any financial documents, statements or materials that have been or may be furnished in connection with the authorization, issuance or marketing of the bonds, and accordingly will not express any opinion with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any such financial documents, statements or materials.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bond will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be agreed upon. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal be serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

ENVELOPES containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for General Obligation Bonds."

MUNICIPAL FINANCE COMMISSION

4-Hers honored at Fall Awards Banquet

Charlevoix County 4-H Programs held its Fall Awards Banquet November 4 at Whiting Park. The evening began with a potluck supper. Meat and beverages were provided by the Council. The purpose of this program is to recognize the accomplishments of 4-H members, note the contributions in financial or other support of members of the communtiy and to show appreciation to the 4-H leaders who have taught children during the course of the past year.

Listed below are the name of 4-H members who showed the most accomplishment in their particular project areas in the 1981-82 4-H year. The list does not reflect all 4-H members, but only those who qualified for project pins this year.

Poultry - Aaron Beishlag and Mike Boyer; Agriculture (for rabbits) Jacob Robinson; Wood Science - Sandy DeYoung and Shawn DeYoung. Home Environment (for crafts and needlework) Amy Alger, Aaron Brock, Aaron Reikiewicz and Renee Reynolds; Health - Missy Genson, Heather McKay and Viva Minor; Gardening - Dawn Brock, Krista Sumner and Jon Sumner; Conservation - Pasty Puroll, Micki Puroll, and Ricky Brooks; Dairy (for goats) Dave Fraley, Henry Fortune and Mary Murray; Food Preservation - Krista Sumner, Aaron Brock, Barbie Genson and Heather McKay; Food and Nutrition - Barbie Genson, Becky Robinson, Missy Genson and Paula Harvey; Bicycle - Aaron Brock, Scott Peck and Ricky Brooks; Clothing - Brenda Stolt, Mike Horton, Jennifer Clock and Dawn Brock; Fashion Revue - Eve Reinhardt, Krista Sumner, Sue Stolt, Nancy Louiselle, Tammy Boggs, Amy Alger and Amy Beyer; Horse - Cinda Crozier, Sheila Harris, Teri Howard and Laurie Sherman; Veterinary Science: Lori Fraley - Horse, Davy Schmoldt - Lamb, Dan Kitely - Beef and Lisa Caverly - Hog; Leadership - Sue Stolt, Vicki Stolt, Kim Mikula and Clarence Stark; Achievement (overall) Sue Stolt, Vicki Stolt, Renee Reynolds and Robin Gee; Citizenship (for the county program) Rhonda Beishlag, Lori Campbell and Heath Green.

Friend of 4-H awards were presented to Harold Vorce - Exploration Days; Fran Bartig, Anne LaCrosse, Chuck Britton and Boyne Falls Student Council for Achievement Day; Pam Parsel and Penny Lewis - above and beyond the call of duty; Nancy Dascamp, Jackie Raymond, Debbie Niswander - Personal Appearance Workshop; Bill Price - Charlevoix Farms for horse show; Village of Boyne Falls - money for horse show; Russ Geeck - horse show announcer; East Jordan Coop - member and leader calendars; Henry Grutsch - plowing Grandvue garden.

East Jordan Rotary for Support for Ronaway Weekend; Grandvue for use of the facility; Bill Conklin - camp nurse and Arloah Norton - Craft Workshop.

Friends of 4-H award certificates are given each year to thank those members of the community, usually county residents or organizations, which have helped the Charlevoix County 4-H program with things it had to seek outside itself. Sometimes this is in the form of financial assistance, but most often the help received is time spent with youngsters or in sharing expertise in a teaching or resource capacity. 4-H would find it hard to carry out its goals without such community support.

This year all 4-H club leaders received a certificate citing their years of service to the county program. These are dedicated volunteers who share their knowledge with county children on a continuing basis, some year after year. 4-H is a family kind of activity so many opportunities and rewards which are available for youngsters are also available for adults. 4-H tries to give credit where credit is due. Many thanks go out to the Charlevoix County 4-H leaders of the 1981-82 4-H year.

These leaders receiving certificates for their years of 4-H service and the number of years of service are: Beverly Walker, 13; Lucy Stolt, 12; Dave Stolt, 11; Claudia Grutsch, 10; Judy Clock, 9; Nancy Brooks, 8; Bonnie Fos, 7; Glenda Reinhardt, 6; Richard Brooks, 5; Marsha Beishlag and Debra Peck, 4; Barb Brooks, Jerry Brooks and Jim Nelson, 3; Eric Beishlag, Bob Bellairs, Jeanette Glem, Janice Harvey, Stan Hoover, Harold Leach, Sherry Puroll, Kris Schenk, Robert Schmoldt, Cindy Fraley and Micki Howard, 2; Jenny Bellairs, Dave Shetterly, Tammy Thayer, Dawn Reyers, Georgene Alger, Pat Edgecome, Esther Waeghe, Marlan Lesher, Gary DeYoung, Sue DeYoung, Larry Boyer, Mary Boyer, Charlie Myers, Bob Sherman, Pam Parsel, and Kathy Schmoldt, 1.

Special recognition was give to Larry Boyer. Larry is a leader of the Charlevoix Livestock Club; he is serving a two year term on the Charlevoix County 4-H council; he has been the Superintendent of 4-H Hogs at the Emmet County Fair and serves on the Livestock Project Council.

Two teens and two adults were elected to replace those 4-H Council members whose terms had ended. Mary Murray and Heath Green were chosen to take over one year teen terms previously held by Lori Campbell and Lori Fox. Adults Henry Fortune and Phillis Sumner will be new Council members replacing Nancy Brooks and Debby Peck. Those with terms still running are Charlie Myers, Cindy Fraley and Larry Boyer. The Charlevoix County 4-H Counil is a planning and policy making body which works with the CES staff to implement the 4-H program.

Tie Breaker Game
KIT CARSON LUMBER

Pick the number of points you believe will be scored in the tie-breaker game, and write it in the box.

RULES

1. Anyone can enter, except the employees of the paper and their families. Use the entry blank from the paper or make your own, following the same plan. A copy of the Charlevoix Courier will be available at the Courier office to anyone wishing to copy the list of names.
2. Weekly gift certificates will be awarded to the persons naming the most winners. All tie games are considered incorrect unless picked as ties on your entry blank. In case of a tie, persons guessing nearest correct score in the tiebreaker box will win. Insert what you think total score will be of the game in the tie breaker box.
3. Gift certificates are redeemable at any of the participating sponsors on this page only. Entries should be addressed to: Contest Editor, Charlevoix Courier and postmarked by not later than 5 p.m. Thursday night. Winners will be announced the following weeks.
4. On the entry form simply draw a circle around the number of the team you predict will win each of the games listed in each of the ads. Then, predict the total on the points "tie breaker" at the bottom of the entry form.

Auxiliary to help Grandvue celebrate the Christmas season at its Dec. 9 meeting

Christmas will be observed at the Grandvue Medical Care Facility when its Auxiliary meets on December 9 for its monthly meeting.

Each member has been asked to bring an ornament for the Christmas tree. Steven Stargardt of the vocal music department of the Charlevoix schools will present a program of Christmas music and lead the singing of Christmas carols. Members of the auxiliary from Boyne City will host the observance which will be attended by patients as well as members.

"We dispense with business and make this a real Christmas party for everyone at the facility," a spokesperson for the auxiliary said.

At the recent meeting at which plans for the December meeting were made, the question was asked: What is the Auxiliary and what has it done for the Grandvue Medical Care Facility since it was organized in 1969?

It was explained that the Auxiliary is strictly a service organization dedicated to serving the facility and its patients in any way possible approved by the administration.

Since its organization, the Auxiliary has raised and spent on equipment for the facility an amount in excess of $35,000.

The expenditures have included the purchase of two Century tubs which are combinations of bath tubs and whirlpools, an occupational therapy chair, 13 wheelchairs, cabinets for the occupational therapy department, 12 dining room tables, 24 dining room chairs, 16 card tables, 24 stack chairs, and 18 lounge chairs.

Other purchases include furniture and draperies for the day room, furniture for the parlor, equipment for the beauty parlor operated for the patients, a television set, a table and flower boxes for the patio, pictures for the hallways and a sewing machine.

In additional the auxiliary contributed $1,000 toward a new fence at the front of the facility, purchased a communion set, music books and hymnals for the chapel, a roster bearing patients' names and room numbers which is mounted at the front door, artificial Christmas trees plus trimmings and lights for them, an electric razor, and books for the nurses' library.

The auxiliary also purchases film for Dr. Robert G. Martin who takes pictures of patients, without charge, so their families might have them.

Auxiliary members also serve as volunteers, doing various work for and with the patients.

The Auxiliary has a memorial fund to which persons may contribute in memory of someone or to just make a contribution. These funds are used to support a scholarship fund for high school graduates interested in some career relating to the field of health. The scholarship fund was established in 1973.

The Auxiliary supports its projects through an annual Tag Day held in July and two Games parties and bake sales held in April and October.

Meetings are held at 2 p.m. the second Thursday of every month except January and February. Dues are $2.00 per year for active members, $3.00 for inactive members and $50 for a life membership.

The Auxiliary presently has 85 members including 44 active, 29 inactive and 12 life members.

Present officers are Joanna Gunn of Charlevoix, president; Delores Rasch of Boyne City, first vice president; Betty Yenni of East Jordan, president-elect; Phyllis Malpass of East Jordan, treasurer; Jean Korthase of Boyne City, recording secretary; Joanne Schenk of East Jordan, corresponding secretary, and Lucille Dolwick of Boyne City, historian.

Christian Scientists set observance

A Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday, November 25 at the Christian Science Church on Clinton Street at 11 a.m.

President Ronald Reagan's Proclamation will be read, also selections from the Bible and the Christian Science Textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy and Thanksgiving hymns will be sung. The latter part of the service will be set aside for expressions of gratitude.

"Coping" series set for Boyne City

"Coping?" an ongoing education and support group for people with a life threatening disease and their care givers, will meet December 2nd, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at St. Matthew's rectory basement in Boyne City. Mary Frame, private counselor will begin a two part series on Imagery and Motivation. For further information call Lynda Christensen, 582-9555, or Rev. Kathleen Smith, 582-2576.

State Senator MITCH IRWIN was this week named one of the presiding officers of the Michigan State Senate for the 82nd Legislative Session.

Irwin has been selected as the Assistant President Pro Tempore, and in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor and the President Pro Tempore, Irwin presides over the full Senate body.

"I'm pleased to receive this honor from my colleagues," said Irwin, who was elected to the post by the Democratic Caucus earlier this week.

Irwin's position is considered one of the top five leadership posts in the Democratic-controlled Senate which will convene in January, 1983.

"I look forward to my next term and this new leadership role," said Irwin, who ranks twelfth in seniority among Democratic senators. "I'm excited about working closely with the new Governor and a new Legislature to improve Michigan's business climate and to put people back to work," he said. "We have a full agenda."

Irwin was recently reelected to serve the 37th Senatorial District for the northern lower peninsula and the eastern Upper Penisula.

JEAN DOUMA, above, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Douma of Charlevoix, having completed a five-month training program ending with an intensive three-week seminar in Palo Alto, CA, has been named a Syntex professional medical representative, according to Richard Casey, Syntex vice president of sales.

In this position, Douma will provide health care professionals in the Dallas, Tx., area with medical background and usage information on Syntex pharmaceutical products. Douma will report to Tom Moore, Syntex district manager.

Prior to joining Syntex, Douma was office and sales manager for United Van Lines. She earned a B.B.A. degree from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

The initial Syntex training program includes courses in medical terminology, anatomy, physiology, disease states, pharmacology, modes of therapy and specific Syntex products. Individual instruction involves interaction with prominent scientists and clinicians.

Tiny amounts of radioactive waste leaked into Big Rock sewage

by TOM DAMMANN

Waste water contaminated with small amounts of radioactivity has been draining into the septic tank and drainfield at Big Rock nuclear power plant three miles east of Charlevoix for the past five or six years.

Some of it eventually ends up in the Charlevoix municpal sewage treatment plant.

This was revealed in a report issued by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) last Friday November 26 and read to the Courier on the phone Monday by a Congressional source in Washington D.C. It was verified by Jan Strasma, NRC spokesman in the NRC Region III offices in Chicago.

According to the NRC statement, labled "A Preliminary Report Prior to a License Event Report", the amount of radioactivity is below the danger level.

"There is no cause for public alarm because it is far below what the NRC says is safe," Big Rock spokesman Robert Grupp told the Courier by phone Monday evening. "But certainly we have to look into it."

"The contaminating liquids came from a sink in the chemical laboratory which is called a cold sink because only lightly contaminated substances are put into it. It was drained directly into the plant's sewage system rather than into the radioactive waster system."

"But while making repairs to the waste line recently, it was noticed that there was some corrosion and rust. Upon testing this, the radioactivity was discovered and we reported this to the NRC," Grupp said.

He added that workmen traced the drain line to the sewer line and have since shut it off prearatory to re-routing it to the nuclear waste line.

According to the statement, the septic tank is pumped out several times each year by a local contractor (there have been three pumpouts for a total of 18,000 gallons this year). Sludge from the Big Rock system is taken to the Charlevoix treatment plant.

Asked what effect the radioactive water in the drainfield might have on area groundwater, Larry Levengood, environmental sanitarian, Health Dept. District 3, stated some concern because, "The groundwater may not be sufficiently protected."

Levengood said he would inspect the system this week and added that he had not been advised of the situation by either Big Rock officials or the NRC. He said the system had been installed in 1976 or 77.

The Congressional source told the Courier that the reason he had disclosed the statement was that the NRC and Consumers Power, owner of the Big Rock plant, had apparently agreed not to release a statement to the press on the matter.

The statement as dictated over the phone by an NRC spokesperson in the Chicago office is as follows:

"During recent repairing of a chemistry laboratory sink, licensee (Big Rock) discovered that the sink is routed to the plant's sewer system (on site septic tank and leach field) instead of the RAD (radioactive) waste system as previously believed. Although the sink is classified as a 'cold' sink, small quantities of low-concentration radioactive liquids are routinely discarded into the sink. Samples from the plant septic tank and leach field indicated low concentrations of radioactive material (Co-60, Cs-137, Mn-54). The septic tank is pumped out occasionally by a local contractor (three times in 1982 totalling 18,000 gallons). The sludge from the septic tank is deposited in a local municipal sanitary sewerage system. The radioactive material released to the municipal sanitary sewer system appears to have been at least a factor of ten less than the allowable limit specified by NRC for release to sanitary sewerage systems.

"The licensee has temporarily capped the sink drain line and will re-route it to the RAD waste system. Also, licensee is reviewing other systems to insure there are no additional sources of radioacitve liquid entering the plant sewerage system. Further evaluations of this incident are being conducted by the licensee and a complete review will be conducted by a Region III radiation specialist during a futre inspection.

"The preliminary notification is issued for information at this time due to a potential of public awareness. Neither Region III nor the licensee plan to issue a press release. Region III will respond to inquiries. The State of Michigan will be notified."

Green light given to improvement plan for "Charlevoix Business Park"

by DAVE KNIGHT

Improvements to the Charlevoix Industrial Park ranging from a new name to a full complement of municipal services were given initial approval Monday night by City Council.

Following a brief public hearing, council passed unanimously a resolution authorizing City Manager Robert Hunt to proceed with the first phase of a proposed $383,000 improvement program designed to make the park more marketable for commercial and industrial developers.

The resolution also changes the name of the property bordered roughly by Mercer Blvd., Taylor Rd. and Ance Rd. to the Charlevoix Business Park. The name change, recommended by consulting engineers Granger Engineering, more accurately reflects the wide range of firms that are currently located in the park as well as those who might potentially locate there, explained Hunt.

A funding package devised by Hunt for the program's $314,000 first phase combines $280,000 in grants with $30,000 in proceeds from Business Park land sales and $4,000 from sewer tap fees in the park.

Under such a plan, said Hunt, no property tax subsidation nor use of the city's general fund would be neccessary.

Physical improvements to the park would include the following:

Water

A 12-inch main would be constructed under Mercer Blvd. from Division to Taylor. The added volume would provide not only routine water requirements for business or industry but also adequate supplies for fire protection. A second construction phase would extend the main northward on Taylor to a proposed new road. The first phase cost, assuming city crews install the main, would be $35,000.

Sewer

A lift station would be constructed off Taylor Road between Mercer and Ance Rd. A 12-inch gravity sewer would then be installed from Duffy's, where the present sewer line ends, up Mercer to Taylor. A force main would connect the lift station to the gravity sewer. Estimated cost for the gravity sewer (again assuming utilization of city crews whenever possible) is $69,000, for the lift station $50,000 and the force main $12,000.

Roads

In the first phase of the program, both Taylor and Ance Roads would be reconstructed and upgraded by widening the pavement to 26 feet and installing the accompanying drainage ditches. This will cost $100,000 according to estimates. In the second phase, a new road will be constructed extending northward from Taylor approximately 200 yards west of Ance Rd. That will cost an estimated $16,000.

Other projected costs for the first phase of the program include $23,000 for engineering and $25,000 for contingincies.

Hunt proposes in his funding plan to seek $190,000 from the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) program and $90,000 from the Michigan Department of Commerce under their Community Development Block Grant program.

In an optimistic schedule, based on quick approval of the requested grants, Hunt sees construction as possibly starting in May of next year with completion possible by late November, 1983.

He cautioned the council, however, that there is no guarantee of successfully obtaining the neccessary grant money in time to accomodate such a schedule.

Filter is quicker, cheaper say opponents to lake water treatment plant

by DAVE KNIGHT

Proponents of an immediate solution - filtration - to the problem of trichloroethylene (TCE) in city water made their sentiments known at a public hearing on the subject held before the City Council Monday night.

Opposition to the alternative of building a treatment plant for Lake Michigan water was voiced by Thomas Duke who repeated his claims that filtration of the exsiting supply would cost a tenth as much money and be more reliable.

The cost for a lake water treatment plant has been estimated at up to $1.4 million. Duke claimed that a filter system could be insalled for about $120,000.

"This city's been here a long time, just like an old house," said Duke. "When you find a pipe leaking in an old house, you don't immediately replace all the plumbing - you fix the leak first and then think about redoing the plumbing over a reasonable amount of time."

Of three alternatives given the council two weeks ago by Granger Engineering, use of surface water, Lake Michigan, was recommended as the best means of providing city water without the suspected carcinogen TCE. Other alternatives included carbon-activated filtration of the existing system and the drilling of new city wells.

Duke maintained that the reliability of Lake Michigan as a source of water was not as ironclad as the Granger report indicated. He Transit employees take gripes to County Board

by PEG OHLE

The battle between employees and management of the Charlevoix County Transit System continued last week when eight employees appeared before the County Board of Commissioners to ask some pointed questions:

"1. In getting pay for a 40 hr. pay week, why is it that the Transit manager is very difficult to find during working hours?

"2. Why does management deal with differences of opinion by threatening to fire people.

"3. Why the indecisiveness in sick day policy, comp time policy, working schedule, and bus damage policy?

"4. Why was such a great deal of time taken to notify the County Building in regards to B. Syfarts and Fred Stutzman being transferred from part time to full time employment?

"5. Why was the Transit office located on Hwy. 75 and remodeled out of Transit budget?"

In conclusion, the employees noted: "We, the Transit employees feel that as long as Mr. Saworski remains manager of Transit, there will be no change whatsoever. When the millage request comes up again in three years, it most definitely will be voted down. We strongly urge Mr. Saworski's replacement."

Commissioner Marvin Loding, who represents the County Board on the Commission on Aging, overseer

Ice skating on the grounds of the old school house in Charlevoix was part of the school day in winter. These boys and girls seem to be enjoying their recess (or after school) play. (The 7th grade school picture which we ran last week was probably taken in 1897 or 1898, according to Lyle Ross of Boyne City, whose father and aunt appear in the picture. Another reader, a friend of the late Mathilda Curtis, who is also in the picture, thinks it was taken about 1895).

It's Home Health Care Week

Concern about the delivery of health care services is especially evident today with the national focus on economics. Increasing numbers of patients are finding that the care they need is available in the comfort and familiarity of their own home, at lower financial cost than a long hospital stay.

November 28th through December 4th is National Home Health week. Home Health Care Programs are designed to offer a combination of nursing care and supervision along with home health aid services and various therapies, all under your physicians orders, for patients in their home. The target population are those ill and disabled patients who need coordinated services, and would require frequent or continued hospital care if these services were not available.

District Health Department Number 3 has been supplying these services in Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego Counties longer then any other Home Health Provider.

Each Home Health patient is unique, and any of the following services may be necessary to help them. Intermittent nursing care, physical and speech therapy and home health aides are available through Home Health Care. Specific examples of services that could be included are: Diet instruction, patient education, use of oxygen equipment, administering prescribed supplies, teaching of prescribed exercises, changing surgical dressings and catheter changes.

Anyone interested in more information about Home Health Care should contact the nearest office of District Health Department Number 3.

District Health Department No. 3 nurse for Charlevoix County, Marian Martin (left) is working with Mr. Everett Gilespie as part of the Home Health Program. Marian is checking Everett's vital signs because he is using oxygen continuously.

County Planning Comm. to remain at nine members

by PEG OHLE

The Charlevoix County Planning Commission will remain at nine members following an evaluation of the Commission by the County Board.

The written evaluation states, "We feel that because of the diversity of subjects coming under the purview of the Planning Commission, it becomes expedient that a broad cross section of the County be represented on the Commission. The present structure of the Commission of nine members representing specific interests and areas accomplishes this requirement and also allows the Commission, as a body, to be involved to the maximum as a resource to the Board of Commissioners."

Present members of the Planning Commission are Dorothy Custer, Arnold Hudson, Junior A. Hunt, Dennis Jason, Larry Levengood, Walter Thorsen, Ray Towne, Vivian Visscher, and Thomas Wieland.

The terms of Hudson, Hunt, and Wieland expire on December 31 of this year and have not yet been filled. Ed Rebman of Boyne City who has served as secretary to the Planning Commission for many years, has resigned that position. Instead of appointing another person to fill the secretary's job, one of the nine Commissioners will be asked to serve in that capacity.

Obituaries

EDWARD J. SMITH

Masonic rites for Edward J. Smith, 97, retired local businessman who died Monday at the Grandvue Medical Care Facility, were conducted Wednesday by Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. & A. M. at the Winchester Funeral Home. Graveside services at Brookside Cemetery were also conducted by the Masonic Order.

Born June 11, 1885, in Louisville, Kentucky, mr. Smith came to Charlevoix in 1912. The same year he was married to the former Janie Oldham who preceded him in death in 1960. For many years he was employed at the S. M. See & Sons furniture store and later operated a furniture store of his own until retiring in 1950. He was a life member of the Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. & A.M.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Gretchell (Marion) Campfield of Charlevoix; a granddaughter and one great grandson.

ROSE E. GATES

Funeral services for a former Atwood resident, Mrs. Rose E. Gates, 72, who died unexpectedly Wednesday at Cedar Springs where she had lived for the past eight years, were held Saturday at the Hastings Funeral Home in Ellsworth. Rev. Thomas Schutt of the Elk Rapids Lutheran Church officiated. Interment was in the Starr Cemetery at Alba.

Born in Alba Nov. 25, 1910, the former Rose E. Ernst was married to John Gates at Mancelona. They made their home in Alba until moving to the Atwood area in 1946. She had lived in Cedar Springs since 1974.

She is survived by three sons, William and Leslie of Cedar Springs and Joe of Atwood; a daughter, Mrs. Richard (Doris) Hammond of Mission, Texas; eight grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; three brothers, Leo Ernst of Pickford, Willard Ernst of Black River, Wisconsin and Arthur Ernst of Detroit and five sisters, Mrs. Mary Wingo of East Jordan, Mrs. Gertrude DeRashia of Bay City, Mrs. Al (Grace) Fettig, Mrs. Otto (Georgia) Allen and Mrs. Helen Shaler, all of Petoskey.

ARTHUR S. MICHANOWICZ

Funeral services for Arthur S. Michanowicz, 54, of Ellsworth, who died Wednesday at the Charlevoix Area Hospital, were held Saturday at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in Wyandotte. Interment was in Michigan Memorial Park in Huron Township near Wyandotte.

The Rosary was recited Friday evening at the Czopek Funeral Home in Wyandotte. Visitation was at the Hastings funeral home in Ellsworth Thursday evening.

Mr. Michanowicz was born at Wyandotte August 6, 1928 and was married to the former Margaret McDonald at St. Patrick's Church in Wyandotte May 6, 1950. They made their home at Wyandotte until 1974 when they moved to Ellsworth. He continued his employment at Detroit Edison until retiring in 1980. He was a veteran of the Korean Conflict.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Ellsworth and Our Lade of Mt. Carmel Church in Wyandotte and a member of the Holy Name Society of the latter church. He was also a member of the Edward C. Headman Post No. 217, American Legion, Polish National Alliance Lodge No. 2426 and a life member of V.F.W. Post No. 1136, Wyandotte.

Beside his wife, he is survived by four sons, Robert, of Central Lake, Richard, of Vail, Colorado, Michael, of Ellsworth and John at home; two daughters, Ms. Susan Middleton of St. Cloud, Florida and Mary at home; his mother, Mrs. Amelia Michanowicz of Wyandotte and a brother, Anthony March of Southgate.

NINA H. BIRD

Word was received last week of the death on Friday, November 19 of Nina Helen Bird, 78, at the Clara Barton Terrace in Flint. Miss Bird resided at 1801 Atherton Rd. in Flint at the time of her death. Following cremation, interment took place in the Brookside Cemetery in Charlevoix.

Miss Bird was born November 8, 1904 in Eveline Township. She was the daughter of William and Carrie Bird.

Survivors include a sister, Mable C. Bird of Mississauga, Ontario and a niece, Mrs. Cheryl Bittner, Romeo. She was preceded in death by two brothers, Elliott Bird of Flint and Wilard Bird of Romeo.

Funeral arrangements were handled by the Zelley Funeral Home of Flint.

DOLLYE B. DIBLEY

Mrs. Dollye B. Dibley, 71, of Utica, died early Sunday at the Charlevoix Area Hospital after suffering an apparent heart attack while visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dibley. The body was returned to the Sullivan Funeral Home in Utica for services.

Mrs. Dibley had operated the Dibley School of Dancing in Utica for 35 years. Besides her son, Donald, she is survived by a son, Joseph of New York City, one daughter, Mrs. Neil (Karen) Englehart of Saginaw and two grandchildren.

A MERRIER CHRISTMAS will be enjoyed by several families served by the Charlevoix County Fostr Care Program as a result of generous donations made last week to the program by the Smelt City Post No. 3675 Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. Seated above are Brad Campbell, left, juvenile court administrator, and Probate Judge John Murphy. Campbell is holding a check for $237.73 raised by the Auxiliary at a benefit dinner. Standing are, from left, Auxiliary member Betty Genson, President Marie Lorton and project chairman Darla Evans. Shown on the table are several handmade mittens and caps donated for foster children by Mrs. Bradford Foster. Campbell pointed out that with about 90 percent of the families involved with the Foster Care Program below poverty level, the donations will be especially welcome.

High Priestesses to meet

Plans for the December 6 meeting of the Past High Priestesses and Watchmen of the Shepherds to be held at Flapjack Shack in Petoskey were made at a recent meeting at the Holiday Inn in Petoskey.

The luncheon meeting, to be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Virgil McCune of Boyne City, will begin at 1:30 p.m. A gift exchange and Christmas party will be features of the meeting.

At the recent meeting held at Petoskey, a memorial was offered for Mrs. John (Deisy) Borton of Wolverine who had served the group as secretary-treasurer for the past eight years. A monetary contribution in her memory was made to the Material Objective Board of the White Shrine of Jerusalem.

Mrs. Alton Hayes and Rodney Saxton won the gypsies.

Queen Esther Shrine No. 15 of Petoskey hosted the Supreme School of Instruction for District 5 which extends from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to Traverse City. Mrs. Dorothea Scheaffer, Supreme Scribe and Instructress, presented the recent school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood, Worthy High Priestess and Watchman of the Shepherds, hosted a potluck dinner with 30 in attendance recently.

Mrs. Henry Erber of Boyne City presided at the recent meeting attended by members from Cheboygan, Boyne City, Eastport, Charlevoix, and Petoskey.

Speed limit on stretch of M-66 reduced

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department has announced that the speed limit for the stretch of Highway M-66 between the Charlevoix city limits and Wickersham Road will be lowered from 55 miles per hour to 45 mph.

The change, made by the State Highway Commission, is designed to slow traffic through what is largely a residential area with a sizeable population of small children.

According to the Sheriff's Department, the new 45 mph speed will be posted "within the next few weeks" and will be monitored and enforced by Sheriff's Deputies.

Opinion

Knight on the Town
The roast with the most

by Dave Knight

The open fire will be burning brightly at LaCroft this coming Tuesday evening but those will not be chestnuts roasting over it.

Some of Charlevoix's more visible - and hopefully good humored - citizens will get theirs in what is being billed as the first annual "Roast of the Town".

On the rack will be such local glitterati as deserting realtor George Richardson, KCB czar Bruce MacArthur, Chamber maid Jacque Merta, prescription decoder Jim Williams, prescription originator Bill Mosher, sea gull dealer Jeanine Wallace, batting helmet model Lou Hollow and closet U of M fan Roy Hayes.

Naturally there could be many more juicy names on the list - Charlevoix is rife with roastable figures - but planners figured Eight Is Enough for the first time around.

It should be mentioned that there is a method to the madness and a good cause behind the whole thing. The "Roast of the Town" has been conceived by the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce as a fun way to bring its membership together for some holiday cheer. The event is also part of the Chamber's membership drive activities. All prospective Chamber members are warmly invited to meet other members informally and view all the dirty linen to be on display.

Rumor has it that no event organizing committee in modern Charlevoix history has had as much fun in the planning stage.

Disclosed one member of the committee: "If we had a tape of EVERYTHING we've come up with at our meetings, we'd all go to jail!"

In the spirit of fairness, many of the roastees will get their chance on the dais as roasters. Also featured as roastmasters are several other such glib Charlevoixians as Tom Duke, John Yaroch, Vince Olach, Hans Wiemer, Bill Vogel, Irene Richardson and Sud Reis.

The fun starts at 6 p.m. Tuesday, December 7 at the LaCroft Condominium Lounge. Refreshments will be available.

Hearing on water

pointed out that no mention was made in the report of the poisoning effluent from the Big Rock nuclear plant that might result in the lake from an emergency at the plant.

"In my estimation," said Duke, "The risk of using Lake Michigan water is substantial."

Christa Maria appeared at the hearing to announce a donation of $200 to be made by a group of local artists toward filtration equipment for the Middle School. The money is to be raised at an art auction scheduled for 4 p.m. Saturday, December 11 at the Grey Gables.

City Manager Robert Hunt told the council that two design proposals have been received for a lake water treatment plant and will be ready for council scrutiny at their December 8 meeting.

As per the council's request, plans for a temporary filtration system are also being readied, said Hunt, and may possibly be submitted by Granger Engineering sometime this week.

Hunt recommended that the council plan on adjusting water rates appropriately as soon as the final decision on treatment method is made. If lake water treatment is the alternative chosen, he said, a rate increase of 30 to 35 percent should be enacted at the same time.

Transit employees heard of the Transit System, told the employees that they would have to follow the chain of command in presenting their grievances: First to the Transit manager, then to the Commission on Aging and the Transit Committee of the Board of Commissioners. They agreed to follow his advice and appear at next month's meetings.

All of the Transit employees present said they had not received a copy of the County Employees' Manual which contains specific instructions on how to present grievances. The manual is supposed to be given every employee when he or she starts working for the County. Loding said be would check to see if there are signed slips on file indicating that the Transit System had furnished its employees with the manuals.

Clockwise
Playing to the Dems

by Bob Clock

IF I WERE President Reagan I would start tracking down, with further ado, the leather-headed functionary in his Cabinet Council on Economic Affairs who suggested clamping a tax on unemployment benefits.

I can think of no move better calculated to assure a Democratic victory in 1984 than to tax the paltry jobless benefits now being received by the nation's growing army of laid-off workers.

For the Reagan Administration even to consider such a move — particularly at a time when members of Congress are in line for a $2,400-a-year pay increase — makes the entire Republican hierarchy from President Reagan on down appear to be heartless ogres in the public eye.

To make things even worse from a public relations standpoint, the proposal was set forth on Thanksgiving Day.

Since then, of course, Democrats and union leaders have raised their voices against the scheme and Reagan has denied any association with it, according to his spokesman Larry Speakes.

Speakes said Saturday he was not even sure Reagan was aware of the plan before Speakes himself announced it on Thursday.

"He wasn't considering it," Speakes said in an effort to clear the air. "He never considered it because it hadn't been presented to him."

The proposal apparently was one of eight drafted by the council to attack "structural unemployment" caused by the changing nature of the nation's workforce. The rationale behind the employment package, Speakes said, was "to make it less attractive" to receive unemployment compensation and to encourage recipients to go into job-training programs.

PERHAPS I'M NAIVE, but I believe Speakes is telling the truth. I refuse to believe that Reagan would have anything to do with such a program or that he believes anyone actually sees anything "attractive" about unemployment benefits.

Furthermore, I believe the president to too politically savvy to even consider taxing the unemployed.

Unfortunately, the damage has been done. Through the ineptness of his underlings, Reagan has been cast in the role of bad guy — and I'm not at all sure he deserves it.

If I were Reagan, I would hunt down the party or parties responsible and start knocking heads together. It won't do much good — but it might make the rest of us feel better about the man in the White House.

WINTER'S JUGGERNAUT is now rolling across the land and those of us who talk to plants are urged to say "nightie-night" to the lilies-of-the-valley, the myrtle and the snow-on-the-mountain that we won't see again until spring.

So far the winter of 1982-83 has gotten off to a strange start — with little wind but lots of freezing rain and wet snow. Such weather is more characteristic of southern Michigan than it is these northern climes.

If we have to have snow, I prefer the powdery variety.

But I'm not going to get discouraaged. In another 120 days, the worst will be behind us. By the first of April you should be able to wake up your lilies-of-the-valley, your myrtle and your snow-on-the-mountain for another glorious spring and summer.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Ditlow

Sulkowski-Ditlow

Darlene Sulkowski and Kurt Ditlow were married Saturday afternoon, November 6, at the United Methodist Church of Charlevoix.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sulkowski of Charlevoix and Ms. Betty Sulkowski of East Jordan. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ditlow of Charlevoix.

Approximately 75 guests witnessed the double-ring rites read by the Reverend David Yingling before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums, lighted candelabra, white bows, and a unity candle.

The bride's gown was of organza over taffeta and silk Venise lace, fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and lace bodice. The full sheer Bishop sleeves featured an inset of lace and were edged in Venise lace. A Chapel-length train was attached to the full skirt, which was also edged in Venise lace, as was the veil. The veil also featured a blusher. The bride's bouquet was a traditional arrangement of white carnations.

The bride's father gave her in marriage.

Connie Hemmels of Kalkaska was the bride's only attendant. She wore a wine-colored knit gown gathered at the waist and covered by a nylon chiffon cape. She carried a white carnation with wine and white streamers.

George B. Kruskie of Kenosha, Wisconsin served as best man. Kip Ditlow, brother of the bridegroom, and Ernest Sulkowski, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception at the American Legion Hall followed the wedding ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Flower acted as master and mistress of ceremonies. Linda Ditlow, sister-in-law of the bride, served the punch, and Nora Stiff was in charge of the guest book. The four-tiered wedding cake was made by the bridegroom's sister, Kari Stewart of Charlevoix, and was served by her and Kyle Ditlow of Houston.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the American Legion Hall.

Following a wedding trip to the Upper Peninsula, the newlyweds are at home in Charlevoix, where the bride is a dietary aide at the Charlevoix Area Hospital. The bridegroom is employed by O'rien Yachts of Eastport.

Arts Council plans holiday weekend event

The Crooked Tree Arts Council is planning a busy weekend at the McCune Arts Center in Petoskey on Saturday, December 4 and Sunday, December 5 to start off the holiday season.

There will be an open house and refreshments on Saturday from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. and the Gallery will be open with the new show for December, "Members' Contemporary Collections".

The Art Tree, the artists' consignment shop which helps both the art center and the artists, features several items for holiday giving and several of the artists will be doing demonstrations of their crafts.

At 4 p.m., David Bell, bagpiper, will play and explain his art and several students of June Zoerhof and Charlotte Ross Lee will present a musical program.

On Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., the open house with refreshments, art tree holiday sale and gallery show will continue. At 3 p.m. there will be a Community Christmas sing-along directed by Don Large and Wil Moyer. It will be preceded by special Christmas music by a brass quintet.

Legion to host District meeting

The Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, will host the District 13 meeting at the local post home on Sunday, Dec. 12.

The luncheon will be served at 1 p.m. to delegates from both the legion posts and their auxiliaries. Business meetings for the two organizations will follow. Mrs. Madelyn Taylor of Ellsworth, district president, will preside at the auxiliary meeting. Reservations for the luncheon must be made in advance for the luncheon by calling Mrs. Ray Wood or writing to Box 182 at Charlevoix 49720.

The post and auxiliary members will meet at the post home Tuesday, Dec. 7, for their regular monthly potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. with the meetings of the two organizations following the dinner. Auxiliary members will conclude their meeting with a Christmas party and gift exchange.

The legion and auxiliary members and their respective families will observe Christmas at a special family gathering at the post home on Sunday, Dec. 19. A potluck dinner at 2 p.m. will be followed by a visit from Santa Claus who will distribute gifts to children under 12 years of age. Parents are asked to contact Mrs. Louis McKenzie no later than Dec. 15 to register their child or children for gifts.

Prior to the Thanksgiving holiday auxiliary members packed individual fruit baskets for patients at the Grandvue Medical Care Facility and for shut-ins in the community. A total of 125 baskets were packed by Mrs. Lester Smith, Mrs. William Farkas, Mrs. Gertrude Holt, Mrs. George Lochner, Mrs. Lillian Hull, Mrs. Wanda Scheff, Mrs. Ivy Woodcock and Mrs. Wood.

New fund to replace Santa Anon.

A Community Fund is now being established to take the place of the former Christmas or Santa Anonymous.

The fund, now in its infancy, will be kicked off with a special benefit to be staged prior to the holidays at Cinema III at a date to be announced.

Present plans call for the Community Fund to become an on-going year-around fund to be used not only at holiday time but all year long.

When Santa Anonymous was in operation, most local organizations contributed to the fund. It is hoped that those same organizations will again contribute to the Community Fund, which, like Santa Anonymous, will be used to help those in need in the community.

An account has been established at the First State Bank where anyone may make a contribution in any amount.

For those not familiar with Santa Anonymous, it was a fund administered by a group of volunteers who wished to remain anonymous. This Community Fund will be operated in much the same manner.

Lutheran women plan luncheon, bazaar, bake sale

Plans for the annual Christmas casserole-salad luncheon, bake sale and Christmas bazaar sponsored by the Guild of Lutheran Women have been announced.

The special event will be held Bethel Lutheran Church on South Bridge St., Thursday, December 9. The luncheon will feature meatballs for which it has become widely known as well as other hot dishes and a variety of salads, desserts and a choice of beverage. Serving will be from 11 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Tickets will be $2.50 per person and $2 for senior citizens.

The bake sale will feature a variety of home-baked goodies including breads, quick breads, cookies, rolls and other goodies. The bazaar will feature items for Christmas-gift giving as well as those for everyday use in the home.

Reborn girls team takes District title

The Charlevoix girls basketball team topped off their appearance in the Class C District tournament at Elk Rapids last week by winning the District title.

The quintet will meet Benzie Central in the Class C Regional tournament at Roscommon at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

In their title game, the Charlevoix team defeated Traverse City St. Francis 47-44 in a game that saw the Rayderettes overcome an 11-point deficit in the second quarter.

Traverse City jumped to an early lead for a 15-9 first quarter advantage and midway in the second period increased their lead to 11 points before Charlevoix trimmed the margin to five points, 28-23 at halftime.

The Charlevoix team composed of three sophomores snapped back as the second half got underway and evened the score 33-all at the three-quarter mark.

A quick bucket by Ann Wagner put the team ahead for the first time early in the final period and from there on, the quintet, playing its best game of the season, outscored their opponents 14-11 for the game and the title.

Wagner, whose agressiveness and leadership keyed the game, had 19 points including seven field goals. Laura Kemp, on whom the defense keyed its efforts because of her height, had 14 points including five field goals. Mary Lenhart, another sophomore, came through with eight points on four field goals; Angie McClanaghan had four points and Rhonda Buchanan, three. Maureen Buday was the sixth payer.

Charlevoix had a total of 18 field goals and connected on 11 of 24 free throw attempts while collecting 15 personal fouls.

Traverse City St. Francis, paced by Michelle Eikey with 13 points and Carrie Lawless with 10, had a total of 17 field goals, 11 of 19 free throws and 22 personal fouls.

Coach Henry Wagner said that all his players did a good job. "They played as a team. It was a matter of all the players applying all their talents to bring the tournament and the game to a successful conclusion. They were agressive on both offense and defense. They held the Saints' top scorer to 10 points. They didn't falter when they trailed by 11 points. They just hung in there and did what had to be done. I'm proud of them" Wagner continued.

He concluded by saying "They won the district title after a mediocre season (6-11) to come out of the tournament with a 9-11 record. They earned it and, again, I'm proud of them."

The team had won over Boyne City and East Jordan while Traverse City had eliminated Kalkaska and Elk Rapids to reach the finals.

In the first game of the regional tournament at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Roscommon, Charlevoix will meet Benzie Central, a team that upset Reed City. Tawas Area and Rogers City will also be in the tournament at Roscommon.

Boys cage squad to open with top scorer Klooster as only returning starter

The Charlevoix Rayder cage team will launch its 19-game schedule Friday when a newcomer to the schedule, Sault Ste. Marie, comes to town.

The Soo is one of two newcomers on the Rayder schedule. The second is East Jordan, Coach Dave Smith said.

After losing eight players from its championship squad, the Rayders will be opening the season with only one returning regular, Craig Klooster, 6-3 guard-forward, who was the team's top scorer (317 points for an average of 13.2 points per game) and top rebounder (144).

A second returnee is George Smith, 6-2 forward and guard, who took over during the tournaments when regular, Ross Carey, was benched with an injury.

"Most of our experience lies with these two players. Chris Putman, 6-0 center-forward, and Fred Mielke, 6-0 guard, who filled reserve roles last season, will help fill the starting positions this year. Both have played well in limited roles last season and during the past summer" Smith said. These players are seniors.

Newcomers to the Varsity squad are Tim LaBlance, 6-0 guard up from the JV ranks; Mark Oostmeyer, 6-4 senior center who is returning to the sport after an absence of two years; Doug Sloan, 6-3 sophomore forward up from the freshman squad; Dan Buday, 6-0 guard, Dane Tollas and Jeff Lemerand, both 6-2 forwards, juniors up from the JV team which had a 10 win-nine loss record last season. These players will give the team depth plus contend for starting positions Coach Smith said.

"The team has the ingredients for a successful season. These young men have made a commitment. Now that commitment must be carried out on the court as a team and should result in a winning combination" Coach Smith said of his squad.

He added that team work and intensity are the team's strong points; lack of height in key position the weakest point.

Coach Smith names St. Ignace as the team that shows the greatest potential.

As for the Soo team that will be playing here Friday, little is known. This is the first season the team will be playing in the Michigan-Huron Shores League. It is not known by area sports writers the type of basketball the team plays, their experience or height. The Soo is a large Class B school, however, and could floor a strong, aggressive team thought in the past they have had a .500 record. Opponents have been other Upper Peninsula teams.

B-League basketball scores

Action in the B League of the Charlevoix Recreation program Monday night saw Wojan Aluminum defeat First State Bank 46-41; Staley Hardware win over Carlson Plumbing 70-50 and Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage down Air Force 57-44.

Wojan Aluminum and First State Bank played to a 7-7 tie before Wojan's romped to a 27-15 halftime and 33-26 lead going into the final period.

Pete Phillips with 13 points and Don Ward with 11 paced the win. Tim Carey had 12 points for the bankers.

Staley Hardware trailed Carlson Plumbing 17-13 at the quarter before taking a two-point halftime lead, 29-27 and going ahead 45-34 at the three quarter mark to take the game.

Terry Smith had 32 points and Bill Hoagland 10 for Staley's. Randy Holecheck had 19 points and Beano Archey 11 for the plumbers.

After overcoming a 12-8 quarter deficit, Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage went ahead 23-18 at the halfway mark and 39-33 going into the final eight for the victory over Air Force.

Mike Crain with 19 points, Roger Crain with 17 and Ron Bindi with 11 paced the victory. Joe Travers had 17 for Air Force.

A-League basketball scores

Depot Restaurant edged Ellsworth I.D.C. 58-56 and Townhouse defeated Boyne Auto 71-58 in A League action in the Charlevoix Recreation Independent League Wednesday night.

In the Depot Restaurant-Ellsworth I.D.C. game, the two teams played to 11-11 first period and 27-27 halftime ties before the restauranters pulled away 46-32 at the three quarter mark. I.D.C., however, fought back, outscoring their opponents 24-12 to close the gap to two points at the final horn.

Dean Hicks had 28 points and Tom Byer 10 for the winners. Larry Taylor had 21 and Tex Drenth 17 for I.D.C.

In the second game, Townhouse outscored Boyne Auto 16-12, 38-31 and 52-41 by quarters behind the scoring of Bud Klooster who had 20 points. He was assisted by Steve Dunkelberg who had 16 points, Dan McKenzie 14 and Kevin Griffen 11.

Dale Tims had 15 points, Rob Spencer 12 and Hal Price 10 for Boyne Auto.

Bergmann to anchor Rayder wrestling squad

The Charlevoix Rayder wrestlers will open their season at Gaylord at a special assembly scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday and, the following Saturday, participate in the Glen Lake Invitational meet.

Coach Greg Bryan has had his grapplers at work in preparation for the forthcoming season since the football players hung up their cleats.

Returning from last season are six regulars according to Coach Bryan. These include Alan Bergmann, a three-year letterman who will be wrestling in the 167 pound weight class; four juniors, Mike Steele, Rick Gallant and Jeff Mervyn, two year retornees and Jeff Zednicek who has had one year experience and sophmore Pat Curtis with one year of experience.

Bergmann, a senior, has been a three-time regional qualifier and last season qualified for the state according to Coach Bryan who feels that he will dominate his weight class in area competition. He may wrestle in the 185 pound class though his weight is 167 pounds Bryan said.

Steele who was entered in 119 weight class last season will likely see action in the 132 pound class this year. He was impressive as a freshman and a regular sqoad member last season.

Gallant will see action at the 132 or 138 level. Bryan said he is what is known as a "leg wrestler" because of his lanky build and has had to re-learn his techniqoe to take advantage of leverage and balance.

Mervyn wrestles primarily in the 185 pound class. If he continues to improve, he should be a consistent winner Bryan said of him.

Zednicek, with one year behind him, will be wrestling in his own weight class this season after wrestling one weight class up because of older team members. He is expected to be a regular in the 138 pound class.

Curtis will be moving up to the 112 pound class. With several years of free style wrestling behind him, he is one of the most skilled members of the team, Bryan said, and with the additional weight and strength should be a top notch competitor.

Newcomers to the sport are juniors Wayne Bergmann in the 198 pound class; Shawn Hartnett in the 138 pound class; Alec Sheets, 132 pounds and Neil LaCroix who will be in the 138 or 145 pound class. All are shaping up well and should be a great addition to the team. LaCroix is probably coming on faster than the others and will likely be a strong contender as the season progresses Bryan said.

The loss of Dan Kelly, a freshman, and Tim Young, a senior, to injuries, has dealt the team a serious blow, Bryan said.

"However, we should be strong, especially in the higher weight classes. It's difficult to compete when you lose points before you start because you can't fill a weight class. If we can stay healthy and avoid injuries, we should develop as the season continues," Coach Bryan added.

Taylor, Dohm attribute state CC title to good coaching, hard work

by ANNE KELLY

Bill Taylor

Bill Dohm

How does it feel to be a member of Charlevoix's Class C state champion cross country team?

Team members Bill Taylor and Bill Dohm can now answer that question with some authority and the first comments they had in a recent interview for the Courier were directed toward their coach, Pete Spieles.

"Mr. Spieles is a great coach," said Taylor. "He's interested in everything we are. He'll go out to have pizza with us; maybe he and his wife will go cross country skiing with us in the winter. He's like the father of a family, I guess you could say. If you've ever got a problem, go to Mr. Spieles."

"I guess I'd say he's a good coach," added Dohm, "because he's not always demanding of us - he's more like one of us."

Both teamates agreed that Spieles, recently named Class C Coach of the Year by the Michigan Cross Country Coaches Association, had a special knack for bringing out the best in his proteges.

Taylor and Dohm were two of seven members of the Rayder cross country team that represented Charlevoix at the Class C state finals in Watervliet November 6. Theirs was the first state championship ever recorded by Charlevoix High School in any sport under the modern alignment of high school sports in Michigan.

One-hundred forty seven runners from 21 teams participated. Charlevoix had five out of seven runners in the top 27 places putting them a distant 57 points beyond their closest competitor, Kalamazoo Christian.

"I guess I'd put it this way," Taylor explained. "Everybody as an individual works for the team, working for a team goal."

Training for the team begins long before school starts in September. Runners are expected to come back from summer vacation with a minimum of 300 miles under their belts. A cross country course covers a distance of 5000 meters, or, 3.1 miles. A good time for running the distance in a meet

Four soloists to highlight 'Messiah'

Handel's "Messiah", which has long been a part of the holiday season, will be presented at St. Mary's Church in Charlevoix at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, December 5, under the direction of Ellen Addington, choir director at the First Congregational Church.

Handel's "Messiah", like all oratorios, is a long, dramatic musical composition, with a religious theme, consisting of arias, recitatives, duets, trios and choruses sung to orchestral accompaniment and presented without stage action, scenery or costumes.

Four soloists, Fredrika Herrick of Grand Haven, soprano, Susan Matthews of Ann Arbor, contralto, Mark Puchala of Traverse City, tenor and Oral Moses of Ann Arbor, bass, who will be making his first appearance in Charlevoix, will be featured in the presentation Sunday evening.

A 60-voice choir of vocalists from throughout the area and a 20-piece orchestra of area musicians will also be featured in the presentation. Elizabeth Humphrey, accompanist for all rehearsals, will accompany all recitatives in the production.

This will mark Ms. Herrick's second appearance in Charlevoix. Her first was last December when she was called upon in an emergency situation to sing the role and endeared herself not only to the audience, but to the chorus and orchestra as well, with her superb musicianship, artistry and adaptability under emergency conditions.

Having appeared under three conductors with the Minnesota orchestra, the St. Paul Chamber orchestra, as a frequent soloist with the Bach Society and the Dale Warland Singers, Ms. Herrick brought a wide-ranging experience when she moved to Michigan five years ago. Her clarity and interpretive skills, together with her appealing stage presence, have attracted the attention of conductors, Robert Shaw, Raphael Fruhbeck de Burghos, Stanislaw Skrowaczewski and Russell Davies with whom she has appeared. Ecclesiastical music of many kinds including roles on seven Handel oratorios with the Plymouth music series in Minneapolis, have broadened her repertoire. She has also presented several light opera roles in local performances.

Ms. Matthews' beautiful contralto voice will add another dimension to the alto solos in the production. A native of North Carolina, she received a bachelor's degree in music education in vocal performance from the University of Michigan where she studied with Elizabeth Mosher and John McCollum. She is presently enrolled in the doctoral program at the U. of M.

Her performance experience is rich and varied, ranging from eight opera to nine oratorio roles. Her honors and scholarships are impressive. She has been the recipient of the Roth. Merrill Dana scholarship, a Racham general grant at Racham graduate school. She is also a member of two national music sororities.

She is presently soloist at the First Congregational Church in Ann Arbor where she is also assistant choir director.

Mark Puchala, tenor, is widely known in musical circles in northern Michigan, having appeared in tenor roles in the "Messiah" and "Seven Last Words of Christ" by Dubois here and in Petoskey and as the evangelist in the premiere performance of "The Prophecy" by Elizabeth Humphrey, Charlevoix area composer who was commissioned to commemorate the First Congregational Church Centennial last summer.

A Central Michigan University graduate, who last summer received his master's degree in voice performance from the University of Michigan, he has been choral director of the Traverse City High School for the past five years. He is a member of the Northern Michigan Lyric Opera Co. and recently sang the role of Lt. Pinkerton in Puccini's "Madame Butterfly".

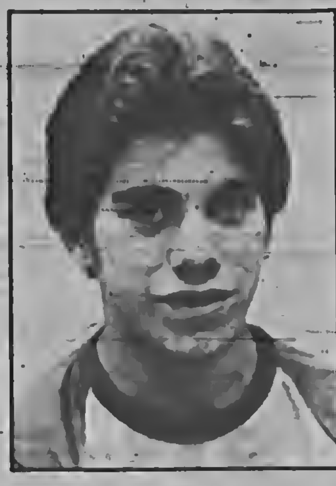
MSU Summer Institute for Gifted Students impressed Dave Umlor

by ANNE KELLY



Dave Umlor

When the Michigan Summer Institute for Gifted Students announced their program via the State Department last January, Dave Umlor, son of Lester and Ellen Umlor and a junior at Charlevoix High School, was one of five students from CHS to apply. With his application he was required to submit a resume and test scores.

It was not until late April that Dave learned he was to be one of 135 gifted high school students from all over the state to participate in the Institute at Michigan State University over the coming summer.

Dave reports that the Institute, held August 1-15 on the MSU campus, was a very beneficial experience.

"The best part was being with other kids who were really brilliant. It was sort of humbling," said Dave who was slightly intimidated at first. But soon he relaxed and found that it was not a competitive situation as much as an experience for growth and exploration.

The theme of the two-week Institute was "Creativity in Science" and this theme was threaded through course offerings of all sessions, whether geared to science or art.

Upon arrival, students were asked to pre-choose an intensive area to pursue, though they were allowed to pick and choose from various other seminars and workshops as well. The format was to spend the morning session in the intensive area doing creative problem solving, and to attend exploratory workshops and seminars in related interest areas during the afternoon.

Time was also provided for fun and fellowship. Dave said the students were able to organize dances and volleyball games and had full access to all campus sports facilities.

Dave attended sessions on genetics, experiments in E.S.P. where he learned more about the scientific process, seminars on epistemology, lasers and holograms, workshops in photography and modern sculpturing.

He added that, "The teachers for the program taught their views as well as their science."

Dave has not yet decided what life after high school will bring. "Maybe psychology, maybe the University of Michigan at this point." But, as a junior, he's got plenty of time to think about that.

He'll also have plenty of time to put to good use the knowledge and experience gained last summer at the Institute.

Ellsworth students entertain at Pine River Place

Second grade students from the Ellsworth School and their teacher, Mrs. Sheila Essenberg, brought the spirit of Thanksgiving to the residents of Pine River Place Wednesday when they entertained them and treated them to homemade pumpkin pie and coffee.

The 27 youngsters, some of them in Pilgrim top hats and bonnets, sang a number of Thanksgiving songs including "Over the River and Through the Woods" and other holiday selections; Katrins Franckowiac recited a Thanksgiving poem, Tim Heneveld joined Mrs. Essenberg in playing a piano duet and Billy Fales, accompanied by Mrs. Essenberg sang "This Is My Country."

Following the entertainment, the children served pumpkin pie and whipped cream, made by room mothers who assisted by serving coffee.

The children then joined their guests in enjoying a treat of pumpkin pie.

After leaving Pine River Place, the youngsters enjoyed a visit to the Paul Bunyan Bowling Alley, courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gzym whose son Jason was a member of the class. It marked the first visit to a bowling alley for many of the children Mrs. Essenberg said.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fiedorek, owners of the Paul Bunyan Laoes, opened them Wednesday afternoon for the convenience of the class. They are usually closed that day.

graduate of Fisk University in Nashville, Tenn., with a Bachelor's degree in music. In 1978 he received a Master's degree in Music at the University of Michigan.

While at Fisk, he was a member of the Fisk University Jubilee Singers; a student conductor of the Fisk University choir and conductor of a church choir in Nashville.

His performance experience is rich and varied. He has sung and studied at Muechen, West Germany, with concentration on vocal literature and opera productions in repertoire opera. In 1981, he was a Special Awards winner of the Young Artists Competition in Southern Connecticut and winner in the men's division of the National Association of Teachers of Singing Regional competition.

From 1066-69, he was a featured soloist with the Seventh Army Soldiers' Chorus in Heidelberg and was heard throughout western Europe on radio and television. The list of operatic roles in which he has appeared is a lengthy one and includes those by Puccini, Mozart, Rossini, Menotti, Scott Joplin and B. Britten.

At present he is a featured bass-baritone with the Michigan Opera Theatre and co-ordinator for the University of Michigan School of Music Opera Productions.

Miss Addington, who is directing the production, was a choral director in the Detroit area for 30 years prior to becoming director at the First Congregational Church.

A graduate of Western Michigan University, she is currently vice president of the West Michigan Fellowship of Worship Music and Other Arts. She has studied voice and operatic literature with several well known teachers associated with the Metropolitan Opera Com. and coached oratorio literature with Elizabeth Humphrey.

Area instrumentalists who will be accompanying the Handel work will be Miss Humphrey who will accompany the recitatives; Krista Knight and Dylon Stewart, violin; Julie Zinn, viola; Frank North, Andre Fiedler, and Peter Plagee, trombone; William Horton, Tim Plagge, and Evelyn Wojcik, trumpet; Barbara Kawalczyk, flute and Dan Staublin, percussion, all of Charlevoix.

Ian Wilson, violin; Maureen Scott, viola; David Boehm, clarinet, and Shawn Duffy, French horn, Petoskey; Kate Kramer, violin, Good Hart; Maggie Redman, violin, Bellaire; Poppy Cordeiro, oboe, and Martha Dodge, viola, Eastport; Tom Woehrman, double bass, Harbor Springs.

Mrs. Wujcik will be the trumpet soloist in the bass area, "The Trumpet Shall Sound".

The presentation of the "Messiah" is sponsored by the Charlevoix Ministerial Association.

Miss Addington added that patrons were still needed for the performance. Anyone wishing to become a patron may contact her at 536-7018.

Rayder runners look back at state title varies from individual to individual and depends on the conditions of the track and the weather. Taylor considers a good time 15:15; for Dohm, a good time is about 18:30.

Conditions at Watervliet resulted in Taylor's time of 18:59 and Dohm's 17:54.

Why does a student choose cross country as a high school sport?

"For me it's a matter of personal improvement," stated Dohm, "I don't know if you really reach a point where you could call it a natural high to be running, but you do reach a point where you feel good about yourself, especially if you win."

Bill, the son of Bill and Rita Dohm, is a senior and has been running since the track season of his freshman year.

Junior Bill Taylor, son of Doug and Louise Bergmann, has been involved in cross country for all three of his years at high school. Though 300 miles is recommended for runners over the summer, Bill suggests 400 to 500 miles for varsity runners.

"I like to push myself and like to be out on the road running," says Taylor, "I also idolized other Charlevoix runners like Jeff and Walt Drenth, Jay Swartout and Jeff Landon. I wanted to be as good as they were so I wanted to put in the time and effort required."

Every August, the cross country team and Coach Spieles spend a week on Beaver Island in preparation for the season.

"We ran a time trial over there this summer," Taylor related, "And Mr. Spieles couldn't believe the times we were coming back with. I told him 'We're going to be state champs this year...and you're going to be Coach of the Year."

Taylor's prophecy, whether by foresight or determination, came true on both counts. Taylor himself finished third in the competition.

What's the outlook for next year?

Both Taylor and Dohm feel that Charlevoix has some good runners coming up but that consistently good ones will always be needed. For a team that has been ranked in the state Class C top ten four out of the past five years, been Regional champs three out of the past five, and this year went all the way, it's becoming only natural to expect excellence every year.

Neither Taylor or Dohm are certain as to their goals beyond high school. They are definite on one point, however, that they will continue running to keep in shape, whether for competition or relaxation.

Running is their lifetime sport.

Pick the number of points you believe will be scored in the tie-breaker game, and write it in the box.

RULES

1. Anyone can enter, except the employees of the paper and their families. Use the entry blank from the paper or make your own, following the same plan. A copy of the Charlevoix Courier will be available at the Courier office to anyone wishing to copy the list of names.

2. Weekly gift certificates will be awarded to the persons naming the most winners. All tie games are considered incorrect unless picked as ties on your entry blank. In case of a tie, persons guessing nearest correct score in the tiebreaker box will win. Insert what you think total score will be of the game in the tie breaker box.

3. Gift certificates are redeemable at any of the participating sponsors on this page only. Entries should be addressed to: Contest Editor, Charlevoix Courier and postmarked by not later than 5 p.m. Thursday night. Winners will be announced the following weeks.

4. On the entry form simply draw a circle around the number of the team you predict will win each of the games listed in each of the ads. Then, predict the total on the points "tie breaker" at the bottom of the entry form.

Former Charlevoix judge honored

William T. Downs, former Charlevoix County probate judge and one of Michigan's foremost experts on juvenile law and one of the first proponents of the constitutional rights of children has been chosen by University of Detroit faculty to receive the fifth "President's Award for Excellence in Teaching and Research."

Downs, a professor at U. of D.'s School of Law, received $1,000 and a commemorative plaque at a 6:30 p.m. dinner, Friday, November 19, on the University's McNichols Campus.

Award winners are selected by committee following nomination by their peers. Downs was named not only for his rigorousness and excellence as an instructor, but for the depth of his writing and research, which has dealth with juvenile law and civil rights.

Downs' 1962 book, "Michigan Juvenile Court Practice", was the first comprehensive analysis (in recent years) done on the state's juvenile system. In the book, Downs strongly advocated a sense of responsibility for the protection of children and presented a strong statement of and for the rights of children before these were judicially mandated.

In the book, he formulated virtually all the statements pertaining to protection of children's rights later expressed in the landmark Gault Case, which set the precedent for constitutional rights for children.

A second book, the "Juvenile Justice Handbook", written in 1975, provided a comprehensive look at juvenile justice legislation, policies and practices in Wayne County. The handbook has been used by school administrators and social workers in Wayne County, giving them introductory information about juvenile law related to schools and social agencies.

Downs also has been active in civil rights, serving as a hearing referee for the Michigan Department of Civil Rights since 1973, where he has heard cases on sexual, housing and handicap discrimination. He also wrote a brief on behalf of the Interfaith Centers for Racial Justice, Inc., which became part of the record in the landmark Detroit School desegregation case heard before the U.S. Supreme Court.

—William T. Downs

Known as a demanding instructor and strict disciplinarian, Downs is well respected by his students. The Student Bar Association has named him Professor of the Year for the past two years.

In addition, he received the law school faculty's highest honor, the James T. Barnes Award in 1982, and was named honorary U of D alumnus in 1979.

Downs joined U of D as an associate law professor in 1970 and was named full professor in 1975. He served as acting dean of the law school in 1971 and executive associate dean in 1978.

Prior to joining U of D, he was an adjunct professor at Southern Illinois University (1967) and a lecturer in continuing legal education at the University of Michigan.

He also served as executive director of the Interfaith Centers for Racial Justice (1968-70); assistant director, United States Office of Economic Opportunity, Washington, D.C. (1965-68); general counsel for Catholic Charities of Michigan (1963-65); a deputy court administrator for the Supreme Court of Michigan (1961-63); and probate judge in Charlevoix County, (1958-61).

While at the Office of Economic Opportunity, he served on a task force which created the Legal Services Program for the poor.

A University of Michigan graduate (A.B., 1941, LL.B. 1948), Downs is a member of the Michigan State Bar and serves on its Special Committee on Bar Examinations, the Standing Committee on Legal Education, and the Juvenile Law Committee, among others.

His latest book, to be published in January by West Publishing Company, the most prominent American legal publisher, is a study of "Michigan Juvenile Law and Practice". The book examines the history and current status of statewide juvenile law.

Lake water treatment adopted as long term answer

Aeration to temporarily purify city water

by DAVE KNIGHT

Charlevoix may hava TCE-less water by Christmas if aeration equipment approved by the City Council Monday night can be put on line without complication.

As an interim means of removing trichloroethylene (TCE) from the city water supply, council members agreed by consensus to install the aeration equipment immediately while progress continues toward a long term solution.

TCE, an industrial chemical suspected to csuse cancer, was discovered in the city's water over a year ago. Its source has never been located and the search has been abandoned.

Aeration was one of three short term, interim methods to remove TCE proposed to the council by consulting engineer David Rommelmann of Granger Engineering. According to Rommelmann, the cost of aerstion would be a masimum of $10,000. City Manager Robert Hunt said the cost to the city may be as minimal as $5,000 since the city water department already has much of the neccessary equipment.

Aeration will also require city water to be chlorinated, said Rommelmann. At present, Charlevoix's water supply is not chlorinated.

Other interim alternatives described in Rommelmann's report included filtration by granular activated carbon and purging of the well system. His cost estimates for both these methods ranged over $200,000 for installation with monthly maintenance costs of about $3,000.

"Aeration is regarded as an acceptable means of removing TCE," said Rommelmann, "Though the Health Department was not in favor of it at first because they did not think it was a good long term solution."

Following recommendations by Rommelmann and Hunt for a long term solution, council took the first step toward construction of a lake water treatment plant by unanimously endorsing the concept and awarding a $9,500 contract to the firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley for a preliminary design study.

As part of the study, a pilot plant will be installed in a matter of weeks to begin monitoring of lake water quality, said Hunt.

Council also authorized Hunt to proceed with an application for a federal Small Cities Grant of up to $500,000 to help fund a new treatment plant. Estimates of a lake water treatment plant have ranged up to $1.4 million.

Council members stopped short, however, of instituting an immediate water rate increase.

"The timing is bad," said council member Shirley Roloff, "No way should we be sending out higher bills right before Christmas."

Recommended by Hunt was a 38 percent rate increase for city water users. For a typical user of 7,500 gallons a month, the increase would boost the current $8.81 charge to $12.13, he explained.

Hunt also recommended that $100,000 be borrowed from the city's electric fund to help pay for plant design. No action was taken on that recommendation either.

In other action:

-Acting as the Board of Appeals, the council moved to reconsider its denial of a height variance to the Weathervane Terrace addition now under construction. Developers of the addition unsuccessfully sought a 17-foot variance last month to RESOUNDING FROM THE HALLS of St. Mary's Catholic Church Sunday were the familiar strains of Handel's "Messiah". The third annual performance of the seasonal work was presented by a company including a full orchestra and chorus comprised of local musicians plus a complement of five distinguished visiting soloists. Director Ellen Addington is shown above leading the performance to an audience that filled the church.

'Tis the Season

With Christmas just around the corner, several local businesses and organizations are getting into the spirit. Here are a few of the major activites planned in Charlevoix:

The Kappa Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will sponsor its annual Santa luncheon at the Charlevoix Elementary School Saturday, Dec. 11.

The luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Santa will be present to visit with the children during the luncheon.

Tickets will be $1.00 each for both children and adults. They are available at the Apple Tree Gift Shop or at the door.

The 13th annual Christmas Party sponsored by the Charlevoix County State Bank will be held Friday, December 17 from 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. at their main office downtown. Featured will be the traditional Wassail Bowl with other gifts and refreshments. Santa will be on hand from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. to have pictures taken with children.

CCSB will also sponsor a children's matinee at Cinema III at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, December 18. Free passes, which also provide free popcorn, can be picked up at the main office. The matinee will allow parents to enjoy two hours of Christmas shopping in Charlevoix.

Santa will make his grand entrance in Charlevoix at 1 p.m. Saturday, December 18 when the Charlevoix Fire Department will pick him up at the airport, fresh from his flight from the North Pole. Santa will ride a fire truck through the downtown to the foot of Clinton St.

Sean Ryan and John Gasco will collaborate in a special Christmas Benefit Performance at Cinema III at 5:30 p.m., Sunday, December 19. John will present "black" magic in a holiday mood to be followed by Sean's folk songs of the season. Both are planning to appeal to a young audience though all area students are invited. To receive an admission card, the student must obtain and deposit a $3 donation (tax deductible) to the Charlevoix Fund at the First State Bank. All local businesses and industries are encouraged to sponsor a student's ticket to the benefit.

Only 370 admissions are available. Cinema III and the performers are donating their services so all proceeds will go to needy families. Further information can be obtained from Josh Barnes at 547-2000. Following the performance, children and adults are invited to a Christmas tree dedication in East Park, at about 7 p.m.

Jim and Sherry Withers, owners of Village Inn Pizza, have challenged all other local businesses to participate in what they have dubbed "the Northwest Christmas Spirit Day." On Sunday, December 19, the Withers and their employees, dressed as elves will visit the Beverly Manor nursing home in Petoskey around noon with cookies, treats and a round of Christmas carols.

According to the Withers, they would like to see other local businesses get into the act by sponsoring a similar activity in the Christmas spirit. Those interested can call Sherry at 547-4405 so that their project can be publicized.

Increase proposed by Michigan Bell would dramatically raise local rates

by DAVE KNIGHT

Telephone customers in the Charlevoix exchange area will face dramatic increases of as much as 76 percent for private line, residential service if a rate increase sought by Michigan Bell is approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC)

Filed with the MPSC last week, the rate increase would affect basic service fees for both private and commercial customers, estended area service, pay phones and options such as Touchtone.

Long distance tolls, however, would not change.

Statewide, the rate increase would generate $450 million in additional revenue for Michigan Bell, $300 million from residential users and $150 million from business customera. Approval by the MPSC of the total increase sought is considerd improbable, however. An MPSC spokesman was quoted last week as saying the commission has typically granted 35 to 40 percent of the phone company's rate increase requests in recent years.

If a commission ruling on the request is made within nine months as anticipated, the rate increase would most likely take effect late next year.

For Charlevoix, the proposed increase would result in the following:

-Basic monthly service for a private, residential line, would jump from a present monthly cost of $7.87 to $13.85.

-The one party, flat business rate would be increased from $17.29 to $27.70.

-Pay phone calls will cost a quarter, up from 20 cents.

-There will be an automatic monthly surcharge of $1.70 on all basic service bills to cover estended area service - calls to Petoskey, East Jordan and Boyne City - which is now free.

-Optional services such as Touchtone will cost more although the exact figures for Charlevoix were not available as of last week.

According to E.W. Reid, corporate affairs manager in the Michigan Bell Traverse City office, there will still be low-cost alternatives available for customers such as low-income families and senior citizens for whom the rate increase will be the most difficult to bear.

Two-party, measured service, for example, will cost $6 a month, up from the current $3.83, if the increase is approved. With measured service, the customer is allowed 45 outgoing calls a month for the $6 fee. Additional calls would then cost 6.2 cents each. Incoming calls do not apply.

This type of service is especially attractive to people with vacation homes and people who do not make many calls, said Reid.

A measured rate service for businesses, not available at present, will also be offered. For $14.75 a month, a business will be allowed a number of calls, not specified as yet, with any calls beyond that number charged on a per call basis.

The capability for measured rate service in Charlevoix was made possible by the installation a year and a half ago of new, electronic switching equipment at Michigan Bell's State St. facility. Such service is not possible in other communities such as Boyne City that still depend on mechanical switching.

Measured rates, along with increased basic service fees, are part of a new emphasis by Michigan Bell on "usage sensitivity pricing", or, fees more accurately tied to actual use.

Reid explained that base rates have traditionally been kept low so that everyone would be encouraged to have a phone. The low service rates forced the phone company to meet its costs by raising rates on such profitable services as long distance calls and Yellow Pages advertising. Now, facing increased competition in those areas, the company wants to shift more of the burden onto basic service rates.

"For years, long distance customers have been charged rates above cost to support residential users who paid rates below cost," said Reid, "With the rate increase we propose, the residential user will be paying more of the actual cost for his service."

He added that the same rationale is behind the boost in pay phone rstes to 25 cents and the proposed surcharge for extended area service.

"The actual average cost of each

Crews are ready

Let it snow...

by DAVE KNIGHT

With memories of last year's epic siege still in mind, Charlevoix area residents are awaiting winter's onslaught with understandable apprehension.

But the professionals in snow removal, city and county road crews, are primed and ready for action, according to their respective managers.

At the city level, the manpower available will be down from last year but City Manager Robert Hunt says that won't affect service.

"We have enough people to do the plowing. That will not be a problem," said Hunt, "Where we might get behind if we get as much snow as last year is in the catch-up, the removal of piles left by the plows on intersections and other spots."

The city has ten men available for snow removal at the present time. If and when winter bears down hard in the coming months, Hunt hopes to add two more. Last year, the crew consisted of 14 men.

As in past years, the city will dump snow collected from the streets at the ends of Mason and Clinton Streets and at the city garden plots near the airport.

On the equipment front, the city has a brand new front end loader to work with this season following the complete breakdown last year of its former loader. Use of sand and salt on city streets will be minimal, said Hunt.

One change in city snow removal policy this year will affect downtown business owners. In an ordinance change enacted by City Council earlier this year, owners of property on Bridge St. between Belvedere Ave. and the Pine River Channel are required to keep their sidewalks clear of snow or face at least a $25 charge each time the city crew has to do the job.

The new policy is aimed primarily at businesses that are closed for the winter months. Last year, the sizeable drifts that accumulated on sidewalks in front of closed businesses created hardships for shoppers trying to get to the stores that were open.

Not included in the ordinance change are any sidestreets.

Charlevoix Police Chief Jack Mol also reminded city residents that overnight parking restrictions went into effect December 1. Parking is prohibited on all streets and in all public parking lots between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. until April 1. Piling snow where it obstructs drivers' vision is also prohibited. Mol said that the parking restrictions will not be enforced, however, until there is snow to plow.

At the county level, Road Commission manager Fred Welch said that although state revenues from gasoline tax and license plate fees are down, he expects no major difficulty in maintaining adequate snow removal service for Charlevoix County roads. The commission's budget relies solely on the gas tax and plate fees distributed from Lansing among Michigan's 83 counties.

The only area in which he might try to economize, said Welch, is in overtime costs which were understandably high last winter.

Charlevoix County's has a fleet of 26 trucks ready to plow snow. According to Welch, the fleet is in fairly good shape for this winter but will need some major replacement purchases - two to three new trucks - before next year.

The county has 600 tons of salt on hand for the winter which it mixes with sand at a ratio of one unit salt to six of sand.

Welch issued a special reminder to county residents that plowing snow across roadwsys, dumping snow on roadwayx and obstructing views at driveway intersections are illegal.

Michigan Bell proposes rate increases

call from a pay phone today is 26 cents," said Reid. "By charging only 20 cents, we have had to charge more for other services to make up the difference."

Extended area service, the ability for Charlevoix customers to call Petoskey, Boyne City and East Jordan at no additional cost, has also created inequities, said Reid. Mancelona customers, he pointed out, can call no other communities including their county seat in Bellaire. Thus, their resulting long distance calls have, in effect, subsidized the extended area service enjoyed by exchanges such as Charlevoix.

While the surcharge will be applied to all Charlevoix customers automatically at first, Reid said that there is a possibility that in two years or so, callx to other communities within the extended area will be charged on a measured basis.

Another change sought by Michigan Bell applies to the cost to the customer for installation. At present, the company charges a flat rate for phone installation whether the home or office is wired for telephone service or not. Under the proposed system, the company would charge for installation according to the length of time required, using 15-minute increments. That way, he said, the customer who needs only a phone snapped into an existing outlet would not pay as much as the one requring an entire wiring job.

Reid acknowledged that the prospects for PSC approval of the entire rate hike request are uncertain at best.

"We have been accused of asking for four dollars and expecting two," he said, "But these increases are based on realistic needs and if we don't get what we request this year, we'll be right back again next year."

Additional factors cited by Michigan Bell as contributing to the need for increased rates include:

-Inadequate earnings. The company's present rate of return to stockholder equity is 12.96 percent which, the company points out, is the lowest authorized equity ceiling of any telephone company in the country except Nebraska. Michigan Bell seeks an authorized rate of return of 17.5 percent.

-Increased depreciation. The wholesale replacement in recent years of traditional, long-lived equipment with high-technology facilities - such as the new Charlevoix electronic switching system - has prompted Michigan Bell to seek a faster depreciation rate that more accurately reflects the rapidly changing state of the art in the communications industry. According to the company, more than a third of the proposed rate increase is based on increases in depreciation.

Pat McKeown, left, has joined Tom Erber as partner and general manager of the Erber Auto Ford dealership.

McKeown joins Erber as partner

by PEG OHLE

The Erber Auto Company in Charlevoix has a new partner and soon will have a new name.

Patrick J. McKeown (pronounced McCune) has joined Tom Erber as a partner and will add his name to the company. It will be known as Erber-McKeown Ford.

This partnership arrangement will make it possible for a management person to be on hand at the auto agency when Erber is out on his auctions and other car buying trips, according to McKeown.

McKeown comes to Charlevoix from Saginaw, where he was general sales manager for All-American Ford, a large agency he opened and ran for the Ford Motor Company. Before that, he was with Ford in dealer development, a job that required him to run large dealerships and put them on a profitable basis prior to sale.

—McKeown, who is 40 years old, has spent his entire business life in the automotive field. He began in 1966 working for International Harvester Trucks as a management trainee, and later became a zone representative covering Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky.

A native of Ohio, McKeown attended Otterbein College on a football scholarship but left there to study at the Zanesville branch of Ohio University. Finally, he received an engineering scholarship to Ohio State University, where he was when he was drafted into the Marine Corps.

McKeown has been married to his wife, Barbara Jane, a registered nurse for 17 years. They have three children. Patrick is 15, Kerry is 12, and Rory is four.

McKeown is living at The Wharf condominiums while his family remains in Grand Blanc, waiting to sell their home. When that happens, they will move to Charlevoix.

Unlike most new business people who move to Charlevoix, McKeown had never been here before he came to look over the Erber Auto Company properties. He had been wanting to get out of the city and was "looking around" when he met Tom Erber in Las Vegas where he had gone on a prize-winning trip. Thus began negotiations for the partnership.

McKeown is optimistic about the automobile business. "The car business is picking up," he says. "The trends are all going the right way, especially since we reduced our interest rates to 10.75 percent on 1972 models." He plans on revixing business hours to include being open two evenings a week.

McKeown believes that the trend toward small cars for basic transportation will continue, although there will always be some who want larger cars. He also has a philosophy about doing business:

"People who live in Charlevoix should spend their money here. If a local car dealer can serve them, they should do business with him."

This former football player now limits his athletica to exercise for losing weight. His only hobby is reading. He has started attending meetings of the Lions Club, and, as a Mason, hopes to become involved with that group.

Nuclear emergencies discussed at county meeting

by PEG OHLE

Twenty representatives of County government, Social Services, Health Department No. 3, the Road Commission, the schools, and the firemen attended an Emergency Operations Center training session last week.

Presented by the State, County, and Big Rock Point Nuclesr Plant (Consumers Power), several speakers discussed nuclear emergencies.

Mike Olxon of Consumers told of the possibilitiea of radiation, what its effects could be, how radiation contamination can be measured, what procedures are avsilable to counteract rsdiation, and noted the very rare chance of nuclear disaster. He also ahowed a film showing the effects of natural radiation on animal and plant life.

Stan Sibo, radiological emergency response trainer with the Michigan State Police, told about the requirements of emergency defense as set forth in Act 390 of 1976. Under this Act, the Governor may call for the evacuation of any area deemed unsafe.

Charlevoix County Emergency Services Coordinator Earl Muma explained that this was one of four training sessions each year called to help coordinate the emergency resources of the State, County, and Federal governments. Representatives of the State will be in Charlevoix County during December and will return in June to help set up procedures for a full-sixe emergency exercise now scheduled for July 26.

"We know the date of this exercise," Muma explained, but one of these days we're going to have an unannounced exercise. We're going to get a call, probably during the night, and will have to put our Emergency Operations to work."

There will be more training sesstonx in January for all people who have something to do with emergency planning. Muma figures there are between 150 and 200 on the list.

The County Emergency Services Department is concerned with emergencies of all typea, including fires, storms, and explosions," but becauxe of the proximity of Big Rock, most training sessions have had to do with nuclesr emergencies, Muma explained.

50,000 county maps to be distributed

Fifty thousand maps of Charlevoix County will soon be distributed around the State. The maps have been prepared by a committee of the County Board of Commissionerss headed by John Haggard.

Besides locating roads and cities and towns, the maps will provide information about principal areas.

A large number of maps will go to the State Department of Highways, which will send them to information centers along the major tourist highways. Others will go to tourist organizations such as the Northwest Michigan Tourist Council. Locally, the mapx will be made available to motels, hotelx, restaurants, Chamberx of Commerce, and similar tourist-oriented stops.

It is expected that the 50,000 printing will last three or four years.

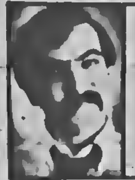
Opinion



Knight on the Town
Wrong number

by Dave Knight

It came as little consolation to me to find out last week that sometime in the coming months, people will be able to buy their own phones - not from Michigan Bell - install them, take them along when moving or generally do anything they darn well please with them.

This is a result of the divestiture order issued by federal trust busters last year mandating the Bell System to get out of some areas of the telephone business. One of those areas is supplying customers with their phones. According to my source, as soon after January 1 as the company's inventory runs out, Michigan Bell will no longer be distributing telephones. People will be able to go down to their local phone store, buy the style of their choice and install it simply by plugging it into the wall.

In the past, phones provided by the company remained the property of same. I know because I found out the hard way.

A few years ago, the Bell System introduced the "Phone Center" concept. Stylized telephones, such as the Mickey Mouse model, were offered for the first time as novelty items. I decided that the perfect Christmas gift for my parents that year would be the Early American phone, an ornate affair with lots of brass trim.

But the only one on hand at the Phone Center was black. Mine had to be white. They didn't make them in white. No problem. I got it anyway and picked up some white enamel on the way home.

For the next week, I spent probably ten to twelve hours painting the black parts white. Four coats. Lots of tiny detail.

It was a tedious, painstaking job. But, hey...we're talking about parents. And Christmas. It was worth it.

Sure enough, on Christmas morning they were delighted with my imaginative gift. What a beautiful addition to their while kitchen decor! I got kissed.

The phone man would come the next day to install it, I told them, since these were the days before you could just plug them into an outlet.

He turned up right on schedule and naturally I was on hand to see that he handled my masterpiece carefully.

To my horror, I watched as he took the gleaming white telephone, looked at it rather curiously, stuffed it into an empty box and took it out to his truck.

He came back in with another box.

"What's wrong with the phone you just took away?" I asked incredulously. And as I related my labor of love, how I painted the black phone white, he started to chuckle.

"That phone was just a fake," he said, "They have'em at the Phone Center for gift giving purposes so you can wrap 'em up and put 'em under the tree. Then we bring the real thing to install."

He reached into the box and pulled out my parents new phone.

Jet black.

Clockwise
High temps not so strange

THE PRESS has made a a great fuss over the unseasonable spate of warm weather that has visited the Midwest during the past few days.

Down in Detroit it got so bad the Free Press even ran a front page picture of the groundskeeperat the City-County Building cutting the grass — the first time he had done so in December within living memory.

In Northern Michigan temperatures meandered into the 60s and warm, spring-like rains have been a daily happening. As a result, the grass has turned a lovely shade of green, lilac buds are starting to swell and Judy is talking about forcing a few sprays of forsythia to add a dash of color to our Christmas greenery.

But if memory serves, warm weather in early December is not all that unusual, even for Northern Michigan. The first week of December in 1967 was downright balmy. I remember raking the front lawn and putting up the storm windows in my shirtsleeves on Dec. 7.

Dec. 7, 1941, also was far from wintry in the Detroit area, if you'll recall that first infamous Pearl Harbor Day. It was gray and overcast — but it was so warm you could run around outside in your sweater. (Reg Sharkey of Petoskey tells me the weather in Northern Michigan was quite different. He recalls not being able to take off from the Cadillac airport that day because of heavy snow.)

Probably the nicest December I remember was 1965. We had virtually no snow through Christmas. Christmas week was sunny and on New Years Eve the Charlevoix Venetian Queen and her court obliged the Charlevoix Courier by posing in swimsuits at Depot Beach.

Folks closely connected with the ski industry were highly critical of the Courier for running the picture, claiming we would scare skiers away. I couldn't understand all the ruffled feathers, because we never could have handled many skiers on our snowless hills.

If I'm not mistaken, that winter Charlevoix County had a total snow accumulation of only 60 inches, with something like 18 inches measured on Beaver Island.

So if December weather follows any kind of a pattern, we could be in for a relatively mild, open winter. Doesn't that sound pleasant?

Unhappily I can guarantee nothing.

I WAS LOOKING up some information on Jean Jacques Rousseau at the library Saturday when it suddenly dawned on me what benign neglect Americans have bestowed upon this virtually unschooled French gentleman whose ideas paved the way for the Romantic movement in literature ((The New Heloise), spawned both the American and French revolutions (The Social Contract) and propouned an educational philosophy (Emile) that is accepted as gospel in some quarters down to the present day. His three most important works were written within a two-year span — 1761 and 1762.

Rousseau actually was born in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1712 and spent the first 37 years of his life as a European vagabond, settling eventually in France. However, The Social Contract and Emile so upset the powers-that-be that he was forced to live in exile elsewhere on the continent and in England for eight years. He was allowed to return to Paris in 1770 where he died in 1778 at age 66.

His works were studied by revolutionaries the world over and were a powerful influence on the founders of the American republic.

He writes in a style that is both provocative and entertaining — fine reading for a long winter night.

City Council: Weathervane towers to be reconsidered accomodate three towers proposed for the addition. The tallest would rise 52 feet from the building's base. City zoning ordinance sets a height limit of 35 feet.

According to project co-developer Arch Wright, the towers block no views, will not be inhabited and are important to the aesthetic continuity of the area. Architect Jack Begrow's design of the towers is intended to blend with the Earl Young style evident in the existing Weathervane structure and in the Lodge Motel nearby, said Wright.

The City Planning Commission has recommended to the council that the variance be granted.

Conceding by consensus that the towers would make the addition more aesthetically pleasing, council voted to allow reconsideration of their previous denial of the variance. The matter will be taken up in January following the required notice procedure.

-Council approved an increase for family season tickets at the Mt. McSauba ski hill from $80 to $95. Recreation Director Dwight Boss sought an increase to $125 for family season tickets but met strong opposition to the over 50 percent increase from members of the council and local residents attending Monday night's meeting.

Boss explained that the hill cost $15,000 to operate last year and generated only $7,100 in revenue.

"I just don't feel the taxpayers should be subsidizing the ski hill," said Boss.

Council objection to the steep increase brought a compromise proposal of $95 per family season ticket by member Robert Timms. With Timms, James Block and Clement Olach voting for the increase and Roloff, Raymond Wood and Jeffrey Porter against, Mayor Kenneth Staley cast the deciding vote in favor.

Other approved rate increases at Mt. McSauba include individual season tickets from $30 to $40, student day ticket from $2.50 to $3 and children night ticket from $2 to $2.50.

-An ordinance establishing city standards for mobile homes was enacted by council, replacing an emergency ordinance which expired Monday.

-A lot width variance of of 20 feet was granted to Joseph Vogelheim though whether a zoning permit shall be issued for the mobile home proposed by Vogelheim on a Carpenter St. property was left by council up to City Manager Hunt.

-Appointment was made of Jeffrey Van Treese as City Attorney. Van Treese, of the Charlevoix firm of Hoffman, Hoffman & Van Treese, replaces Michael Gibbons who resigned the post last month. One condition of the appointment, however, was that Van Treese, who is currently living in Charlevoix Township, move to the city within 180 days.

-Council approved the site plan for a video arcade to be located in the Market Mall, site previously occupied by Spinnaker City. Arcade owner Keith Kenney told the council that the arcade would be not be open during school hours.

-The contract for the annual city audit was awarded to the Petoskey accounting firm of Hill, Woodcock & Distel over the Charlevoix firm of Dinwiddie, McGarry & Smolinski, P.C.

-A sum of $500 was approved for replacement of downtown Christmas lights as requested by the Charlevoix Merchants Association.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory W. Satterfield

Locke-Satterfield

Kristina Renee Locke became the bride of Gregory Wade Satterfield on Saturday afternoon, Novewmber 27, at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses in Flint.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Locke of Traverse City, former Charlevoix residents. The bridegroom, who makes his home in Brooklyn, New York, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Satterfield of Fairmont, West Virginia.

The bride's father read the double-ring rites before approximately 200 guests.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ivory gown fashioned with high neckline, peplin, Bishop sleeves in Scheffli lace, and a skirt of dress chiffon with scalloped hemline. Her fingertip veil was made with a rolled edge and the headpiece was trimmed in Scheffli lace.

The bride carried a bouquet of silk flowers and baby's breath.

Kim Osterman served as maid of honor, while Sherry Locke, Lynette Katt, and Linda Satterfield served as bridesmaids. They wore mauve-colored gowns with Scheffli lace and carried bouquets of silk flowers and baby's breath.

Faith Nelson was flower girl. She wore a pink dotted Swiss dress with Scheffli lace collar.

Leo Guerrero served as best man, with Paul, Brad, and Jeff Satterfield, brothers of the bridegroom, and Kelly Locke, brother of the bride, serving as groomsmen.

Following the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception at Bosley's Restaurant in Flint. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by an aunt and uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rondeau, at their home.

The newlyweds will live in Brooklyn, where the bridegroom is employed by the World Headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Jeanne Miles receives a commemorative plaque from Board of Health member Bette Crook at the retirement party held for Mrs. Miles last week.

Jeanne Miles retires

by PEG OHLE

Jeanne Miles, who has been a Public Health Nurse with District Health Department No. 3 since October, 1963, is retiring this month.

She was feted by her colleagues at a dinner last Friday evening at the Grey Gables Inn and presented with a resolution from the Board of Health expressing appreciation for her many years of faithful service. She also received a gift of luggage from her co-workers.

Further recognition came in a letter from Dr. James Harrison, former District Health Department No. 3 director, who is now Chief of the State Department of Public Health.

Mrs. Miles came to the Charlevoix headquarters office of the Department from the old Charlevoix Hospital, where she served nine years.

A native of Traverse City, Mrs. Miles attended school there, later graduating from Grace Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit with an R. N. degree.

As part of her District Health Department job, Mrs. Miles spent 17 years as a public school nurse in Charlevoix, an assignment in which she made most important contributions, according to her co-worker, Frances Hooper. She has also worked in the eastern part of Charlevoix County, in Antrim County, and for the last few years has been assigned to a cooperative venture with East Jordan Family Health Services.

Mrs. Miles and her husband, Keith, who is retired from the Sheriff's Department, have two daughters.

Eight local residents were installed recently as members of Kappa Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority at a dinner meeting at the Grey Gables Inn.

Members of Xi Epsilon Gamma chapter were guests at the dinner meeting and installation ceremony.

"Joseph" is this Sunday

The Christmas cantata, "Joseph the Carpenter" by Joe E. Parks will be presented at the Community Reformed Church at 7 p.m. Sunday.

A 50-voice community choir directed by Cheryl Thayer will relate the beautiful Christmas story, in song, as told by Joseph.

Garrett Miller will be the narrator. Featured will be Cindy Manson singing "Everyday People", Robert Belairs doing "No Palace Hall" and Dr. John Lignell singing "Tiny Little Baby". He will be joined by other members of a quartet of which he is a member. The others are Rev. Larry Grooters, Mr. Belairs and Eldon Potter.

Accompanists will be Mrs. Lignell at the piano and Mrs. John L. Boss at the organ.

The presentation is sponsored by the Charlevoix Ministerial Association.

Official Notice

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Federal Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) Application
CHARLEVOIX BUSINESS PARK
City of Charlevoix, Michigan

The City of Charlevoix is applying for $190,000 out of the estimated $314,000 cost for Phase I public improvements to the Charlevoix Business Park (formerly known as the City Industrial Park). The property is located north of U.S.-31 and south of Waller Road between Mercer Blvd. and Martin Road. The public improvements consist of sanitary sewers, a sewer lift station and force main, water mains, and road construction and paving. Other sources of funding include $90,000 in Federal Community Development Block Grants, through the Michigan Department of Commerce, and $34,000 in combined revenues from the sale of property within the Park, commitments from private investors, and the City Sewer Fund.

As a consequence of these improvements, the City has obtained letters of intent from several area businesses to expand or relocate within the Park. Those commitments include a new 30,000 square foot manufacturing facility; a 3,600 square foot industrial craft shop; and improvements to an existing 17,000 square foot manufacturing facility.

Details of the proposed project and a copy of the grant application is available for public review at the City Manager's Office in City Hall, 210 State St., from 8:30 A.M. to Noon and 1:00 to 5:00 P.M., Monday through Friday, except Holidays.

A Public Hearing on the proposed project will be held at City Hall on Monday, December 20, 1982 at 8:00 P.M.

Rayders swamp Soo by 44 in opener

The Charlevoix Rayder basketball team plunged headlong into the 1982-83 season Friday with an impressive 77-33 win over visiting Sault Ste. Marie.

It marked the first time the Blue Devils have been on the Rayder schedule.

In chalking up the victory which saw all 10 Rayders in action, the team jumped to a 21-2 first period advantage, outscored the visitors 18-10 for a 39-12 halftime lead and a 24-10 offensive attack as the second half got underway for a scoring 63-22 advantage going into the final period.

Craig Klooster lead the Rayder attack with 26 points including 10 field goals, five in the first period and six for six tries at the free throw line. Nine of the 10 players who saw action scored.

Kip Gamelin had 12 points for the Soo.

The Rayders had 31 field goals, 16 of 30 free throws and 13 personal fouls. The Soo had 15 field goals and connected one three of nine free throw attempts. They also had 24 personal fouls.

Charlevoix will take on a long-time rival, the Boyne City Ramblers, in the opponent's territory on Tuesday, host Petoskey on Friday and travel to Gaylord next Tuesday.

JVs don't fare as well

The Charlevoix Junior Varsity basketball team got off to a slow start Friday night losing to the Sault Ste. Marie JVs by a score of 43-39 in their first outing of the season.

The Soo Blue Devils poured in six quick buckets to take a 12-8 first period lead, increased their lead to 26-19 at halftime and 32-26 as the game went into the final period for a four-point victory.

Bill Lounds paced the game for the Soo with 10 points.

Thad Morgan had 19 and Cris Havens 10 for Charlevoix.

The Soo outscored Charlevoix 19 to 15 from the floor. The Soo also had five of 13 charity shots and collected 14 personal fouls. The young Rayders scored on nine of 19 from the line. Charlevoix had 14 personal fouls.

Charlevoix JVs will be at Boyne City Tuesday and will host Petoskey Friday before traveling to Gaylord Dec. 14.

Girls bow out of Regional to Benzie

The Charlevoix girls basketball team closed out its season Wednesday night, losing to a strong Benzie Central quintet by a score of 72-47 in the opening game of the Class C regional tournament at Roscommon.

The team made its way into the regional tourney be defeating Traverse City St. Francis in the district tournament at Elk Rapids and capturing the Class C District title.

The Rayderettes ended the season with a 9-win 12-loss record.

The final game saw Benzie Central jump to an 18-8 first period lead and increase their advantage to 32-22 at halftime and 59-35 going into the final period.

The victory was paced by Vonnie Schimp who had 22 points including 10 field goals. Shelly Nowek added 12, LaFleur Quinn, 11, Dawn Cady and Betty Davis 10 each to give the team balanced scoring. The team had a total of 33 field goals, five of nine from the line and 14 personal fouls.

Charlevoix had 21 field goals, five of 12 from the line and 11 personal fouls.

Laura Kemp accounted for 16 points; Ann Wagner, nine; Mary Lenhart, eight; Rhonda Buchanan, six and Angie McClanaghan, Connie Borths, Missy Sandahl and Meg Fowler, two each.

Seniors on the team are Kemp, Borths and Kim Bolduc. Eight sophomores will be returning to the squad next season Coach Henry Wagner said.

Wrestlers split at Glen Lake

The Charlevoix Rayder wrestling team posted two wins and two losses in the Glen Lake Invitational tournament Saturday Coach Greg Bryan reports.

The Rayders defeated Elk Rapids 42-24 and Glen Lake 45-21 while losing to Frankfort 40-30 and Big Rapids 53-18.

In commenting on the tournament, Coach Bryan said all his wrestlers showed great improvement over their earlier appearance at Gaylord. He went on to say that the team is young and the dual meet at Gaylord was the first for some of his team members. He said that Neild LaCroix (126) and Shawn Harnett (138) had improved the most.

The team is scheduled to go to Onaway Thursday and to participate in the Manistee Invitational tournament Saturday.

In the meet at Glen Lake, each participant wrestled four times. Al Bergmann (167) and Scott Mervyn (185) each won their matches by pins; Mike Steele (132) won three and lost one; Jeff Zednicek (155) and Rick Gallant (135) split, each winning two and losing two.

...But take only one match from Gaylord

The Charlevoix Rayder wrestlers were downed by a 64-6 score in their first outing at Gaylord Thursday.

This week will find the team at Onaway for a dual meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

In the opening meet, Alan Bergmann, experienced senior wrestling in the 167 weight class, posted the team's only win, pinning his opponent in :37.

Three of the more experienced wrestlers lost by decisions. This included Mike Steele (132) by a 10-5 decision; Scott Mervyn (185) an 8-2 decision and Rick Gallant (138) by a 12-2 decision.

Others lost by pins: Theron Reibel (119) in :48; Neil LaCroix (126) in :42; Shawn Harnett (145) in 5:36; Jeff Zednicek (155) in :41; Wayne Bergmann (198) in 2:35 and Jeff Mervyn (heavyweight) in :52.

Contest winners

The first Courier basketball contest of the season saw LeRoy Buchanan and Shawn Putman, both of Charlevoix, split the total prize money of $25. Both missed one game on their entries and both were nine points off the tie breaker, Buchanan over and Putman under.

OPEN SEASONS AND CATCH LIMITS ON PIKE WALLEYE SAUGER AND MUSKELLUNGE

The Natural Resources Commission, at its meeting on October 8, 1982, under the authority of Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended, ordered the following order become effective on January 1, 1983, and remain valid under March 31, 1988.

It shall be unlawful to take the following named species except within the open seasons and daily limits prescribed (statewide regulations apply unless otherwise restricted):

Statewide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing shall be from May 15 through February on Walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge). The daily catch limit shall be five singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike, one for muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge).

The above regulations apply statewide except that walleye and sauger may be taken at any time from the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, Lake St. Clair, and Lake Erie; and that muskellunge in Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit Rivers may be taken only from the first Saturday in June through December 15 of each year. Also, the daily catch on Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie and the Detroit and St. Clair rivers shall be six singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike when the catch includes at least one walleye or sauger.

Adult basketball scores

Townhouse dumped Village Inn Pizza 91-72 and Depot Restaurant edged Boyne Auto 63-62 in action in the A League of the Charlevoix Recreation Independent program last week.

In the B League Staley Hardware defeated Medusa 58-47, Carlson Plumbing won over Air Force 53-34 and Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage downed First State Bank 77-58.

Townhouse went on a scoring spree with Bud Klooster scoring 32 points, Don McKenzie 24 and Steve Dunkelberg 18 as the team headed V.I.P. 24-19, 42-33 and 64-50 by quarters. Vince Left had 21, Larry Skippergosh 18 and Woddy Pearson 17 for V.I.P.

After a seesaw battle that saw the score change often, Depot restaurant defeated Boyne Auto by a one-point margin. The victors had managed slim leads at the end of each period heading their opponent 14-11 at the quarter, 30-29 at halftine and 50-48 going into the final period.

Tom Byers with 13, Alan Looze with 12 and Jon Tompkins with 10 spearheaded the attack. Hal Price had 13 for Boyne Auto.

In the B League action, Staley Hardware led Medusa 13-12, 29-22 and 49-35 by quarters behind the scoring of Terry Smith with 29 points and Larry Skippergosh with 15. Dick Putman had 15 and Doug Winnell 12 for Medusa.

Carlson Plumbing had no trouble with Air Force as they headed their opponents 16-7, 24-13, and 37-23 by quarters. Randy Holecheck and Dave Cole with 12 points and Jim Marsh with 10 were the victor's top scorers. Tony Starr had nine and J.R. Greenway eight for Air Force.

All five starters were in double figures for Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage as the team jumped to a 22-14 first period lead over First State Bank. The Bankers, however, fought back to a 34-30 halftime advantage before trailing 59-48 going into the final period when they were outscored by their opponents 18-10.

Barney Way had 19 points, Dale Boss 18, Steve Beachum and Mike Crain 14 each and Roger Crain 12.

Tim Carey with 16 points, Kevin Swanson with 13, Dennis Dominic with 12 and Ralph Doan with 10 points did the scoring for the bankers.

Tie Breaker Game
STALEY HARDWARE

Pick the number of points you believe will be scored in the tie-breaker game, and write it in the box.

RULES

1. Anyone can enter, except the employees of the paper and their families. Use the entry blank from the paper or make your own, following the same plan. A copy of the Charlevoix Courier will be available at the Courier office to anyone wishing to copy the list of names.
2. Weekly gift certificates will be awarded to the persons naming the most winners. All tie games are considered incorrect unless picked as ties on your entry blank. In case of a tie, persons guessing nearest correct score in the tiebreaker box will win. Insert what you think total score will be of the game in the tie breaker box.
3. Gift certificates are redeemable at any of the participating sponsors on this page only. Entries should be addressed to: Contest Editor, Charlevoix Courier and postmarked by not later than 5 p.m. Thursday night. Winners will be announced the following weeks.
4. On the entry form simply draw a circle around the number of the team you predict will win each of the games listed in each of the ads. Then, predict the total on the points "tie breaker" at the bottom of the entry form.

Swith from music to sixth grade class "revitalizes" Steve Stargardt

by ANNE KELLY

A Middle School staff member for 8 years, Steve Stargardt is teaching a sixth grade self-contained class this year as a means of "revitalization" after many years of concentrating on music. Steve, like many teachers, finds that changing grade levels or job descriptions, helps him gain a fresh and new perspective in education.

A musician as well as an educator, Steve has spent most of his professional life vasciliating between both of those worlds. As a professional musician for 18 years, Steve has performed in a variety of capacities at the piano: in small groups, as an accompanist for singers, and as a pianist for show groups.

"Musically, I'm most comfortable in a popular music setting," Steve explained. "I play by ear and have quite an extensive repetoire. I do jazz shows, accompany singers – anything in that idiom."

Steve received his initial degrees from the University of Cincinnati, then the College Conservatory of Music: a B.S. in Music Education and a B.A. in music with a piano major. He is presently working on a Master's in Counseling from Central Michigan University.

In his teaching career, Steve has taught music, choir and band on the high school and junior high school levels. He perceives himself as having a dual career: that of performer and that of educator, and appears to enjoy both aspects.

This year, along with teaching sixth grade, Steve instructs one section of beginning band and directs the high school choir. In his private life, Steve turns entertainer, playing piano whenever he gets the chance, which is weekends and summers when the opportunity for an engagement arises. He also gives private piano lessons and has participated in community cantatas in Charlevoix. Most recently, Steve was musical director and conductor for the Little Traverse Civic Players production of "The King and I."

Steve Stargardt

"I'm very happy doing what I'm doing now," says Steve. "When I first started teaching in Ohio back in 1968, I didn't feel comfortable."

So Steve spent the following summer performing with a group in northern Michigan at Shanty Creek. He and his wife fell in love with the area. Steve then returned to a high school teaching position in Cincinnati to give teaching "one more shot." He found that he enjoyed the experience. It was at this point that Steve set a career goal to teach three years and then play piano for a year, moving on to a different part of the country and repeating the process.

In 1972, Steve along with his wife and family, moved to northern Michigan where he spent 2 years teaching in Bellaire. He then took a year off to put a group on the road "Newfound Spirit" in the Detroit area.

"After that year," Steve recalls, "I was ready to get back to teaching. Learning of a possible opening in Charlevoix, Steve persued the position and again gave up performing for education. This time, the change gained more permanence. He has been with the Charlevoix Schools for the past 8 years.

Steve, who began taking his piano seriously when he was in the sixth grade, admits that "I was never one to like to practice." But, he continued, hard work and practice are the only ways to get where you're going. Thanks to the influence of his father (also a musician) and a fine piano teacher who worked with him through college, Steve's hard work paid off in the form of a degree and a career.

Yes, a lot has to do with inheriting certain talents. But "I've seen many who have the talents who don't develop them." As a teacher, Steve hopes to impart the fact that it's the determination and stick-to-itiveness that make the difference.

"My purpose is not to culture professional musicians...but I enjoy seeing a kid come along who has some creativity and energy."

Steve was lucky – he was able to have the right channeling for his talents.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX COUNCIL MINUTES

November 29, 1982
8:00 P.M.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time in a Special Session called by Mayor Staley for the purposes of holding a public hearing regarding the City water supply, considering a resolution regarding an Urban Development Action Grant application, and considering a motion to adjourn to a Closed Session for the purpose of reviewing written applications for the position of City Attorney. Mayor Staley presiding.

Present: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Absent: None.

A Public Hearing was held regarding how the City should proceed with the improvements to the City water supply which are required to eliminate Trichloroethylene (TCE) from the drinking water and to ensure an adequate supply of water to City residents in future years. The City Manager outlined the three long range alternatives the City is considering including (1) constructing a filter system on the existing water supply; (2) building a treatment plant to take water directly from Lake Michigan; or (3) drilling a well system. He stated that the treatment plant is the preferred long range alternative at this time and that two engineering design proposals for a treatment plant, as well as a report from Granger Engineering regarding three short range alternatives will be presented to Council for their perusal at the December 6, 1982 regular Council meeting. Several members of the General Public present voiced their opinions regarding the long range alternatives and generally urged Council to proceed with one of the short range alternatives as an interim measure in order to eliminate the TCE immediately. Concern was also expressed regarding the cost of the proposed treatment plant, the affect of the TCE on the children of the community and providing a safe water source for all persons in the area, not just those residing within the City limits.

A Public Hearing was held regarding grant applications for funding of public improvements in the City's Industrial Park. The City Manager stated that the improvements would consist of sanitary sewers, a sewer lift station and force main, water mains, and road construction and paving. Dave Knight, Editor of the Charlevoix Courier, stated that members of the local business community were in favor of development of the Industrial Park as a means of encouraging new business in the City.

The following Resolution was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Olach and supported by Councilman Wood.

RESOLUTION No. 82-11-4
Authorizing Grant Applications
CHARLEVOIX BUSINESS PARK
Charlevoix, Michigan

WHEREAS, the City of Charlevoix owns a parcel of land, formerly known as the Industrial Park and hereafter to be known as the Charlevoix Business Park; and

WHEREAS, this area is in need of road, water, and sewer improvements to make it suitable for development; and

WHEREAS, the City Council finds that business development within the park is in the general public interest by increasing tax base, expanding community income, and providing jobs, and

WHEREAS, certain local businesses have indicated an intent to expand within the Charlevoix Business Park, provided such improvements are affected, and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (H.U.D.) operates a program, known as the Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) Program, which can fund a portion of the cost of the required public facility improvements; and

WHEREAS, the Michigan Department of Commerce operates a program, known as the Small Cities Economic Development Program, which provides federal Community Development Block Grant monies (Small Cities CDBG) to fund a portion of the cost of such required public facility improvements; and

WHEREAS, the estimated cost of the first phase of these improvements is $314,000;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX, that it authorizes the City Manager to make application to the UDAG program for up to $190,000, and to the Small Cities CDBG program for up to $90,000, to fund a portion of the costs of first phase improvements to the Charlevoix Business Park, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City Manager is authorized to make such assurances and commitments as may be required to fulfill the requirements of these programs, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City shall commit such funds as it may receive from the sale of property in the Park, or otherwise from private businesses expanding within the Park, as may be necessary to fund a portion of the costs of first phase improvements, such amount to be not less than $30,000, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the City shall commit such funds as it may receive from sewer taps to property in the Park, as may be necessary to fund a portion of the costs of first phase sewer improvements, such amount to be not less than $4,000.

RESOLVED this 29th day of November, 1982 A.D.

Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Olach and supported by Councilman Timms to adjourn to a Closed Session to review written applications for the position of City Attorney in accordance with Section 8 (f) of the Open Meetings Act.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Block, Olach, Porter, Timms, Roloff, and Wood. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council adjourned to the Closed Session.

Christmas concert for school bands set for December 15

The Instrumental Music Department of the Charlevoix Public Schools will present its annual Christmas Concert at the high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. December 15 Terry Isenbarger, director of the department, has announced.

At 7 p.m. preceding the concert, there will be a meeting of the recently re-organized Band Boosters in the high school study hall. All parents and other interested persons are urged to attend this important meeting.

At the concert scheduled for 8 p.m., the seventh grade and eighth grade bands of the middle school and the high school symphonic band will present a variety of musical selections including settings of several traditional Christmas carols as well as marches, concert band selections and a medley of Dixieland numbers.

There will be no admission charge for this concert, the bands' Christmas gift to the community. However, the hat will be passed during the concert for contributions to the band fund, Mr. Isenbarger said.

Beishlag to head township assoc.

Eric Beishlag, clerk of Eveline Township, was recently elected president of the Charlevoix County Township Association. He succeeds Oscar Stroud of Charlevoix Township.

Also elected were Larry Bergmann, treasurer of Bay Township, as vice-president; Elizabeth Houser, trustee of Evangeline Township, as secretary-treasurer; and Mike Bonar, supervisor of Marion Township, as recording secretary.

County Treasurer Anah Potter talked to the group about tax collections, dog licenses, and the dog census. She reminded the Township officials that they would be paid 25 cents a dog for each dog in their census.

The Township Association meets the last Monday of the month in the City Building in Boyne City. However, there will be no December meeting.

McPhillips, Welke merge into new Beaver Island air service

By FRAN MARTIN

The merger of two airlines that have been serving Beaver Island, the McPhillips Flying Service headquartered in Charlevoix and Welke Aviation located on the island, has been announced by the present owners of the two companies, Richard Hodgson and Robert Haveman and Mr. and Mrs. William Welke.

The proposed merger will become effectiva on January 1, 1983. At that time, the company will become known as Island Airways.

In making the joint announcement, officials of the two airlines said that by merging they feel they can better accomodate the needs of those utilizing the flight service.

"By merging we hope to keep air fares and freight rates reasonable. We think other efficiencies that will be beneficial to those using the service will also result" Hodgson said of the merger.

Mrs. Welke, speaking for Welke Aviation, said "We have always offered good service. We will continue to offer the same service and be in a better position to accomodate the needs of our customers. Everyone I've spoken with on the island seems to be pleased with the proposed merger."

The new company will continue to fly passengers and freight to and from the island daily and to offer a charter service to any place within the continental United States. The mail will be carried daily except Sunday and holidays when the post office is closed.

Island Airways will fly out of the Charlevoix airport on the mainland and both the township and the Welke airports on the island.

The merger gives the new company a total of 13 aircraft including nine and five passenger planes as well as several smaller planes. "We will be combining our inventories and disposing of those we do not need. This will probably be some of the smaller planes," Haveman said, adding that all the details have not been worked out at this time.

The merger will also give the company a hanger at the Welke airport equipped with a complete workshop for servicing the planes.

Along with the planes, each of the present companies will bring three experienced pilots to the new company including Hodgson who has been licensed since 1969; Haveman since 1966 and Mike Heick, who received his license about five years ago and who joined the McPhillips Flying Service 1½ years ago.

Those at the Welke terminal are William Welke who has been flying since 1944; Paul Welke who has been licensed since 1964 and Anne Welke since 1979.

The McPhillips Flying Service was organized by Joseph McPhillips in 1946. Haveman joined the company 6½ years ago and Hodgson more recently. They have had an interest in the company for several years.

The Welkes came to Beaver Island to make their home in 1949 from the Pontiac area though they had been summer residents since 1965. They established Welke Airways shortly after moving to the island.

Hodgson, who's family has lived in Charlevoix for the past 12 years, formerly owned and operated Walker Marina at 313 Belvedere Avenue.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in about four years Charlevoix will have a city Christmas tree. City crews, above, erected a 30-foot blue spruce in East Park near the stoplights last week. The tree will be decorated by the Chamber of Commerce. Plans by the Keep Charlevoix Beautiful organization are to plant a permanent tree in the location later this year using a $300 anonymous gift for the purpose. Dr. Walter Hoffman donated this year's tree - and will donate the permanent tree - from his property on Martin Rd. Dr. Hoffman is best known in Charlevoix for the year-round Christmas tree visible in the second story window of his former residence on Park Ave. That silver, aluminum tree, which has become somewhat of a Charlevoix landmark, was put in the window by Hoffman 25 years ago this December.

City wards changed

by DAVE KNIGHT

It was just too simple. It had to be changed.

For as long as anyone can remember, Charlevoix's three city wards have been neatly drawn with a simple, geographic logic to them. The First Ward was everywhere north of the channel; the south side was bisected - west of the highway was the Second Ward and east of the highway was the Third Ward. The configuration made for a nice looking map and everybody always knew in which ward they lived.

The one man, one vote concept has now changed all that. At their December 6 meeting, the Charlevoix City Council approved new boundaries for the city's three wards as dictated by state law. According to the law, the population of each of the city's wards must be as equal as possible. The First Ward has encroached across the channel and now includes a chunk of the downtown extending as far south as Mason St. The Third Ward has grabbed another slice of Second Ward turf and now extends west, across Bridge St., to State St. south of Upright.

Ward boundaries even extend into Round Lake in which, according to the Census Bureau, there are 53 residents. The 53 are stationed on the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Mesquite and are now officially First Ward residents.

City Clerk Deanne Balch said that, although the law establishing the one man, one vote concept was enacted in 1967, the City of Charlevoix has not had to change its boundaries until this year, based on data from the decennial census conducted in 1980.

Under the new alignment, ward populations are as follows: First Ward 1,093; Second Ward, 1103; Third Ward, 1100.

Anyone who thinks it was easy coming up with the contrived boundaries shown below to accomodate such equal ward populations need only ask Mrs. Balch to find out differently.

The city population had to be broken down block by block and ward boundaries shifted back and forth until the best, most equal configuration was reached.

The only other apportionment plan was one proposed by Third Ward resident Paul Burlew. The major difference in Burlew's plan was that each ward included part of the downtown thus giving each ward an

Ellen Addington's African adventure leaves deep impressions of hunger crisis

by PEG OHLE

Ellen Addington is music director of the First Congregational Church of Charlevoix and as such directed the cantata celebrating the Church's centennial earlier this year.

Between the centennial celebration and preparing for the December 5 community presentation of The Messiah, Miss Addington was off on another adventure in line with another interest.

In October, she spent two weeks on a tour of Africa as a member of a group of Hunger Coordinators for the Methodist Church to learn first-hand about the problems of hunger. Recently week she came to the Courier office to tell us about some of the things she heard and saw and learned. It is a good story for our bountiful holiday season.

"The most impressive and hopeful place we visited on the whole trip was a project called "Wassadow-Bantan-Tintin" in Senegal, Miss Addington began.

"It is a model project developed to help people become more self-reliant, to support themselves. It was started by Jean Carboneau, a French agriculturist living in Senegal who saw the untapped potential for people to take care of themselves. Living in a barren area, Carboneau saw the Gambian River with people starving on either side. He figured they could pump the water out and use it for irrigation and teach the people techniques of farming and animal husbandry to improve their native stock."

Miss Addington enthused even more to her subject as she told about irrigation being accomplished and a village cooperative of 1,000 people being set up to carry on the tasks of meeting the long-run goals.

"All the healthy people were put to work outside or inside. The slogan was 'each one teach one'. They workad to develop drouth-resistant crops and are now pointing toward more root crops.

Some people were appointed to oversee crops to keep them safe from monkeys and other animals who might destroy them. The overseers sit on pedestals surrounded by dogs and a fire at night to keep the animals away. Nesting hens are kept in baskets on stilts to keep them from snakes. They have cross-bred their chickens and have come up with a fat, sturdy variety.

"The cooperative was set up on a five-year plan. Carboneau showed the way and now the people do all the work. They work well together -- building churches for the Christians and mosques for the Moslems. You can see crosses and crescents and stars all over. These people are living together."

Wassadow-Bantan-Tintin, the project which has been so successful in teaching people to help themselves, owes much to the aid received from the Church World Service organization, according to Miss Addington.

"The project was

Ann and Butch Hart stand with their minister The Rev. Dale Turner and attendants, Lois Hart and Victor Hart, following their wedding Saturday in Charlevoix Area Hospital's solarium. Mrs. Hart is a patient at Charlevoix Area Hospital. The hospital helped arrange the wedding when it was learned Mrs. Hart would not be ready to return home before the date planned for her wedding.

Couple wed at hospital

Butch and Ann Hart's wedding was held on schedule, despite Mrs. Hart's hospitalization.

The wedding was performed in the chapel at Charlevoix Area Hospital, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Hart, the former Ann Gillum, was given in marriage by her brother John Briggs of Detroit. She was attended by her sister-in-law Lois Hart. The groom's brother, Victor Hart, was his best man.

The Rev. Dale Turner of the Missionary Church of East Jordan performed the ceremony in the hospital solarium-chapel.

The quiet service was attended by members of the bride's and groom's families from northern Michigan.

Charlevoix Area Hospital staff arranged the wedding and small reception for the Hart's when it was learned that the wedding was scheduled for Saturday and Mrs. Hart would not be ready for discharge. She is expected to be discharged later this week.

Saturday evening the hospital dietary department presented a special wedding dinner to the new couple.

Mr. Hart is employed by the City of Charlevoix. They will reside in Ironton.

Ingalls' appointment rescinded by board

The recent appointment of Charlevoix County Commissioner Delbert Ingalls of South Arm Township to the County Road Commission, effective January 1, was rescinded by the Board of Commissioners last week.

Ingalls, who is a ''lame duck'' commissioner, was one of four cnadidates for the position now held by Donald Graham of East Jordan.

Rescinding the appointment became necessary after County Prosecutor Scott Beatty advised the County Board that, by law, they could not appoint one of their sitting members to the position.

Ingalls later resigned as County Commissioner effective December 20. The next meeting of the County Board will be held on December 23, at which time it is expected that Ingalls will again be appointed to the Road Commission.

Bus service to be provided

People who use the Charlevoix County Transit buses to get to and from work and school will not be stranded again as they were on Veterans Day.

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners last week voted to provide service on that day, along with Washington's birthday, election day, and the day after Thanksgiving. These are days that the County Building is closed and other County employees do not work.

To compensate for working on any of the four above-mentioned days, Transit employees will be given an additional day of vacation time.

Opinion

Knight on the Town
Should've known before now

by Dave Knight

As one who has been reading and writing about trichloroethylene for well over a year now, I was somewhat shocked last week to discover at a council meeting - and in something of an offhand manner - that all we have to do to eliminate harmful levels of TCE from city water is bubble it.

But bubble it, aerate it, just bubble it.

And even more astounding was the disclosure that the city has had the equipment to do just that all along. The cost of aeration was estimated last week to be a maximum of [illegible] and possibly as low as [illegible] depending on how much of the city's present equipment can be adapted.

According to Dave Rommelmann, the consulting engineer who has been contracted to study the TCE problem and recommend solutions, aeration is an accepted method of removing volatile chemical but for some reason it is not considered a viable long term solution.

I have had little objection to date with the effort the city has made to eliminate TCE. It seemed logical to first conduct an exhaustive search for the source of the contamination. Eliminating the source would have solved the problem. But the source remains a mystery as we turned to other treatment methods.

A comprehensive, scientific study seemed to me to be an appropriate approach to a scientific problem. And the resulting recommendation to build a $1.6 million lake water treatment plant was initially hard to swallow. But with as many different groundwater contaminants that are being discovered all over the state and the country with increasing frequency, it appears the days of reliance on that source for clean water are over.

I still think that the only rational way to approach a new treatment plant is with city and township working together on it.

Long term programs, aside, however, I find it hard to believe that it has taken us well over a year to find out that by simply bubbling its water, the city can significantly reduce the TCE level.

The health threat from drinking water with 20 to 30 parts per billion of TCE has alarmed many city residents and been scoffed at by others. Scientists are just scratching the surface on environmental causes of cancer. Who knows how many of the substances we eat, drink and breathe will cause cancer if allowed to reach a certain level in our bodies?

One thing is for sure. TCE is doing nobody any good.

It would seem that, to be on the safe side, somebody who knew should have suggested aeration of city water a long time ago.

Clockwise
Questionable dealings

by Bob Clock

If anyone really knows what is happening at Chrysler Corp., I wish they would clue me in.

Last summer, the corporation insisted it couldn't afford another penny in so-called "up front" money in the way of wage increases. Douglas Fraser, United Auto Workers president and then a member of the Chrysler Board of Directors, concurred after examining the books.

On this information a contract was drawn up in September calling for some non-economic improvements and delayed benefits. The contract was promptly rejected by the membership.

Then — in a highly unusual move — Fraser asked the members to vote on an immediate strike or a postponement of talks until January. The members preferred postponement.

Then Chrysler of Canada got into the spirit of the thing [illegible] and struck, severely curtailing production at both U.S. plants using Canadian-made parts.

Suddenly Fraser, who by this time had resigned from the Chrysler board, decided it was time for immediate talks on contracts involving both Canadian and American workers — regardless of the earlier vote to postpone negotiations.

Late last week, accord was announced on both contracts. U.S. workers will receive increases of 75-cents-an-hour and Canadian workers $1.15 an hour — which will bring them closer to the average blue-collar wage at Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp.

All of which is well and good for the workers, hopefully. But I can't help but wonder what such handsome wage increases will do to the price of Chrysler's automotive offerings in a market that already has priced itself beyond the pocketbooks of most consumers.

I also wonder if Chrysler's fortunes really have changed so markedly since last summer. True, Chrysler's common stock has shot up from 3 and one-eighth to 14 and one-quarter (Friday) in the current bull market, And auto sales did show a modest improvement in November.

But auto sales throughout the industry are still so far below a normal non-recession year that there is little cause for rejoicing.

That is why I am afraid that — unless Chrysler has some hitherto unannounced economies up its sleeve — the costly new contracts do not bode well in the long run for either Chrysler workers or the Michigan economy. Only time will tell.

DOWNTOWN Charlevoix has turned into a veritable Christmas fantasyland now that our new locust trees are festooned with tiny lights and store windows are decorated for the holidays.

It is a beautiful sight to descend either Bridge Street hill after sundown.

Furthermore, the stores are well stocked with holiday merchandise at surprisingly affordable prices.

It looks like we'll have Christmas, after all.

Trip to Africa

started in 1977 by Carboneau and his group," Miss Addington explained. "The first year it was 100 percent supported by that group and the Church World Service. The second year it was [illegible] percent supported, the third year, [illegible] percent, and now, in its fifth year, it is independent.

"These are the kinds of results contributors to the Church World Service and other church organizations can see. They know they're not pouring money down the drain."

With it all, Miss Addington knows that this one project is just a drop in the bucket of need. "There's a lot more to do in [illegible]," she says. "The desert is moving in and they need reforestation. Carboneau just got a multi-million dollar grant from the Canadian government to help the [illegible] the coast build a new fishing industry. Up to now they've been watching people from other countries come to their waters and catch the fish.

"Also they have been encouraged to start other village cooperatives. There's now [illegible] I and [illegible] II — and the best part of this is that these new cooperatives were started with money from the first cooperative."

Miss Addington has the highest praise for the missionaries in this area. "I was so impressed with them," she says. They live like Africans. I have a hard time when people talk about 'primitive things' over there. Call it 'undeveloped'. Maybe they know more than we do about a lot of things. They can't have indoor plumbing if they don't have enough water to drink. We keep pushing unnecessary plumbing.

"Even in our government spending, we often provide for inappropriate technology such as farm equipment. We think bigger is better. That's not always true. Little cooperatives with small gardens are often more productive.

"However, the professional people with all kinds of expertise sent from the United States and other countries as well as the natives educated in the United States are going about their work in intelligent ways. Again, they are teaching the people to help themselves instead of willy-nilly spending money.

"The women work right along with the men. The cooperatives are well-organized and they all share. They keep track of the hours they work. The average income used to be $40 per year per person, now it's $400.

What about the future of this and similar projects? Miss Addington firmly believes that by irrigating, planting seeds, reforesting, and learning some of the scientific techniques of agriculture — and having faith – they will succeed.

Miss Addington has also been personally touched by her trip to Africa.

"I can never again be the same after seeing these people", she says. "I can never again throw away even a tablespoon of food. I've learned what it means when we say that six percent of the world's population consumes 40 percent of the world's resources. Perhaps the most important thing the cooperatives are teaching the people is to grow things they need for their own use rather than for export."

Miss Addington's final plea in helping to alleviate world hunger is, "Give money to your church. You will know how it is used."

Health Dept. taken to task for TCE role

You, your family, your children, all have been drinking Charlevoix water that contains T.C.E., a chemical suspected to cause cancer. Has this chemical been in the water and allowed to stay in the water for over one year by action, or inaction, of the Health Department? It appears that it could have been removed when it was discovered, but the Health Department or officials did not order the inexpensive and simple solution to be instituted.

They let us drink.

In October of 1981, approximately a year and two months ago, the T.C.E. was discovered. The discovery was well publicized by the newspapers and we all assumed that such a peril would be swiftly addressed and solved by the Health Department.

Official tests during the last fourteen months have shown the levels exceeding fifty ppb in your drinking water.

Excerpts from a government publication state as follow: "Human exposure to contaminants in drinking water such as T.C.E. should be reduced to the maximum extend feasible ... because of the potential carcinogenic effects ... that all available steps should be taken to reduce exposure to T.C.E. below 4.5 ppb ... that they take whatever steps are feasible to reduce the levels in the distribution system...it should be noted that E.P.A. will consider any T.C.E. level above 4.5 ppb as potentially actionable."

The aeration system, that is belatedly being installed today was just as "feasible" a year ago. Did they take "whatever steps are feasible", or were we allowed to continue drinking? With directions such as these in the hands of our Health Department officials, one would expect immediate action. They were aware of the situation and the fact that our water contained over ten times or 1000 percent the amount referred to as calling for "all available steps should be taken to reduce exposure to a T.C.E. level below 4.5 ppb." Our ever vigilant Health Department issued a letter 7 months later on May 17, 1982 which in part states:

"... The position of the Michigan Department of Public Health is that the contamination of the water supply poses a health threat to the city's residents and action must be initiated by the city to progress toward replacement of the existing source ..."

Nothing like a letter to pass the buck. For fourteen months now, have they known that a simple aeration system costing approximately $6,000 could have been installed on our system, and removed the T.C.E. from our drinking water?

And still we drank.

Brace yourself, the front page article of the Charlevoix Courier dated Wednesday, December 8th, has a paragraph as follows:

"... Aeration is regarded as an acceptable means of removing T.C.E. said Rommelmann, though the Health Department was not in favor of it at first because they did not think it was a good long term solution ..."

The information in that paragraph is incredible. It would be a deception committed upon the people of Charlevoix, if a cheap, quick "acceptable" means of removing T.C.E. has been ignored for over a year. Could it be that we have gone to meetings, demanded action, asked for relief, attempted to help find solutions, and all this time our Health Department was aware of a solution to the carcinogen, but held the city hostage to make more extensive changes on a water system, rather than allow the immediate removal of the T.C.E.?

And still we drink. Month after month after month after month, we have drank.

Month after month we have ingested a chemical which is suspected cancer cause. All of those months a simple solution has been available but not in "favor" with our Health Department?

I appeared four times before the City Council, first in June, demanding that filters be installed. No one mentioned that aeration would work and was cheap and could be installed quickly by our own people. The Health Department was at all or most of those meetings. Suddenly we find that aeration not only will work, but is only now being put in because of the demands and the heat and determined cries of some citizens to the council.

The Health Department's handling of this situation is even worse than their handling of the fire retardant PBB ten years ago. This situation, it appears, had a solution at the time of discovery, but did not meet "the favor" of the Health Department, according to the article.

They let us drink.

We are surely going to hear great assurances from our Health Department and officials that there is no "proof" that T.C.E. is a serious danger. We have heard those same assurances in past years from other officials on asbestos, on smoking, on fallout from the atomic tests out west, and on the dioxin 245T. All of those assurances have since proved to be coverups of disasters underway. Must we wait another 20 years for the effects, before our myopic and slothlike Health Department and officials nod their heads and say, "Yes, there was a problem, sorry about your kids."

My outrage at this disclosure is beyond description. Thoughts of misfeasance, malfeasance, criminal neglect of duty are terms that might prove to be appropriate.

This situation begs for investigation by the appropriate department at the highest level of state government. The governor should appoint a special commission.

As in Watergate we should ask who knows what? When did they know it? And what did they do to protect the people?

The engineer that did the city study, Rommelmann, said he would not allow his wife and daughter to drink the water. To quote Shirley Roloff at a conversation at the Post Office – (I told her I would quote her) "I won't drink it, I boil mine – I know it's not safe." If she had known about aeration, you can bet she would have pushed it.

But does everyone boil or remember to boil? How about those who forget or visitors or our kids at school or at restaurants, etc. Citizens spent more in the last 14 months on heat to boil or to purchase bottled water than the $6,000 to do the total job!

And still we drank.

Elected officials have only three charges! Health, Safety and Welfare of the public. Why then, when citizens appear to advance ideas and present new systems to end T.C.E. does the mayor refuse a hearing? In June, citizens met with the City Manager, discussed filters and were assured they would be heard at the next session. Arriving, the mayor refused to let them speak. Almost 10 minutes of argument ended when appeals to specific councilmen of my ward resulted in forcing the mayor to let us speak. He granted 10 minutes. The issues we raised interested the council enough, that we took an hour, and they stated they heard new ideas. Time well spent.

At the last meeting, again the mayor virtually shut off debate by allowing only 120 seconds, 2 minutes, for a presentation that was to include aeration, filters (and the possible wasteful spending of over a million dollars of tax payers money – more on that later.)

Once again, it took action by the council, to overrule the mayor and allow discussion over 120 seconds. Later in the meeting discussion of the fees to charged at Mt. McSauba began. Evidently the mayor felt this more important than T.C.E. As everyone chatted freely in the audience and no 120 second limits were imposed, to my recollection.

Where was our well paid "professional" city manager all these months? A good question. For one thing, he was advising the council that the filters would probably cost $750,000. A figure I called ridiculous and incredibly high. We stated they actually would cost $120 to $130,000 plus a small building and some connections by city workers. A later figure by the engineers hired by the city proved us right. Not $750,000 but 218,000 and that included tens of thousands of unnecessary cost. A basic figure to remove T.C.E. and install filters of $100,000 plus.

I congratulate the Courier on its continuing coverage of the T.C.E. problem. Perhaps they should provide copies in Braille, for the officials.

interest in that vital sector of the city.

By one good stroke of fortune, the reapportionment left all the City Council representatives elected last month living in the same wards they were chosen to represent. In one case, however, the Second Ward representative-to-be Ivan Whitley came less than a block away from winding up in the First Ward.

The boundary changes probably won't affect city affairs to any great extent in the near future though city council candidates may now have to take a map if they campaign door to door.

After going so long without any change it may take about ten years for people to get used to the new ward boundaries.

And that's exactly when they'll be changed again.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Schaberg

Rogers-Schaberg

Julia Ann Rogers and Mark E. Schaberg, both of Charlevoix, were united in marriage on Saturday evening, November 27, at Christ Episcopal Church in Charlevoix.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers of Charlevoix, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schaberg of Midland.

The double-ring candlelight ceremony was performed by the Reverend Roger Ames before approximately 150 guests.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore her great grandmother's 1906 vintage gown. It featured a high neckline, lace bodice, and puffed sleeves. She also wore her bridegroom's grandmother's veil.

The bridal bouquet was composed of three white roses.

Victoria Rogers served her sister as maid of honor, and another sister, Debra, served as bridesmaid. They wore blue gowns fashioned in the style of the bride's gown and carried single white roses.

Chris Schaberg of Grand Rapids served his brother as best man, and a cousin, Greg Karpicke of Saginaw, was groomsman. James Miller and Jon Eakes, both of Charlevoix, were ushers.

Mrs. John Lignell played traditional organ music for the ceremony. Dr. John Lignell and Mrs. Michael Bales sang "The Wedding Song".

A reception at the Charlevoix Yacht Club, hosted by the bride's parents, followed the wedding ceremony. The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at Duffy's of Charlevoix, hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

The newlyweds are at home in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly J. Godfrey

Puffpaff-Godfrey

Debra Lynn Puffpaff and Kelly J. Godfrey, both of Virginia Beach, VA., exchanged their wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at Virginia Beach, VA., November 1.

Attending the couple at the garden wedding were Mrs. Janet Olivieri of Virginia Beach who assisted the bride as matron of honor. Michael Olivieri also of Virginia Beach served as best man.

The couple will make their home in Virginia Beach, VA.

Anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martinchek

Martincheks cite 50th

The family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martinchek recently helped the couple celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

An open house was held November 21 at the Community Reformed Church of God, hosted by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martinchek of Charlevoix, and their four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Joseph Martinchek and the former Jennie Hall of Bay Shore were married on November 19, 1932 in Petoskey. They lived on a farm on the Horton Bay Road for a while, then moved to Ellsworth Road, where they now make their home.

Stand 2-0 so far in M-HS action

Rayders top Boyne, Petoskey

Charlevoix is breaking out of the gate impressively in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference basketball race. Last week saw the Rayders triumph against two traditional conference rivals, Boyne City and Petoskey, which leaves the Charlevoix M-HSC slate unblemished at 2-0.

The Rayders used a balanced attack in which four of five starters hit double figures to sink the Boyne City Ramblers 76-61 last Tuesday night at Boyne City.

Charlevoix basically set the pace early and never let up as they were up 22-14 at the end of the first quarter and 43-31 at the half. By the end of the third quarter it was 66-44 and at the final gun, 76-61.

Senior forward Chris Putman led all scorers in the game with 19 points. Not far behind, however, were teammates Craig Klooster with 18, George Smith with 14 and Tim LaBlance with 13. For the Ramblers, Tim Winters canned 16 and Brad Musser and Jeff Gabos 14 apiece.

The Petoskey game, played Friday night on the Charlevoix home court, was a ragged affair with the emphasis on tough defense.

Again, the scoring for Charlevoix was balanced in the end result but saw individuals going hot and cold during the game. LaBlance singlehandedly kept the Rayders alive in the first quarter hitting six of the team's meager 8-point output for the quarter. Charlevoix saw themselves down 12-8 at that point.

The Rayders came back, however, to outscore the Northmen 14-10 in the second quarter leaving the teams in a 22-22 deadlock at the half.

In the third quarter, neither team was able to control the momentum with any consistency though Charlevoix came on strong early and edged out a 32-29 lead going into the final period.

Despite connecting on only three of nine free throws in the fourth quarter (they ended with a dismal five of 19 for the game) the Rayders held off Petoskey outscoring them 13-10 in the final quarter enroute to the 45-39 final tally.

LaBlance took individual scoring honors for Charlevoix with 14 points while Putman had 11 and Klooster and Smith ten each. For Petoskey, Eric Joneson had 11.

The Rayders travel to Gaylord Tuesday night for their next conference match-up. Gaylord dropped a one-point decision to St. Ignace Friday leaving the Blue Devils at 1-1 in M-HSC action.

Frosh lose to Petoskey in overtime

The Charlevoix Rayder freshmen basketball team lost a hotly contested game to Petoskey last week after coming from behind to tie the score in the closing seconds of the regulation game.

Trailing as much as 14 points as the game went into the second half, the freshmen overcame a 53-44 third period deficit to go ahead on a field goal by Joe Hayes only to have Petoskey knot the score 66-66 at the final buzzer.

In the overtime, Petoskey outscored Charlevoix 9-4 for the 75-70 victory.

Petoskey jumped off to a 25-11 first period lead. In the second period, Charlevoix outscored their hosts 19-12 to cut the margin to 37-30 at halftime.

The third period saw Petoskey outscore Charlevoix 16-14. The fourth period, however, was Charlevoix's as they dumped in 22 points including 10 by Hayes to Petoskey's 13 points resulting in the 66-66 tie.

Four young Rayders were in double figures including Judy Putman with 22. Hayes and Packy LaBlance had 16 each and Sean Ferguson 11. Steve Ross had 21, Steve Mann 17 and Aaron Duvaney 12 for Petoskey.

Earlier in the week, the Charlevoix Freshmen defeated Boyne City 51-44.

The young Rayders led the Ramblers 6-0, 21-15 and 37-24 by quarters before coasting to a 51-44 win.

Jody Putman scored 26 points. Nick Redman had 17 points and Dave Stutzman 11 for Boyne City.

Charlevoix will be at Cheboygan Thursday and will host Kalkaska Dec. 20 to close out the 1982 section of their schedule.

Northmen freeze out JVs

The Charlevoix Rayder Junior Varsity fell victim to the Petoskey JVs by a score of 62-41 on the home floor Friday night.

The Charlevoix five took a 13-8 first period lead but lost it midway in the second period as Petoskey went ahead 26-24 at the halfway point in the game.

The visitors outscored the home team 19-9 for a third period advantage and 17-8 in the final period for the win.

Petoskey connected with 24 buckets from the floor and on 14 of 32 free throw attempts and allowed only 16 personal fouls.

The Rayders, on the other hand, had 28 personal fouls, scored only five of 16 free throw attempts and had 16 field goals.

Brent Cole paced the game for Charlevoix with 17 points.

Four Northmen were in double figures, Scott Luepnite with 15, Mark Hoffman with 12 and Jeff Johnson and Dave Harrington with 10 points each.

Charlevoix will be at Gaylord Tuesday. Cheboygan will be at Charlevoix Friday.

A League basketball

Undefeated Townhouse won over Depot Restaurant 64-59 and Ellsworth I.D.C. defeated Village Inn Pizza 73-62 in the A League of the Independent Basketball program.

After leading 12-10 at the end of the first period, Townhouse found itself trailing Depot Restaurant 31-25 at halftime and 46-44 before making a last period comeback to win by a 64-59 margin.

Rick Leslie had 19, Steve Dunkelberg 17 and Bud Klooster 14 points for Townhouse. Tom Eyers had 19, Al Looze 11 and Ted Byers 10 for Depot.

Ellsworth I.D.C. overcame a 12-11 first period deficit to head Village Inn Pizza 31-27 at halftime and 51-41 at the third period mark before winning by 11 points, 73-62.

Tex Drenth set the pace with 21 points followed by Brian Farrell with 20 and Jim Danbert with 16 for I.D.C. Jerry Skippergosh had 24 points and Vince Left 16 for V.I.P.

B League basketball

Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage continued to top the B League of Charlevoix Independent Basketball program, defeating Wojan Aluminum 63-51; Medusa edged Air Force 53-49 and Carlson Plumbing downed First State Bank 54-50 in action Wednesday night.

In the Carson-Charlevoix Garbage game, the team led Wojan's 19-10, 32-21 and 46-34 by quarters. For the victors Barney Way scored 19 points, Roger Crain 15, Mike Crain 12 and Dale Boss 11. For Wojan's Stan Martin had 14, Pete Phillips 12 and Don Ward 11.

Medusa trailed the Air Force 13-7 and 24-23 by quarters before taking over 37-35 going into the final period. Jim Parrish hit 20 points and Doug Winnell 10 for Medusa while Chris Claytor had 24 and Tony Starr 14 for the Air Force.

Carlson Plumbing headed First State Bank 16-15, 33-24 and 46-41 by quarters before chalking up the win. Randy Holecheck had 21 points and Bill Annon 13 for Carlson while Ike Boss had 21 for the bank.

Tie Breaker Game

JUDY'S RESTAURANT

Pick the number of points you believe will be scored in the tie-breaker game, and write it in the box.

RULES

1. Anyone can enter, except the employees of the paper and their families. Use the entry blank from the paper or make your own, following the same plan. A copy of the Charlevoix Courier will be available at the Courier office to anyone wishing to copy the list of names.

2. Weekly gift certificates will be awarded to the persons naming the most winners. All tie games are considered incorrect unless picked as ties on your entry blank. In case of a tie, persons guessing nearest correct score in the tiebreaker box will win. Insert what you think total score will be of the game in the tie breaker box.

3. Gift certificates are redeemable at any of the participating sponsors on this page only. Entries should be addressed to: Contest Editor, Charlevoix Courier and postmarked by not later than 5 p.m. Thursday night. Winners will be announced the following weeks.

4. On the entry form simply draw a circle around the number of the team you predict will win each of the games listed in each of the ads. Then, predict the total on the points "tie breaker" at the bottom of the entry form.

Matmen place 5th

The Charlevoix Rayder matmen placed fifth among the seven teams entered in the Manistee Catholic Central wrestling tournament Saturday.

Coach Greg Bryan said four of the seven Rayders entered in the tournament placed with Alan Bergmann taking a first, Rick Gallant and Scott Mervyn, seconds and Wayne Bergmann a third.

Bryan said his wrestlers are showing improvement each time they participate. He added that he was pleased with their performances in Saturday's meet.

Al Bergmann, wrestling in the 167 pound class, placed first with pins over Randy Rosted of Pine River in :56 and over Bob Renerewicz of Gaylord in 3:33.

Rick Gallant (132) pinned Dave Rapphun, Michigan Lutheran, in 5:37 and lost to Kierczynski, Gaylord, by a 4-2 decision.

Scott Mervyn (185) pinned Todd Holmes, Pine River, in 2:47 and lost by a pin to Rick Rettinger, Gaylord.

Wayne Bergmann (198) decisioned Jay Kowalkowski, Manistee Catholic 16-6, lost by a pin to Jeff Holmes, Pine River, pinned Dan Schmidt, Michigan Luteran in :35, and pinned Kowalkowski.

Other wrestlers entered were Shawn Hartnett who lost by a pin to Bill Kerr, Gaylord, in 3:02, won by a pin over Greg Schriecer, Roscommon, and lost by pin to Don Church, Pine River.

Geoff Reynolds (145) lost by pins to Bill Clark, Elk Rapids, and Chris Hansen, Gaylord.

Jeff Mervyn (heavyweight) lost by pins to Stan Oginski, Pine River and Aaron Edick.

The Charlevoix team will host Grayling Thursday and travel to the St. Ignace Invitational Saturday.

Team showing steady improvement

The Charlevoix Rayder grapplers are gaining ground with each outing despite giving up points in three weight classes.

On Thursday the Rayders lost to Onaway by a score of 51-28 after forfeiting points in the 98, 105 and 112 weight classes.

Theron Reibel won by forfeit in the 119 weight class; Rick Gallant (132) won by a pin in 5:27; Shawn Hartnett (138) won by an 11-3 decision; Geoff Raynolds lost by a pin in 1:43; Jeff Zednicek lost by a pin in 1:49; Alan Bergmann (167) won by a pin in 3:30; Scott Mervyn lost by a 9-5 decision; Wayne Bergmann (198) lost by a pin in 3:34 and Jeff Mervyn (heavyweight) lost by a pin in 1:15.

Charlevoix will host Grayling Thursday and participate in the St. Ignace Invitational tournament on Saturday.

Contest winners

The Courier Basketball Contest ended in a tie again this week with Jim Alger of Ferris State College in Big Rapids and Margaret Ladd of Wixom, MI both turning in entry blanks with one wrong guess.

They also both guessed 114 as the tie breaker which turned out to be 115.

Adult basketball scores

Depot Restaurant defeated Village Inn Pizza 66-54 in an overtime game and Boyne Auto dumped Ellsworth I.D.C. 96-75 in A League action in the City Recreation program Monday night.

Free throws by Craig Tompkins threw the Depot-V.I.P. game into overtime after the Village Inn Pizza team badied the Restauranteurs 19-13 at the quarter, 32-30 at the half and 44-42 going into the final period. Tompkins' free throws knotted the score 60-all.

In the overtime Depot restaurant outscored V.I.P. 8-4 for the victory.

Tom Byers led the scoring attack with 25 points. He was followed by Dean Hicks with 22 and Mark Guitar 10. Tompkins who had put the game into overtime had only six points. Woody Pearson had 24 points, Jerry Skippergosh 18 and Vince Left 15 for V.I.P.

In an offensive battle that saw Boyne Auto score 96 points to Ellsworth I.D.C.'s 75, Boyne Auto outscored their opponent 31-22, and 52-43 before going ahead 74-55 going into the final period when they poured in 22 points to Ellsworth 20 for the win.

Hal Price was top scorer with 27 points followed by Dale Tims with 15 and Rob Spencer with 12. Larry Taylor had 24, Jim Danbert 22 and Brian Farrell 13 for Ellsworth.

Letter at Adrian

Two area students recently received athletic letters at Adrian College in Adrian, Michigan.

Nanny's Old Place combines nostalgic decor with convenient, three-fold services

by ANNE KELLY

What's a "nanny" to you? A grandmother? A governess out of Mary Poppins? A warm person who likes young children?

To Mike Barnard, it's the memory of his grandmother. She was the type of person, he says, on whom everyone felt comfortable dropping in, whether for dinner or just for friendly conversation.

Mike, a native of East Jordan, and his wife Sue are the owners of Nanny's Old Place, a combination convenience store, restaurant-lounge and motel which opened its doors at the corner of Ferry Ave. and Stover Rd. last week.

The project was one of the first to benefit from the Charlevoix County Economic Development Corporation which approved $350,000 in development bonds one year ago. The City of Charlevoix also chipped in with a six-year tax relief program.

Nanny's Old Place is more than just a tribute to the memory of Barnard's grandmother; Mike hopes the establishment will bridge the gap between the area's high priced restaurants and the fast food outlets.

Barnard's three-fold enterprise consists of the "General Store" on ground level, the restaurant and lounge on the second floor and nine motel units on the third floor.

"Food, Spirits and Lodging" beckons the sign out front.

Nanny's exterior decor is based on a nautical theme and features simulated pilings, swagged lines and a giant porthole window overlooking Stover Road. The sound of rigging clanging against masts adds to the theme which could hardly be more appropriate given the location across the street from the Irish Boat Shop, Northwest Marine, Gleason Sailmakers and the Ferry Avenue Beach.

Come summer, Mike foresees the ground level store to be more than just a convenience store for boaters and beach visitors. There will be outdoor tables on the patio and a walk-up window for the come-as-you-are crowd. There will also be a full grocery selection and a well-stocked deli case.

For those planning to go boating or for a picnic in the park, Nanny's hopes to be able to provide lunch or dinner picnic baskets. Frozen steaks will be available for boaters heading out on a long cruise. For the kids, an ice cream parlor will feature such goodies as hot dogs and popcorn.

"We perceive this to be the new area of growth in Charlevoix," says Mike of his southeast side location, formerly occupied by railroad scrap, "We have here a non-congested area with as many or more boaters docking here than downtown."

The heart of Nanny's is the second floor restaurant.

Distinctive furnishings, effective lighting and rich oak tones create an atmosphere of warmth immediately evident.

Michael and Sue Barnard

The exterior of Nanny's Old Place.

Eventually the doors will boast oval, etched glass windows bearing the restaurant logo. The theme is out of the 1890s with a mixture of old and new and a liberal dose of originality. Especially impressive is the hand-hewn solid oak in the interior, nicely trimmed with a lot of polished brass.

"I don't think I am exagerating when I say that the bar we have here will be will be the finest and most beautiful in the State of Michigan," said Mike.

He and Sue have done much of the finishing work themselves.

"We could have used pine and stained it oak or taken other shortcuts," said Sue, "But Charlevoix is a quality town. People here appreciate quality."

"I want people to come here for the tenth time and notice something they never saw before," explained Mike who is a designer-engineer by trade.

The motel accomodations will not be completed until January or February. Particularly attractive to the ski set will be a sauna and hot tub. Some lake-side rooms will have "one of the best views of the lake in Charlevoix."

The Barnards feel confident that Nanny's Old Place will contribute to the economic growth of the area by employing from 25 to 40 people by summer.

The restaurant, which opened last Thursday night, features a moderately priced menu of quiches, crepes and nacho platters as well as sizzler steaks and, perhaps in the future, Saturday night prime rib. Prices range from $2.95 to $7.95.

Christmas gifts mass produced

Santa's workshop lives at Middle School

by ANNE KELLY

It all started, Middle School Industrial Arts teacher, Jerry Puhl, reported, when his sister sent the Puhl children a unique Christmas gift. The gift was money which each of the kids was to spend Christmas shopping for someone less fortunate than themselves.

That idea triggered a Christmas project for his industrial arts class at Middle School. Puhl's classes are currently winding up an experience in mass production which will turn out about 60 wooded games to be distributed to needy children in the area. Students will also be making one for themselves. The game is a hand crafted wooded "space probe" the object of which is to maneuver a large marble by means of opening and closing a dowel track upon which the marble is set. The further the marble is moved along the track and deposited in one of the holes in the board below, the better the score. It's a challanging game of dexterity and co-ordination designed to drive the most sophisticated player mad – or provide hours of fun for the younger set who don't take such things so seriously.

Whether Puhl's students learn to master the game or not, one thing is certain. They've learned the assembly line techniques of the beat of Santa's workshops - and a lesson in the spirit of Christmas as well.

Names In The News

Pvt. JAMES A. ARCHER, son of Dennis and Dorthy A. Archer of East Jordan, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Archer is a 1982 graduate of East Jordan High School.

HENRY REDDER, manager of the H & R Block office in Charlevoix, recently attended a 2-day meeting in Mt. Pleasant for all H & R Block managers in Michigan.

The content of the meeting focused on preparing the managers for the upcoming tax season. Ideas on coping with the recessionary economy of Michigan, the various recent tax law changes, and new client service programs were among the subjects covered.

Since June, Mr. Redder and his employees have been attending montly seminars on complex tax matters to prepare them to handle the varied tax situations with which the public needs assistance. The topics covered included 2210's, auto and travel expenses, Accelerated Cost Recovery, Michigan Single Business Tax, Net Operating Losses, Partnerships and tax changes.

Each year, these instructional meetings enable H & B Block managers to present to the public a uniform and superior service.

Obituaries

GEORGE CORK

George Cork, 78, native of Charlevoix and former Pontiac resident, died Dec. 11 at his retirement home in Sarasota, Fla., of an apparent heart attack.

Services will be Dec. 15 at 11 a.m. at the Romlane Funeral Home in Sarasota, Fla. Burial will be in a Sarasota cemetery.

Mr. Cork was born Feb. 22, 1904 in Charlevoix County. He grew up in Charlevoix County and left the area in approximately 1924.

Mr. Cork had resided in the Pontiac area for many years, working for Pontiac Motors. Following his retirement he moved to Sarasota, Fla. about eight years ago.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Donalda Robinson of Pontiac; three sons, Richard of Wayne, Orval of California and Vern of Pontiac; nine grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Eva Moulten of Mecosta, Mrs. Ida Brock of Charlevoix, Mrs. John (Jessie) Brock of East Jordan and Mrs. Don (Harriet) Wiard of Fort Wayne, Ind.; one brother, Lee Cork of Traverse City.

AN INSTANT FAMILY was created for Lee and Julie Arnold of Ironton with the recent birth to the couple of triplets at Northen Michigan Hospitals. Two boys and a girl, Adam, Alan and Amanda Arnold, weighed in at about three pounds each at birth but are reportedly doing fine and are expected to come home from the hospital in January. To help welcome the three new arrivals, Welcome Wagon hostess Marilyn Izor presented Mr. and Mrs. Arnold with a Santa's bag-full of gifts last week from area merchants. Included were a complete body care set from Mary Kay consultant Patty Sitzema, one gallon of paint for the nursery from Kit Carson Lumber, three boxes of diapers from Crown Drug Center, three pair of premie sleepers from Captains Kids, a tote bag from the Charlevoix Courier, a bouquet of red roses from the Sewing Corner, free photos of the triplets from Aartvark Studio, a haircut, shampoo and set from P.S. The Added Tooch, three childrens banks from Charlevoix Federal Credit Union, and a case of assorted baby food from Oleson's Market.

4-H to hold skating party at East Jordan

The Charlevoix County 4-H Council is sponsoring a 4-H skating party at the East Jordan Civic Center on Friday, December 17 from 7 to 9 p.m.

The cost is $2 a person without skates and $1 with skates. Each club participating is asked to bring some treats. Punch will be furnished by the 4-H Council.

The party is a repeat of last year's skating party which was very successful.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX COUNCIL MINUTES

PUBLIC NOTICE

The following City Ordinances were adopted by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix were [illegible] at a regular meeting held on December 6, 1982.

ORDINANCE #417

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS THAT THE CODE OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX BE AMENDED AS FOLLOWS:

TITLE V - ZONING AND PLANNING
CHAPTER 51 - ZONING

be amended by adding a new Section which Section shall be designated as Section 5.32 (9) (a) through (p), and read in its entirety as follows:

5.32. Use Regulations. Land and buildings in the R-1 Zone may be used for the following purposes only

(9) Mobile Home Use. No person shall use, occupy or permit the use or occupancy of a mobile home as a dwelling within the City, not designated as a mobile home park, unless:

(a) A permit for the placement thereof has been obtained from the Zoning Administrator. All applications for said permit shall be accompanied by a non-refundable fee as established by the City Council, which shall be used to defray the cost of inspection as provided in this Ordinance; and,

(b) Said mobile home, the placement thereof, and the premises upon which it shall be located shall meet all requirements of the City Zoning Ordinance relating to uses, size of premises, floor area, including those setback and side lot and rear lot requirements specified for the particular zoning district in which said premise is situated; and,

(c) Said mobile home shall comply in all respects with the Code of the City, including applicable use, land and building areas and heighth and width regulations. Where a dwelling is required by law to comply with any federal or state standards or regulations for construction and where such standards or regulations for construction are different that those imposed by the city or county building codes, than and in that event, the stricter of such standards or regulations shall apply. Further, should any of the provisions contained within this Ordinance be in conflict, then and in that event, the stricter of provisions shall apply.

(d) Said mobile home shall be connected to potable water and sanitary sewage disposal facilities approved by the health agency having jurisdiction. If public water and sanitary sewage disposal facilities is/are available to said premises, said mobile home shall be connected thereto; and,

(e) A mobile home shall be firmly attached to a permanent foundation constructed on the site in accordance with the applicable building code and shall have a wall of the same perimeter dimensions and constructed of such materials and type as required in the applicable building code for single-family dwellings. The mobile home shall, in addition thereto, be installed pursuant to the manufacturer's setup instructions and shall be secured to the premises by an anchoring system or device complying with the rules and regulations of the Michigan Mobile Home Commission.

(f) The dwelling complies with all pertinent building and fire codes. All construction, plumbing, electrical and mechanical apparatus, and insulation within and connected to said mobile home shall be of a type and quality conforming to the "Mobile Home Construction and Safety Standards" as promulgated by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, being 24 CFR 3280, and as from time to time such standards may be amended. Additionally, all dwellings shall meet or exceed all applicable roof snow load and strength requirements, and,

(g) If placed within a flood zone, said mobile home shall meet all requirements for construction of dwellings on-site within said zone; and,

(h) Each mobile home shall be installed with the wheels removed. Additionally, the underside or chassis of said mobile home shall be completely enclosed and connected to the foundation; and,

(i) The dwelling contains a storage area on a ground floor level or in a separate structure of standard construction similar to or of better quality than the principal dwelling. Such storage area shall be equal to 10% of the square footage of the dwelling or 100 square feet, whichever shall be less. Such separate structure shall otherwise conform in all other respects to all applicable standards and regulations of the Code of the City. In no event shall such storage space be less than six (6') feet in heighth; and,

(j) The dwelling is aesthetically compatible in design and appearance with other residences in the vicinity, with either a roof over-hang of not less than six inches on all sides, or alternatively with window sills and roof drainage systems concentrating roof drainage at collection points along the sides of the dwelling; has not less than two exterior doors each of which shall be located on different sides of the dwelling; and contains permanently attached steps connected to said exterior door areas or to permanent porches connected to said door areas where a difference in elevation requires the same, and,

(k) The dwelling contains no additions or rooms or other areas which are not constructed with similar quality workmanship as the original structure, including permanent attachment to the principal structure and construction of a foundation as required herein; and,

(l) All improvements, including such a separate structure as provided for in paragraph (i) above, shall be permanent in nature and, if structural, shall be permanently attached to the land or dwelling as appropriate.

(m) No person shall occupy any mobile home as a dwelling within the City until a certificate of approval shall be issued by the Building Official and Zoning Administrator, which permit shall indicate satisfactory compliance with all requirements of the City Zoning Ordinance and Building Code; and,

(n) The foregoing standards shall not apply to a mobile home located in a licensed mobile home park except to the extent required by state or federal law or as otherwise specifically required in Section 4.2 of this Ordinance; and,

(o) All construction required herein shall be commenced only after a building permit has been obtained in accordance with the applicable city building code provisions and requirements; and,

(p) The words, terms and phrases of this Ordinance shall be severable and if any part is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction said ruling or judgement shall not effect the remaining provisions of this Ordinance.

IMMEDIATE EFFECT. This Mobile Home Use provision shall be given immediate effect for the reason that the City does not presently provide for the placement of mobile homes outside of Residential Mobile Home Parks.

ORDINANCE #418

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS THAT THE CODE OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX BE AMENDED AS FOLLOWS:

TITLE V - ZONING AND PLANNING
CHAPTER 51 - ZONING

Section 5.187, entitled Mobile Homes shall be amended by adding to paragraph (1) of said Section the following language

... and EXCEPTING as otherwise provided in Section 5.32 of this Chapter

so that Section 5.187 (1) shall read in its entirety as follows

5.187

(1) No mobile home shall be occupied as a dwelling unit within the City except when such mobile home is located in a licensed and approved mobile home park and EXCEPTING as otherwise provided in Section 5.32 of this Chapter.

Section 5.187, entitled Mobile Homes shall be amended by adding to paragraph (3) of said Section the following language

.... or dwelling in any zoned district unless otherwise provided for specifically in any such zoned District

so that Section 5.187 (3) shall read in its entirety as follows

5.187

(3) It shall be unlawful to use or permit to be used, any automobile trailer, camper, mobile home, travel trailer or house trailer as an office, place of business, profession or dwelling in any zoned district unless otherwise provided for specifically in any such zoned District.

This Ordinance is given immediate effect for the reason that the mobile home provisions of the Code have been amended effective on the date hereof, which necessitates giving this amendment immediate effect in order to maintain consistency of the regulatory provisions contained in this chapter

ORDINANCE #419

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS THAT THE CODE OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX BE AMENDED AS FOLLOWS.

TITLE V - ZONING AND PLANNING
CHAPTER 51 - ZONING

be amended by adding a new Section, which Section shall be designated as Section 5.36, entitled Minimum Width and read as follows:

5.36. Minimum Width. Each single family dwelling shall have a minimum width across any front, side or rear elevation of twenty (20') feet.

This Ordinance is given immediate effect for the reason that the mobile home provisions of the Code have been amended effective on the date hereof, which necessitates giving this amendment immediate effect in order to maintain consistency of the regulatory provisions contained in this chapter.

Beth McGraw opens [illegible] eyes to the art all [illegible] them

by ANNE KELLY

Beth McGraw, elementary art instructor is an artist in her own right who feels that the arts in the curriculum are tremendously important. For children on the elementary level, art is both a form of expression and an exposure to media.

"Think of it," she [illegible] philosophized, [illegible] art every day of [illegible] lives. It's all [illegible] art." [illegible] she observed that is found in our [illegible] clothing, [illegible] decorate our homes, [illegible] things with which we surround ourselves.

"Art is such a broad term." By this, Beth explained, there is a [illegible] annual Dow-Corning Christmas Card Design Contest. Her 1st place Nativity scene constructed with [illegible], nails, bolts, wire and twine, was chosen by the [illegible] when Beth was in 10th grade at Midland High School. This and her "Best of Show" [illegible] done in the [illegible] technique of [illegible], designed as a [illegible] grader, were both chosen to be printed as the official corporation Christmas card distributed internationally by Dow-Corning.

[illegible]

Beth, convinced of the importance of a comprehensive art program on all levels in the curriculum, shared this quotation in closing. It seemed to summarize her involvement in the fine arts:

"The three R's provide the knowledge to survive. The arts make survival [illegible]."

Beth McGraw

This Nativity scene, crafted from hardware pieces, was one of two designs by Beth McGraw to be featured on the Dow [illegible] card.

Big Brothers-Sisters to [illegible] means of funding [illegible]

by ANNE KELLY

Strapped by recent funding cuts, local Big Brothers-Big Sisters officials and supporters plan to find additional ways to keep their program going. Funds for the organization have traditionally been gleaned from a combination of Juvenile Justice Funds, United Way Funds, small donations and fund raising. Monies redirected to the Dept. of Social Services put Big Brothers-Big Sisters $6500 dollars short of their budget needs this year.

"We're trying to take a positive approach to the problem," reports Jim Marshall, executive director of Big Brothers-Big Sisters. "We will propose a new budget for the coming year, which will provide for the acquisition of fund raising equipment and supplies. We will also go back to the County Board of Commissioners and ask them to consider allowing us to withdraw money from the contingency fund."

Marshall has hopes that this "seed" money will allow them to construct a portable booth-kitchen to be used in fund raising during the various festivals in and around Charlevoix County.

Another plan is to participate in the Glenn's Market "Save-Share" program. The annual Christmas Tree project was unable to fly due to lack of a suitable location. Marshall, in the name of Big Brothers-Big Sisters, is calling for community support for a program which he feels is most beneficial to the area.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters operated on a one to one basis, matching volunteers [illegible] who need the [illegible] and guidance of interested adults.

Gifts may be [illegible] sent to Jim Marshall, [illegible] Box 192, Charlevoix. [illegible]

School board honors cross country team, awards snow plowing bid

by FRAN MARTIN

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at its December 6 meeting approved a resolution commending the Charlevoix Rayder Cross Country team and its coach, Pete Spiolan, for winning the State Class C Cross Country title, named a volleyball coach, accepted a bid for snow plowing, approved a trip for third grade students and set substitute teacher's pay scale for the school year.

Members of the Cross Country team and their perspective parents attended the meeting to hear the board approve the resolution recognizing the team's efforts. Each team member and Coach Spiolan were then presented with a copy of the resolution.

Earlier the board members had hosted the team and the parents at a pizza supper in the high school cafeteria.

Wally Drenth, a Central Michigan graduate, was named volleyball coach for the 1983 season. He succeeds Mrs. Mary Lieberman in the position. Mrs. Lieberman had advised the administration earlier she would not be a candidate for the position.

Gordon Crandell was awarded the bid for snowplowing during the 1982-83 school year. His bid was for $19.50 per hour for plowing with a truck and $25 an hour for the use of a loader. Crandell's bid was the lowest of those received.

Permission was granted the third grade for a two-day trip to the Environmental [illegible] at the Beaver Island Lighthouse owned by the Charlevoix School District. Approximately 100 students are expected to make the trip. A fund-raising project has been initiated to underwrite the cost of the trip next May.

The per diem pay for substitute teachers in the Charlevoix Schools was set at $35 in the Charlevoix Schools, an increase from $30 which had been in effect for several years. It was explained the increase was comparable to that paid in other area schools.

Supt. Gordon W. VanWieren advised that there was nothing new to report on the Chicago Club tax appeal. He added that he would return with a report as soon as there was any action in the case.

Among the bills approved during the business session was $10,900 for tuition for 17 high school students who attended technical training classes at the Petoskey high School in a daily two-hour block of classes.

Vane H. Smith, high school principal, advised that approximately 32 per cent of the high school student body would be involved in winter sports programs offered at the school. These include varsity, junior varsity and freshman basketball, wrestling, girls' volleyball and skiing.

The next meeting is scheduled for December 20.

Deputies commended by sheriff

Two members of the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department received letters of commendation from Sheriff George Lasater last week.

Deputy Sheriff Roger Moses and Posse Member Richard Baker were cited for their assistance in apprehending a fleeing felon from Grand Traverse County on November 12.

"Your actions and 'cool headed' handling of the situation not only apprehended the felon, without injury to anyone in the chase, but your actions on the open highway kept the armed felon from entering the congested area of the City of Charlevoix, which could have resulted in possible injury to private citizens," Lasater wrote.

The 27-year-old prison parolee was apprehended near Atwood after a 30-mile chase from Traverse City, where he allegedly held up a party store at knife point.

The letters of commendation were presented to Moses and Baker before members of the County Board at the Board's semi-monthly meeting.

Payback set for fraud cases

There are not many cases of fraudulent use of food stamps in Charlevoix County, but the few there are are handled by the County Prosecutor.

Now, under a contract with the Department of Social Services and the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan, the County will be re-imbursed on a set basis for the time spent by the Prosecutor in pursuing food stamp cases.

Charlevoix County Prosecutor Scott Beatty explained the arrangement to the Board of Commissioners last week prior to presenting the contract for signature by the Board chairman.

Webb is new custodian

Michael Webb, who has been assistant custodian of the County Building and County Building Annex for five and a half years, will succeed Harry Potter as chief custodian at the end of January.

The appointment was made by the County Board of Commissioners last week. Another custodian, Debra Martinchek, will be promoted to Webb's former position.

Potter is resigning his position after over 16 years on the job.

Winner named in VFW "Voice of Democracy" essay contest

Diane Stilwell, Charlevoix High School sophomore, was named the winner of the recent Voice of Democracy essay contest sponsored by the V.F.W. Auxiliary Mrs. Ivan Phillips, contest chairperson, has announced.

The subject of the essay contest was "Youth...America's Strength".

Diane will be presented with a $50 Savings Bond by the local auxiliary and her essay entered in the district contest. Winners in the contest on state and national levels will receive scholarships totaling $32,500 with the first place winner receiving a $14,000 scholarship.

The local auxiliary expresses its appreciation to all those who assisted in the project including stations WVOY and KHQ for taping the essay, to the school for use of its equipment and to Glenda Ferguson of the counsellor's staff, for her assistance.

A Public Hearing was held regarding three (3) proposed amendments to the City Zoning Ordinance which would provide for mobile home use in the City and would establish the conditions under which such use would be allowable.

Moved by Councilman Block and supported by Councilman Olach to establish a $10.00 zoning inspection fee for mobile homes and to approve the following three (3) amendments to the City Zoning Ordinance.

(See Ordinance Nos. 417, 418, and 419 published elsewhere in this edition of the Courier.)

Motion to set a zoning inspection fee and Ordinance Nos. 417, 418, and 419 were adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: None. Absent: None.

A Public Hearing was held regarding a proposed amendment to the City Administration Ordinance which would reapportion the City wards. The City Clerk stated that the Council is required to reapportion the wards following each decennial census in order to maintain wards as nearly of equal population as is practicable and contiguous and compact. The Clerk further stated that Council had formulated the proposed reapportionment plan at the Committee of the Whole meeting on October 11, 1982. Council discussed their proposed plan as well as an alternate plan as submitted by Paul Burlew. Council generally agreed to retain their original plan.

The following Ordinance was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Block.

(See Ordinance No. 420 published elsewhere in this edition of the Courier.)

Ordinance was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council adjourned to the Board of Appeals.

Following the Board of Appeals meeting, roll call of the Council was again taken with all members being present.

Council discussed the City Manager's recommendation for construction of a new plant to treat Lake Michigan water as the preferred long range alternative in solving the City's water quality problem. Several members of the General Public present participated in the discussion and expressed concern regarding the cost of the facility and its effect on City water rates. The City Manager stated that Council must reach agreement on a long term alternative before he can proceed with grant funding requests for a portion of the project cost. He further stated that he felt the funding requests may have the best chance of being received favorably at this time.

Moved by Councilwoman Roloff and supported by Councilman Porter that construction of a new plant to treat Lake Michigan water be selected as the preferred long range solution to the City's water quality problem and that the City Manager be authorized to file an amendment to the City's outstanding grant application to the Small Cities program, increasing the amount of construction funds being sought from $380,000 to $500,000.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Porter and supported by Councilman Timms to award the preliminary engineering design contract for construction of a new City water treatment plant to the firm of McNamee, Porter, and Seelye at a cost of $9,500.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Tom Ouka, a member of the General Public Present, having earlier indicated he had significant input to contribute regarding the City's water problem, was invited to speak by majority consent of the Council. Mr. Ouka stated that the City's first and foremost problem is removal of the Trichloroethylene (TCE) from the present water supply. He further stated that the present water source would still be the safest option if the TCE were taken out and the output of the existing flume were increased which could be accomplished for approximately $150,000.

No action was taken on a proposed resolution to increase water rates or a proposed resolution authorizing an Electric Fund loan to the Water Fund.

Dave Rommelmann of Granger Engineering presented a report regarding possible short term measures to correct the City's water quality problem. Council generally agreed to proceed with aeration of the present water supply as a means of removing the TCE as recommended by Mr. Rommelmann and the City Manager.

Moved by Councilman Olach and supported by Councilman Porter to approve a Site Plan as presented by J & K Enterprises for a video game arcade in the Market Mall as recommended by the City Planning Commission, subject to the following conditions:

1. Arcade hours will be 3:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. on Monday through Thursday, 3:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. on Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. on Saturday, and 1:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Sunday during the school year.
2. No smoking or loitering in or near the arcade.
3. School age students will not be allowed on the premises during school hours.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: Councilwoman Roloff. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Block and supported by Councilman Olach that Jeff VanTreese be appointed as City Attorney under the terms of the Draft Agreement presented on this date and that he be allowed 180 days to move into the City.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: None. Absent: None.

A request submitted by the City Planning Commission for the Council to appoint a Historical Survey Committee was referred back to the Planning Commission for their appointment of the Committee.

Moved by Councilman Block and supported by Councilman Wood to award the auditing contract for the City's 1982-83 fiscal audit to the firm of Hill, Woodcock, and Distel at a cost of $11,800.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timms, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: Councilmembers Porter and Roloff. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Olach that the following rates be adopted for the Mt. McSauba Ski Hill for the 1982-83 season.

(See 1982-83 Mt. McSauba Ski Hill rates published elsewhere in this edition of the Courier.)

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timms, Block, Olach, and Mayor Staley. Nays: Councilmembers Porter, Roloff, and Wood. Absent: None.

Arch Wright of Charlevoix Development Company asked Council to recind their November 15, 1982 denial of a height variance request for the Weathervane Terrace Expansion Project. The City Manager and the City Attorney advised Council that they could not act on the request without notifying the surrounding property owners and that any decision to reconsider the variance must be made by the Board of Appeals.

Council adjourned to the Board of Appeals.

Following the Board of Appeals meeting, roll call of the Council was again taken with all members being present.

Moved by Councilman Wood and supported by Councilman Block to approve a $500 donation to the Charlevoix Merchant's Association for City Christmas decorations.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood and Block. Nays: Councilman Olach. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Porter to approve the use of the following City facilities for an international Model T Club tour on July 20, 1983: (1) use of Ferry Beach for a Lion-sponsored noon meal, (2) reserved parking at the Beach for 50-100 cars, (3) 60-75 reserved parking spaces downtown.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, and Block. Nays: Councilman Olach. Absent: None.

Council authorized the payment of bills totaling $237,494.49.

Council adjourned.

Board of Appeals
December 6, 1982

The Board of Appeals convened with Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach present. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilman Timms and supported by Councilman Porter to approve a variance as requested by Joseph Vogelheim to reduce the minimum lot width requirement of his property at 202 Carpenter Street from 70 feet to 50 feet to allow possible installation of a mobile home.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block, and Olach. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The Board of Appeals adjourned.

Board of Appeals
December 6, 1982

The Board of Appeals convened with Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block and Olach present. Absent: None.

Moved by Councilwoman Roloff and supported by Councilman Timms to allow Board of Appeals reconsideration of a height variance for the Weathervane Terrace Motel Expansion Project on January 3, 1983 and that applicant be required to pay the standard $75.00 variance fee to cover administrative costs of such reconsideration.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Porter, Timms, Roloff, Wood, Block and Olach. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Beaver Island gets a bank

by FRAN MARTIN

The First State Bank of Charlevoix is opening a banking facility at St. James, Beaver Island, a first for the historic island located in northern Lake Michigan.

The facility, to be located at 225 Main Street in the heart of the island's business district, will be open one day each week during the winter months and five days a week during the summer season when the population increases from its present 300 to more than 1,000. Most major banking services will be available at the location which will be staffed by a representative from the First State Bank on the mainland.

The new facility will be introduced to island residents at an open house at 225 Main Street from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday, December 18. Louis J. Hollow, president of the First State Bank and members of his staff will be present at that time to greet island residents, all of whom are invited to attend the opening to meet bank personnel and enjoy the refreshments that will be served.

Island residents have expressed pleasure at having the new service available to them. Business people, especially, are happy because it will offer a cash flow never available before to them.

Barbara Beckers, owner of the Shamrock on the island for the past 10 years said "You can't image what it's like to be without a banking service as we've been over here. There has been no way of getting checks cashed or replenishing your supply of cash on hand, especially in small bills or change, necessities in most businesses where cash changes hands in a transaction. The lack of cash flow has been a problem for all of us. The new facility should remedy that."

The owner of another island business operation who did not wish to be named, said "It's the greatest thing for all the people that's happened over here in a long time."

Another resident, Archie LaFreniere, said "We've waited a long time for this. Traveling to the mainland to transact banking business creates a hardship for everyone. Having this service available is going to mean a great deal to all of us, even if it's just to cash a check."

Though Beaver Island has been a major link in Great Lakes navigation since the first French explorers traveled west through the inland waterway, no one ever saw fit to open a banking institution on the island which, at one time, was a part of Emmet County in the early days when Michigan became a state in 1837. Not even when James Jesse Strang, a state legislator from the late 1840's until his assassination in 1856, organized the island archipelago into Manitou County and proclaimed it his kingdom and himself as its king or even later when the Beaver group became a part of Charlevoix County in 1895 was a local banking service made available to the residents of the island until now.

"We at the First State Bank of Charlevoix are happy that we can offer this 'first' to our friends on Beaver Island" Mr. Hollow said in announcing the opening of the banking facility at St. James.

To discuss conditioning for skiing

"Get in shape to ski. Don't ski to get in shape."

That will be the message of a free film, "Flight without Wings" and discussions to be presented at Charlevoix Area Hospital, Thursday, December 16 at 7 p.m.

Skiing - the how to's on conditioning, safety and dealing with injuries on the slopes - will be the focus of the film and talks led by Dr. Robert Mansfield, Charlevoix Area Hospital Staff physician, who is especially interested in sports medicine, and Mike Bonnello, R.N., an expert skier and ski coach.

An exciting film highlighting both downhill and cross country skiing, "Flight Without Wings" offers tips on equipment safety and personal conditioning as well as advice on safe skiing techniques. It was produced by the National Ski Patrol and Aetna Insurance Company.

Dr. Mansfield will demonstrate methods of dealing with skiing injuries at the time they happen, including how to immobilize joint injuries.

Mike Bonnello will discuss and demonstrate techniques for conditioning before and during the skiing season.

The free evening session is sponsored by the Charlevoix Area Hospital Community Education Committee. It will be held in the lower level classrooms of the Lake Michigan wing.

Director of In-Service training at the hospital, Michelle Bonneville who acquired the film for this presentation, emphasized that proper conditioning and knowledge of skiing safety can help ensure a long and enjoyable skiing season.

TCE search definitely still on

by DAVE KNIGHT

Despite recent reports to the contrary, the search for the source of trichloroethylene (TCE) in Charlevoix city water has not been abandoned.

"No way have we given up," said Department of Natural Resources hydrogeologist T. Eftaxiadis last week. He pointed out that even though the city has shifted its attention from the search to finding alternative water supplies, efforts will continue to locate the source of contamination.

In fact, with the announcement Monday of Charlevoix's inclusion on the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency "Superfund" list, there is a good chance that the ongoing investigation will be awarded new federal funds according to Eftaxiadis.

Both Charlevoix and Petoskey are included in the list of 46 Michigan sites identified by the EPA as having critical toxic contamination problems. In Charlevoix's case, the money provided by the Superfund could be used for studies on and cleanup of groundwater supplies but not for replacement of the municipal water system.

Charlevoix's TCE contamination, according to Eftaxiadis, has been an especially perplexing problem.

"In other cities where I have worked with the TCE problem, the source has been found with a quarter of the effort we have devoted in Charlevoix," said Eftaxiadis who has coordinated the TCE search.

Data from 13 test wells that have been drilled since last summer has helped define the groundwater flow in Charlevoix's underground aquifers but has not as yet yielded any firm clues as to where the TCE originates.

An industrial degreaser and suspected carcinogen, TCE has not been found in abnormally high levels at any of the sites first suspected because of former industrial uses.

In his proposal to the EPA for a second phase of testing, Eftaxiadis is seeking to drill more wells at deeper levels, take more soil samples and conduct a magnetic survey which might reveal the presence of buried drums.

"From our test well data, it appears we are dealing with two different plumes of different contaminants," said Eftaxiadis, "The one with TCE seems to flow toward the municipal well and another with tetrachloroethylene (PERC) flows toward the DNR Great Lakes Fishery Station."

PERC is also a chemical commonly associated with industrial use and is also a suspected carcinogen. Although levels of over 300 parts per billion (ppb) have been detected at the test well at Hurlbut and State St., no PERC has shown up in the city water supply.

Eftaxiadis' concern that the search for the TCE source continue is also heightened, he said, by the most recent TCE levels reported in city water which, at 49 ppb earlier this month, indicate that levels are rising again. Data taken over the past year point to an annual cycle that sees an increase in TCE levels this time of year and a decrease when the groundwater is recharged in the spring.

Fishery program to be expanded at DNR station

by DAVE KNIGHT

Five additional staff members and an expanded research program scheduled to be implemented by this spring at the Department of Natural Resources' Charlevoix Fisheries Station will make the station the hub of Great Lakes fishery research, according to station director Myrl Keller.

Keller recently won budgetary approval for the program expansion from the DNR's Fishery Division in Lansing.

Charlevoix's research station, located on the Pine River Channel just off the south pierhead, will conduct sophisticated data collection and assessment on both commercial and sport fishing stocks in Lakes Michigan, Huron and parts of Superior.

Because of the highly technical nature of the data processing, at least three of the new employees to be joining Keller's present staff of eight will have both biology backgrounds and analytic capabilities.

The station uses an Apple computer to store collected data and construct computer modeled assessments of fishing stocks. The computer also gives the local station the capability to tie into data banks at both the DNR's Lansing headquarters and the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

"With our research vessel, the Steelhead, we've always had a good means of collecting data," said Keller, "What I have asked for is more help in analyzing and assessing the data."

The station, said Keller, will now be more closely aligned with the DNR's Research Division and will provide research findings to other states, as well including Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and the Canadian province of Ontario.

Only two other smaller fishery research stations serve the Great Lakes region, one in Mt. Clemens for Lakes Erie and St. Clair and one in Marquette for western Lake Superior.

According to Keller, the expanded program planned for Charlevoix puts the local facility in a good position for even more utililization such as fellowship work by Masters and Doctoral university students.

"This is an excellent place for serious fishery research majors to work because they get a good look at what the profession is like and we get a good look at potential future prospects," said Keller.

New generator, diesel fuel race winter's wrath to power hungry Beaver Island

by FRAN MARTIN

When a marine accident damaged the Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative power supply to the residents of Beaver Island last week, there was great concern as to how the more than 300 island residents would fare during the coming winter months.

However, they were assured that their power needs would be met when Electric Cooperative officials announced late Monday that a sixth generator, a 350 kilowatt diesel generator, would be shipped to the island via barge from Port Inland on the southern shore of the Upper Peninsula.

Ray Towne, acting manager of the cooperative, said that the generator, which was purchased in Peoria, Illinois, had been converted from three-phase to single phase operation and had been successfully tested at the plant there Monday. It is to be trucked to to Port Inland Wednesday for shipment to Beaver Island. The generator was taken to Port Inland where equipment was available to hoist the generator aboard the barge for transfer to Beaver Island located 32 miles northwest of Charlevoix in Lake Michigan.

Fuel to power the new generator as well as the five single phase generators which were rushed into operation following the accident on December 13 has also had to be transported to the island. A shipment of 7,100 gallons of diesel fuel was taken to the island last weekend.

Added to some fuel that was in reserve on the island plus another shipment to be transported Wednesday, an estimated 30,000 gallons will be on hand which, said Towne, should be enough to get the island through the winter.

In discussing the situation late Monday, Towne said, "If ever a late winter was welcome, this one has been. It has cut down on fuel consumption and will help us greatly to assure the island residents an ample power supply for the months ahead."

He added that the new generator, weather permitting, should be on the island before the week is out.

The accident which caused the power outage occurred at approximately 5:30 p.m. Monday, December 13, when a tug lost a tow in the Grays Reef passage northwest of Beaver Island. The tow was recovered east of where it was lost near Ile Aux Galets (Skillaglee).

Apparently, in retrieving the tow, a line or chain damaged the Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative cable which carries power over a distance of 23.9 miles from Cross Village to Beaver Island.

The cable lays on the lake floor in depths that range from 30 to 150 feet. Dick Chappell, Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative engineer in charge of transmissions, said that that the chain or cable apparently damaged the outer covering of the power line creating a voltage stress which resulted in a complete loss of power.

Jewell Gillespie, who is in charge of the company's operation on the island, said that the outage lasted approximately an hour and that by 2 a.m. Tuesday everyone was back on line.

When the outage occurred, the five emergency generators located on the island were pressed into operation and will continue to supply power for the island until spring when the damage will be repaired. The sixth generator, now enroute to the island, will assure the island residents of ample power for the winter months.

Chappell said on the day following the accident that no attempt to repair the cable would be made this fall. "It is late in the season, the weather is unpredictable and it is not feasible to attempt to find the damaged area and repair it at this time. We will begin work as soon as possible in the spring."

At the present time, the name of the tug that damaged the cable or its owner has not been made known.

Results announced in Chamber of Commerce board balloting

Four directors have been named to the Board of Directors of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce by the membership Jacquie Merta, executive director of the chamber, has announced.

They are Josh Barnes of the Lexalite Corporation, John Frey, Marion Township farmer, Dr. David Strawbridge, local dentist, and Michael A. Greeley, co-owner of the Wharfside Market who were elected to three year terms. Greeley who had been named to fill an unexpired term will now serve a full three year term.

The four succeed George Richardson, James McGarry, Philip Loomis and Greeley, who, as mentioned, was filling an unexpired term.

The new members will be installed at the first meeting of 1983 scheduled for January 11.

Other members of the Board of Directors are Peter Pace, Roy C. Hayes, Jeannine Wallace, James Mabee, David Knight, Linda Mason, Suzi Reis and Dr. James Stewart.

Charlevoix Yesterday

Back in the days of little winter traffic and a slower holiday pace, the City of Charlevoix placed its Christmas tree in the street at the intersection of Bridge and Clinton Streets. The three-story building in the background housed the old Central Drug Store. It was built in 1897 and replaced by the present Central Drug Store building in the 1960's.

Board hears clerks' report on zoning, taxes in county

Charlevoix Township is the only township in the County that does not have any property zoned commercial.

Charlevoix and Bay Townships are the only townships that do not have any property zoned Timber Cutover.

Hudson and Bay Townships are the only townships that do not have any property zoned Industrial.

At $1,087,707.97, Charlevoix Township raised the third largest amount of any township in property taxes in 1982.

However, when Industrial Facility and Commercial Facility taxes of $323,944.64 are added to that, Charlevoix Township raised the largest amount of taxes of any township.

At $2,462,519.34, the City of Charlevoix raised the largest amount of property taxes of any political unit in the County in 1982. The city also raised $14,180.57 in Industrial Facility and Commercial Facility taxes.

Altogether, $15,220,549.98 in property taxes was raised in the County, along with $406,835.73 in Industrial Facility and Commercial Facility taxes.

The State Equalized Valuation of property in the County in 1982 was $367,664,946.

The above figures are contained in the 1982 Township and City Clerks Report prepared by the County Equalization Department.

The next meeting of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners – and the last meeting of the year – will be held on Thursday afternoon, December 23, beginning at 2 p.m.

This will take the place of the Board's evening meeting, which is usually held on the fourth Wednesday of each month.

The meeting will also be the last one for the 15-man Board of Commissioners, which will be cut to six in January.

No more buses to church

Experimental use of a County Transit System bus to transport residents to and from Sunday services at three churches in Charlevoix has been discontinued.

For several weeks, Charlevoix resident Jim Ehrcke, a Transit System bus driver, has donated his time to drive the church-goers back and forth.

Last week, the County Commission on Aging, which supervises the Transit System, decided that using buses in this manner was not in the best interests of the people of the County.

It was pointed out that if such services are provided for some churches, they should be provided for all, and if they are provided in one city of the County, they should be provided in all cities.

Also, although there was no cost to the County for the bus driver, there was a cost for gas, oil, and depreciation which was far from covered by the fares paid.

Window winners named

Winners in the window decorating contest sponsored by the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce have been announced by Jacquie Merta, executive director.

The overall winner which will receive the traveling trophy was the Charlevoix County State Bank and its branch office.

Winners in the various categories are as follows: Hard goods, Bartlett's Decorating Center 1st, Bridge St. Hardware 2nd; Gift Shops, Greenleaf Country Gardens 1st, Shop of the Gulls 2nd; Soft goods, Metliers on Bay 1st, Bahnhof 2nd; Services, Weathervane Terrace Hotel 1st, Fireside Inn 2nd.

Knight on the Town

A Charlevoix Christmas story

by Dave Knight

"Michigan!?"

Arthur Fenway's snow white hair glistened in the Caribbean sun as he raised his head with a jerk from the deck chair. Gentle waves lapped against the hull of his yacht and all 65 feet of the classic ketch swayed lazily in the turquoise waters.

"Build the new plant in Michigan? You must be crazy! I'd sooner build in Poland. Work attendance is improving rapidly there I'm told."

Thank you, sir. That is precisely the reaction I expected." Lloyd Siebert, vice president of planning and development for Fentronics, Inc., proceeded with the script he had rehearsed well the night before.

Fentronics has always prided itself in running independently from the pack. Doing the unexpected. Taking the innovative, daring approach. When our competition was first reading about printed circuits in Popular Science, who had them in the marketplace? While the networks were laughing at pay television, who had decoder boxes ready to ship?

The way I see it, sir, the logical, routine thing for Fentronics to do is build its new video games plant in Tennessee or the Carolinas. That's what every other high tech firm would do, especially with the payroll of 350 we anticipate. But there is a good argument for Fentronics to consider doing just the opposite."

Fenway slouched back into the deck chair. Siebert continued before the old man could object.

"Obviously Michigan's present business climate is a bit chilly at present what with the outrageous business taxes, workers compensation and all the other factors of which I am sure you are well aware. But I see the situation in Michigan as being extremely volatile right now. Those people are in a bloody depression and, being good Americans, they aren't going to take it much longer."

The boss, knew Siebert, was a soft touch for anything to do with good Americans.

"I see some rapid and significant changes on the horizon that could make a move to Michigan one of the smartest things we've ever done. Yes, we will have to absorb two, maybe three difficult years. But when the dam breaks and the Midwest gets hot again, we'll be there - on line - while the others are stuck in Georgia and Houston wishing they had never moved."

Fenway grunted. He really disliked talking business on his boat.

From the sound of this commercial, I gather you have a site all picked out."

Well, sir. I have taken the liberty to screen some possibilities and I think I've come up with a location you'll like very much indeed."

Siebert pressed on toward the denoument.

I was having a drink in the yacht club with a chap who has done some extensive cruising of the Great Lakes. One of the ports he raved about was a little town in Northern Michigan called Charlevoix. The comment of his that stuck in my mind was something to the effect that he wished he had a good excuse to expand his tool and die business there.

"I did some further checking and found out some more interesting things about the community. It's hungry. People are out of work and benefits are running out. They are grooming a nice industrial park, however, and are anxious to make an attractive offer. Physically, it's a gem. Lovely stores, good schools, lots of churches, a top-notch newspaper and - please note - some of the finest sailing conditions and accomodations on the Great Lakes."

There was a pause.

"Do they race?"

"Every Wednesday night."

Another pause.

"Okay, Siebert. I'll go along with your recommendation. But you'd best move quickly before I come to my senses and change my mind."

Siebert took a deep breath. Almost home.

"Sir, there is one small detail we must deal with. Under the Charlevoix zoning laws, the site plan we have in mind for the new plant will need a setback variance. We've tried every configuration possible but can't avoid it. What's more, their city council is known to be rather intransigent in these matters."

"I assume you have a strategy," said Fenway.

"Yes, sir, but I need some extraordinary involvement on your part. And in a short hurry."

"Go on," said Fenway cautiously.

"Today is December 22. I have requested an emergency meeting of the Charlevoix City Council for Friday night to take up our variance application."

"But that's Christmas Eve!"

"I am fully aware of that, sir. Don't think it was not difficult to persuade the council members to agree to the meeting. But, as I said, the community is hungry and the prospect of 350 new jobs is no small consideration."

"Okay, Lloyd. So far the whole thing makes little sense but tell me your plan."

Mumbling and grumbling, the council members shuffled through the floor plans, blueprints, architectural renderings and data sheets before them. City hall was the last place any of them wanted to be on Christmas Eve. Why, they thought collectively, did this slickered, three-piece-suited big shot have to have such an immediate answer.

Their surliness was evident to Siebert as the discussion began.

"Here we go again," said one council member. "Another variance. Why in the world do we have a zoning ordinance if we are always granting variances?"

"I agree," said another, "If Fentronics, Inc. is so anxious to build here, I would think they coold build within our requirements."

It became evident within minutes that the consensus on the council was to disapprove the request and go home where they belonged.

Siebert rose.

"Gentlemen, I have made special arrangements for the president of Fentronics, Inc. to appear before you tonight and he should be here shortly. Please just bear with me for just a moment."

"Mr. Siebert," said a council member, "I don't think there is anything your president or anyone else can do to change our minds. We want the jobs but we have an ordinance to uphold and that's that."

"Wait a minute," said Siebert, "Here he comes now. Gentlemen; may I present my superior, Mr. Arthur Fenway."

Fenway walked into the council chambers and a hush descended.

He wore a business suit that was bright, cherry red. His normally trim waist-line had been grossly supplemented by some ample padding that made him almost have to waddle. Smoke from a gnarled pipe curled around his white-maned head. The make-up people had also done an amazing job on the bushy, full, white beard that nearly covered his chest. Delicate wire-rimmed spectacles sat on his nose but did not hide the twinkle in his eyes, which the make-up people had had nothing to do with.

He stepped to the podium and spoke with a deep, kindly voice.

"I understand we have a problem. I'd like to clear it up because I've got some other business to attend to this evening."

The council stared. They looked at each other. They stared again.

"I suppose we could reconsider," said one rather sheepishly as if he really did not know why he now felt differently.

Other heads along the council table gradually began to nod and before they knew it, they had passed a resolotion paving the way for the new Fentronics, Inc. Charlevoix plant.

"Ho, ho, ho," laughed Fenway as he and Lloyd Siebert prepared to leave, "Good night, my friends, thank you for your indulgence and a very merry Christmas to you all!"

And with that he was gone.

Letters: Hospital, students

Thanks for support

To the Supporters of Charlevoix Area Hospital:

The employees of Charlevoix Area Hospital would like to thank everyone for their attendance and support at our 5th Annual Luncheon and Bake Sale.

Through your generosity we were able to raise over $2,200.00 which is being used to purchase cribs for our Prediatric Department.

Thanks much!

Impressed

Dear Editor:

On November 4, 1982, I had the good fortune of meeting and working with student leaders from the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, and Emmet. The event I participated in was the Charlevoix-Emmet Student Leadership Forum. The purpose of the Forum was to give students an opportunity to express their educational concerns to local, state and county education officials.

I would like the citizens, parents, and school officials in your reading area to know that I was extremely impressed with the students that I had contact with. They were an intelligent and cooperative group of young adults that were genuinely concerned about their public schools.

Soccer update

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the 13-15 year old boys who played soccer this year. If transportation problems are solved we will have traveling teams next year. Also, I would like to thank the following parents, relatives and friends who played soccer against the 13-15 year olds: Quinten, Nancy and Missy Walker; Larry and Gayle Levengood; Mike and Jackie Thorp; Joe and Charlie Borths; Sara Gay Dammann; Lori Wilson; Jan Babb; Betsy Louiselle; Jackie Erber; Jim McGarry; Dale Glass; Bruce Livingston and Mike Webb.

Next year we hope to put together a co-ed soccer program for the adults.

Again thank you for your participation.

Clarifications

In a story in last week's Courier on the opening of Nanny's Old Place, an editing error left the impression that the Charlevoix County Economic Development Corporation had helped finance the project with industrial bonding. The EDC actually only approved an initial inducement resolution for bonding. The developer eventually obtained funding for the project from other sources.

In a story on city ward boundaries, the boundary line on the South Side separating the Second and Third Wards previous to the recent change should have been described as follows: south on Bridge to Clinton, west on Clinton to State St., south on State St.

Iced in on Beaver Island

by Bob Clock

FOR 17 YEARS, man and boy, I have traveled between Charlevoix and Beaver Island by air, ferry and outboard and I've never been marooned.

Until this weekend.

And I guess it was my fault because I suggested to Lou Hollow, president of the First State Bank, that he really should have some press coverage on the opening of the new bank branch on Beaver Island.

Lou agreed and I was included in a party of bank officials and tellers who flew to the island Saturday morning for the grand opening.

I should point out that the weather in Charlevoix was not all that exciting when we left the city airport at 10 a.m. — a few flecks of snow were falling in a brisk southeast wind.

However, five minutes over Lake Michigan pilot Mike Heick encountered freezing rain and the windshield was coated solid — except for a fingernail of open space on the passenger side and an even smaller opening on Mike's side. Yet despite near zero visibility, Mike made flawless landing on one of the sod strips at the township airport.

WE ALL HAD planned to return to Charlevoix Saturday afternoon, but further air travel between Beaver Island and the mainland was clearly out of the question as freezing rain continued.

So although none of us planned to spend a night on the island, we fanned out to the two general stores for tooth brushes, tooth paste and other overnight essentials.

Beaver Islanders, of course, have a wide reputation for hospitality and if we had accepted all the invitations we received for cocktails and home-cooked meals we would still be there. "Nuclear-Joe" McDonough even invited the maroonees to a "Bah-Humbug Party" at his barn.

Sunday morning freezing rain was still falling on the island, but mainland temperatures had climbed into the high thirties. Pilot Mike said we wouldn't have any trouble.

So seven of us piled into the ancient clunker the bank maintains on the island and tooled out to the airport where Mike was waiting. We helped him load the mail in the cargo compartment and climbed aboard. Saturday's winds had died and the temperature had inched up a few degrees.

The return flight was flawless and we touched down in Charlevoix without incident.

THE ISLANDERS, incidentally, are doing just fine on auxiliary power, since their link with the mainland was severed last week by a passing tug and barge.

Conservation is the watchword and no one is using electricity unless it is absolutely necessary. Oh, you see a few lighted Christmas trees — but not many.

However, another auxiliary generator is expected to arrive this week, virtually assuring the islanders of an uninterrupted source of power throughout the winter — if it takes that long to repair the underwater cable.

Santa and Mrs. Claus listen to the Christmas wishes of Neenah and Naomi Webster of East Jordan. The children were on hand at a Christmas Open House held last Thursday by the merchants located in the Market Mall shopping center.

Meet the Claus's

by PEG OHLE

We found Santa and Mrs. Claus last week in the Market Mall busily entertaining a bevy of wide-eyed moppets and some of their older brothers and sisters.

It was their first downtown visit in Charlevoix this year, although they are going to be at the Elementary School this week and will visit several children in their homes before Christmas.

Wearing a red and white suit made by his daughter and a beard purchased from Sears, Santa looked like a Norman Rockwell painting as he and his wife listened intently to the children who, one by one, told of their Christmas wishes.

Mrs. Claus wore a red and white two-piece gown featuring a long skirt, made by her daughter. It set off her pink cheeks and white hair which was trimmed with a sprig of Christmas greens.

If a toddler squirmed and seemed frightened, Santa turned the child over to his wife, who, like most women have a special way with children.

"It's the little ones before school age that are the fun ones," Santa told us. "I like to see their eyes light up. You have to be in a suit to see it. I enjoyed seeing Santa when I was small, now it's my turn."

It was just such talk from Santa that brought Mrs. Claus to accompany him on his rounds.

"He used to come home and tell me about how the kids' eyes popped out and how excited they got," she recalls, "so about two years later, I started going out with him. I love it."

As might be expected, Santa and Mrs. Claus are grandparents. "When our oldest granddaughter was three or four years old, she went to the Barnard Grange to see Santa Claus," he remembers. "Telling us about it later, she said, 'You know, he had grandpa's blue eyes'. That's how close they look at you – right in the eyes."

Santa and Mrs. Claus enjoy their job of listening to and entertaining young children because they love them. And, as Santa asks with a twinkle in his eyes "How many jobs do you know of that are so much fun yet give you 11 months or more a year of vacation?"

Of course, he has another job the rest of the year. He has been working at American Mold for 18 years. At one point, Santa drove a school bus for a few years. He recalls fondly that he never had any disciplinary problems with the students. "I told them to call me by my first name and never 'mister'," he laughs. "They loved it, and so did I".

Santa has a hearty "Ho-h-ho", probably developed through his years of calling local square dances and fiddlers' jamborees. He seems proud of the fact that his red and white suit fits without tucking in a pillow.

Santa and Mrs. Claus represent the spirit of Christmas as it's meant to be. We're lucky to have them in Charlevoix.

Merry Christmas to you, Lloyd and Sara Cummings.

Doctors offer advice on treatment of fever for children

With the recent chicken pox outbreak and publicity warning against giving aspirin with the flu and chicken pox, many parents ask, "What do you do when your child has a fever?"

Charlevoix Area Hospital staff family practice physicians Dr. Dennis Joy and F. James Stewart discussed possible links between aspirin and Reyes Syndrome.

"We advise that no fever be treated up to 100 or 101 degrees," they said.

"But they added, "If a child is feeling or appearing very ill, contact your physician immediately.

"For low grade fevers, associated with cold symptoms and flu, we recommend no medication," the Family Practitioner emphasize.

Giving a child aspirin to lower the fever less than 101 degrees, may actually prolong the illness, they suggest.

"The best temperature for a virus or bacteria to reprorduce is normal body temperatore," they explain. "When the body temperature is raised, it's the body's self-protecting mechanism to ward off infection."

The physicians urge bed rest and lots of clear liquids.

If the fever climbs beyond 101, if there is repeated vomiting, or if the fever continues past 36 to 48 hours, call a doctor.

Discussing the possible linkage between aspirin and Reyes Syndrome, the physicians point out that The American Academy of Pediatrics "has recently published a position paper recommending that aspirin or salicylate (aspirin) containing medications not be given children with influenza or chicken pox because of a possible causal relationship to Reyes Syndrome."

But, according to the doctors, this does not mean simply switching to acetaminophens, such as Tylenol, or throwing out the aspirin.

"Aspirin is an important medication in a family's medicine cabinet," the doctors say.

"But aspirin should be judiciously and appropriately used. If a parent has a question regarding the use of aspirin, he or she should call a doctor," they urge.

Acetaminophens, such as Tylenol, have come to increased popularity with the questions raised about aspirin. However "they can be highly toxic. It is easier to overdose than with aspirin," the physicians caution.

"Acetaminophen however, would be the drug of choice when a child with the ful or chicken pox has a temperature over 102 and a physician has recommended their use," they explain.

Warning again about over medicating, with either aspirin or acetaminphens, the physicians reiterated "be cautious."

"People tend to over medicate when other therapies would be more helpful, such as rest and fluids for a cold, bed rest for a headache or elevations for a sprain.

"People over medicate in an attempt to continue normal day to day activities," they observe.

For parents concerned about chicken pox, colds, flu and fevers, the doctors restate: "No fever should be medicated under 100 or 101. Bed rest and fluids are the best medication, along with the body's normal defense or raising the body temperature to fight a virus. If the feverish condition continues past 36 to 48 hours, call your physician."

"For the itching that accompanies chicken pox, we recommend benadryl which can be obtained over the counter in the form of Benylin Cough Syrup and we recommend a colloidal bath such as Aveeno.

"Probably the most common side effect of chicken pox is an infection of the lesions," the physicians continue. "So the lesions should be kept clean. If they become infected call your doctor," they concluded.

Rayders eke past Devils, storm past Chiefs

Tim LaBlance scatters defenders as he drives for a layup against Cheboygan Friday night.

In a scenario looking very similar to last year's campaign, the Charlevoix Rayders are establishing themselves early as a basketball power to be reckoned with in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference as they romp through their pre-Christmas schedule with apparent ease.

Last week the Rayders dispatched two more opponents, Gaylord on Tuesday by a 50-46 score, and Cheboygan on Friday, 69-46.

At Gaylord, the Blue Devils led by Kurt Kakaviska gave Charlevoix one of its toughest tests of the season. The Devils took the lead early and held on throughout the first three quarters. At the first quarter mark, Gaylord led 16-11 as Kakaviska accounted for ten points alone in the quarter.

By the half it was 26-25 Gaylord and at the end of the third quarter, Charlevoix still trailed 37-33. The Rayders made their move in the final period, however, and finally forged ahead when Tim LaBlance sank two free throws with three minutes to play. The momentum switched to Charlevoix's favor and the Rayders went on to as much as a six-point lead at 1:21 before pulling out the eventual 50-46 victory.

Craig Klooster led individual scoring for Charlevoix with 14 points and George Smith had ten as the Rayders generally shot poorly from the floor. They hit only 20 of 64 shots. Gaylord's Kakaviska led all scoring with 20 points.

Hosting Cheboygan Friday night, the Rayder cagers stormed out to a 26-7 lead in the first quarter behind LaBlance's five field goals and they never looked back. At the half it was 41-14, at the end of the third quarter 52-33, and, with eight players scoring, the Rayders won going away 69-46.

LaBlance paced Charlevoix individual scoring with 19 points while Smith had 16 and Klooster 15.

Charlevoix remains deadlocked with St. Ignace at 4-0 in M-HSC play and is 5-0 overall. In this week's only game, the Rayders host Grayling this Tuesday night.

Grayling swamps matmen

The Charlevoix Rayder wrestling team lost to a strong Grayling Viking squad by a 62-8 score here Thursday.

The Rayders gave up points by forfeit in the first five weight classes as well as in the 145 and 167 weight classes, the latter because of the illness of Al Bergmann. Others were because of injuries.

Rick Gallant (132) tied Ron Wyman in a 5-5 decision and Jeff Mervyn (heavyweight) won by forfeit to chalk up the Rayders only points.

Losing by pins were Shawn Harnett (138) to Steve Sauve in 3:31; Matt Hull (155) to Stacey Kent in :55; Scott Mervyn (185) to John Solomonson in 1:04 and Wayne Bergmann (198) to Tom Sorensen in :44.

The Rayders gave up points in the 98, 105, 112, 119, 126, and 145 weight classes and both teams forfeited in the 167 class.

Freshmen topple Gaylord, beaten by Cheboygan

The Charlevoix Rayder freshmen split during the week, defeating Gaylord by a score of 45-37 early in the week and losing to Cheboygan by a five-point margin, 45-40 on Thursday.

In the game at Gaylord, the Rayders came from behind to outscore the Blue Devils 20-10 in the final period to win. They had trailed 8-2, 20-14 and 27-25 at the quarters before catching fire and pouring in 20 points for the victory.

Joe Hayes contributed 15 points and Packy LaBlance 10 for the Rayders. Ken Bur had 11 for Gaylord.

In the game at Cheboygan, the Rayders tied the Chiefs 10-10 at the first quarter, and trailed 21-17 at the half and 32-31 going into the final period where they were outscored 13-6.

Stewart Hancock paced the game with 23 points. Jody Putman had 18 for Charlevoix.

After hosting Kalkaska Monday, action for the young Rayders will be suspended for the holidays.

Adult basketball scores

Kit Carson-Charlevoix Garbage continued to lead the B League in the Charlevoix Recreation program as the league suspended action for the holidays.

Second place Staley Hardware won over Air Force 68-49; Carlson Plumbing defeated Wojan Aluminum 58-42 and First State Bank posted its first win, a 51-43 victory over Medusa in action Wednesday night.

Staley Hardware took an early lead and headed Air Force 16-12, 26-25 and 47-31 by periods before coming handily.

Scott Olmstead paced the scoring with 20 points followed by Terry Smith with 18 and Mark Schaberg and Larry Skippergosh with 14 points each.

Carlson Plumbing had no trouble with Wojan Aluminum as they led 12-8, 32-15 and 42-27 by quarters to take over fourth place in the standings.

Jim Marsh and Randy Holecbeck led the scoring with 16 points each. Scott Blanchard added 13. Stan Martin had 17 and Don Ward 11 for Wojan's.

In posting its first win, First State Bank led Medusa 9-6, 26-20 and 38-37 by quarters behind the scoring of Tim Carey who had 18 points. Ike Boss contributed 14 points and Steve Martinus 10.

Jim Parrish scored 20 for Medusa.

Charlevoix players surround one of the Cheboygan Chiefs in junior varsity action Friday night.

JVs lose to Chiefs at the free throw line

The Charlevoix junior varsity basketball team lost to the visiting Cheboygan Chiefs by a score of 55-48 in court action here Friday.

The young Chiefs went to the free throw lines to defeat the Rayders, connecting on 23 of 28 free throw attempts while collecting 22 personal fouls.

Charlevoix outscored the visitors 18-16 from the floor. The Rayders, with 16 personal fouls, scored on 12 of 25 of their free throw attempts.

The local five got off to a good start leading Cheboygan 11-6 at the quarter and 19-17 at the half before Cheboygan went ahead 34-31 and outscored Charlevoix 21-17 for the game.

Brent Cole had 24 points for the Rayders. Gary Hollstrom had the same number for Cheboygan.

Gaylord tops JV squad

The Charlevoix Rayder JV squad bowed to the Gaylord JVs by a score of 53-44 in Blue Devil territory Tuesday night.

With both teams scoring 21 field goals, the young Blue Devils went to the charity line to chalk up their victory, capitalizing on Charlevoix's 16 personal fouls to collect 11 of 19 possible points while Charlevoix connected on only two of six attempts from the free throw line. Gaylord had 11 personal fouls.

The young Rayders got off to a 10-9 first period lead, trailed by one point, 25-24 at halftime and knotted the score 40-all at the third period mark before scoring only four points to Gaylord's 13 in the final period for the nine point loss.

Chris Havens, Will Syvertsen and Thad Morgan shared scoring honors with 10 points each.

Chris Clark had 17, John Kestnev 15, and Russ Stephens 14 for Gaylord.

NOTICE OF
MORTGAGE SALE
ON FORECLOSURE
BY ADVERTISMENT

Default having been made in the condition of a certain Mortgage made by Roger P. Shepard to Charlevoix County State Bank, dated May 23, 1980, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan on May 30, 1980, in Liber 160, of Mortages, on Page 303-304, on which Mortgage there is claimed to be due as of the date of this Notice, for principal and interest, the sum of $37,671.57, and no proceedings having been instituted to recover the debt now remaining secured by said Mortgage, or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said Mortgage has become operative;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises herein described or so much thereof as may be necessary, at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the County Building, in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in and for said County, on January 10, 1983, at 11:00 o'clock eastern standard time in the morning of said day, and said premises will be sold to pay the amount so as aforesaid then due on said Mortgage together with 17.50 percent interest, legal costs, attorneys' fees and also any taxes and insurance that said Mortgagee, Charlevoix County State Bank, does pay on or prior to the date of such sale. Said premises are described in said Mortgage as follows, to wit:

Township of Norwood, County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, Lot 70 Clipper View Subdivision, Part of Section 11 & 12, T33N, R9W.

Further, said Mortgagee, Charlevoix County State Bank, is informed and does believe that Mortgagor, Roger P. Shepard, did on August 27, 1982, enter into a certain Mortgage with Priscilla M. Shepard, a single woman, concerning the above described real property contained in said Charlevoix County State Bank Mortgage and said Mortgage to Priscilla M. Shepard, a single woman, was recorded on August 27, 1982, in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan, at Liber 166, of Mortgages, of Page 195.

As made and provided by law, the length of redemption period is six (6) months from the time of said sale.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The following Emergency Amendment to the City Zoning Ordinance was adopted by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix at a Special Council Session on December 13, 1982.

ORDINANCE NO. 421

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS that:

The Charlevoix City Code is amended in Article X, Section 5.251, by deleting therefrom the words and figures contained in brackets below:

(The City Council shall serve as the Zoning Board of Appeals.)

And by inserting the new language in brackets below, as follows:

(The City Council shall appoint a Board of Appeals consisting of five (5) members, each to be appointed for a term of three (3) years. Appointments for the first year shall be for a period of one, two, and three years, respectively, so as nearly as may be to provide for the appointment of an equal number each year, depending on the number of members, thereafter each member to hold office for the full three year term.)

This Zoning Ordinance Amendment is given emergency affect for the reason that it is in the best interest of the City of Charlevoix and is necessary for the health, welfare, and public safety of citizens of Charlevoix to provide for a Zoning Ordinance in accord with the City Charter of the City of Charlevoix.

VFW holds annual Christmas party

The Charlevoix V.F.W. Post No. 1153, its Auxiliary and their respective families held their annual Christmas party at the post home Saturday.

A potluck dinner, gift exchange and a visit from Santa highlighted the annual event.

Chairpersons were Mrs. John Curtis, tree and decorations; Mrs. Clarence Rabach, kitchen; Mrs. Larry Finck, candy; Mrs. Robert Rajewski, Santa and helper; Mrs. Kenneth Staley, notification, and Mrs. Clarence Goldstick, publicity.

Mrs. Jack Warner was named to present gifts of poinsettias to ill and shut-in auxiliary members.

Mrs. Keith Wagner reported on the results of the flea markets held at the V.F.W. property during the summer months. Proceeds from the event will be applied to the purchase of drapery rods. Mrs. Wagner was named to head the flea markets during 1983.

New draperies for the post home have been ordered Mrs. Goldstick reported.

Mrs. Staley, Cancer chairperson, reported that the Cancer Booth at the V.F.W. Pow-wow held at Boyne Mountain netted approximately $5,000 to be used to support cancer research. Members are reminded that the auxiliary is collecting Glen's green slips with the money redeemed going to the cancer fund. Local members are covered by cancer insurance. Three members have received benefits from the insurance and also grants from the national auxiliary to aid in their medical expenses.

Mrs. Staley also reported that lap robes made by members and other comfort items and toiletries had been forwarded to the Traverse City Hospital as Christmas gifts for veterans. Monies for gifts for veterans at VA hospitals in Saginaw and Battle Creek and the V.F.W. Children's Home at Eaton Rapids were sent earlier.

Mrs. Albert Russell and Mrs. Jack Warner will host the January 6 meeting at the V.F.W. Post Home.

Obituaries

SYLVESTER S. WEISLIK

Funeral services for Sylvester S. Weislik, 60, local businessman who died unexpectedly Friday at Houston, Tex. will be held at noon on Wednesday at St. Mary's Church. Rev. R. Dale Magoon will officiate. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at the Winchester Funeral Home at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Born in Harbin, Manchuria, Feb. 14, 1922, Mr. Weislik came to the Detroit area with his family as a boy. On Feb. 20, 1943 he was married to the former Helen Bielecki at St. Florian's Church in Hamtramck.

He had a B.S. degree in Outdoor Advertising from Notre Dame University. He was associated with the Walker Outdoor Advertising Co. in Hamtramck for 18 years and from 1955-60 he operated the Playdium Recreation on Jos. Campau in Hamtramck. He came to Charlevoix in 1962 when he purchased the Townhouse Lounge which he operated until his death. He was a veteran of World War II having served with the U.S. Army in North Africa and Europe.

He was a member of St. Mary's Church, the Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Emmet-Charlevoix Bar Owners Association and was a former member of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church in Detroit.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, Ronald S. of Charlevoix and Bruce S. of Troy and a sister, Mrs. Alice Lyons of Charlevoix.

Friends may call at the Winchester Funeral Home from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

The family suggests memorials to the Burzynski Cancer Research Institute at 12707 Trinity Drive, Stafford, Tex., 74477. Envelopes will also be available at the funeral home.

RAYMOND KRUSE

Funeral services for Raymond Kruse, 74, a part-time resident of Charlevoix who died November 30 at an Aurora, Il. hospital were held December 3 at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Aurora. The Rev. Arlan Brandt and the Rev. Dwight Wascom officiated. Interment was in McHenry Memorial Park at Woodstock, Il. A prayer service was held at Krintz Chapel of December 2.

Born at Crystal Lake, Il., Aug. 18, 1908, Mr. Kruse was married to the former Rose Krchak of Charlevoix at Crystal Lake where they later made their home. In recent years they lived in Aurora. He was affiliated with the John Sexton Co. for 32 years. Following his retirement he was employed at the pro shop of the Prestburg Club and more recently at the Lazy Bay Showcase Shop. In recent years, they had spent the summer months in Charlevoix.

He was a member of Our Savior Lutheran Church for 35 years and a member of the church bowling team; Scout Master of Troup 9 at Greenman School for seven years and a member of the Ostomy Club.

Surviving are his wife, Rose; a son, Ronald R. of Yorkville, Il; a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth (Rinalda) Fall of Superior, Wis.; four grandchildren and three step-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to the American Society, American Heart Association or Our Savior Lutheran Church in Aurora.

HULDA THORP

Funeral services for Mrs. Hulda A. Thorp, 89, who died December 16 at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Powell, with whom she had lived for four years, were held Saturday at the Winchester Funeral Home. The Rev. Walter Hastings of the Community Church of God officiated. Interment was in Brookside Cemetery.

Born at Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 7, 1893, the former Hulda A. Rieth came to northern Michigan in 1915 and Oct. 16, 1915, she was married to William Thorp at Traverse City. They always made their home in Charlevoix. Mr. Thorp preceded her in death March 16, 1945. She was a member of the Community Church of God.

Surviving are three sons, Albert W. of Charlevoix, Edward of Ellsworth and John G. of Brutus; four daughters, Mrs. Agnes Christ, Mrs. John (Thelma) Powell and Mrs. Ronald (Wilma) Sitzema, all of Charlevoix and Mrs. Charles (Alice) Bricker of Petoskey; 35 grandchildren and 41 great-grandchildren.

Ed Rebman reads the plaque presented to him by the Planning Commission as Commission members Walter Thorsen and Tom Wieland look on.

Ed Rebman honored

Members of the Charlevoix County Planning Commission, several County Commissioners, and other friends of Ed Rebman gathered last week at the home of Barbara and Jack Fels to wish him well on his retirement as secretary of the Planning Commission.

Rebman joined the Planning Commission when it was formed, on October 29, 1963.

The plaque presented to him by the Planning Commission recognized the "many hours you have spent keeping our motions legal and our records straight".

HARRY POTTER who had been in charge of maintenance at the Charlevoix County Building for the past 16 years, was honored Friday at a retirement party attended by county officers and personnel. He is shown above receiving a portable television from the group. Making the presentation was Michael Webb, left, who succeeds him in the position from which he is retiring and who chaired the retirement party. Looking on is Mrs. Potter who retired earlier this year after spending 27 years with Charlevoix Public Schools as a teacher and librarian and District Judge Harvey Varnum, master of ceremonies. The Potters plan to travel west to visit their daughter Anita early next year.

Historical Society suspends meetings for the winter

Meetings of the Charlevoix Historical Society will be suspended until April, it was announced following the December meeting of the organization.

At the same meeting, Edward Beutner was named to the Board of Directors by the president, Marilyn Boss, to fill the unexpired term of the late Ronald Swanson.

Mrs. Carl Kohler reported that with the assistance of Mary Feindt of the Charlevoix Abstract & Engineering Co., she has found six centennial and five pioneer homes in the community. Eventually these homes will be recognized with the presentation of plaques.

At the December meeting, films taken in 1937 and in 1963 were shown. Among the interesting pictures were those of trains at the Charlevoix Depot arriving with passengers and their luggage for their annual three months stay in Charlevoix; the cruise ship, the South American, and the pleasure craft, the Sylvia and its sister ship, the KenKora, entering the harbor serviced at that time by the swing bridge over the Pine River channel, the former U.S. Coast Guard Station at the entrance to the harbor, and the Alhambra Hotel located on the channel at the bridge.

Others were of former summer hotels, the Inn, the Beach Hotel and the Belvedere, all since razed; the Heinz Pickle Co. on Ferry Avenue, operated by the Steiters and the Venetian Festival of 1937 as well as pictures along Bridge Street, including buildings which have since been razed.

OPEN SEASONS AND CATCH LIMITS ON PIKE WALLEYE SAUGER AND MUSKELLUNGE

The Natural Resources Commission at its meeting on October 8, 1982, under the authority of Act 230, P.A. 1925, as amended, ordered the following order become effective on January 1, 1983, and remain valid under March 31, 1988.

It shall be unlawful to take the following named species except within the open seasons and daily limits prescribed (statewide regulations apply unless otherwise restricted):

Statewide open seasons on all waters not otherwise closed to fishing shall be from May 15 through February on Walleye, sauger, northern pike, and muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge). The daily catch limit shall be five singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike; one for muskellunge (including tiger muskellunge).

The above regulations apply statewide except that walleye and sauger may be taken at any time from the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, Lake St. Clair, and Lake Erie; and that muskellunge in Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit Rivers may be taken only from the first Saturday in June through December 15 of each year. Also, the daily catch on Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie and the Detroit and St. Clair rivers shall be six singly or in combination for largemouth and smallmouth bass, walleye, sauger, and northern pike when the catch includes at least one walleye or sauger.

Official Notice

December 13, 1982
8:00 P.M.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time in a Special Session called by Mayor Staley for the purposes of considering an emergency amendment to the City Zoning Ordinance regarding the Board of Appeals and to discuss the recent court decision in the case of the City of Charlevoix vs. Donald J. Barlaga. Mayor Staley presided.

Present: Councilmembers Timma, Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, and Porter. Absent: None.

Council and Jeffrey VanTreese, City Attorney, discussed the ramifications of the recent court decision in the case of the City of Charlevoix vs. Donald J. Barlaga which will prohibit the Council from continuing to act as the Zoning Board of Appeals. Mr. VanTreese, in a written opinion to Council dated December 13, 1982, stated that the decision was based on a provision in the City Charter which prohibits an elected official from holding any other office or City employment which is in direct conflict with the City Zoning Ordinance which provides for the Zoning Board of Appeals to be composed of the City Councilmembers. He further stated that the two possible alternatives for insuring that the City has a valid Zoning Ordinance are: (a) amend the City Charter to allow the Council to serve as the Board of Appeals, and, (b) passing an emergency amendment to the Zoning Ordinance to provide for the Zoning Board of Appeals to be appointed by the council. Mr. VanTreese recommended that the emergency amendment be adopted at this time due to the need for a prompt resolution of the matter. The pros and cons of appealing the Barlaga case were also discussed at length.

The following Emergency Amendment to the City Zoning Ordinance was offered and moved for its adoption by Councilwoman Roloff and supported by Councilman Wood.

(See Ordinance No. 421 published elsewhere in this edition of the Courier.)

The Emergency Amendment to the City Zoning Ordinance was adopted by the following yea and nay vote.

Yeas: Councilmembers Timma, Roloff, Wood, Block, Olach, and Porter. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Council generally agreed to appoint members to the Zoning Board of Appeals at their next regular meeting scheduled for December 20, 1982.

Council adjourned.

MOIS demonstration provided

A demonstration of the Michigan Occupational Information System (MOIS) has been provided to parents to acquaint them with an up-to-date source of information relating to career possibilities according to Charlevoix Bentley, counselor at the Charlevoix High School.

The MOIS includes a description of 392 occupations, 351 post-secondary school information, 139 military training opportunities and 52 apprenticeship programs. With this information on hand, students can gain an insight into such occupational information as wages, employment outlook, related school subjects and a description of the occupation, Bentley explained.

The MOIS is updated on a yearly basis to provide a ready source of information for young people.

Earlier in the school year, all juniors at the Charlevoix High School had the opportunity to participate in the Career Planning Program (C.P.P.) developed by the American College Testing Corporation. The C.P.P. not only measures a student's interest in terms of a wide range of career possibilities but also takes into account abilities and experiences with many of those same careers.

As a follow-up, juniors and their parents were invited to an evening program to learn the results of the C.P.P. and how best to use the results in making career decisions.

At that time, Gayle Gennett and Bentley, the counselors at the high school, explained the rather estensive C.P.P. report and suggested many waya that the students and their parents could benefit from the experience.

Ski school offered

A Downhill Ski School will be offered at Mt. McSauba Dwight Boss, Charlevoix Recreation director, has announced.

Registrations for the classes will be accepted at Mt. McSauba on Thursday, Dec. 30.

The five-week session will offer beginner and intermediate lessons for grades K-2, 3-6, 6-plus and adult groups. Equipment must be provided by the participants. All participants in the ski school will receive half-price lift tickets the night of their class. Individual ski pass holders who have purchased their passes by January 1 will receive the first lesson free.

January 23 will be Family Ski School Day when a variety of classes will be offered. Women's classes will be offered at 2 p.m.

A special three-weeks session in February will include regular lessons and a racing technique class.

Class size will be limited so interested persons are urged to sign up early. Full payment for the series of lessons must be paid at the time of the first lesson.

Local gymnasts bring home honors

by ANNE KELLY

Gymnastics is a sport of personal dedication and determination. So when the first competitive team to have evolved from the Charlevoix Gym Club walked away with honors from a recent Class 3 compulsory meet in Midland, victory tasted sweet for team members.

Four area girls, one from Charlevois, comprise the team which is one of the few from northern Michigan. They are: Katrine Way, age 12 of Gaylord, Jamie Spedding, 11 of Cheboygan, Shelley Bascom, 11 of Bay Shore and Carla Henry, 12 of Charlevoix.

To qualify for the team, gymnasts must show the results of hours of practice to an exemplary, competitive degree.

The compulsory meet in Midland consisted of four events: vaulting, beam, bars and floor.

The Charlevoix Gym Club, which serves as a gymnastics nucleus for the area, pooling talented gymnasts and coaches for competition along with the regular progressive program, is proud to report the results of the competition. In the category "All-Around Juniors" (ages 12, 13, 14) Carla Henry of Charlevoix placed fifth, while Katrine Way took first place; in "All-Around Children" (ages 9, 10, 11) Jamie Spedding took first. Shelly Bascom captured 2nd place in the vaulting event. All the girls did exceptionally well according to their coaches. As a team, they landed a total of 6 first places with 40 gymnasts from five clubs competing.

"We just expected to hold our own," competitive coach George Olson esplained. For a first team experience, the day was a pleasant surprise for everyone.

Olson, a 1970 graduate of Kennedy High School of Taylor, Mich., a school noted for turning out state champions, (Olson and Club owner Jim Mitchell are two of these), has been involved in programs downstate for the past 9 or 10 years. This year he joins the coaching staff of the Charlevoix Gym Club as competitive coach. He has also initiated a boy's martial gymnastics class into the program.

The Midland Invitational meet, sanctioned by the U.S. Gymnastics Federation, was compulsory, which means that all gymnasts are required to do the same routines.

"Our team competed at the Class 3 Beginner level of competition. This does not mean that the gymnasts are beginners. It means that this is their first esposure to organized competition."

How do the girls feel about their 2nd place team trophy? Proud and determined to do even better in the nest meet which will be held on Jan. 16 in Freeland, Mich.

"When we got there and saw the other kids," Katrine commented, "I thought, well, I guess we're about as good as they are."

It was then a matter of going out on the floor and performing the routines they had been working on in practice those nine hours a week. The team, and those aspiring to be on the team, practice two evenings a week and on Saturday mornings.

"This is one of my favorite things to do," esplained Shelley Bascom when asked about how she felt about putting in such long hours in the gym.

"It doesn't bother me" added Carla Henry of Charlevoix. "I like it; I can spend more time on what I like."

The hour or more drive to and from the Club, adds even more time spent for these kids on gymnastics per week.

"We could never have done it (or continue to turn out fine gymnasts) without the support and dedication of parents as well as the kids," Olson concluded.

For the Charlevoix Gym Club, the success at the Midland meet marks a milestone of progress from progressive gymnastics and demonstrations to the level of competition.

Progress made on County Hospice

Charlevoix County Hospice's current bank balance is $90, but the organization projects operating espenses of just under $1,000 for the next six months, while training programs are designed and tax esempt status is attained. Once tax exempt status is approved the hospice organization will be eligible for a large range of funding.

The young organization, which plans to begin serving terminally ill people and their families by late spring, is hoping to meet financial needs through donations and memberships in the next few weeks.

The Charlevoix County Hospice espects its application for tax exempt status to be approved by May, but the directors do not want to postpone offering services to terminally ill patients until then.

"We want to start training our volunteers in March, even though whomever we hire as an executive director will probably have to work without pay for several months," Carol McTaggart Hospice Board President said recently.

McTaggart esplained that several area organizations have expressed interest in helping Hospice financially once tax exempt status is achieved. She revealed that the Boyne City United Way is holding $2100 for Charlevoix County Hospice but cannot turn the funds over to the organization until the tax exempt application has been approved.

"We have no doubt of approval," McTaggart continued. "But these applications generally take six months to be processed. Meanwhile we want to get started."

Once training of hospice volunteers is completed, terminally ill people in Charlevoix County will have the opportunity to receive care and support services in their homes.

The hospice concept, which began in England over a decade ago, is now being applied in communities around the United States. Hospice has been difined as a "concept of alternative care for the terminally ill, which masimizes the quality of life when the quantity of life cannot be extended," by Dr. Josefina B. Mango, executive director of the National Hospice Organization.

Charlevoix County Hospice began organizing in June, 1981. Much of the inspiration for the local hospice came from the late Catherine Jessup, of Boyne City, who helped with the initial organization, even as she was coping with her own cancer.

Charlevoix County Hospice will rely on volunteers who will work with families of terminally ill people. The volunteers will assist by running errands, reading, letter writing, helping with meals or acting as a companion when the family needs a break. The volunteers will be backed up by an interdisciplinary team of professionols, also volunteers, who will oversee each patient's care, offering services in mental health, nursing, social services, and insurance and legal questions when necessary.

Membership in Charlevois County Hospice is $3 annually. Membership fees and donations may be sent to Charlevoix County Hospice Inc., Box 233, Boyne City, Michigan, 49712.

Kathleen Smith, who has been voluntarily acting as administrator, is available to answer questions at 582-2576.

City loses court challenge of carport

A carport constructed by Attorney Donald Berlage aside his home at 423 Michigan Avenue has survived a court challenge by the City of Charlevoix which maintained that it not have the required setback when built last year and thus violated the city's zoning ordinance.

Berlage, who originally argued that the lot was not bound by the zoning requirements because it was platted before the ordinance was enacted and therefore not a lot of record, won the case by pointing out a technicality in the City Charter that prevents City Council members from holding other office.

When the council members refused Berlage's request for a variance last year, they were acting as the Board of Appeals and that, maintained Berlage, was in conflict with the charter.

As a result, the council acted Monday night to appoint a new Board of Appeals consisting of Barry Wood, Don Seelye, Sue Erber, Ted Felter and Chuck Scherping.

According to the Charlevoix County Department of Building Inspection, a building permit for the carport was applied for but never issued because of the city's refusal to clear the zoning question.

Tie Breaker Game
KWIKIE PRINT

Pick the number of points you believe will be scored in the tie-breaker game, and write it in the box.

RULES

1. Anyone can enter, except the employees of the paper and their families. Use the entry blank from the paper or make your own, following the same plan. A copy of the Charlevoix Courier will be available at the Courier office to anyone wishing to copy the list of names.

2. Weekly gift certificates will be awarded to the persons naming the most winners. All tie games are considered incorrect unless picked as ties on your entry blank. In case of a tie, persons guessing nearest correct score in the tiebreaker box will win. Insert what you think total score will be of no game in the tie breaker box.

3. Gift certificates are redeemable at any of the participating sponsors on this page only. Entries should be addressed to: Contest Editor, Charlevoix Courier and postmarked by not later than 5 p.m. Thursday night. Winners will be announced the following weeks.

4. On the entry form simply draw a circle around the number of the team you predict will win each of the games listed in each of the ads. Then, predict the total on the points "tie breaker" at the bottom of the entry form.

Building starts perk up

Building starts in Charlevoix County are continuing at a better-than-expected pace, the November report of the Department of Building Inspection shows.

The Department issued 47 permits during the month, of which 11 were for new residences, eight were for residential additions and remodeling, six were for decks and porches, ten were for garages, and two were for residential outbuildings.

There were seven permits in the commercial category and three for mobile homes.

So far this year, the Department of Building Inspection has issued 438 permits in all categories. This compares with a total of 500 during all of last year, so the Department will have to issue 62 permits in December to meet last year's figure.

An interesting sidelight to Charlevoix County building is that during each of the last two years, about 100 permits have been issued for new housing units (single family and condominium), of which over half are used only seasonly.

The condominium units have been built in Eveline Township, the City of Boyne City, Boyne Valley Township, and the City of Charlevoix, and the vacation houses have been built in all parts of the County, especially on Beaver Island.

GOP to meet

Charlevoix County Republicans re-elected all their officers at the organization's annual meeting, held last week.

Don Hufford was returned as chairman, Barbara Timms as vice-chairman, Jane Brannon as secretary, and Oral Sutliff as treasurer.

Joan Blanchard was appointed to the job of finance and membership chairman, succeeding June Cross.

Michigan State University courses to be offered this winter at NCMC

Two graduate education courses are scheduled this winter term by Michigan State University at North Central Michigan College in Petoskey. These courses are part of MSU's Lifelong Education Program coordinated in northern Michigan by Dr. Milton J. Hagelberg, Director of the MSU Regional Center in Traverse City.

Methods in Reading at the Secondary Level (EAC 820C 3 term hours) will meet on ten Wednesday nights, January 12-March 16, 6:30-9:30 p.m. The course will include an analysis of the reading problems of high school and college students, and material, procedures and basic principles and techniques for improving reading skills. The instructor will be Ms. Sheryl Friend, MSU Extension Lecturer.

Master of Arts in Classroom Teaching (MACT) degree candidates may enroll for two to four credits of TE 802 (2-4) Instructional Development to be taught by Dr. Roy Wesselman, program advisor. Students planning to enroll should call the MSU Center in Traverse City to arrange a 45 minute individual appointment with Dr. Wesselman who will be available on January 10, 11, or 24 between the hours of 4-9:15 p.m. at NCMC. There will also be two class sessions, 6-9 p.m. March 7 and 14.

Registration for both courses will be conducted by mail. Contact the MSU Center in Traverse City before December 29 for registration materials.

The tuition fee is $50.00 per credit hour payable by check or money order made out to Michigan State University. Visa and Master cards are accepted.

All mail and telephone calls should be directed to the MSU Center for Lifelong Education Programs, 1701 E. Front St., Traverse City, MI 49684, 616-946-7496. The Center is located in Room 202 of the NMC Health and Education Building and is open from 8 a.m.-12 noon and 1-5 p.m.

Christmas thoughts

A collection of special Christmas messages from some familiar Charlevoix faces.

Tim Moore
KHQ-WVOY

Over time, Americans have faced adversity. For many, the year-past was difficult. Yet, at Christmas time, there lies ahead, great promise for the coming year. We live and work in an area of incredible wealth; of scenery, of growth, and most importantly of people. Northwest Michigan is a "gift" in itself. Truly, ours is an area with no limits. My Christmas hope is that even those discouraged by the past year can see the promise of the future, and focus on tomorrow, while basking in the warmth of Christmas spirit throughout Northwest Michigan. Onward.

Bonona Kohler
Charlevoix historian

My first Christmases were spent in the old Bartlett Hotel on Bridge Street now long gone. We had a tree in the lobby but it was a terrifying thing as we only had candles for lighting it. The danger of fire was ever present.

However, it was lovely and on Christmas Eve, my mother, Mrs. L.B. Bartlett, always had bowls of popcorn balls sitting around and always had oyster stew for anyone who stopped in. In those days logging camps surrounded our town and many of the loggers stopped by for their free stew. They all came in their heavy camp clothes and everyone gathered round the tree to sing Christmas carols. Probably the singing was atrocious but in my memory it was beautiful. The love that flowed around that tree brightened many a Christmas Eve.

Now things are very different, still as I sit by a beautifully illuminated, tinsel clad tree, surrounded by my children, grandchildren and at this stage, great-grandchildren, I feel that love flowing freely. I have a desire to sing and rejoice and thank God who made it all possible. The feeling that one could reach out and touch the dear ones no longer here only adds to the love for those present.

I believe, to me, Christmas means thankfullness for all we have and have had and a feeling of love and good will for people everywhere.

Merry Christmas

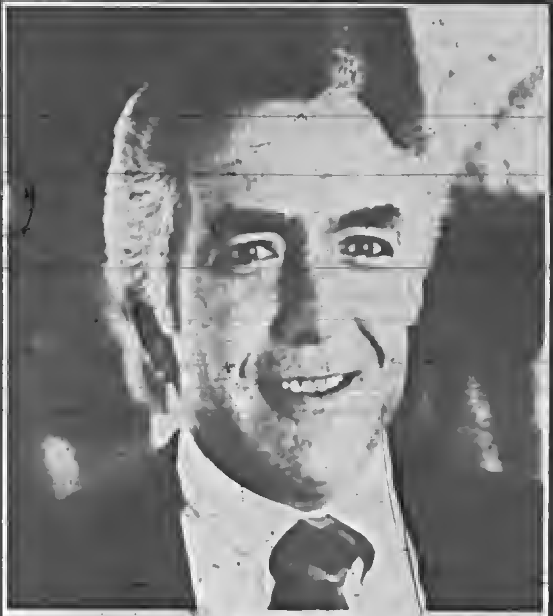
Christmas in Charlevoix is probably no different than any other town. Most cities have Christmas concerts, and pageants and carolers. Our sparkly trees are pretty, but they aren't much different than the lighted trees in Harbor Springs or Chicago. Store windows and homes are decorated pretty much the same everywhere and Candlelight Church services are held on Christmas Eve in most towns.

So what is special about Christmas in Charlevoix? - Nothing! And that's what is wonderful. For a short sweet time of the year, no matter where you are, Christmas makes it a special place. It's remembering and sharing with family and friends - It's not a geographical location - At Christmas our hearts are all in the same place.



Pastor James Plackner
Bethany Lutheran Church

Christmas: the time God sent His Son to this planet born as a Baby. Why a Baby?

God is telling you that you can trust Him! He is not your enemy but your Friend, the One Who loves you. You don't have to fight Him. You can give into Him and find true love and forgiveness. Everyone loves a baby: even strong, tough men's hearts can melt at the sight of a baby. Let that happen to You: love Him. God is telling you that He trusts you! Imagine: almost anything could happen to a baby; even evil, should people take in into their minds to do it. You have that power. God is saying to you, "Here I am - do with Me what you will. But I want you to know that I am here because I love you." A Christmas question is "What will you do with Him?" Refuse His love for you? Or, love Him as He loves you?

God is telling you that you can, thru Christ the Son of God, become a son or a daughter of God too! Imagine: a son or a daughter of God! As you are born again in Him - become as a child and trust God and love Him - we-you depend on Him for forgiveness of sins and the gift of everlasting life.

And why shouldn't you? He comes only to do you good! See the Baby? See??

Bridget Noirot
CHS Student Council President

It's Christmas time again. Time for families to come and spend the holidays all together. Christmas is when your family has time to tell each other they love them and care about them. My favorite part of Christmas is watching the expressions on peoples faces after they have opened the gift you've given them.

CHRISTMAS IS..

Christmas is...a time for families to be together.

Christmas is...bright lights and packages.

Christmas is...a season when happiness is spread throughout the world.

Christmas is...when peace is apparent everywhere.

Christmas is...a time when ordinary trees turn into beautiful decorations.

Christmas is...a time for giving.

Christmas is...a time for everyone to have smiles on their faces.

Christmas is...a time for everone to enjoy.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

County Commissioners say good-by

by PEG OHLE

OUTGOING Charlevoix County Commissioners recently were honored for their service to the county. Receiving plaques in recognition of their service were: (seated from left to right) Martin Bieganowski, Clyde Cunningham and Keith Annear and standing, Marvin Loding, Don Meggison, John Haggard, Cass Toton and Oscar Ward. The plaques were presented by the new county board: Lee Moerland, Larry Mathew, Oral Stuliff, Ralph Harmon and Thomas Breekey.

Several articles have been written about friendships built up among members of Congress who serve in Washington for many years, so it should not come as a surprise to learn that the same is true among members of local governmental bodies.

When members of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners met last week, it was obvious that the "lame ducks" felt they were saying goodbye to good friends.

In an unusual circumstance, brought about by re-districting which cut the County Board from 15 to six members, there are now 10 "lame ducks" on the Board. Last week's meeting was the last one for them. When the next meeting is held, on January 6, five of the present Board members who were re-elected and one newcomer will take office.

One of the oldtimers who will not be back on the County Board is Delbert Ingalls, who has been representing South Arm Township since 1969. He was defeated by Thomas Breakey of East Jordan in the race for an enlarged District. However, Ingalls has been appointed to a six-year term on the County Road Commission.

Clyde Cunningham of Marion Township has been representing Marion, Norwood, St. James and Peaine Townships since 1961. His is the longest tenure of all present County Commissioners. He was defeated by Don Smith of Charlevoix Township after that Township and part of Eveline Township were added to his District.

John Haggard has represented Charlevoix and Hayes Townships since 1977. He was an early candidate for State Senator and did not enter the County Board Primaries. However, he withdrew from the Senate race shortly afterward.

Ira L. Davis of Bay Township has been representing Bay and Evangeline Townships since 1969. Due to ill health, he was not a candidate for re-election this year.

Top stories of the year

TCE, Operation Petunia dominated 1982

by DAVE KNIGHT

An industrial chemical and a hardy little flower of the nightshade family, an unlikely combination to say the least, figured in Charlevoix's two most significant news stories of 1982. The dichotomy between the two stories could not be more striking. While one, TCE contamination, has been marked by frustration and controversy, the other, Operation Petunia represented a remarkable example of cooperation and community pride.

Although the discovery of trichloroethylene (TCE) in the Charlevoix city water supply was made in October of 1981, serious efforts to deal with the contamination got under way this past summer when the first monitoring wells were drilled at eleven locations around the city's southwest side. Later, two more were added but as yet no test well data have led to the identification of a source of the contamination. TCE, a chemical with several industrial uses and a suspected cancer-causing agent, has been detected in levels ranging from under 20 parts per billion to over 50 ppb in the city well.

While fruitless efforts to locate the source continued, the city turned its attention to finding a new water supply and commissioned engineer David Rommelmann, of Granger Engineering to conduct a study of available alternatives. Of three alternatives considered, Rommelmann recommended treatment of Lake Michigan water over filtration of the existing supply and drilling new wells. The City Council has given its tacit approval to that recommendation and a pilot program is now underway. Also being developed is an aeration system which, it is hoped, will eliminate a substantial percentage of the TCE as a temporary measure.

Operation Petunia was first suggested by Dale Boss at a January meeting of the then fledgling Keep Charlevoix Beautiful organization. Boss proposed that petunias be planted along both sides of U.S. 31 (Bridge St.) from one end of the city to the other - four linear miles in all. Although the plan was greeted with much skepticism at first, support grew steadily and when a "Charlevoix the Beautiful" license plate sale in February raised the neccessary funds, 30,000 petunias were ordered.

Saturday, May 22, dubbed Pride Day, saw hundreds of local citizens on their hands and knees planting the flowers in beds that had been carefully prepared over the previous weeks. By 10 a.m. that day, the job was completed. Faithful watering and fertilization by Dale and Marilyn Boss helped the flowers prosper and by August, the roadsides were lush with the multicolored petunias. Compliments subsequently poured in from many travelers and the project was honored with a Keep Michigan Beautiful award. Plans for next year's planting are already underway.

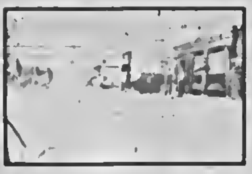
Other major stories in 1982 included the following:

A Master Plan for the City of Charlevoix, two years in development, was approved by City Council in November. The plan was authored by consultant Ronald Nino with help from the landscape design firm of M.C. Smith and incorporated citizen input collected from a series of public workshops held in February and March and a survey questionnaire distributed in the Courier. The plan will now be used by the city as a guideline for future development.

Snowstorms that dumped 56 inches of white stuff on the city between January 1 and 17 brought activities in the area on at least two weekends to a virtual halt. The unusually brutal winter also saw arctic temperatures and gusting winds inflict substantial hardship on many area residents. It was the toughest winter many could remember.

1982 Review

City manager Robert Hunt, having been on the job only about six months, announced his resignation April 6 culminating a dispute between Hunt and the City Council over the hiring of a fire chief and a proposed layoff of some city employees. Subsequent discussions between Hunt and the council resulted in a more clearly defined policy on the relationship between the manager and the council and, on May 3, Hunt announced that he would remain on the job.



PPB contamination was in the news again in February when a benchmark case involving a local family went to a jury trial in Charlevoix. In a suit filed in 1978, Douglas Warner, his former wife Marty Jo Aardema and his mother, Mrs. Grace Warner, sought damages from the Velsicol Chemical Corp., Farm Bureau [illegible] and the Charlevoix and Ellsworth Co-ops for PBB contamination that allegedly caused health problems for the three plaintiffs. On February 19, however, a six-woman jury found in favor of the defendants.

Ozzy Osbourne stirred up a whirlwind of controversy in absentia when rumors that he would mutilate live animals in his May 3 Castle Farms Music Theatre rock concert appearance were buzzing for weeks before the concert. Allegations that Osbourne was a Satan-worshipper also stoked the fire. As it turned out, Osbourne's concert was relatively anticlimactic with the only unusual stage effect being a midget dressed in a black robe lowered on a rope over the stage during one song.

Emergency sirens with a public address capability were installed by Consumers Power Company at 11 locations within a five-mile radius of the Big Rock Point nuclear plant as per Nuclear Regulatory Commission orders. Big Rock was also in the news in June when hearings were conducted by the NRC at Boyne Mountain to determine whether the spent fuel pool at the plant can be enlarged.

Downtown parking woes saw the creation in April of a Downtown Development Authority (DDA). The DDA's only project of the year, the purchase of property for a parking lot, was unsuccessful, however, when a tax increment financing plan for the project was rejected by City Council May 24.

Reapportoinment meant radical change for the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners. Following the state mandate of one man, one vote, the county was redistricted into six units, a reduction from 15. Despite objections from the 15-member Board of Commissioners, the reapportionment stood and this week's will e the last meeting of the 15-member board.

Economic Development

Several projects got off ground despite poor economy

by DAVE KNIGHT

Despite the dismal state of the economy in 1982, private development, primarily in the commericial and industrial sectors, forged ahead in Charlevoix with several major projects in the news. Many of them, however, turned to local government for help.

On March 23, the Charlevoix County Economic Development Corporation (EDC) completed a $3 million bonding package for LexaLite International for its rebuilt facility that had been destroyed by fire the summer before. The limited obligation bonds enabled LexaLite to rebuld and enlarge its Hayes Township operation which was back in business less than four months after the fire. LexaLite Signal Products, a division of the parent firm now located in the former Gately building on Charlevoix's north side, also announced plans to build a new plant earlier this year and is reportedly considering a site in the city's soon-to-be improved "Business Park", formerly the Industrial Park.

The Weathervane Terrace motel broke ground November 2 on an expansion project that also involved EDC assistance as well as tax relief from the City of Charlevoix. The $1.225 million project included $725,000 in EDC-issued bonds and a 50 percent, five-year tax abatement program from the city. Added to the existing facility will be 33 units, condominium-owned but operated as a motel. The new units are hoped to be ready by next June.

Nanny's Old Place, a combination party store-restaurant-motel, opened its doors earlier this month at its Ferry Ave. location. The new business, hoping to capitalize on a revitalized southeast side, was also granted tax relief from the city.

The Bay Rail Express brought passenger train service back to Charlevoix this summer - if only on a limited basis - when it initiated weekend runs between Charlevoix and Petoskey. The service was started by John McGoff, owner of the Bay Queen dinner boat. McGoff also brought a trolley to Charlevoix for the summer which transported Bay Queen passengers and gave tours around town.

MacDonalds and 7-11 both opened franchises in Charlevoix this year but only after agreeing to City Council demands that they put up wooden signs instead of standard interior-lit, plastic ones.

Free Children's movie Wednesday at Cinema III

Charlevoix children will be treated to a re-run of the Christmas movie, "Mountain Family Robinson," 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 29, at Cinema III.

All children will be admitted free to the show sponsored by the Charlevoix County State Bank.

The show is being re-run because the last reel of the movie was missing when it was presented as a treat in connection with the annual appearance of Santa Claus on the Saturday before Christmas.

Sheriff Lasater warns about road conditions

With the winter months fast approaching, the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department will be making available to residents of the county an early morning raod report.

Sheriff George T. Lasater said the sheriff's department highway patrol would forward the information to eight radio stations in the area for broadcast. The report will include information on road conditions on US 31 North and South, US 131 North and South, M-75, M-66, Charlevoix-Boyne City road, Boyne City-East Jordan road and the Advance Road. The condition of other roads will be made available as time allows, Sheriff Lasater said.

The reports will begin at once.

Passports to cost more in 1983

Persons applying for passports for foreign travel after the first of the year will find that the price has more than doubled.

Passports, good for ten years for adults over 18, will cost $43.

Passports, good for five years for children under 18, will cost $27. Presently the price is $15 for all ages.

Passports may be obtained through the office of the Charlevoix County Clerk in the County Building, which receives $7 for each application it processes.

Approximately 200 applications are processed through the Clerk's office each year, according to Janice Williams, Deputy County Clerk.

Mrs. Williams advises those planning foreign travel to make application for their passports six to eight weeks in advance of the time they are needed.

A NEW BUILDING AT A NEW LOCATION is being prepared for the Michigan Liquor Control Commission outlet in Charlevoix. On January 3, the store will open in its new quarters, above, located on Bells Bay Road about 1.5 miles south of its present location near the Charlevoix Airport. The new building has about 6,000 square feet of space compared to about 3,500 square feet at the present building. The lease at the present site was not renewed because of the limited space available and the need for a more accessible facility.

School board discusses summer tax collection

by FRAN MARTIN

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at its regular meeting December 20, approved debt retirement payments and heard Supt. Gordon W. VanWieren's report on action relating to summer tax collection and a proposed research project to be conducted in the Charlevoix schools.

The board approved the payment of $44,379 to the City National Bank of Detroit for bonds dated April 1, 1959 (Charlevoix High School) and for those dated July 1, 1968 in the amount of $15,396 (Elementary School). The latter payment will be made to the National Bank of Detroit.

Mr. VanWieren advised the board that the State Legislature has approved Legislation that would allow the collection of taxes during the summer. However, the collection is not mandatory. He said that early next month he would be in contact with city and township officials of those areas within the Charlevoix School District to obtain input from area residents relating to the proposed summer tax collection. This will include Charlevoix city officials and township officials from Charlevoix, Hayes, Norwood, Marion and part of Eveline township.

He went on to say that taxes were originally collected in the fall for the convenience of farmers. However, under the new legislation, farmers whose chief source of income is derived from farm products are exempt from summer tax collections.

The proposed research project will utilize the results of the Metropolitan tests given to students enrolled in the Charlevoix school during the past four years. Barbara Bump will be in charge of the project that will include a follow-through of those students to see how they have developed over the four-year period and to determine if the Charlevoix schools are meeting the needs of those student.

Following the building report given by Doris Pearl, the need for an on-going maintenance program in the schools was discussed. Vane H. Smith, high school principal, and Vincent Olach, business manager, were named to meet with building personnel to determine needs and to begin plans for a long-range maintenance program after determining immediate needs.

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for Jan. 3.

Commission on Aging prepared to help seniors

by PEG OHLE

Things are hard for a lot of people in Charlevoix County this winter, but there seems to be quite a bit of help available to senior citizens. At least that's the impression we received from looking over the coming year's budget report of the County Commission on Aging.

The budget totals $121,007 for ten different categories of service. In addition, the County Transit System, which is under the jurisdiction of the Commission on Aging although it serves people of all ages, has a 14-month budget of $318,959.

The Nutrition Program is the largest of the regular Commission on Aging services. The budget for this program is set at $61,385 for the year. For that money, the Commission plans on serving 32,676 meals at its meal sites in Charlevoix (High School), East Jordan (Senior Center), and Boyne City (City Hall). It also plans on delivering 6,090 meals to shut-ins and other handicapped people.

Funding for the Nutrition Program is listed as coming from a "Federal-USDA Grant" in the amount of $37,219, "In-Kind" (space and services furnished locally) in the amount of $7,476, and "Project Income Including County" in the amount of $24,166.

A less ambitious service of the Commission on Aging is the Transportation Service (not the green buses of the Transit System), which provides emergency transportation to senior citizens. The Commission plans on 300 persons using this service during the year. The annual budget for the service is $4,300, coming from a "Federal-State Grant", a "County Match", and "Project Income".

Another small service is Health Screening, provided in conjunction with the Health Department. The budget of $2,100 calls for 45 screening patients, paid for by a "Federal-State Grant", "County Match", and "Project Income".

A somewhat larger program is the Homemaker Service, which provides short-term care for senior citizens in their homes. It is also offered in conjunction with the Health Department. The budget of $10,911 comes from a "Federal-State Grant" of $8,183, a small "County Match", and "Project Income". The Commission on Aging expects to provide 110 people with this service during the year.

The Home Chore program provides household help to incapacitated senior citizens. It is set up to help 140 people during the year at a cost of $11,312. This money will come from a "Federal-State Grant" of $8,484, a small "County Match" and "Project Income".

The Charlevoix County Senior Center, located in East Jordan, provides a place for senior citizens to socialize, do handicrafts, hear speakers, and eat Nutrition Program lunches. It is budgeted at $7,147 for the year, all of which comes from a "Federal-State Grant". The number of senior citizens it serves yearly is not computed, but during the first two months of this year, 154 senior citizens took advantage of the Center.

There is a second budget for the Senior Center to cover "Staffing", which is paid for by a different "Federal-State Grant" in the amount of $3,000 and $333 of County "In-Kind" provisions. The 154 people above noted are listed as the clients.

Home Health Aide is another of the smaller programs under jurisdiction of the Commission on Aging. As its name suggests, it provides personal health care in the home for senior citizens. The program is budgeted at $6,200, with $4,650 coming from a "Federal-State Grant" and small amounts from the County and Project Income.

The Commission on Aging has set aside a budget of $5,000 for "Special Projects". At the present time, no special projects are planned.

Adminstration costs (excluding salaries) for the Commission on Aging are budgeted at $9,319 for the year.

There is no financial need criteria for services rendered by the Commission on Aging. They are available to all senior citizens based on the ability of the Commission to provide them at any given time. Those who can and want to contribute for a portion of the services are encouraged to do so.

The Charlevoix County Commission on Aging has offices in Charlevoix, East Jordan, and Boyne City. None of them are staffed full time, so those wanting services or information should call all three offices at different times of the day until they reach someone. The telephone numbers are 547-6282, 536-7831, and 582-6682.

As noted above, the Charlevoix County Transit System has a separate budget and is operated independently. However, over 30 percent of the riders of Transit System buses in November were senior citizens, many of whom used the buses with lifts to accomodate their wheel chairs.

Unlike other senior citizens services, bus rides have set fees, although small. One-way trips within a three mile area cost senior citizens 30 cents, or 60 cents a round trip; longer in-county trips cost them 55 cents one way, or $1.10 a round trip; and round trips to Petoskey cost $1.85. These prices are half of what is charged regular riders.

During 1981, the Transit System provided 79,615 rides to senior citizens and others. Costs to the Transit System for providing those rides amounted to $267,107.83, but only $38,260.51 was collected in fares. The difference was subsidized by the State (gasoline taxes and license plate fees).

The present 14-month Transit System budget calls for expenditures of $318,959, to be covered by $55,000 in fares, $33,980 in County funds, and $226,977 in State funds. County funds will come from a .25 mill tax levy.

So, transportation facilities are there for senior citizens to use. Most times it is necessary to phone for a bus 24 hours in advance, but sometimes it is possible to get one the day it is requested. (The buses provide door-to-door services). No matter how far out in the country a person lives, if it is in Charlevoix County, he or she is entitled to Transit System service at the prices quoted above. The phone number of the Transit System is 582-6900.

One of the main uses of Transit System buses by senior citizens is transportation to the places where lunches are served under the Nutrition Program. For nominal bus fare and a small contribution for lunch, senior citizens can have a good meal and get out and meet others of their age group. Often health screenings – blood pressure, hearing, etc. – are available at the lunch sites.

There are services for almost every senior citizen underwritten by taxes paid by them, their children, their relatives, their neighbors, everybody. It's a good time to take advantage of them.

Knight out of Town

Dave Knight is on vacation this week.

Clockwise

Food for the poor

by Bob Clock

THEY ARRIVED at the back door almost daily, young men with stubble on their chins, frayed shirt collars and tattered topcoats. They always asked my mother if she had any odd jobs they could do in exchange for a sandwich and a cup of coffee.

She could never think of anything that needed doing, but she would invite them into the back porch where they sat at a little porcelain topped table while she fixed sandwiches and something to drink in the kitchen.

Sometimes they'd joke with me while I stood watching wide-eyed from the doorway; more often they sat silently next to the butter crocks and the egg baskets, which certainly must have been aggravating symbols of affluence to the unemployed and the hungry during the days of the Great Depression.

When the sandwiches arrived they ate ravenously; and when they finished they were so profuse in their thanks that mama blushed.

For many of us, such scenes are no more than dim memories from the bleak 1930's — memories we would just as soon forget. But the homeless and the hungry are with us again in increasing numbers as the nation's economy stumbles along from one pitfall to the next.

BUT THE SELFLESSNESS, the generosity that saw us through the Great Depression apparently are as alive today as they were 50 years ago.

Never since those grim days have I seen such an outpouring of human kindness as we witnessed through the Christmas season. Everyone with anything to share apparently did so, either individually or collectively.

Even Michigan's farmers who are having a tough time themselves have sent caravans of foodstuffs to the inner cities so that no one would go hungry over the holidays.

Soup kitchens have sprung up in such unlikely places as Boyne City.

Maine farmers have shipped their surplus potatoes to unemployed steelworkers in Pittsburgh.

Literally hundreds of civic, charitable and church organizations throughout the state packed Christmas baskets for needy families — beautiful examples of the Christmas spirit at work.

What bothers me is what will happen now that Christmas is over, because the need will remain as great as ever until there is a major turnaround in the economy. Wouldn't it be nice if the Christmas spirit stayed with us until the nation finds its new direction and everyone who wants to work can find a job?

NORTHERN MICHIGAN'S unseasonably warm weather this Christmas week is nothing less than a full-blown disaster for area ski resorts. In fact, this one week is so important that success or failure for the entire season depends on what kind of weather we have the last week in December.

Unfortunately, there is not much anyone can do when the mercury climbs into the 60's and spring-like rains scour away the man-made snow base.

Merely "thinking snow" won't help; but a good, howling blizzard before New Year's would be a godsend — regardless of how much we enjoyed raking leaves or playing golf on Christmas Day.

County Commissioners

Martin Bieganowski of Wilson Township, representing Wilson and Eveline Township on the County Board since 1980, was defeated by Ralph Harmon, another County Commissioner, after re-districting put them in the same District. The District now includes Chandler, Hudson, Wilson, and part of Eveline Townships.

Keith Annear of East Jordan, who has been on the County Board since 1977 was not a candidate for re-election.

Casimir Toton of Boyne City has represented part of that City since 1979. When Boyne City was allotted only one instead of three County Commissioners, Toton was defeated for city-wide representation.

Marvin Loding of Boyne City, who has served since 1978, lost out in the same manner as Toton. All of Boyne City will now be represented by Oral Sutiff.

Don Meggison, one of the City of Charlevoix's three representatives on the County Board since 1974, was not a candidate for re-election.

Oscar Ward, another Charlevoix representative since 1975, was defeated by Lee Moerland, who now becomes the only representative of the City on the County Board.

These are the men who said goodbye to each other last week. The "successful six" who will take over their jobs are Breakey, Smith, Larry Matthew of Melrose Township who ran unopposed, Harmon, Sutiff, and Moerland.

As tokens of rememberance and appreciation, the remaining Commissioners presented plaques to the outgoing Commissioners at the end of last week's meeting. They also presented Clyde Cunningham with a plaque commemorating his years of service as chairman.

All Commissioners were guests of honor at the annual Christmas party for County employees.

DNR hydrologist T. Eftaxiadis, left, and Health Department sanitarian Larry Levengood take a sample from one of the test wells in the search for the source of TCE in city water.

This group of weeders were some of the hundreds of volunteers that made Operation Petunia so successful.

Downtown Charlevoix was deserted on this Monday morning, January 11, in the wake of one of that month's massive snowstorms.

Eleven emergency sirens and public address speakers such as this one were installed in the five-mile radius around the Big Rock nuclear plant.

Ozzy Osbourne's pre-concert publicity proved to be much more bizarre than his actual performance at Castle Farms Music Theatre on May 3.

Letters: Thank you Charlevoix

Andrews says good-by

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to the people of Northern Michigan who have afforded me the opportunity to serve them, the last four years, in the Michigan Legislature.

The years have been interesting to say the least as Michigan has born the brunt, economically as well as socially, of a National Recession and the accompanying pain and inconvience associated with that Recession.

I have learned much about politics, people and myself during this time. I have pleased some people with my performance and antagonized others. To all I can honestly say, I have done my best to deal with the issues that have faced me in a fair and conscientious manner.

I leave the Legislature to return to the Northern Michigan that my family and I love so much and hope that our circumstances will allow us to continue to contribute to making it a better place to live, work and raise a family.

I wish all a joyous Holiday Season and a prosperous New Year.

Steve Andrews

Band seeks support

To the Editor:

Charlevoix High School and Middle School Bands are raising funds to finance new uniforms for middle school band, a portable band shell and scholarships for band camp. They are also taking voluntary $5.00 fees from each band family for awards and plaques.

Two years ago we had a very successful fund raiser. An auction was held that was supported by the community as well as the Band Boosters. We had tremendous support from the area merchants. We don't plan on having an auction this year but we will plan on one for the following year. In the spring of 83, we hope to have a bean soup supper for the community as a special fund raiser. We are hoping for much support from everyone.

The band director, Terry Isenbarger, hopes that we can look for wonderful moral and financial support that we have enjoyed from the community in the past.

The Charlevoix Band Program is making every effort to provide the best possible instrumental music programs in the school while supporting the community in every way.

Marching band performs at halftime for every home football game. The 7th and 8th grade bands, the 6th grade band and the High School symphonic band perform several concerts during the year. The Marching Band marches in the Venetian Day Parade as well as the Memorial Day Parade. They also hold concerts for other school functions. In addition, small groups perform in pep band for home basketball games and a quintet recently performed at several special occasions for the community. Individual musicians also perform in solo and ensemble festivals and regional honors band.

A great deal of cooperation is required if the band is to attain the goals stated above. Your support will assure the ongoing success of the Charlevoix Public School Systems Music Department.

Thanks Air Force

To the Editor:

We would like to extend a very special thank-you to the following establishments for their contributions to the children's Christmas party hosted by the U.S. Air Force Station in Bayshore on December 19, 1982: Resort Bear Creek Fire Department, Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department, Bay Shore Stop and Shop, McArt's Mart of Bay Shore, Tallberg Chevrolet and the Char-Em School Library.

Without the contributions of these thoughtful people, the party could not have been the tremendous success that it was. Thanks to these kind people and to the Air Force personnel who volunteered their services: Major Paul Schaffenberger, SMSgt. Mike Herndon, SSgt. Rick Reeder, SSgt. Mike Bowles, SSgt. David Starr, SrA Lisa Noltie, SrA Bill Grobbel, A1C Jim Childers, A1C David Hansen, A1C Tineke Hare, A1C Brian Robinson, A1C Eugene Kerley, A1C Randy Forehand, and A1C Lorin Doolan.

Happy Holidays from the U.S.A.F.

Deadline Thursday for ski registration

Thursday, Dec. 30, will be the deadline for signing up for downhill ski lessons at Mt. McSauba.

Interested persons may sign up at Mt. McSauba ski lodge at that time. Lessons for children in the K-2, 3-6 and six-plus grade levels will be offered as well as lessons for adults.

Enrollees will receive half-price ski lift tickets the nights of their lessons. The lessons will run for five weeks. All participants are expected to supply their own equipment.

January 23 will be family ski school day. At that time a variety of classes will be offered.

Classes for women will be offered during the afternoon.

A three-week session in February will offer regular lessons as well as racing techniques.

The wedding will be an event of July 9, 1983, at the Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix.

Tips on winter care for family pet

People have come to agree that the word "pet" implies any domesticated or tamed animal that is well cared for.

Fortunately, the majority of people treat their animals with care. However, there are those who, for some reason, neglect their animals by not providing them with suitable housing during the cold northern Michigan winter or a proper diet to sustain them in the cold.

"These are the people I want to reach with some suggestions about caring for pets during the winter when they need special care," Karen A. Bennett, Animal Control officer for Charlevoix County, said.

No animal should be left outside without proper shelter. The shelter opening should be away from the wind (In this area westerly winds are the prevailing winds). A rug or some sort of protector should be hung over the door so the animal can enter or leave its shelter with ease but retain the body heat in the shelter. There should also be straw or a blanket on the floor of the shelter.

Food and water are essential. During the cold weather extra care should be given in providing an enriched diet to allow the animal to put on the extra layer of fat that will protect them from the cold. Care should also be given to the animal's water dish which should be clean and filled with water.

Animals should also be confined and not allowed to run at large. They could do damage to other people's property and could endanger a motorist, causing injury to a driver or to themselves. During the winter when roads are wet and slippery from the snow it is an added menace to have pets running loose Mrs. Bennett warned. Persons allowing their pets to run at large are subject to citations and fines.

"As Animal Control officer, I would like to remind the residents of Charlevoix County that the law spells out very clearly that for every offense of cruelty or neglect there shall be punishment by impresonment in jail not exceeding three months or by fine not exceeding $500 or by by both. This applies to livestock of all kinds as well as dogs, cats and other animals considered pets," Mrs. Bennett warned.

Charlevoix physician discusses diabetes

Diabetes is receiving considerable attention today. Two to six percent of the population may have diabetes. It is a serious disease and a major cause of heart attack, kidney failure, blindness and death.

It is estimated that 240,000 persons in Michigan, alone, have diabetes and do not know it, according to the Michigan chapter of the American Diabetes Association.

Dr. James Gels, Charlevoix Area Hospital staff physician, whose specialty is Internal Medicine, treats many diabetics. He agreed to answer questions on the disease.

Q: What is diabetes?

Dr. Gels: Diabetes is basically a disease in which the blood sugar is abnormally high. It is caused when a person's pancreas is "lazy" and does not produce enough of the hormone insulin. Insulin regulates the blood sugar.

Q: What can happen if the blood sugar becomes too high?

Dr. Gels: When blood sugar becomes too high the body breaks down fat, forming acids in the blood. This leads to a blood chemistry imbalance, then dehydration and loss of consciousness, or a coma. Untreated, this leads to death.

Q: Is there a cure for diabetes?

Dr. Gels: Generally diabetes cannot be cured, but it can be controlled. Diabetes can be controlled so well, in fact, patients can lead a nearly normal life.

Q: How do you control diabetes?

Dr. Gels: Depending on the type of diabetes and the seriousness of the case, diabetes can be controlled with insulin injections, oral medication and diet. Diet is very important.

Q: How do you determine the treatment?

Dr. Gels: Diabetes which begins in childhood almost always requires daily insulin injections. Not all adults, however, need insulin. Some may use oral medications. Some adult diabetics can be managed by adhering to a proper diabetic diet without medication. The goal is to lower the blood sugar.

Q: Can the blood sugar be lowered too much?

Dr. Gels: Yes, there can be an insulin reaction causing the blood sugar to drop too far. This is called hypoglycemia.

Q: What happens then?

Dr. Gels: You may feel weak, hungry, dizzy or sleepy and may be sweating. You might pass out if the blood sugar is not immediately corrected. That's why we recommend that diabetics always carry a lump of sugar or hard candy in case they get these symptoms.

Q: Can diabetics ever get off medications?

Dr. Gels: Yes. Some adults can learn to manage their diabetes with diet. Generally these people have been very overweight.

Q: Can diabetes be caused by a poor diet?

Dr. Gels: Obesity is certainly a factor in bringing out diabetes, especially for people with blood relatives who have diabetes, or who have shown a diabetic tendency in pregnancy.

Q: If I have a blood relative with diabetes does that mean I will get it?

Dr. Gels: There is no simple answer to that question. There is a tendency for blood relatives of diabetics to get diabetes, but a clear pattern of inheritance has not been shown.

Q: You said diabetics can lead "nearly" normal lives. What do you mean?

Dr. Gels: If a diabetic takes his or her medication properly, and follows the proper diet, he or she can lead a full life. It is especially important that diabetic children be reassured they are normal. They can participate in sports just like any other child. They will learn to regulate their insulin and take responsibility for their diets.

Q: What things should a diabetic not do?

Dr. Gels: Diabetics should not smoke and they should not drink excessive alcohol. Alcohol makes it difficult to control blood sugar. The combination of diabetes and smoking very significantly contriubtes to vascular disease, kidney disease and stroke.

Q: Are there side effects of diabetes?

Dr. Gels: Diabetics are more prone to developing kidney and heart trouble, stroke, blindness, and gangrene of the feet. Because diabetes causes changes in the blood vessels, these diseases and hardening of the arteries are other hazards.

Q: What symptoms should a non diobetic watch for and how often should someone be tested for diabetes?

Dr. Gels: The symptoms of diabetes are frequent urination and constant thirst, an unexplained loss of weight and tiredness. Anyone with these symptoms or people with blood relatives with diabetes should take advantage of the free testing clinics offered by area hospitals and the American Diabetes Association, annually. Or, if the symptoms persist you can also be tested anytime by your physician.

Q: Is there more diabetes today than in the past?

Dr. Gels: I think we are seeing more people with diabetes than before because people are living longer. Diabetes can occur anytime, in childhood and throughout adulthood.

ECHO McDONALD was the grand prize winner in Reusch Jewelry's $2,000 shopping spree contest. Ms. McDonald plans to split the $2,000 shopping spree with a friend. Contestants deposited entry blanks at the various Reusch Jewelry stores and each store awarded diamond earrings to one winner. Ms. McDonald's name was drawn from among the diamond earring winners. Presenting the award is Dave Martindale, manager of the Charlevoix Reusch Jewelry store.

Cribbage tournament opens here Jan. 6

Plans for the fifty-second annual Masons-Odd Fellows Cribbage tournament have been announced by Robert C. Heise, secretary of the event.

The 1983 tournament will get underway at the Masonic Temple at 8 p.m. Thursday, January 6.

The Masons, who will be captained by Bob Wise, are the defending champions. The Odd Fellows will be captained by George Smith.

The tournament, initiated during the early days of the Great Depression of the 1930's by the Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. & A.M. and Round Lake Lodge No. 293, I.O.O.F., is the longest ongoing event in the community, spanning more than half a century.

The tournament which opens January 6 will be held at alternate sites between the Masonic Temple and the American Legion post home. It will run for 10 weeks and will be climaxed with a dinner honoring the winning team and hosted by the losing team.

Participants in the tournament are not limited to members of the two organizations, Heise said in announcing the event. All cribbage players in the area are extended an invitation to play.

Rayders on top at holiday break

The Charlevoix Rayder basketball squad goes into its holiday break with plenty to celebrate. At 6-0, 5-0 in the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference, the Rayders stand on top of the heap along with St. Ignace following a come-from-behind Charlevoix victory over Grayling last Tuesday night.

Following the different-hero-every-game format that seems to be popular with the Rayders this season, senior forward Chris Putman played the role this time pouring in 12 much needed points in the fourth quarter to secure a 65-52 win over the Vikings.

It was ironically free throw shooting, which has almost been the bane of the team in some games this year, that also was a factor. In the fourth quarter, the Rayders converted 13 of 14 attempts from the line and went 21 of 26 for the game.

Charlevoix sprang to a 14-4 lead in the first quarter but seemed to lose intensity as the game wore on. By the halftime intermission, Grayling had managed to pull within one point, 28-27.

By the end of the third quarter, the Vikes acutally forged ahead but held a tenuous one-point advantage, 39-38, when the final stanza got underway and Putman went to work. In that quarter, Charlevoix outscored Grayling 27-13 to seal the 65-52 win.

Putman shared individual scoring honors with Craig Klooster as each totalled 18 points. George Smith added 14 and Tim LaBlance 11. In rebounding, it was Klooster with 19, Smith with 7 and Putman and Mark Oostmeyer with 6 apiece.

Charlevoix shot a marginal 39 percent from the floor but Grayling was even worse at 36 percent.

This week's only game is a non-conference match with county rival East Jordan on Tuesday night.

GEORGE SMITH goes up for a basket against Cheboygan earlier in the season. The Rayders are tied with St. Ignace for the Michigan-Huron Shores Conference lead at the holiday break.

Girls volleyball team ready for action

The Charlevoix Rayder Volleyball team will open its season next Wednesday, Jan. 5, when East Jordan comes to town. The following Saturday the team will participate in the Petoskey Invitational tournament.

Walt Drenth has taken over as coach of both the Varsity and JV squads which brought out 44 candidates. Cuts have been made, teams organized and practice sessions started in preparation for the season which will run into March.

Returning as a nucleus for the 1983 season are seven regulars from last season including five seniors and two juniors plus a sophomore who saw action with the Varsity during the tournament.

Seniors are Mary Ellen Cluk, Chris Mitchell, Treasure Drost, Connie Borths, and Laura Kemp; juniors are Rhonda Buchanan and Amy Sell and the sophomore who played during the tournament, Angie McClanaghan.

Other candidates who are up from last years squad are juniors: Beth Jones, Bonnie Bergmann, Laura Henry, Missy Sandahl and Karolyn Bearss; and sophomores Meg Fowler, Ann Wagner and Maureen Buday.

"This early in the season it is difficult to know how the team will shape up" Drenth said of his varsity team. "As a new coach who is working with the candidates for the first time I cannot, as this point, make any predictions. However, I feel the potential is there if we can develop a strong desire to win" he continued.

Included among the candidates are two sophomores who are new to the game, Sue Annis and Laura Herbolsheimer, plus 12 enthusiastic freshmen in Ann Boulton, La[illegible] Stargardt, Chris Cunningham, Chaya Moore, Mary Sherwood, Marta Vliet, Debbie Towsley, Stacy Way, Carol Holm, Tammy Lamber, Sherry Williams and Barb Stowe.

In discussing the team further, Drenth said the squad has the potential to be a strong contender for the league title. "We have the experience and the size. It is now a matter of becoming a team with a desire to become a winner. That is something the girls will have to develop themselves."

The East Jordan game on January 5 is the first of 12 games and two tournaments the team will participate in before the season ends Feb. 28. Pre-district games will be played March 3 with the District Tournament opening March 5.

JV Basketball

The Charelvoix Rayder junior varsity basketball team edged Grayling 56-55 in a game that saw the Rayders lose the lead after heading the visitors 16-8 at the quarter and 31-24 at halftime.

The young Vikings snapped back as the second half got underway to outscore the Rayders 19-9 in the third period to go ahead 43-40 going into the final period. The Rayders got back on line in the final period to win by a one point margin.

Charlevoix won the game on the free-throw line after matching Grayling from the floor with 22 field goals. Charlevoix had 12 of 20 free throws and collected 22 personal fouls while Grayling and 11 of 24 and 21 personal fouls.

Thad Morgan led the scoring with 17 points followed by Will Syvertson with 13 and Brent Cole with 12.

Jay Nicholas had 15 and Mark Lovely 13 for Grayling.

The team will meet East Jordan on the home floor at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Freshman Basketball

The Charlevoix Rayder freshmen closed out the 1982 section of their schedule with a 37-35 victory over Kalkaska Monday night.

A 15 foot jump shot at the buzzer gave the young Rayders the win after they had trailed 8-0 at the quarter and 19-18 at halftime.

The freshmen had made a come back in the third period to knot the score 29-all going into the final period when the game became a seesaw battle with the Rayders capitalizing on the last shot of the game.

Putman had 14 points for the game.

Mike Prokup had nine for Kalkaska.

The freshmen will return to the court at Harbor Springs on Jan 6.

Rec Basketball

Townhouse continues to lead the A League of the Charlevoix Independent Basketball program after defeating Ellsworth IDC 75-68 in action Wednesday. In a second game, Boyne Auto edged Village Inn Pizza 75-72.

The Townshouse-IDC game was a seesaw battle all the way with Ellsworth leading 20-18 at the quarter only to lose the advantage to Townhouse 40-32 at halftime. The game was tied 52-all going into the final period when Townhouse pulled away for the victory.

Steve Dunkelberg paced the game with 26 points followed by Dan McKenzie with 17, Bud Klooster with 14 and Gary Drury with 10.

Brian Farrell had 22, Tex Drenth and Jim Danbert 14 each and Larry Taylor 10 for Ellsworth.

Boyne Auto overcame a first period 14-12 deficit to head Village Inn Pizza 38-29 at halftime and 54-49 at the three-quarter mark when the game became a scoring duel with Boyne Auto scoring in the final seconds for the win.

Keith Fitzpatrick had 22, Hal Price 16 and Dale Tims 14 for Boyne Auto. Woody Pearson scored 21, Jerry Skippergosh 20 and Vincedeft 16 for VIP.

Action in the league will be suspended until January 3rd.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE ON FORECLOSURE BY ADVERTISMENT

Default having been made in the condition of a certain Mortgage made by Roger P. Sheperd to Charlevoix County State Bank, dated May 23, 1980, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan on May 30, 1980 in Liber 160, of Mortages, on Page 303-304, on which Mortgage there is claimed to be due as of the date of this Notice, for principal and interest, the sum of $37,671.57, and no proceedings having been instituted to recover the debt now remaining secured by said Mortgage, or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said Mortgage has become operative;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises herein described or so much thereof as may be necessary, at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the County Building, in the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix, Michigan, that being the place of holding the Circuit Court in and for said County, on January 10, 1983, at 11:00 o'clock eastern standard time in the morning of said day, and said premises will be sold to pay the amount so as aforesaid then due on said Mortgage together with 17.50 percent interest, legal costs, attorneys' fees and also any taxes and insurance that said Mortgagee, Charlevoix County State Bank, does pay on or prior to the date of such sale. Said premises are described in said Mortgage as follows, to wit:

Township of Norwood, County of Charlevoix, State of Michigan, Lot 70 Clipper View Subdivision, Part of Section 11 & 12, T33N, R8W.

Further, said Mortgagee, Charlevoix County State Bank, is informed and does believe that Mortgagor, Roger P. Shepard, did on August 27, 1982, enter into a certain Mortgage with Priscilla M. Shepard, a single woman, concerning the above described real property contained in said Charlevoix County State Bank Mortgage and said Mortgage to Priscilla M. Shepard, a single woman, was recorded on August 27, 1982, in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan, at Liber 186, of Mortgages, of Page 185.

As made and provided by law, the length of redemption period is six (6) months from the time of said sale.

Connie Ford inspires Performing Arts students

By ANNE KELLY

"I guess the most important thing I've done in my years here, is to have taken a school that had only 18 kids signed up for Forensics, and expand the program to what it is now – three sections with about 27 students each. The kids are exposed to a wide range of experiences beyond the classroom in this program."

Connie Ford, Charlevoix High School English and Performing Arts instructor, received her bachelor's degree in communication arts from Michigan State University where she concentrated her studies in speech education and theater and also participated in the MSU Players. After graduation, Mrs. Ford taught one year in Waterford, and three years in Boulder, Colorado before moving to Charlevoix and assuming a teaching position here. That was in 1968. She has taught Journalism, English, Speech and most recently, Performing Arts ever since. To her credit during that time is an impressive list of accomplishments.

The program under her tutelage has produced three State Championship storytellers, finalists in storytelling, humorist finalists and multiple group reading finalists. Charlevoix students took the Class C State Championship in individual events and have been State Debate champs and runners up. There have been only two years when Charlevoix was not in the State Finals in Debate. In drama, Charlevoix has been Class C Drama Champs and Mrs. Ford is especially proud that last year's competition play, "The Diary of Anne Frank" won the Total Cast Award.

The yearly program is aimed at preparation for three competitions: debate, drama, and individual events. Extra curricular activity for enthusiasts is the "Performing Arts" group which evolved as an outgrowth of the annual competition play.

Mr. Ford has worked with the American Musical Theater for the past three years, decided to experiment with the elements of music and dance from the various plays they had performed. The result is a group of about 27 students who are willing to put in the extra practice hours necessary to put on programs for the community.

Last year, the group did "The Best of Broadway" as a dinner theater performance. The group appeared at the Grey Gables Inn for a combined civic organization – Chamber of Commerce function. Other engagements included a Thanksgiving show for the senior citizens and an evening of entertainment for the St. Mary's Church Appreciation Dinner last month.

"My concept of the program is for anyone in the student body to have the opportunity to be involved in performing if they want to," she explained.

The most talented performers are, of course, featured in the productions, but there are plenty of slots for the novice who is willing to put in the time and effort required to put on a show.

The group's latest endeavor is "Grease", presently being rehearsed for competition this winter. The musical will feature two very talented youngsters: Gary Carson, who spent last summer with the Young Americans, and Diana Loder as the Olivia Newton-John component of the twosome. She is a sparkling natural, who can really belt out a song.

There will be plenty of singing and dancing for all the cast. A performance will be planned for the public before the show goes into competition.

The teacher attributes much of her enthusiasm for the Performing Arts Program to the experience gained working with professionals involved with the Young Americans. One of the biggest thrills of her career was seeing senior Gary Carson audition for and make The Young Americans last year.

Presently, the Performing Arts group is planning an appearance for the Women's Club in March and is available on request for 30 to 45 minute programs packed with music, dance and readings appropriate to the occasion. For further information contact Connie Ford at the Charlevoix High School.

DIANA LODER and Gary Carson will play the lead roles in "Grease" which will be presented by Charlevoix High School performing arts students. Under the direction of teacher Connie Ford the students expect to enter the musical in statewide competition.

HAMMING IT UP are members of the Charlevoix High School Performing Arts troupe. The students are planning various programs to entertain community groups.

MEMBERS OF St. Mary's Church CCD class ended a unit on Christmas traditions in other countries with a Mexican celebration. Students broke the pinata during a recent Christmas party.

Names In The News

Thomas A. Duke was re-elected a director of the 1.2 million member Automobile Club of Michigan at the annual meeting held recently in Dearborn.

Duke, who will serve a three-year term on the Auto Club's 16-member board, has been a director since 1976.

A third generation-builder, Duke followed his grandfather, Thomas, and his father, George, into the building business, starting when he was 16. He has developed several residences in the Farmington area, including the 1,000-unit Independence Green Golf and Country Club apartment complex and 18-hole golf course.

He is past president of the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit and current chairman of Metropolitan National Bank of Farmington and of the First State Bank of Charlevoix.

He is also a senior active director of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan and president of Estates, Inc., which owns and operates apartment and real estate investments.

Duke is a member of the Charlevoix Lions Club, Detroit Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, Moslem Shrine and Farmington Blue Lodge.

He and his wife, Gail, have three children.

Navy Seaman Recruit SCOTT T. BARRETT, son of Richard N. and Beverly C. Barrett of Charlevoix has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for futher academic aod on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

Steve Andreae, above, was recently named 1982 Realtor Associate of the Year by the Antrim-Charlevoix Board of Bealtors. Andreae has been associated with Charlevoix Properties for six years and specializes in all phases of real estate sales for the Charlevoix-based firm. The Realtor Associate of the Year award is based on contributions to the Antrim-Charlevoix Board of Realtors, for which Andreae currently serves as a member of the Board of Directors, success in the real estate field and overall involvement in the community. Andreae has lived in Charlevoix with his wife Meg for the past eight years. He is a graduate of Western Michigon University and is working toward a G.R.I. degree.

SMALL ADS COMMAND ATTENTION!

Christmas is giving and Charlevoix Area Hospital employees are finding joy in giving to three area families for whom Christmas may otherwise have been bleak. These families will find plenty of toys, clothes and even food under their Christmas tree, as well as a turkey donated by the hospital. The families were selected by the Charlevoix County Department of Social Services. While the employees do not know who the families are, they were told their sizes and the ages of the children.

Annual ski race planned in Boyne City

The Sixth Annual Avalanche Ski Classic in Boyne City has been scheduled for 12:00 noon on Saturday, January 29, 1983.

The Corss-Country Ski Race will be part of a community-wide Winter Festival. Other festival events include a Smeltania Ice Fishing Contest, snowmobile events, sleigh rides, rocket and model airplane exhibitions and a "Slide-Glide-Five".

As in past years, the ski race is designed to appeal to both serious racers and recreational skiers. There are two spearate races, a 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) event for racers and a 5-kilometer (3.1 miles) race for recreational skiers. Race officials point out many people enter the race just for the fun of it. Every participant receives a souvenir race T-shirt and bib, and everyone is invited to join in a post-race party. Last year 100 plus people entered the race.

Olympic-atyle medals, 72 in all, will be awarded to the top 3 finishers in each of 24 racing divisions. Participants will be divided according to age, sex, and length of race. Grand prizes for the fastest male and female finisher in the 10-kilometer race will be awarded.

Check-in on race day is from 8:00 to 10:00 a.m. at The Granary Restaurant, 6 West Main Street, Boyne City. The race is held at Avalanche Mountain Preserve, a 300-acre City Park.

The race is aponsored by Budweiser Light Beer, the City of Boyne City, the Charlevoix County Press, Boyne Area Chamber of Commerce, First National Bank, The Granary, and Harborside Sports.

For entry forms, write The Avalanche Ski Classic, Boyne City Hall, 319 North Lake Street, Boyne City, Michigan 49712.

Tie Breaker Game
QUILTING BARN

Pick the number of points you believe will be scored in the tie-breaker game, and write it in the box.

RULES

1. Anyone can enter, except the employees of the paper and their families. Use the entry blank from the paper or make your own, following the same plan. A copy of the Charlevoix Courier will be available at the Courier office to anyone wishing to copy the list of names.

2. Weekly gift certificates will be awarded to the persons naming the most winners. All tie games are considered incorrect unless picked as ties on your entry blank. In case of a tie, persons guessing nearest correct score in the tiebreaker box will win. Insert what you think total score will be of one game in the tie breaker box.

3. Gift certificates are redeemable at any of the participating sponsors on this page only. Entries should be addressed to: Contest Editor, Charlevoix Courier and postmarked by not later than 5 p.m. Thursday night. Winners will be announced the following weeks.

4. On the entry form simply draw a circle around the number of the team you predict will win each of the games listed in each of the ads. Then, predict the total on the points "tie breaker" at the bottom of the entry form.

Bloodmobile in Charlevoix Jan. 4 at American Legion

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Charlevoix Tuesday, January 4, Mrs. David Fowler, coordinator for the project, has announced.

The unit will be set up at the American Legion post home at 105 E. Garfield Ave., next to the high school.

The goal for the visit is 125 pints.

The committee is hoping to meet its goal for this is an important blood drive following a time when only emergency type surgery is done over the holidays. However, immediately after January 1 things begin to happen fast. Because there are more accidents during the holidays the demand for more blood is greater than usual. As a result, the supply is down and the demand is up.

Added to that, Bloodmobiles are not held during the holiday.

It is most important that we meet our goal at this time because others are counting on us Mrs. Fowler said in urging that donors respond.

Mrs. Vernon Mathews, Jr., is scheduling workers for the day and Mrs. Jack Bradley is recruiting the nurses needed. The local chapters of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will again staff the canteen. The committee is asking for homemade cookies to be served to those who donate blood. It takes a lot cookies. If you'd like to do your share by baking cookies, please call Mrs. Fowler at 547-9314.

It is hoped that the men aboard the U.S.C.G. Cutter Mesquite will be on hand to donate this time. If the ship is in port, they will be coming in between 1 and 2 p.m.

Begin the New Year by being a good neighbor! The Red Cross is asking all healthy individuals between the ages of 17 and 65 years and weighing at least 110 pounds to join together in this voluntary blood doantion.

Donating blood is safe and simple and your blood can help restore a person's health. For an appointment to give, call 547-9314. Be a caring neighbor!

Garden Club sets 1983 program sked

Early plans for the 1983 club program were announced at a recent meeting of the Charlevoix Area Garden Club held at the Charlevoix Public Library.

Kate Brady announced the club's first flower show will be held Aug. 16 at the Charlevoix Community Reformed Church. Committees have been named and work on the project will begin in January.

Also during the meeting Nancy Fowler, quilt chairman, showed pictures of a bird quilt which will be a club project early in 1983.

Mary Helen Riggle was accepted as a member and under the direction of AnnaBelle Webb, the club members made 32 minature grapevine flower baskets for favors on patients' trays at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Obituaries

HENRY R. CONANT

Henry R. Conant, a former Charlevoix resident, died at his home in Brimley Dec. 16.

Mr. Conant was born in Crump Jan. 7, 1903. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. John (Sandra) McDavid of Brimley, three grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, and a brother, Edward of Flint.

Funeral services were held at the Hovie Funeral Home in Brimley Dec. 19. Burial will be at Brookside Cemetery in Charlevoix.

LOUIS M. PICARD

Funeral services for Louis M. Picard, 75, who died Dec. 20 at the Petoskey Nursing Center following a lengthy illness, were held Dec. 23 at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. R. Dale Magoon officiated. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery. The Rosary was recited at the Winchester Funeral Home Wednesday evening.

Born at Kankakee, Ill., Feb. 15, 1907, Mr. Picard moved to Chicago with his family at the age of five years. On June 3, 1933, he was married to the former Georgia Messenger in Chicago. They made their home in Oak Park, Ill. He was a self-employed real estate broker and property manager for 40 years until retiring in 1965. They moved to Charlevoix to make their home in 1968. However, they had spend the summers at fronton for 40 years prior to that time.

He was a member of St. Mary's Church and the Father Pierre Charlevoix Council, Knights of Columbus, in Charlevoix, St. Edmund's Church and it's Holy Name Society in Oak Park and the Chicago Real Estate Board.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Louis Frederic of St. Paul, Minn., and Gerard C. of Chicago; two daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Jeanne) Beasdale of Roselle, Ill., and Mrs. Edward (Mary Louise) Carmody of Lombard, Ill; seven grandchildren and a brother, Msgr. Gerard C. Picard of Chicago.
